Arms Not Needed

Castro Pledges Reign of Peace For All Cubans

Assassination Try Foiled 2A

By GEORGE SOUTHWORTH
Herald Latin America Editor

HAVANA, Cuba — Fidel Castro vowed Friday "the revolutionary army will never again need the force of arms" to maintain peace in war-torn Cuba.

In an interview with The Herald, Castro declared, "the people of Cuba are on our side and the day they don't want us we will leave."

And, he warned, the nation "must never permit anyone to conspire against her peace again."

The 32-year-old Cuban leader said he knows trouble may lie ahead and he indicated it may come from within the revolutionary organizations that won the victory.

"I must tell you that at this moment there are elements of revolutionary organizations who are hiding contraband arms and ammunition," Castro said. "Arms for what?

"Who are they going to fight against? Are they going to fight against the provisional government that has the support of all the Cuban people?

"Are they going to fight against a free government that respects the rights of the people now that there is no censorship of the press?

"The press is free now and people can meet together and all of the rights of citizens have been restored."

One of the biggest problems faced by the new government at this moment is to disarm the thousands of men who joined the rebel movement after the victory for hope of personal gain.

Castro said he is trying to bring about a closer union of all the rebel forces. He thanked former President Carlos Prio Socarras for his aid to the rebels "and unconditional support of the new government."

"If you ask me what troops I prefer to command," Castro said, "I would answer the people of the nation.

"The people can't be conquered and the common people won this war. We had no army, boats, tanks, planer, cannons, military schools . . .

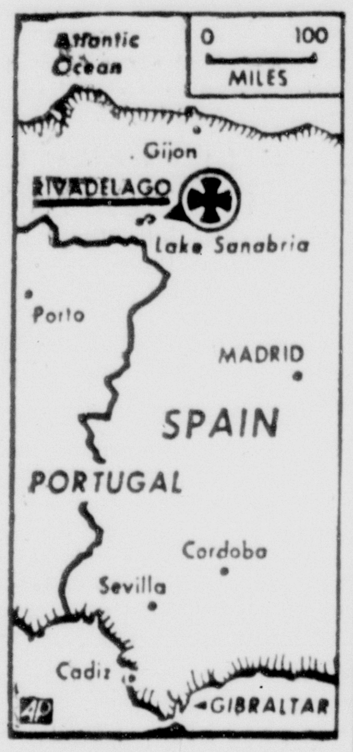
"How did the rebel army win the war? By telling the truth. How did the despotic government lose the war? By telling lies to its soldiers.

"But the real winner of the war were the people. The people who suffered seven years of horror," he declared.

Castro said the people of Cuba are very much interested in learning if the new rebel government will make the same mistakes of other revolutionary governments.

He said the circumstances are different now and the opportunities are greater now for his government to completely carry out its destiny.

"The people of Cuba want peace with justice and liberty," he said, "and we don't want peace at a price. We must remember that Batista also spoke of peace and order . . ."



Where Dam Burst

Spanish Dam Bursts; Over 100 Killed

More than 100 persons were believed swept to death. The Spanish news agency Mencheta reported 116 bodies recovered. The semi-official agency Cifra reported 23 bodies recovered but 130 persons missing.

The 70-foot high Vega de Tera Hydroelectric dam burst at 4 a.m. with a roar that could be heard on the other side of the mountains.

Three miles from the dam, where the Vega de Tera River enters the lake, the wall of water engulfed the village of Ribadelago where 500 to 600 inhabitants were sleeping.

Chill Wind Blows Us No Good

Readings to Hit Upper 40s Tonight

Miami is in for a chilly weekend.

A new cold front which rolled over Florida Friday will hold daytime temperatures to the low 60s today and bring readings in the upper 40s in Greater Miami suburbs tonight, the Miami Weather Bureau said.

Lows of around 50 degrees were also forecast for early today.

Although skies should be mostly clear over the weekend, blustery northwest winds probably keep seas rough for fishermen. Small craft warnings were up Friday night all round the state, except for north of Fort Myers on the west coast.

Temperatures in Miami dropped a few degrees after the cold front passed early Friday morning and hovered in the mid-60s most of the day. The rest of Florida had readings in the low and mid-50s.

Temperatures were expected to hit close to freezing in North Florida early today and not go much above the mid-50s during the day.

Forecasters said it was too early to tell how long the chill will remain, but that there was "some potential of a protracted cold spell."

American, Pilots in Agreement

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The government Friday announced a settlement in principle of the 21-day American Airlines strike. Final details remain to be worked out.

Chairman Leverett Edwards of the National Mediation Board said he hopes specific language covering broad principles already agreed upon can be worked out soon.

"I hope that by Saturday night the airline can begin recalling its people and possibly resume operations early next week," Edwards said.

Edwards emphasized, however, that representatives of the carrier and the striking Airline Pilots Association could still run into a hitch.

The main stumbling block has been the pay rates to apply when the pilots begin flying the new jet airliners.

Mikoyan Target of Eggs, Then Visits Bus Driver

By Herald Wire Services

The beetle-browned Russian leader, on a tour of the U.S. which has been marked by mobs of anti-Communist pickets at Detroit and Cleveland, ran into more of the same when his plane arrived at Midway Airport.

An egg splattered the roof of his black limousine and the car made such a fast getaway that Mikoyan's official host, retired Inland Steel Board Chairman Edward L. Ryerson, was left in the lurch. The car started up before Ryerson could get in. He clung to its roof a few moments, and then took another car.

More demonstrators, 200-strong at their peak, pelted the Russian's party with eggs, threw placards, tried to break through police cordons as Mikoyan entered a downtown hotel for a news conference and then crossed the street to lunch with 40 civic leaders at the exclusive Chicago Club.

Among those present were Adlai E. Stevenson, John S. Knight, editor and publisher of The Miami Herald and other Knight newspapers, Charles Percy, head of the Bell and Howell Camera Co. and other prominent citizens of Chicago.

At Friday's pre-luncheon news conference Mikoyan said among other things that he expects no new changes in the Soviet government and that lack of trust is the greatest obstacle to ending the cold war.

He stated also that the placard-waving, egg-tossing demonstrations of groups of Iron Curtain refugees and other anti-Communists which greeted him here and elsewhere on his trip are comedies to which he attaches no importance.

After the luncheon the deputy premier took a $100-a-week bus driver up on his invitation to drop around and visit.

The bus driver was Joseph Polowsky, 41, a veteran of the meeting of American and Russian troops on the River Elbe at the end of World War II who has conducted a one-man crusade for U.S.-Soviet understanding.

Polowsky had telephoned Mikoyan in Cleveland with an invitation to hobnob with "a typical American family." Accordingly, Mikoyan's half-mile motorcade pulled up in front of the North Side house where Polowsky lives in a $97.50-a-month, four-room apartment on the second floor with his wife and two children.

Mikoyan, a smiling, grandfatherly figure, sat on the living room couch with the Polowski's two-year-old son, Benjamin, on his lap. Mrs. Marie Polowsky, 27, dressed her her Sunday best, held the family's baby, 15-month-old Irene.

"I have 10 grandchildren," the Russian told his hosts through an interpreter, "and I lost a son at Stalingrad. I hope your children and my grandchildren will all live in peace in the future."

Mikoyan stayed only 15 minutes in the Polowsky's apartment after the bus driver helped him off with his coat. He examined the tiny kitchen, containing a four-burner gas stove and an aging refrigerator, and two sparsely - furnished bedrooms before leaving. Polowsky didn't even have time to get out a bottle of wine he had bought especially for the occasion.

No. 2 Red Is Due Here On Jan. 18

Russia's No 2 Boss, A. I. Mikoyan, intends to visit Miami and Tampa the week of Jan. 18, a Russian spokesman told The Herald by telephone Friday night.

The Soviet spokesman, reached between a dinner engagement and a trip to the ballet, said earlier plans to fly here Jan. 17 were postponed because they conflicted with some Washington meetings.

"We expect to visit Florida later," he said. Mikoyan, Soviet deputy premier, is making a nationwide tour. He plans to return to Russia about Jan. 22.

State of Union Message Accents Need of Defenses

Complete Text of President's Message 7A

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Eisenhower challenged a "yes, but" Democratic Congress Friday to join him in quest of military and economic strength for a surging America and a just peace for a fearful world.

These were the great goals set forth for the year ahead in a presidential State of the Union message. In general terms, Eisenhower outlined a formidable but "sensible posture of defense" along with a balanced budget and war against inflation.

In these days when the latest bombers "cost their weight in gold," Eisenhower said, "we can afford everything we clearly need, but we cannot afford one cent of waste."

The President appealed to the legislators to work with him to keep in balance the 77 billion dollar budget he is sending to them Jan. 19. If this is done, he said, there is hope for tax reforms "in the foreseeable future."

A White House official interpreted this to mean tax cuts, but not before the 1961 fiscal year — beginning July 1, 1960 — a period which spans the next presidential election campaign.

To Senate and House members assembled in the House chamber, and to Americans who heard him by radio and television, Eisenhower said:

"One basic purpose unites us: To promote strength and security, side by side with liberty and opportunity."

The President drew his heaviest applause for jabs at inflation and a pledge to defend the people of Berlin "against any effort to destroy their freedom."

Comments after he finished his 5,000-word, 42-minute speech fit into a familiar format. Republicans offered generous praise. Some said it was the best presidential message they ever heard.

Many Democrats found no reason to quarrel with the broad objectives. Some said the speech lacked meaty details. Others were strictly uncomplimentary. Some pointedly yawned.

"Evidently," said freshman Rep. Neal Smith (D., Iowa), "you can't teach an old general much about farm income and expenses merely by his buying a farm."

The "yes, but" reaction was strongest where it counted most — among the Democratic leaders who will have so much to

GOP Finds Message 'Dynamic'

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Democrats, who control Congress, found little to get excited about Friday in President Eisenhower's State of the Union message.

Most Republicans liked it very much. "Dynamic" was the word that Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R., Mass.) had for it. "Heartening," said Sen. Everett Dirksen (R., Ill.).

It was literally a "ho-hum" reaction that came from Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate majority leader.

Johnson was yawning in the audience when Eisenhower told the House and Senate he intends to submit a balanced budget.

And in his formal statement of comment, Johnson said:

"Mr. Eisenhower's hopes for a balanced budget remain to be proved . . . Our efforts will be not only to balance the fiscal books of the nation but to balance the books of our public trust as well."

The No. 1 man in the House, Speaker Sam Rayburn (D., Tex.), took a casual, mat-

The Highlights

Russia

We can have no confidence in any treaty to which Communists are a party except where such a treaty provides within itself for self-enforcing mechanisms . . .

Peace and Its Price

Modern weapons are exceedingly expensive . . .

America will never give up the hope that eventually all nations can, with mutual confidence, drastically reduce these non-productive expenditures . . .

America's security can be assured only within a world community of strong, stable, independent nations, in which the concepts of freedom, justice and human dignity can flourish.

There can be no such thing as Fortress America . . .

Inflation

The material foundation of our national safety is a strong and expanding economy. This we have—and this we must maintain . . .

The basic question facing us today is more than survival—the military defense of national life and territory. It is the preservation of a way of life . . .

We can afford everything we clearly need, but we cannot afford one cent of waste . . .

The Budget

By working together, the Congress and the executive can keep a balance between income and outgo. If this is done there is real hope that we can look forward to a time in the foreseeable future when needed tax reforms can be accomplished . . .

Civil Rights

We are making noticeable progress in the field of civil rights . . . That progress must continue . . .

Pat Boone's teenage weaknesses were beer-drinking and shoplifting. But the two vices never really had a chance. Pat conquered them almost as soon as they appeared.

Mary Astor's weaknesses, as a glamorous Hollywood actress in the 1930s, were men and drink. And she gave both of them an ample chance. "I was out of control," she says of those days.

Both of them have a lot to tell Herald readers in their new books. In "Twixt Twelve and Twenty," Pat Boone gives teenagers the benefit of his experience in growing up — the mistakes he made, the things he learned about people and himself, why he holds so strong a faith in God.

In "My Story," Mary Astor writes of her dizzying rise to the fame she was far too young to control; of her stormy love affairs and their tragic consequence, of her desperate struggle to keep her child free from the shame of scandal.

Both of these entertaining books begin running in series form in Sunday's edition of

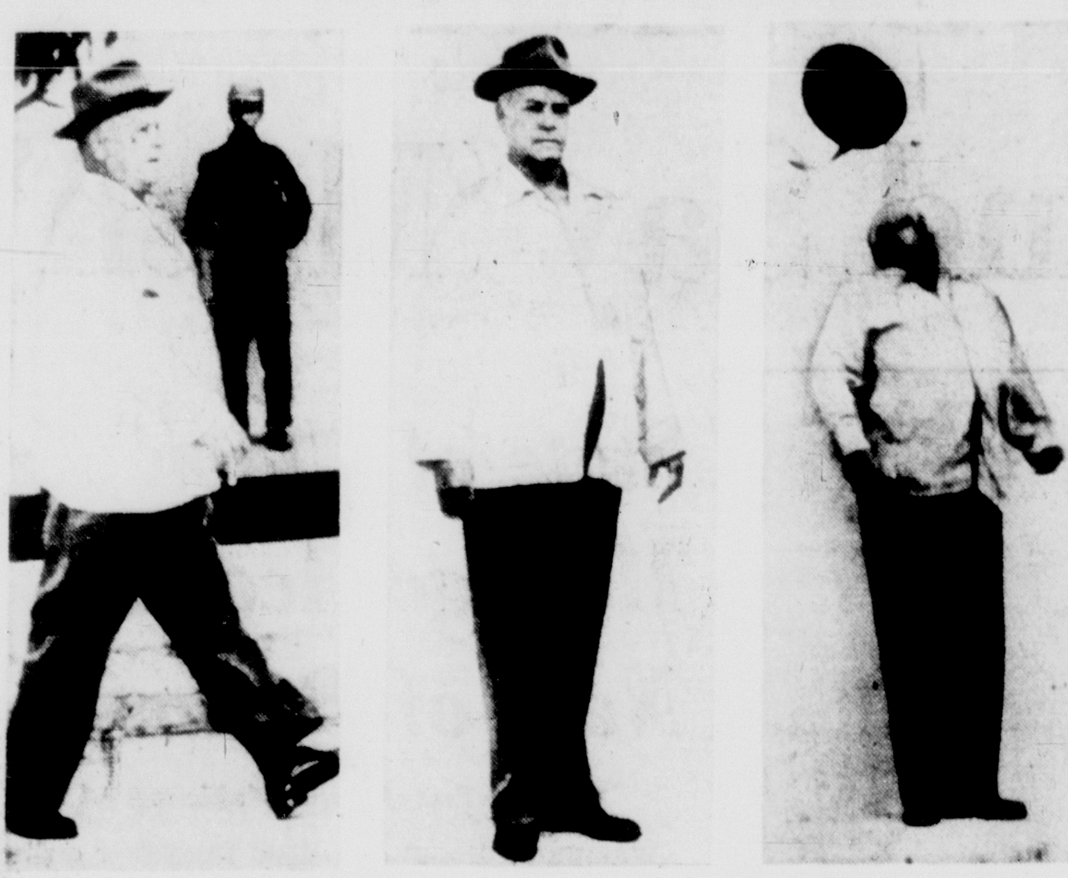
Plot To Kill Castro Thwarted by Patrols

Cuban Meets Death Unafraid



—Associated Press Wirephoto

Sentenced to death by a revolutionary tribunal, Police Chief Cornelio Rojas of Santa Clara marches briskly to the wall where he was executed by a firing squad. Rojas was convicted of acts against the revolutionary movement. These dramatic pictures were obtained from the Havana newspaper Avance.

HAVANA, Cuba — (AP) — A revolutionary unit announced Friday it thwarted a plot to kill Fidel Castro during the rebel leader's triumphal parade through Havana.

The Revolutionary Directorate, composed largely of students, said one of its patrols arrested five persons in connection with the attempt and took them to military headquarters at Camp Columbia. All were said to be carrying submachine guns.

The ringleader, whose name was not given, was identified as a son of a former national police chief, Col. Lutgardo "Triger" Martin Perez.

Castro has charged that certain revolutionary elements are hiding arms for use against his leadership and announced weapons and ammunition were seized from Havana's San Antonio Barracks by dissident elements.

He warned his supporters they must guard their victory against both diehard backers of deposed Dictator Fulgencio Batista and certain revolutionaries.

Addressing a crowd of 30,000 at Camp Columbia, the army headquarters just outside Havana, Castro appealed to public opinion to halt contraband traffic in arms and leave "the little leaders" without troops.

He said some dissident elements—which he did not identify—had raided the barracks and seized a number of machine guns and rifles and 80,000 cartridges.

Castro said this was an affront to both himself as commander in chief and to his Havana area commander, Maj. Camilo Cienfuegos.

Castro told the rally that the next five to 15 years will tell whether the Cubans will profit from the victory over dictatorship and oppression.

Castro denounced the barracks incident as a provocation of the worst kind.

"You know what we have done?" he added. "We have gone to the people in order to utilize public opinion so that these little leaders will not have troops and for this reason we have remained tranquil."

Elsewhere in the speech, Castro asked: "Would it be right that ambition or personal desires come here to endanger the destiny of the revolution?"

Castro threatened that if anyone raised himself relying on force, he will go back to the Sierra Maestra range of easternmost Oriente province to fight again.

"We have fought for the jurisdiction of civil power and we are going to demonstrate our support," he said. "I must say to the people that the laws of the country will be respected and that there will be no gangsterism or banditry.

10 Are Dead In Plane Wreckage

KINGSPORT, Tenn. — (AP) — A rescue party reached the burned wreckage of a Southeast Airlines plane near the top of rugged Holston Mountain late Friday. All 10 persons aboard it were dead.

Rescuers said they found a grim scene of death and destruction in a charred area of heavy woods and thick underbrush about 30 miles east of here.

The plane, a twin-engine DC3, disappeared Thursday night while trying to grope its way through fog to an instrument landing at nearby Tri-Cities airport. The last radio report to the field from pilot Robert L. Gollmier of Kingsport said the plane was preparing to land.

The passengers included Dr. R. L. Hasche, 62, president of Hasche Engineering Co. of Johnson City. Other passengers were W. L. Dennis, Johnson City; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Halstead and J. A. Bradley, Kingsport; and Robert Matthews and James A. Porter, both of Nashville.

say about how the presidential program fares.

Both Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn and Lyndon B. Johnson, leader of Senate Democrats, noted that the last Congress, also controlled by the Democrats, chopped $5,600,000,000 out of the last Eisenhower budget. Yet there were no hints that there might be a repeat performance.

Rather, many Democrats have criticized the Eisenhower budget, especially the $40,900,000,000 reported included for the armed forces, as inadequate and unrealistic.

But as Eisenhower saw it, "it is a realistic budget with wholly attainable objectives."

In general terms, Eisenhower renewed bids for legislation to strengthen civil rights, correct abuses in labor unions, protect the purchasing power of the dollar, and help the farmer while trimming heavy federal spending for agriculture.

He promised increased spending on health programs, science and education, water resources, highways, and rebuilding cities.

Details were left for later messages. So was any spelling out of places where Congress can economize to get government costs again within income.

In national defense, Eisenhower said, increased efficiency and avoidance of waste are a secondary aim. The prime goal, he said, is a sensible posture of defense. His budget, he said, advances both.

"Working by these guide lines," the President said, "I believe with all my heart that America can be as sure of the strength and efficiency of her armed forces as she is and has always been of their loyalty. I am equally sure that the nation will thus avoid useless expenditures which, in the name of security, might tend to undermine the economy and, therefore, the nation's safety."

Plot to Kill Rhee Reported

TOKYO — (AP) — A high Korean source reported Friday that a Communist plot to assassinate President Syngman Rhee and other top leaders of the South Korean government was uncovered recently.

No confirmation of the report was available. There was some suspicion that it was being circulated in an attempt to justify the controversial new security law which Rhee's majority Liberal Party rammed through the South Korean Assembly Dec. 24.

Family Is Hostage of 2 Bandits

ANAHEIM, Calif. — (AP) — Two young robbers exchanged shots with a rookie policeman, held a family hostage six hours, kidnaped the housewife briefly and escaped Friday.

They are still at large.

It began with a $105 liquor store robbery about midnight.

After the robbery, but unaware it had occurred, William C. Lovett, a 23-year-old Anaheim policeman stopped two men pushing a stalled car.

The men fled on foot and forced their way into the home of Bernard Alfred Havey, 36, a block and a half away.

While 200 policemen searched door-to-door, they held the Haveys and two sailor guests — James Applebee and James Larison — at gunpoint. The Havey's two children slept.

When police came to her door, Mrs. Lois Jane Havey, 27, was too terrified to tell them the men were there.

About 6 a.m. the bandits put on the sailors' uniforms and forced Mrs. Havey to leave with them in her car.

At the roadblock they presented the stolen identification cards. They said Mrs. Havey was a relative driving them back to their ship at San Diego. She was released unharmed in Santa Ana.

Officer Lovett identified a photograph of Herbert Ferzel, 20, of nearby Long Beach as that of the man who shot at him. Ferzel's car, bullet-marked in the exchange, was found abandoned, its battery dead.

Vote Probe Hits Snag

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — (AP) — Chairman John A. Hannah said Friday that U.S. Civil Rights Commission agents have been unable to inspect voter registration records in two Alabama counties despite a Federal Court order to produce them.

Hannah issued a statement following a closed door hearing of the commission which is investigating Negro voting complaints.

He said commission investigators spent two days trying in vain to look at registration records in Barbour and Bullock counties which are in the custody of Judge George C. Wallace.

What further action might be taken to gain access to the records was not immediately determined. Hannah said the commission had turned the matter over to the U.S. Attorney General.

Convention Canceled By Hoffa

Teamsters March Meeting Is Off

WASHINGTON — (AP) — James R. Hoffa said Friday he has canceled plans for a March 16-18 Teamsters Union convention in Chicago.

Court-appointed union monitors have been scrapping in court proceedings to block the convention at which Hoffa planned to get himself reelected and the monitors ousted.

Hoffa said in response to a newsmen's query that he was canceling the convention.

The Teamsters Union president said that under the union constitution delegates to a convention had to be chosen 90 days prior to such a session.

"Because of pending litigation as to whether the Teamsters can have such a convention or not this would make the March convention impossible," Hoffa said. "So I have canceled the plans for one."

U.S. District Judge F. Dickinson Letts ruled Dec. 11 that the Teamsters should be barred from holding a convention pending further efforts to clean out corruption and guarantee democratic procedures. Letts further proposed that no union convention can be held until he says so.

These decisions never have been made formal court orders. When the union monitors appeared before Letts Friday, seeking formal orders to this effect, the judge put off signing them pending outcome of an action in the U.S. Court of Appeals to require him to permit the union to hold a new convention, elect officers and thereby get rid of the monitors.

Holland Files Bill to Check Plane Strikes

The bill would require arbitration of disputes if the President judges that a lockout, strike or work stoppage would substantially interrupt commerce and deprive the public of air transportation.

Under Holland's measure, whenever work stoppage appears imminent, the President would be authorized to set up a three-member board of arbitration, empowered to conduct hearings and reach a decision binding upon both parties.

Airline strikes in recent months have reduced available air transportation.

Holland said the strikes have caused inconvenience to the public, dealt economic blows to many cities, and resulted in the government making unemployment payments to employes thrown out of work by the strikes.

ter-of-fact attitude toward the President's speech. Rayburn said: "We'll look over his recommendations very thoroughly, and then we'll write the ticket."

The new Republican leaders of the House and Senate, Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana and Sen. Dirksen of Illinois, were enthusiastic.

"To those shouting for leadership," Dirksen said, "the President's message is a clear and ringing answer. It supplies a chart and compass for the Congress and the country . . .

"The accent on the perils of inflation is a timely warning to those who believe that by means of planned deficits we can spend ourselves rich."

Rep. Halleck's comment: "This is a message of strength — of strength to meet the Communist threat to free men wherever it appears; of strength to continue the fight for peace."

Democratic commendation for parts of the speech came from Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, who liked what he called Eisenhower's determination to move toward sound finances.

"If we do not reduce nonessential expenditures now," Byrd said, "the alternative is to spend and spend, and tax and tax. There is no hope for sound tax reduction with continuing deficits."

Is Gambler Lansky in Hospital?

Ex-Lawyer Says He 'Went North'

By FRAN LASLIE
Herald Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Is gambling kingpin Meyer Lansky — one time member of U.S. Syndicate — in a hospital?

When he arrived Wednesday in Miami from Cuba, Lansky said he was going to his Hollywood home and he would "see a doctor" while here.

But relatives and Lansky's former Hollywood attorney said Friday they didn't know exactly where he was.

"He told me Wednesday night he was catching a plane north to enter a hospital," Joe Varon, his former lawyer, said Friday.

Varon didn't know where in the "north."

The attorney handled legal matters for Lansky in 1950-51. He said he was no longer associated with Lansky.

After the Kefauver hearings, he was instrumental in setting up gambling enterprises in Havana. He fled Cuba after Fidel Castro's mob closed down gambling casinos.

A maid who answered the telephone Friday at the home of his brother, Jake, of 1146 Harrison St., said Meyer Lansky was not there but might be reached at his motel on Hollywood Beach.

However, the Tuscany Motel and Apartments said Meyer Lansky wasn't there.

When the gambler arrived in Florida he expressed the hope he could soon return to Cuba.

A Senate rackets committee said Lansky's name had been added to a list of well-known racketeers scheduled to testify in an investigation of gangster infiltration into the juke box industry.

Polish Art (Some of It) Going Home

OTTAWA — (AP) — The Canadian Press said part of Poland's priceless art treasures, stored in Canada for 19 years and the center of some bitter diplomatic wrangling, probably will be returned to Poland in two weeks.

Qualified informants were quoted as saying that but for a few minor technicalities, negotiations between those involved have been completed.

The treasures, including ancient state jewels and swords, manuscripts and the original works of Chopin, are stored in two huge trunks in the downtown Bank of Montreal vaults. The trunks were opened recently for the first time in 12 years and an informant said the treasures were found in a fairly good state of preservation.

Not involved in the current talks was another part of the treasure — including 16th Century tapestries—stored in the Quebec Provincial Museum.

The objects were brought to Canada in 1940 after Germany invaded Poland.

National Summary

Intense low pressure disturbances off both the northern Atlantic and Pacific coasts maintained gusty winds while a cold mound of high pressure continued to settle from Canada over much of the country's midsection.

Northerly winds sweeping across the eastern half of the nation limited 70 degree weather at noon to extreme southern Florida with temperatures in the 30s and 40s reaching across most of the Gulf States.

Precipitation patterns will show little change over the nation during the next 24 hours. Colder air will push more deeply into the southeast and the mild temperature trend in the west will expand into the Plains on Saturday.

Intermittent rains in the Pacific states will be heavy at times but showers and snow flurries working eastward to the mountains from Montana to Utah are expected to remain mostly light and scattered. Temperatures 10 to 20 degrees below zero are likely in northern Minnesota and teens should penetrate northern Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia with freezing readings on the Gulf coast.

Snow showers are forecast from the Great Lakes region into New England and southward over the mountains to West Virginia through Saturday.

The crying crooner is part Indian (Blackfoot). Partially deafened in childhood, Johnny wears a hearing aid. A 1957 operation failed. The singer loves chili and likes to swim. During height of his popularity, Ray had most of his clothes ripped off in Australia by fans, was mobbed elsewhere by hundreds. His hobby is song-writing. He's done dozens of them — some hits. On his deafness: "Well, I can sleep through anything."

Military Asks Quick Discipline

Would Limit Courts-Martial

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Defense Department wants commanding officers to be able to crack down fast on their men for minor offenses, without conducting courts-martial. It is asking Congress to make this legal.

Expansion of "nonjudicial punishments" is one of the key proposals in a list of revisions, largely technical, the department recommends in the code of military justice.

The code, enacted after World War II, requires some sort of military court for all but the most trivial offenses. It cut down the old prerogative of commanding officers to hand out punishments of fines or brief confinement.

There has been some service criticism that discipline suffered.

The department now proposes that commanding officers be allowed to order up to seven days' confinement or loss of half a month's pay without formal court-martial of enlisted men.

The code now provides that officers may be punished for minor infractions without incurring the stigma of a court martial.

The limit on such punishment is loss of half a month's pay. The department proposes doubling this limit.

There was no prospect of immediate action by the House Armed Services Committee, to which the department recommendation was passed.

Some congressional critics have complained that the services already tend unduly to short-cut military trial provisions.

Boat Flies Into Auto

ANCHORAGE, Alaska —(AP) — Warrant Officer Mort Schechter of the Air Force had no trouble identifying the flying object that struck his auto during a wind storm.

It was a boat.

Becoming airborne on a 60 mile an hour wind, the 14-foot aluminum boat sailed nearly a half block before it smacked into the windshield of Schechter's car near Elmendorf Air Force Base.

Damage to the car was estimated at $300. The unharmed Schechter commented: "I'm covered by insurance, but who is going to believe me?"

This Is What Unitarians Believe

They believe that an intelligent dedication to a life of personal and social morality, love and service to others, beauty of spirit and a search for truth, is more religious than mechanical rituals, imposed creeds and unthinking emotionalism.

You are invited to attend First Unitarian Church, Dixie Hwy. at S.W. 29th Road, Sunday at 11:00. Rev. Glenn O. Canfield will speak on "Courage to Stand Alone." Church School at 10:30.

FBI Eyes Fire Balloon Raids

MARTINEZ, Calif. — (AP) — FBI agents were called in Friday to help investigate large balloons carrying "some sort of incendiary material" which have been dropping on the Shell Oil Co. refineries near here.

Police and sheriff's officers said they do not know whether the balloons are the work of cranks, practical jokers or someone intent on sabotage.

Debris from the balloons, including copper wire and railroad-type flares, has been sent to the FBI and the State Bureau of Criminal Investigation and Identification at Sacramento.

The balloons have all exploded in air. The remains of five have been recovered on oil company property. The balloons were described as three feet in diameter.

Court to Study Costello Case

NEW YORK — (AP) — A federal judge has reserved decision in the denaturalization trial of 68-year-old Gambler Frank Costello.

Judge Archie O. Dawson reserved ruling after hearing government and defense arguments. Dawson gave counsel until Feb. 2 to submit memoranda of law to enable him to reach a decision.

The government contends Costello obtained his citizenship in 1925 through fraud and misrepresentation.

Costello now is serving a five-year prison term for income tax evasion.

Racquet Club Sold At Palm Springs

COSTELLO FARRELL

PALM SPRINGS, Calif.—(AP) — Former Movie Actor Charles Farrell has sold the Racquet Club, long a favorite retreat in the desert resort.

He announced William Beacom and Robert S. Morton, Southern California businessmen, have acquired the club. The price was not announced but it reportedly was more than a million dollars. Farrell said he will remain as managing director, along with the entire executive staff.

He Knows What Happens to Liar

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—(AP)— U. S. District Judge Ben Rice felt it necessary to establish responsibility of a defense witness in the robbery trial of Calvin Lee Hughes.

Defense Attorney Archie Brown asked Marvin Laskowski if he knew what would happen if he told a lie on the witness stand.

"Yes," answered Laskowski.

"What?" Brown pursued.

"I'd go to hell," Laskowski said.

Motor Scooters Pushed Around

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — Those little motor scooters pose a great big problem in San Francisco, even though 10 can be parked in the space for one automobile.

That's what Jerry Moretti, spokesman for the Pioneer Scooter Club, told the city's parking authority. He pleaded for one special parking space in each block for scooters.

"A big car motorist sees a scooter taking up a whole parking space, so he lifts it onto the sidewalk and parks," said Moretti.

"Then a policeman gives the scooter a ticket."

Moretti's plea was taken under consideration.

Child's Body Turning to Bone

JACKSON, Miss. —(UPI) — A nine-year-old girl whose body is turning to bone will undergo another medical examination in hopes the disease can be arrested.

Becky Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Durwood Smith of nearby Forest, Miss., noticed a stiffness in her neck and back last November. Physicians said her disease is one in which the tissues harden into bone.

The girl is still attending the fourth grade, but the disease has advanced to such a stage that she is unable to move her head freely and cannot raise one of her arms above the shoulder.

Wife Couldn't Bare Company

She testified that her husband, Mitchell Morris, 45, wanted to become a nudist.

Mrs. Morris said her husband's fellow nudists walked around "like Adam and Eve" when they came to dinner.

She added: "I didn't like that sort of thing."

Labor Deals Full House for United Fund Campaign

. . . as sports, entertainment stars perform, for free

Jamboree for UF Termed a Success

By ELVALEE SWIFT
Herald Staff Writer

Labor put its hand out for United Fund Friday night and brought back a fistful of money.

Officials at the big Jamboree in Miami Beach Exhibition Hall didn't know how much the benefit netted, but they eyed the early crowd of almost 3,000 persons, at $2 a ticket, and said it was a success.

"We can't say how much we have," said a spokesman for the AFL-CIO Community Services Committee, "until the ticket proceeds are turned in."

Before the show, UF had collected $2,103,000.

Most of the big names appearing on the program didn't arrive until the last half of the six-hour no-intermission show, which started at 8 p.m.

But Gabriel Heatter, radio news commentator who spends his winters in Miami, arrived about 30 minutes early and then emceed the entire show.

When representatives of labor lined the stage, Heatter waved his hand at them and then turned to the audience.

"I am glad to be home," he said in his deep radio tones, "these are my people . . . my father told me never to forget I was the son of a working man."

Backstage, dancers, singers and bandsmen wandered about drinking coffee in paper cups and eating thick cheese sandwiches.

Stars listed on the program included Gloria De Haven, Billy Eckstine, Pupi Campo, Billy Daniels and others.

Rocky Marciano canceled out at the last minute—to referee a fight in Kentucky.

But the show went on. And United Fund came a big step nearer its $3,477,000 goal.

'Gas Well' Flows at City Hall

By JOHN MORTON
Herald Staff Writer

This one could blow the roof right off City Hall.

Workmen are digging up the City Hall parking lot at Dinner Key in an effort to find the source of a large quantity of volatile aviation gasoline believed cached under the pavement.

Construction men working on the Dinner Key Marina expansion project found two six-inch pipelines near the bulkhead line.

When they were tapped, pure high-octane gasoline spurted out.

H. Leslie Quigg, assistant dockmaster, said about 3,000 gallons of the fuel have been pumped — and the city is still looking for more.

The gasoline may have been overlooked when Pan American World Airways vacated the Key nearly 20 years ago. Or it may belong to the U.S. Navy, which operated the Key facilities during World War II.

When the city bought the site in 1946, two 80,000-gallon and three 12,500-gallon tanks had been removed.

The sole copy of Pan American's underground facilities charts was thrown out by a janitor.

Meanwhile, said Quigg, the gasoline doesn't pose a severe threat.

Cubans Arrive At Batista Home

DAYTONA BEACH — Nine more Cubans, presumably members of the Batista household, arrived here by train Friday afternoon and went directly to the Cuban ex-president' riverfront villa. A Border Patrol spokesman said there were two men, four women and three children but did not identify them. He said they came in on a Florida East Coast railroad passenger train which originated in Chicago.

Migrant Housing Aid Asked

Rogers Proposes Cash for Farmers

By Herald Services

News About Florida

WEST PALM BEACH — Rep. Paul Rogers said Friday he has introduced legislation in Congress to improve migrant housing and to require judicial experience for Supreme Court appointees.

The migrant housing bill, which failed to obtain a two-thirds vote in the preceding Congress, would provide for government guaranteed loans to farmers, farm associations and county governments to provide improved home facilities for an estimated one million migrant workers in this country.

The Supreme Court bill, Rogers said, is a companion measure to one introduced in the Senate by Sen. George A. Smathers of Miami.

It would bar any person from appointment as chief or associate justice unless he had at least five years judicial service in the lower courts.

Rogers is also sponsoring a national "Preparedness Day" each Dec. 7.

$60 Million Set For Cape Work

CAPE CANAVERAL — Over 60 million construction dollars are being pumped into this missile-testing center and the Atlantic missile range, The Herald learned Friday.

Housing (16 million dollars) at Patrick Air Force Base and three launching areas for Titan missiles ($14,133,000) lead the list.

Completion of the program will push the Air Force's investment in its missile-testing layout to beyond 500 million dollars, most of it spent since, 1950.

$476,200,000 for State Road Unit

TALLAHASSEE—The State Road Department filed a budget Friday estimating expenditures for the coming biennium at $476,200,000.

That will exceed current road spending by 143 million dollars, most of it the result of increased federal aid. The budget anticipates gasoline tax revenue will increase 11.5 per cent for the two year period.

Two Parachute From Jet, Safe

CROSS CITY — Two airmen successfully parachuted from their T33 jet trainer near here Friday when an explosion disabled the aircraft in flight.

The fliers were identified as Lt. Col. Harrison R. Christy Jr., vice-commander at Mac Dill Air Force Base near Tampa and Capt. Bernard Vise, Houston, Tex., chief of MacDill's base standardization division.

New Citrus Dye Law Proposed

WASHINGTON — Legislation authorizing the use of a new dye in the coloring of Florida oranges was introduced in congress Friday by Sen. Spessard Holland and Rep. James Haley of Sarasota.

The Holland-Haley bill would authorize the use of Citrus Red 2.

Old Age Law Shift Is Asked

By DAVID A. KRASLOW
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON—A bill which would double the present $1,200 limit on annual earnings for those drawing Social Security benefits was introduced Friday by Sen. George Smathers.

Under present law, those receiving payments can hold a job, but they become ineligible for benefits if their earnings exceed $1,200 a year.

Other bills proposed Friday by Smathers would provide for:

Abolition of the 10 per cent federal travel tax on passenger tickets.

Establishment of the office of Under Secretary of State for Latin American Affairs.

The requirement that appointees to the U.S. Supreme Court have at least five years judicial experience either on the highest court of a state or the lower federal courts.

A constitutional amendment to provide that new states, for admission to the union, must have a vote of at least two-thirds of the House and Senate, and must be ratified by three-fourths of the states.

Present law requires only a simple majority vote in Congress. The measure obviously is aimed at blocking Hawaii's admission, which Smathers opposes.

Abolition of the electoral college by constitutional amendment.

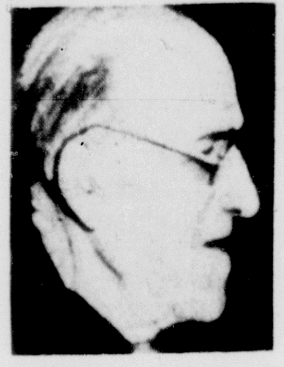
A commission to study and propose improvements in the methods of nominating and electing the president and vice president.

Prevent the return of German and Japanese assets in this country seized during World War II. Part of the money would be used to finance a scholarship program for engineering and science students.

A national foreign service academy to train those seeking to enter the diplomatic service.

Got Relief Checks And Played Market

NEW YORK —(AP)— Harry Schweitzer, 75, is something of a financial genius, but he accepted relief checks for the past 20 years to make $21,000 playing the stock market.



HARRY SCHWEITZER

Since 1938 Schweitzer, a shabbily dressed bachelor, has been receiving $71.10 monthly welfare checks. He has collected about $17,000 over the years.

In addition, the retired hospital orderly received welfare allowances for clothing, furniture, rent and medical care.

With most of the $71.10 to play with, the frugal-living Schweitzer plunged into Wall Street. He became known as a man who would lay down as much as $4,000 in cash on transaction.

Through an anonymous letter, investigators caught up with Schweitzer last November.

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan said Schweitzer, when confronted by the probers, turned over his $1,525 bank account to the welfare agency and gave the department power of attorney to sell his $21,000 in securities to make repayment.

Immediately after doing this, Schweitzer said he was destitute and went right back on relief.

Hogan said the man's savings and investments were illegal because persons receiving welfare aid must take an oath periodically that they have no assets.

Hogan also said the elderly man probably will be given any balance left after the sale of his securities, adding:

"He seems to have a fine sense of economy, which the government could use."

Realty Pitchmen Heed Call of Wild

Steve Trumbull's been digging into his favorite subject again — questionable real estate sales tactics.

TRUMBULL

This time Trumbull, who knows the backlands of Florida like the back of his hand, poked around central Florida and uncovered some eye-opening facts about several new deals.

In one, even the local Chamber of Commerce was found to be going along with the promoters and their "fine print" arrangements.

First of Trumbull's renewed series on questionable real estate promotions will be yours in Sunday's Miami Herald.

5 Indicted In Auto Theft Plot

Charges growing out of an alleged three-state car theft conspiracy resulted in Federal Grand Jury indictments Friday against five of nine persons originally named defendants.

The FBI said cars were being moved in interstate commerce and it had been planned to alter their serial numbers at a garage on Miami Beach.

Indicted were Kenneth Earl Cohen, a used car salesman; Daniel Steven Waters; Samuel Albert Kobrin, Steve Harry Jernigan and Robert David Wilson.

Charges against two others, Edna Jewel Pirson and James Thomas Eidson were dismissed Friday by U. S. attorneys.

Luther Scruggs and Theron Peyton Burrow, alleged participants in the conspiracy, entered guilty pleas on Dec. 19 and were sentenced to two years in prison.

2 Druggists On Probation

Two Dade druggists have been put on a year's probation by the Florida Board of Pharmacy. The probations set aside an earlier decision to suspend their licenses for six months.

The two: Emmett Chaperon of Chaperon Pharmacy, 624 Opa-locka Blvd., and Herbert Rand of the Rand-Legett Pharmacy in Miami.

Chaperon was accused of drunkeness while on the job, allowing unsanitary conditions, failure to keep proper records, and operating without a licensed pharmacist in charge.

Rand was charged with permitting an employe to substitute drugs without consent of the prescribing physician.

I. D. Smith Elected by Mahi Shrine

I. D. Smith, manager of the Dade County Auto Tag Agency, has been elected illustrious potentate of Mahi Shrine Temple.

SMITH

He succeeds H. R. Wright.

Smith came to Miami in 1925 from Chattanooga and has been active in civic and fraternal circles.

He has been a Blue Lodge Mason since 1927 and became a member of the Shrine in 1948.

Smith was chairman of the 1958 committee for the annual Shrine North-South football game.

Other new officers are William C. Brown, chief rabban; James Hathaway, assistant rabban; Ernest R. Williams, high priest and prophet; Cecil Mobley, oriental guide; C. Norman Howard, treasurer, and Robert C. Booth, recorder.

Dade Man Nominated By Bar Unit

Attorney Reginald L. Williams, former president of the Dade County Bar Association, has been nominated by the DCBA for the post of president-elect of the Florida Bar.

WILLIAMS

The state group will vote on the position in March. Under Florida Bar bylaws, the winner will become president of the group following the terms of the present president, O. B. McEwan of Orlando and J. Lewis Hall of Tallahassee, now president-elect.

If Williams wins the March election, it will be the first time in six years that Dade has secured the presidential post.

The last president from Dade was Darrey Davis, now county attorney.

The state group will hold its annual meeting in Miami in May.

3 Seafarers In Hospital

A Miami man and two unidentified companions were reported to be in a Havana hospital Friday after attempting to travel from Miami to Cuba and back in a 20-foot twin outboard motor boat.

The Coast Guard said Gilbert Fernandez, of 1427 SW 27th Ave., and two friends were rescued by a Cuban boat after drifting for four days. They were hospitalized for exposure.

Their boat was rented from Capt. Donald Hunt, 730 NW Seventh Ave., who said they left Dec. 24 on a "fishing trip."

Hunt notified the Coast Guard when the trio failed to show up on Jan. 2 as they had promised.

Group to Probe Teacher's Case

The Classroom Teachers Association said Friday it will investigate the case of Evelyn Gray, suspended seventh grade teacher at Filer Junior High.

Arvel Morgan, CTA president, said the organization's committee on ethics would look into the case and possibly make a recommendation to the School Board.

"I understand her case was presented inadequately at her hearing because she was not aware of her rights," a CTA spokesman said.

Meanwhile, Miss Gray, who school officials said was unable to keep order in her classes, hired Attorney George Okell Sr. to represent her.

The State Of The Union

Sound, Secure, Expansive

THE STATE of the Union as President Eisenhower sees it in 1959 is sound, secure and expansive.

He divided his annual message — a sort of chairman's report to the 170 million members of the board of directors — into four parts. They are national defense, the economy, foreign policy, and human relations at home.

It is up to Congress, as the executive committee, to act upon these items in detail as each claims legislative attention. This will come as the broad panorama of the State of the Union is broken down into specific vistas; that is, in briefer, to-the-point requests, including the budget.

While we may quarrel with some aspects of the over-all view, in general Mr. Eisenhower presented an attractive picture. Rhetorically, it was one of his best messages of his six years in office.

WE COMMEND especially these main points:

DEFENSE — "We must guard against feverish building of vast armaments to meet glibly predicted moments of so-called 'maximum peril.' . . . The (defense budget) aim is a sensible posture of defense. The secondary aim is increased efficiency and avoidance of waste."

As the President points out, the budget he is preparing will take 60 cents of every dollar for defense. This will run in excess of $40 billion, and it is a sum that surely must admit of some economy, snug efficiency and coordinated administration —including a little more realism in the area of armed forces unification.

THE ECONOMY — "The material foundation of our national safety is a strong and expanding economy. This we have — and this we must maintain . . . Inflation would reduce job opportunities, price us out of world markets, shrink the value of saving and penalize the thrift so essential to finance a growing economy."

These are the tenets of economic conservatism without the extreme of reaction that regards growth as accomplished and progress as a suspicious illusion. We must grow, indeed, and not with artificial stimulants but with a government that knows where and when to encourage progress within a private enterprise economy. This can be done, as we have said before, within a balanced budget that recognizes the inflationary danger of deficits.

FOREIGN POLICY — "There can be no such thing as Fortress America. If ever we were reduced to the isolation implied by that term, we would occupy a prison, not a fortress. The question whether we can afford to help other nations . . . defend their freedoms . . . has only one answer: We can and we must, we have been doing so since 1947."

The concept of "Fortress America" is indeed outdated. A war-headed ICBM is, at any time on its launching pad, only 20 minutes away from Washington or Moscow. By the same token, however, we should not create the impression, as we have done with our billions and with Mr. Dulles' pious field-marshaling, that we are running a global military reservation. Perhaps this Congress will get down to a realistic reassessment of foreign aid after a dozen years of costly fits and starts. It's up for more than $3 billion in the new budget.

PEOPLE, HERE AT HOME — "If we hope to strengthen freedom in the world we must be ever mindful of how our own conduct reacts elsewhere."

This is a mouthful, and we'd better chew it carefully. Preachments of democracy abroad ring hollowly when we do badly by the precept at home. An area for improvement, as the President says, is labor-management relations. Another is the controverted school question. There is also a slippage in the customary reverence for the rule of law, and Mr. Eisenhower notably applies this worldwide as he seeks alternatives for "the rule of force in the affairs of nations."

ALL IN ALL, this is an excellent state paper that can become the framework for a solid structure of legislative achievement. Does it suggest that Mr. Eisenhower is disposed to lead rather than to follow, or, let us say, caddy for the country? We trust so. He leaves us with this summary thought:

"We seek victory — not over any nation or people — but over the ancient enemies of us all: victory over ignorance, poverty, disease and human degradation wherever they may be found."

Tightening Up The Coastline

THE CUBAN B26 bomber which flew within striking distance of the vital installations at Cape Canaveral without detection or challenge a few days ago has set off a chain reaction among the brass of the national air defense command.

The Pentagon, posting a display of slightly red faces, announced "immediate expansion" of its air identification zone to include the entire coastline of Florida.

From now on, any unidentified aircraft approaching our shores will acquire an escort of jet fighters until the pilot accounts for himself and his movements.

The whole episode might have been amusing if it were not for the grim reminder of cold war tensions. When circumstances compel us to be on constant guard, even in this relatively peaceful corner of the world, times are grievous indeed.

Measured Steps In Remembrance

IF YOU'VE visited the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, overlooking the Potomac River and the nation's capital, you have seen the honor guard on duty there.

Stone-faced and precise, these young soldiers pace 21 steps, pause twice, and march 21 steps back to the end of their patrol.

They have been doing this night and day, unceasingly, since 1921.

The guard consists of 15 men and three sergeants, each in charge of a five-man unit.

They are on duty 24 hours, then off for 48 hours. On duty, they march one hour and are off two hours in the daytime, and are on two hours and off six at night.

WHAT do they think about as they pace back and forth? An answer comes from a Florida youth who is now a member of the guard, Pfc. Charles F. Long, on post-holiday leave to visit his parents in Jacksonville:

"Mostly, we count. The 21 steps get to be routine after a while, but we count automatically, anyway. The pauses at each end of the march last 20 seconds. We change the rifle from one shoulder to the other and start counting — one thousand and one, one thousand and two and so on to one thousand and 20."

They are doing their duty. In that, they share the honor they help accord to men who gave their lives for this nation in two World Wars and in Korea. The inscription on the simple white marble monument is proud: "Here rests in honored glory an American soldier known but to God."

Deficits, Big Spending Find Public Apathetic

THE AMERICAN public, said The Wall Street Journal the other day after a survey, is apathetic to deficit financing and big spending.

If Need Be, They'll Gladly Pay

New proof comes in a year-end report from the two toll bridges built across the St. Johns River as part of Jacksonville's expressway system. For 1958, their receipts exceed the official estimates by 29 per cent — nearly one-third.

"If bridge traffic continues to outguess the Jacksonville Expressway Authority's fiscal forecasts," reported The Florida Times-Union, "the 70 million dollars worth of bonds which finance the expressway can be retired and the bridges made toll-free years before the scheduled 1992 date."

A similar record is being written by cash registers of the Sunshine Skyway across lower Tampa Bay and of the 110-mile turnpike between Miami and Fort Pierce.

Evidently, motorists in Florida are willing to pay, directly if necessary, for good highways and bridges where they're needed. And traffic in and between this state's big cities, like Ol' Man River, keeps right on rolling along.

Slightly Tarnished Yacht For Sale

THERE IS a slightly used yacht for sale over in England. The name is "Sceptre." Sounds familiar, doesn't it?

It is the America's Cup challenger built to compete for world yachting supremacy, humbled but gallant in the tests in the Atlantic last September off Newport, R.I.

Notice that she is up for grabs is being carried in the "Personal" columns of London newspapers, where people air their agonies. Racing sails and gear are included in the offer by the Sceptre Syndicate to listen to any proposal exceeding $42,000.

There's only one hitch to owning a 12-meter racing craft like this. There aren't any races in that class on the other side of the Atlantic. And on this side where there are, Sceptre showed she could take it but she couldn't dish it out.

Why Worry Over Travel Tax?

Editor The Herald: Ned Aitchison's article on repeal of the travel tax reminds me of the old argument that the purchaser of a high priced automobile isn't worried about the amount of gas that it used.

People who can afford to pay the prices of hotel accommodations and food, not to mention other expenses of a vacation in Florida, aren't going to stay away because of the relatively small sum they have to pay for tax on their airplane, railroad, or bus fare.

We're No Menace To Our Neighbors

Editor The Herald: From Moscow John McDermott filed a story which you headlined, "What Would U.S. Do Inside Soviet Ring?"

The "American" editor of Pravda, Daniel Kraminov, asked your reporter, "if Russia had bases in Mexico, Canada and Newfoundland and had its fleet maneuvering off your coast, wouldn't you be concerned?" He is further reported to have said that Russia must be strong for defensive reasons.

It should be remarked that the United States has put no expansive pressures on her neighbors, and so there is no reason why bases to "contain" our ambitions must be maintained by any other nation.

Respectability in the eyes of the world is the constant aim of the Soviet. "The devil a monk would be."

Books Treated Like Orphans

Editor The Herald: I have been withdrawing books from the Miami Beach public library for the past year, and I am appalled at the condition of the books. I try and read the newer fiction and non-fiction and rarely do I select a book that isn't extensively dog-earred, coffee-stained and otherwise mutilated by careless readers.

The ordinary wear-and-tear of the books is hard enough, but to have them maliciously marked by readers, who should know better, is inexcusable.

I was taught to look upon my books as friends, and to treat them as such, but judging from the appearance of the books at our fine library, it looks as though they were orphans, indeed.

Watch It! We'll Take To Horses!

Editor The Herald: This latest piece of idiotic nonsense dreamed up by our traffic courts, suspending drivers licenses for a week, is a new high in disregard of peoples rights.

I do not agree that driving on highways we pay taxes to build, is a privilege. If this be so, then our citizenship, the Bill of Rights, freedom of speech and the right to vote and own property are privileges.

I always thought my forefathers fought for these things and passed them down to me as a heritage. Maybe I'm wrong, but I spent six years at war so I could pass them on to my children—as a right.

It seems that our officials want to point with pride, not to how they solved the traffic problem, but to the number of drivers licenses revoked.

Of course this is the ultimate solution, cancel all licenses, remove all vehicles from operation, and accidents will no longer haunt us. But watch out for souped up horses.

Nice To Hear Such Kind Words

Editor The Herald: The letter by J. Joseph Tansey of Boston praising Miami, the television coverage of the Orange Bowl regatta and things here in general was heartwarming, partly because it reminds one that so few people bother to write letters of praise, while the disgruntled are usually only too eager to complain to the editor.

It's nice to know Miami has friends who'll take the trouble to let the world know they like the town!

Let Airport Run Own Lots

Editor The Herald: I can not understand why there must be a parking concession at the airport. Why should I, or any other taxpayer, pay an inflated fee so some individuals can cut up a melon?

Why does the Port Authority not run the parking itself and utilize the profits to help pay for the airport bonds and operating expenses?

Diplomats Can End Cold War; Train Racially Suited Men For Posts

Editor The Herald: To win the cold war America must concentrate its diplomatic strength in the noncommitted countries of Africa, the Near, Middle, and Far East.

As yet the U.S. has no training program to qualify diplomats to serve in any specific country of these areas.

The first major step toward winning this war would be America's creation of a diplomatic "West Point" for American-born persons of Arab, African and Oriental extraction. Upon completion of their "West Point" course in U.S. diplomacy, they would be sent to the exact countries to which they were physically, racially, and religiously attuned.

Applicants for this training program would be easy to find. Thousands of American Orientals live in New York and California. Promising Negroes could be chosen to serve in Africa. American-born Moslems live throughout the U.S. Well qualified persons of these ethnological backgrounds could easily be encouraged to make U.S. diplomacy their lifelong work.

If this program were adopted, American prestige abroad would no more be shattered by:

1. Dime-store diplomats who neither know nor care about the name of the leader of the country in which they are to serve.

2. Social diplomats who take posts only to elevate their ranking in the local 400.

3. Business tycoons who are unadapted, ill-trained, disinterested, and generally ineffectual to represent the U.S. overseas.

The cold war will be won or lost in diplomatic circles. Positive action is needed if we are to win. This program will give America a more powerful diplomatic force and be a major force in the eventual defeat of the Communists.

Let's Buy The Boys Painted Bullets

By JOHN PENNEKAMP

IF, SINCE the holidays, there's any money left in the cocktail account, which us taxpayers finance unwillingly, I have a suggestion.

Let's buy 10-gallon hats, fur-lined leather chaps with flairs and high-heeled boots for some of our law enforcement officers, and turn them loose.

Pennekamp

We wouldn't want them to hurt themselves, nor us. Some of us have recollection of the boom days when a policeman shot a pedestrian on Flagler Street for not obeying orders.

You just can't tell how far these fellows whose salaries we pay will go after we bless them with a little brief authority.

Pretty soon they interpret our rights as citizens of a free country as privileges limited to such interpretation as they choose to put upon them.

ALL OF WHICH is invoked by their steadfast determination not only to continue the road blocks to check drivers' licenses, but actually to extend the practice.

"There's no question about the benefit," says Sheriff Tom Kelly, the Metro safety director, but he fails to say what benefit.

Walter E. Headley, Miami's police chief, goes further. The road blocks, he says, work, and he credits last year's improved accident record to this.

It would be interesting to have the chief name one accident which might have been prevented by such blocks.

At the same time, the hazards of such stoppages, the interference with the normal flow of traffic and the violation of the rights of freedom loving, law abiding citizens are many and obvious.

EVEN J. I. JACKSON, the executive director of the Dade Citizens Safety Council expresses himself as "strongly in favor" of road blocks.

"We should deny," he says "the privilege of driving to those whose licenses have been suspended." Nobody will disagree as to that, but he adds:

"It's the only way we can check them."

At which point he is way off base.

The number of drivers whose licenses have been suspended is an extremely small fraction of the total number of drivers in a community like Dade County.

If, in order to keep them from behind driving wheels it is necessary to stop and inspect the license of all drivers, then there's something haywire with the efficiency of our costly enforcement setup.

The assertion that roadblocks are the only way it can be done is its own indictment.

"Prohibition of all practices in which police indiscriminately stop lawabiding motorists for interrogation, thereby arresting them for 'investigation.'

"While the road block has been recognized as sound police technique in attempts to stop fleeing criminals, its use in mass checks of drivers and their cars clearly infringes on the constitutional right of law abiding motorists to operate unchallenged on public highways."

It is difficult to believe that these blocks are for any purpose more serious than to catch the driver who may have forgotten to carry his license with him and collect a fine from him.

Or in fictional Wyatt Earp style, to flaunt the authority which we, the taxpayers have invested in these fellows, our employes.

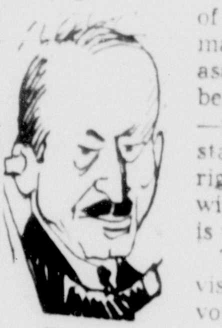
Haven't we come far enough in Dade County to be controlled by something a little more normal than a self-assumed "west of the Pecos" legal administration?

Merry-Go-Round

GOP Revolts Prove Elephant Not Dead

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Political observers, accustomed to keeping score on the ebb and flow of American politics, give the edge in the past 10 days to the Republicans.



Pearson

In November, after the Democrats elected the largest number of senators in two decades, and rolled up a big new margin in the House, some observers were predicting that the Republican elephant was just about down and out. Now they've decided there's life in the old gal yet.

What's perked up opinion of Republicans is largely the fact that they have resorted to the democratic processes. In contrast, the Democrats deserted the democratic processes in passing on the gag rule of Congressman Smith's Rules Committee. They let one man, Speaker Sam Rayburn, decide the issue. There was no democratic debate in caucus. Everything was decided in advance, even to the seating of contested Congressman Dale Alford of Arkansas.

MEANWHILE, the Republicans battled it out, by the democratic process, for their new leader. Actually the new leader, Charlie Halleck, will be no different in policy from good old Joe Martin. But the fact that the Republicans staged a battle and changed leaders gave the GOP a healthier look.

Simultaneously, Republican senators also staged a healthy battle between Old Guard Dirksen and liberal Cooper for the Senate GOP leadership. The Old Guard won, but the fact that they battled it out gave the public an impression of vigor.

Democratic senators are showing plenty of democratic fight over the filibuster. But, as Sen. Clinton Anderson warned inside a closed-door Democratic meeting this week, Vice President Nixon stands to get the credit. Lyndon Johnson's hand is smooth and efficient, but most of the time it's a hand of iron.

So, despite the overwhelming Democratic majorities in both houses of Congress, it looks as if the public would benefit from that principle which has kept the U.S.A. on an even keel for over a century—plenty of competition.

THERE WAS some explosive oratory behind the closed doors of the Republican caucus which voted to oust Joe Martin of Massachusetts as GOP leader in favor of Charlie Halleck of Indiana. Rep. Leo Allen of Illinois, a Martin man, roughly chided his colleagues for agreeing to a secret ballot —a move that aided Halleck.

"It is obvious that a number of my colleagues are afraid to make their position known," asserted Allen. "They are rubberlegged, and by that I mean —no guts. All of us should stand up and be counted, right out in the open, so there will be no question about who is voting for whom."

The 74-year-old Martin was visibly shaken by the 74-70 vote against him.

"I am reminded of something General MacArthur once said about an old soldier fading away," he declared. "Today I am fading away. Of course I am grieved. I never dreamed after all these years that my career would come to a close in this way."

Then he added, with a grin: "I wish I could have got two or three more votes. But now that the issue is settled, I want to thank the 70 members, tried and true friends, who supported me."

THE U.S. Chamber of Commerce gnashed its teeth and issued a special bulletin berating me when I called attention to its lobbying against the school construction bill. It was especially irate over mention that crowded, inadequate schools can lead to fires.

However, the U.S. Chamber might well read the report of the American Institute of Architects. It too has something to say about inadequate schools and fires.

"Chicago's disastrous school fire," report the architects, "has focused attention on the unsafe conditions which exist in thousands of obsolete school buildings still in daily use. Despite prodigious efforts of communities during the past few years to provide adequate educational facilities for their booming enrollments, the rate of construction has barely kept pace with increased attendance. Overcrowded classrooms in outmoded buildings are all too common in U.S. cities and towns today."

Courageous Congressman Frank Thompson of New Jersey has announced that he will press for new school legislation this year. For six years Eisenhower has talked about a school construction bill but has done nothing about passing it. In 1957 and 1958 Thompson, together with Congressmen Metcalf of Montana, Udall of Arizona, and Vanik of Ohio, adopted the President's own school construction bill and tried to get Republicans to push it. But Ike's own leader in the House, Charlie Halleck, now elevated to the top leadership, spiked the bill. Two-Cadillac Charlie sent his son to a swank private school.

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the 86th Congress, My Fellow Citizens:

This is the moment when Congress and the executive annually begin their cooperative work to build a better America.

One basic opportunity unites us: To promote strength and security, side by side with liberty and opportunity.

As we meet today, in the 170th year of the republic, our nation must continue to provide — as all other free governments have had to do throughout time — a satisfactory answer to a question as old as history.

It is: Can government based upon liberty and the God-given rights of man, permanently endure when ceaselessly challenged by a dictatorship, hostile to our mode of life, and controlling an economic and military power of great and growing strength?

For us the answer has always been found, and is still found in the devotion, the vision, the courage and the fortitude of our people.

Moreover, this challenge we face, not as a single powerful nation, but as one that has in recent decades reached a position of recognized leadership in the free world.

We have arrived at this position of leadership in an era of remarkable productivity and growth. It is also a time when man's power of mass destruction has reached fearful proportions.

Possession of such capabilities helps create world suspicion and tension. We, on our part, know that we seek only a just peace for all, with aggressive designs against no one.

Yet we realize that there is uneasiness in the world because of a belief on the part of peoples that through arrogance, miscalculation or fear of attack, catastrophic war could be launched.

Keeping the peace in today's world more than ever calls for the utmost in the nation's resolution, wisdom, steadiness and unremitting effort. We cannot build peace through desire alone.

Moreover, we have learned the bitter lesson that international agreements, historically considered by us as sacred, are regarded in Communist doctrine and in practice to be mere scraps of paper.

The most recent proof of their disdain of international obligations, solemnly undertaken, is their announced intention to abandon their responsibilities respecting Berlin.

As a consequence, we can have no confidence in any treaty to which Communists are a party except where such a treaty provides within itself for self-enforcing mechanisms.

Indeed, the demonstrated disregard of the Communists of their own pledges is one of the greatest obstacles to success in substituting the rule of law for rule by force.

Yet step by step we must strengthen the institutions of peace — a peace that rests upon justice — a peace that depends upon a deep knowledge and clear understanding by all peoples of the consequences of failure in this great purpose.

DEFENSE

To achieve this peace we seek to prevent war at any place and in any dimension. If, despite our best efforts, a local dispute should flare into armed hostilities, the next problem would be to keep the conflict from spreading, and so compromising freedom. In support of these objectives we maintain forces of great power and flexibility.

Our formidable air striking forces are a powerful deterrent to general war. Large and growing portions of these units can depart from their bases in a matter of minutes.

Similar forces are included in our naval fleets.

Ground and other tactical formations can move with swiftness and precision, when requested by friendly and responsible governments, to help curb threatened aggression.

The stabilizing influence of this capacity has been dramatically demonstrated more than once over the past year.

Our military and related scientific progress has been highly gratifying.

Great strides have been made in the development of of ballistic missiles. Intermediate range missiles are now being deployed in operational units.

The Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile program has been marked by rapid development as evidenced by recent successful tests. Missile training units have been established and launching sites are far along in construction.

New aircraft that fly at twice the speed of sound are entering our squadrons.

We have successfully placed five satellites in orbit, which have gathered information of scientific importance never before available. Our latest satellite illustrates our steady advance in rocketry and foreshadows new developments in world-wide communications.

Warning systems constantly improve.

Our atomic submarines have shattered endurance records and made historic voyages under the north polar sea.

A major segment of our national scientific and engineering community is working intensively to advance new and greater developments. Advances in military technology require adequate financing but of course even more they require talent and time.

All this is given only as a matter of history; as a record of our progress in space and ballistic missile fields in no more than four years of intensive effort.

At the same time we clearly recognize that some of the recent Soviet accomplishments in this particular technology are indeed brilliant.

Under the law enacted last year the Department of Defense is being reorganized to give the secretary of defense full authority over the military establishment. Greater efficiency, more cohesive effort and speedier reaction to emergencies are among the many advantages we are already noting from these changes.

These few highlights point up our steady military gains. We are rightfully gratified by the achievements they represent. But we must remember that these imposing armaments are purchased at great cost.

NATIONAL security programs account for nearly 60 per cent of the entire federal budget for this coming fiscal year.

MODERN weapons are exceedingly expensive.

THE OVERALL cost of introducing Atlas into our armed forces will average $35 million per missile on the firing line.

THIS YEAR we are investint an aggregate of close to 7 billion dollars in missile programs alone.

OTHER BILLIONS go for research, development, test and evaluation of new weapons systems.

OUR LATEST atomic submarines will cost 50 million dollars each, while some special types will cost three times as much.

WE ARE now ordering fighter aircraft which are priced at 50 times as much as the fighters of World War II.

WE ARE buying certain bombers that cost their weight in gold.

These sums are tremendous, even when compared with the marvelous resiliency and capacity of our economy.

Such expenditures demand both balance and perspective in our planning for defense. At every turn, we must weigh, judge and select. Needless duplication of weapons and forces must be avoided.

We must guard against feverish building of vast armaments to meet glibly predicted moments of so-called "maximum peril." The threat we face is not sporadic or dated: it is continuous.

Hence we must not be swayed in our calculations either by groundless fear or by complacency. We must avoid extremes, for vacillation between extremes is inefficient, costly, and destructive of morale.

In these days of unceasing technological advance, we must plan our defense expenditures systematically and with care, fully recognizing that obsolescence compels the never-ending replacement of older weapons with new ones.

The defense budget for the coming year has been planned on the basis of these principles and considerations. Over these many months I have personally participated in its development.

The aim is a sensible posture of defense. The secondary aim is increased efficiency and avoidance of waste. Both are advanced by this budgetary plan.

Working by these guide lines I believe with all my heart that America can be as sure of the strength and efficiency of her armed forces as she is of their loyalty. I am equally sure that the nation will thus avoid useless expenditures which, in the name of security, might tend to undermine the economy and, therefore, the nation's safety.

Our own vast strength is only a part of that required for dependable security. Because of this we have joined with nearly 50 other nations in collective security arrangements.

In these common undertakings each nation is expected to contribute what it can in sharing the heavy load. Each supplies part of a strategic deployment to protect the forward boundaries of freedom.

Constantly we seek new ways to make more effective our contribution to this system of collective security. Recently I have asked a committee of eminent Americans of both parties to re-appraise our military assistance programs and the relative emphasis which should be placed on military and economic aid.

I am hopeful that preliminary recommendations of this committee will be available in time to assist in shaping the mutual security program for the coming fiscal year.

Any survey of the free world's defense structure cannot fail to impart a feeling of regret that so much of our effort and resources must be devoted to armaments.

At Geneva and elsewhere we continue to seek technical and other agreements that may help to open up, with some promise, the issues of international disarmament.

America will never give up the hope that eventually all nations can, with mutual confidence, drastically reduce these non-productive expenditures.

ECONOMY

The material foundation of our national safety is a strong and expanding economy. This we have — and this we must maintain. Only with such an economy can we be secure and simultaneously provide for the well-being of our people.

A year ago the nation was experiencing a decline in employment and output. Today that recession is fading into history, and this without gigantic, hastily-improvised public works projects or untimely tax reductions.

A healthy and vigorous recovery has been under way since last May. New homes are being built at the highest rate in several years. Retail sales are at peak levels. Personal income is at an all-time high.

The marked forward thrust of our economy reaffirms our confidence in competitive enterprise. But — clearly — wisdom and prudence in both the public and private sectors of the economy are always necessary.

Our outlook is this: 1960 commitments for our armed forces. The Atomic Energy Commission and military assistance exceed 47 billion dollars. In the foreseeable future they are not likely to be significantly lower. With an annual population increase of three million, other governmental costs are bound to mount.

After we have provided wisely for our military strength, we must judge how to allocate our remaining government resources most effectively to promote our well-being and economic growth.

Federal programs that will benefit all citizens are moving forward.

Next year we will be spending increased amounts:

ON HEALTH programs;

ON FEDERAL assistance to science and education;

ON THE development of the nation's water resources;

ON THE renewal of urban areas;

AND ON our vast system of federal-aid highways.

Each of these additional outlays is being made necessary by the surging growth of America.

Let me illustrate. Responsive to this growth, federal grants and long term loans to assist 14 major types of capital improvements in our cities will total over 2 billion dollars in 1960 — double the expenditure of two years ago.

The major responsibility for development in these fields rests in the localities, even though the federal government will continue to do its proper part in meeting the genuine needs of a burgeoning population.

But the progress of our economy can more than match the growth of our needs. We need only to act wisely and confidently.

Here, I hope you will permit me to digress long enough to express something that is much on my mind.

The basic question facing us today is more than mere survival — the military defense of national life and territory. It is the preservation of a way of life.

We must meet the world challenge and at the same time permit no stagnation in America.

Unless we progress, we regress.

We can successfully sustain security and remain true to our heritage of freedom if we clearly visualize the tasks ahead and set out to perform them with resolution and fervor. We must first define these tasks and then understand what we must do to perform them.

If progress is to be steady we must have long term guides extending far ahead, certainly five, possibly even 10 years. They must reflect the knowledge that before the end of five years we will have a population of over 190 million.

They must be goals that stand high, and so inspire every citizen to climb always toward mounting levels of moral, intellectual and material strength. Every advance toward them must stir pride in individual and national achievements.

To define these goals, I intend to mobilize help from every available source.

We need more than politically ordained national objectives to challenge the best efforts of free men and women.

A group of selfless and devoted individuals, outside of government, could effectively participate in making the necessary appraisal of the potentials of our future. The result would be established national goals that would not only reflect the brightness of our finest dreams, but would meet the stern test of practicality.

I plan a committee comprised of educators and representatives of labor, management, finance, the professions and every other kind of useful activity.

Such a study would update and supplement, in the light of continuous changes in our society and its economy, the monumental work of the committee on recent social trends which was appointed in 1931 by President Hoover.

The new committee would be concerned, among other things, with the living standards of our people, their health and education, their better assurance of life and liberty and their greater opportunities. It would also be concerned with methods to meet such goals and what levels of government — local, state, or federal — should be particularly concerned.

As one example consider our schools, operated under the authority of local communities and states. In their capacity and in their quality they conform to no recognizable standards. In some places facilities are ample, in others meager.

Pay of teachers ranges between wide limits, from the adequate to the shameful.

As would be expected, quality of teaching varies just as widely. But to our teachers we commit the most valuable possession of the nation and of the family — our children.

We must have teachers of competence. To obtain and hold them we need standards. We need a national goal. Once established I am certain that public opinion would compel steady progress toward its accomplishment.

Such studies would be helpful, I believe, to government at all levels and to all individuals. The goals so established could help us see our current needs in perspective. They will spur progress.

We do not forget, of course, that our nation's progress and fiscal integrity are interdependent and inseparable. We can afford everything we clearly need, but we cannot afford one cent of waste. We must examine every item of governmental expense critically. To do otherwise would betray our nation's future.

Thrift is one of the characteristics that has made this nation great. Why should we ignore it?

We must avoid any contribution to inflationary processes, which could disrupt sound growth in our economy.

Prices have displayed a welcome stability in recent months and, if we are wise and resolute, we will not tolerate inflation in the years to come.

But history makes clear the risks inherent in any failure to deal firmly with the basic causes of inflation. Two of the most important of these causes are the wage-price spiral and continued deficit financing.

Inflation would reduce job opportunities, price us out of world markets, shrink the value of savings and penalize the thrift so essential to finance a growing economy.

Inflation is not a Robin Hood, taking from the rich to give to the poor. Rather, it deals most cruelly with those who can least protect themselves. It strikes hardest those millions of our citizens whose incomes do not quickly rise with the cost of living.

When prices soar, the pensioner and the widow see their security undermined, the man of thrift sees his savings melt away; the white collar worker, the minister, and the teacher see their standards of living dragged down.

Inflation can be prevented. But this demands statesmanship on the part of business and labor leaders and of government at all levels.

We must encourage the self-discipline, the restraint necessary to curb the wage-price spiral and we must meet current costs from current revenue.

To minimize the danger of future soaring prices and to keep our economy sound and expanding, I shall present to the Congress certain proposals.

FIRST. I shall submit a balanced budget for the next year, a year expected to be the most prosperous in our history. It is a realistic budget with wholly attainable objectives.

If we cannot live within our means during such a time of rising prosperity the hope for fiscal integrity will fade. If we persist in living beyond our means, we make it difficult for every family in our land to balance its own household budget. But to live within our means would be a tangible demonstration of the

THE IMAGE of America abroad is not improved when school children, through closing of some of our schools and through no fault of their own, are deprived of their opportunity for an education.

THE GOVERNMENT of a free people has no purpose more noble than to work for the maximum realization of equality of opportunity under law.

WE ARE MAKING noticeable progress in the field of civil rights . . . legislative proposals of the administration in this field will be submitted to the Congress early in the session.

WE SEEK victory — not over any nation or people — but over the ancient enemies of us all; victory over ignorance, poverty, disease, and human degradation wherever they may be found.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — In a bow to the Russians President Eisenhower said Thursday some Soviet accomplishments in the missile rockets field "are indeed brilliant."

But he said the United States is making great strides.

This sum up was given Congress in the President's State of the Union message. He said nothing as to the relative position of the two nations.

As to U.S. costs, Eisenhower said: "This year we are investing an aggregate of close to seven billion dollars in missile programs alone."

Costlier Than Gold

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Eisenhower said Friday the United States is buying "certain bombers that cost their weight in gold."

ACTUALLY, HE UNDERSTATED THE FACTS.

Both the Air For[illegible] and the Navy's A3J cost more than the worth [illegible] in gold.

Gold is valued [illegible] troy ounce or about $500 a pound when transl[illegible] the 16-ounce pound used in weighing airplanes.

The White House gave these figures:

The A3J weighs 27,0[illegible] pounds and costs $17,600,000 or $650 a pound.

The B58 weighs 47,000 pounds and costs $26,700,000 or $567 a pound.

However, the unit cost of weapons, as with civilian products, will go down with increased production.

self-discipline needed to assure a stable dollar.

The Constitution entrusts the executive with many functions, but the Congress — and the Congress alone — has the power of the purse. Ultimately upon Congress rests responsibility for determining the scope and amount of federal spending.

By working together, the Congress and the executive can keep a balance between income and outgo. If this is done there is real hope that we can look forward to a time in the foreseeable future when needed tax reforms can be accomplished.

In this hope, I am requesting the secretary of the treasury to prepare appropriate proposals for revising, at the proper time, our tax structure, to remove inequities and to enhance incentives for all Americans to work, to save, and to invest. Such recommendations will be made as soon as our fiscal conditions permits.

These prospects will be brightened if 1960 expenditures do not exceed the levels recommended.

SECOND, I shall recommend to the Congress that the chief executive be given the responsibility either to approve or to veto specific items in appropriations and authorization bills. This would save tax dollars.

THIRD, to reduce federal operations in an area where private enterprise can do the job, I shall recommend legislation for greater flexibility in extending federal credit, and in improving the procedures under which private credits are insured or guaranteed. Present practices have needlessly added large sums to federal expenditures.

FOURTH, action is required to make more effective use of the large federal expenditures for agriculture and to achieve greater fiscal control in this area.

Outlays of the Department of Agriculture for the current fiscal year for the support of farm prices on a very few farm products, will exceed five billion dollars. That is a sum equal to approximately two-fifths of the net income of all farm operators in the entire United States.

By the end of this fiscal year it is estimated that there will be in government hands surplus farm products worth about nine billion dollars. And by July 1, 1959, government expenditures for storage, interest, and handling of its agricultural inventory will reach a rate of one billion dollars a year.

This level of expenditure for farm products could be made willingly for a temporary period if it were leading to a sound solution of the problem. But unfortuantely this is not true. We need new legislation.

In the past I have sent messages to the Congress requesting greater freedom for our farmers to manage their own farms and greater freedom for markets to reflect the wishes of producers and consumers. Legislative changes that followed were appropriate in direction but did not go far enough.

The situation calls for prompt and forthright action. Recommendation for action will be contained in a message to be transmitted to the Congress shortly.

These fiscal and related actions will help create an environment of price stability for economic growth. However, certain additional measures are needed.

I shall ask Congress to amend the Employment Act of 1946 to make it clear that government intends to use all appropriate means to protect the buying power of the dollar.

I am establishing a continuing cabinet group on price stability for economic growth to study governmental and private policies affecting costs, prices, and economic growth. It will strive also to build a better public understanding of the conditions necessary for maintaining growth and price stability.

Studies are being undertaken to improve our information on prices, wages, and productivity.

I believe all citizens in all walks of life will support this program of action to accelerate economic growth and promote price stability.

FOREIGN PROGRAM

I TAKE UP next certain aspects of our international situation and our programs to strengthen it.

America's security can be assured only within a world community of strong, stable, independent nations, in which the concepts of freedom, justice and human dignity can flourish.

There can be no such thing as fortress America. If ever we were reduced to the isolation implied by that term, we would occupy a prison, not a fortress. The question whether we can afford to help other nations that want to defend their freedom but cannot fully do so from their own means, has only one answer: We can and we must, we have been doing so since 1947.

Our foreign policy has long been dedicated to building a permanent and just peace.

During the past six years our free world security arrangements have been bolstered and the bonds of freedom have been more closely knit. Our friends in Western Europe are experiencing new internal vitality, and are increasingly more able to resist external threats.

Over the years the world has come to understand clearly that it is our firm policy not to countenance aggression. In Lebanon, Taiwan, and Berlin — our stand has been clear, right, and expressive of the determined will of a united people.

Acting with other free nations we have undertaken the solemn obligation to defend the people of Free Berlin against any effort to destroy their freedom.

In the meantime we shall constantly seek meaningful agreements to settle this and other problems, knowing full well that not only the integrity of a single city, but the hope of all free peoples is at stake.

We need, likewise, to continue helping to build the economic base so essential to the free world's stability and strength.

The International Monetary Fund and the World Bank have both fully proven their worth as instruments of international financial cooperation. Their executive directors have recommended an increase in each member country's subscription. I am requesting the Congress for immediate approval of our share of these increases.

We are now negotiating with representatives of the 20 Latin American republics for the creation of an inter-American financial institution.

Its purpose would be to join all the American republics in a common institution which would promote and finance development in Latin America, and make more effective the use of capital from the World Bank, the Export-Import Bank, and private sources.

Private enterprise continues to make major contributions to economic development in all parts of the world. But we have not yet marshalled the full potential of American business for this task, particularly in countries which have recently attained their independence. I shall present to this Congress a program designed to encourage greater participation by private enterprise in economic development abroad.

Further, all of us know that to advance the cause of freedom we must do much more than help build sound economies. The spiritual, intellectual, and physical strength of people throughout the world will in the last analysis determine their willingness and their ability to resist communism.

To give a single illustration of our many efforts in these fields: we have been a participant in the effort that has been made over the past few years against one of the great scourges of mankind—disease.

Through the mutual security program public health officials are being trained by American universities to serve in less developed countries. We are engaged in intensive malaria eradication projects in many parts of the world. America's major successes in our own country prove the feasibility of success everywhere.

By these and other means we shall continue and expand our campaign against the afflictions that now bring needless suffering and death to so many of the world's people. We wish to be part of a great shared effort toward the triumph of health.

INTERNAL AFFAIRS

America is best described by one word, freedom.

If we hope to strengthen freedom in the world we must be ever mindful of how our own conduct reacts elsewhere. No nation has ever been so floodlighted by world opinion as the United States is today. Everything we do is carefully scrutinized by other peoples throughout the world. The bad is seen along with the good.

Because we are human we err. But as free men we are also responsible for correcting the errors and imperfections of our ways.

Last January I made comprehensive recommendations to the Congress for legislation in the labor - management field. To my disappointment, Congress failed to act.

The McClellan Committee disclosures of corruption, racketeering, and abuse of trust and power in labor-management affairs have aroused America and amazed other peoples.

They emphasize the need for improved local law enforcement and the enactment of effective federal legislation to protect the public interest and to insure the rights and economic freedoms of millions of American workers.

Halfhearted measures will not do. I shall recommend prompt enactment of legislation designed:

TO SAFEGUARD workers' funds in union treasuries against misuse of any kind whatsoever.

TO PROTECT the rights and freedoms of individual union members, including the basic right to free and secret elections of officers.

TO ADVANCE true and responsible collective bargaining.

TO PROTECT the public and innocent third parties from unfair and coercive practices such as boycotting and blackmail picketing.

The workers and the public must have these vital protections.

In other areas of human rights—freedom from discrimination in voting, in public education, in access to jobs, and in other respects—the world is likewise watching our conduct.

The image of America abroad is not improved when school children, through closing of some of our schools and through NO fault of their own, are deprived of their opportunity for an education.

The government of a free people has no purpose more noble than to work for the maximum realization of equality of opportunity under law. This is not the sole responsibility of any one branch of our government.

The judicial arm which has the ultimate authority for interpreting the Constitution, has held that certain state laws and practices discriminate upon racial grounds and are unconstitutional.

WHENEVER THE SUPREMACY OF THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES IS CHALLENGED I SHALL CONTINUE TO TAKE EVERY ACTION NECESSARY TO UPHOLD IT.

One of the fundamental concepts of our Constitutional system is that it guarantees to every individual, regardless of race, religion, or national origin, the equal protection of the laws.

Those of us who are privileged to hold public office have a solemn obligation to make meaningful this inspiring objective. We can fulfill that obligation by our leadership in teaching, persuading, demonstrating, and in enforcing the law.

We are making noticeable progress in the field of civil rights — we are moving forward toward achievement of equality of opportunity for all people everywhere in the United States. In the interest of the nation and of each of its citizens, that progress must continue.

Legislative proposals of the administration in this field will be submitted to the Congress early in the session. All of us should help to make clear that the government is united in the common purpose of giving support to the law and the decisions of the courts.

By moving steadily toward the goal of greater freedom under law, for our own people, we shall be the better prepared to work for the cause of freedom under law throughout the world.

All peoples are sorely tired of the fear, destruction, and the waste of war. As never before, the world knows the human and material costs of war and seeks to replace force with a genuine rule of law among nations.

It is my purpose to intensify efforts during the coming two years in seeking ways to supplement the procedures of the United Nations and other bodies with similar objectives, to the end that the rule of law may replace the rule of force in the affairs of nations.

Measures toward this end will be proposed later, including a re-examination of our own relation to the international court of justice.

Finally — let us remind ourselves that Marxist scripture is not new; it is not the gospel of the future. Its basic objective is dictatorship, old as history. What is new is the shining prospect that man can build a world where all can live in dignity.

We seek victory — not over any nation or people — but over the ancient enemies of us all; victory over ignorance, poverty, disease, and human degradation wherever they may be found.

We march in the noblest of causes — human freedom.

If we make ourselves worthy of America's ideals, if we do not forget that our nation was founded on the premise that all men are creatures of GOD's making, the world will come to know that it is free men who carry forward the true promise of human progress and dignity.

Filibuster Foes Lose Senate Test

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Senate slapped down an anti-filibuster coalition Friday and then agreed on procedure that could bring a final vote next week on the issue of changing its rules governing debate.

The decision to postpone any further votes until Monday at the earliest came after the Senate rejected by almost 2-1 a key maneuver by a bipartisan group of Northern and Western senators.

This move was aimed at opening the way for a tougher clampdown on endless talk — a parliamentary weapon wielded by Southern Democrats to block civil rights legislation in the past.

Cleared In Mine Venture

Dubbin Brothers Suit Is Dropped

Charges of misrepresentation against Henry and Daniel Dubbin, of Miami Beach, have been lifted as "unfounded."

A Chicago metal supplier, Harold Weinstein, had brought federal suit against the pair in September. He charged they fraudulently induced him to invest in a worthless gold mine venture in French Guiana.

Weinstein sought payment of some $169,000 or setting aside of a mortgage on the LSM vessel "Southern Venturer" which had been involved in the group's business transactions.

First count in the complaint charged the Dubbins had made a series of false representations, including a statement that they had secreted funds in Venezuela and Switzerland because they anticipated tax troubles.

The second portion of the complaint involved foreclosure procedure in connection with the LSM.

Title to the landing craft has been transferred to a company formed by the plaintiff, attorneys for the Dubbins said Friday. Meanwhile, the original complaint was dismissed during court procedure.

The plaintiff now has signed a statement that a full and complete investigation has been made. It acknowledges that allegations and charges contained in first count of the complaint "are unfounded insofar as they relate themselves to any charge of misrepresentation or moral wrong on the part of any of the defendants."

The Dubbins are brothers of Miami City Judge Albert Dubbin. Henry lives at 1611 W. 24th St., Sunset Isle No. 3, Miami Beach, Daniel at 6520 Allison Road.

Also named in the original complaint were Gladys and Dorothy Dubbin, their wives, Inter Island Shipping Co. Intercontinental Services, Inc., South American Mining, Ltd., and Pestros Servicios Consolidatos, S.A. Plaintiffs were listed as Weinstein, H. and R. Equipment Co., Indiana Metals, Inc., Calumet Iron and Supply Co. and Howard Gould as trustee.

Man Flattens Under Train

ATHENS, Ohio — (AP) — A passenger train passed over a man trapped between rails on a bridge near here without touching him.

Conductor Walter Armstrong of Chillicothe reported the unusual incident when the Baltimore & Ohio's eastbound Metropolitan Limited arrived in Parkersburg, W. Va., seven minutes late.

He said Robert Bailes, about 55, flattened himself between the rails on the bridge near Canaanville, near Athens, when trapped on the span.

All 10 cars passed over Bailes. But when the train stopped and Armstrong went back for a look, Bailes was fishing his hat out of a creek with a stick. Bailes said he wasn't scratched nor was his clothing torn.

Dan Dailey Pays Fine

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — (UPI) — Actor Dan Dailey reversed his earlier plea of innocent to a drunk driving charge and paid a $368 fine, Van Nuys Municipal Court records disclosed.

Dailey, 45, was arrested Dec. 28 in the San Fernando Valley by police who said they had to handcuff him to take him into custody.

He pleaded innocent Dec. 29 and a trial date was set. But on the following day his attorney reversed the plea and paid the fine.

Dailey is now out of the country on location for a movie.

Professors Worth More Than Deans?

GAINESVILLE — (UPI) — President Robert M. Strozier of Florida State University said Friday night that too much glamor is attached to administrative positions in universities because of the salary that goes with them.

Dr. Strozier told the University of Florida chapter of Phi Beta Kappa honor society that education is the common objective of any university and it is "unhealthy" to arbitrarily make the dean or department head in every school the highest paid member of the faculty.

There is no reason why qualified professors should not be paid more than deans or department heads, he said. Otherwise, the administrative position is the "plum" toward which scholars will be tempted to work.

Dr. Strozier, in his new budget to the legislature, is attempting to put his theory into practice to some extent. But he admists that he has not gone as far as he would like.

"I plan to make some recommendations about it in the future, though," he said.

In no instance in the present or proposed FSU budget does a professor draw a higher salary than the dean of his school, although there are cases at the University of Florida here.

Strozier said he has not gotten around to that yet "but I have at least one in mind now if I can get the money for it."

However, he has put several professors down for raises above their department heads in the new budget.

Inventor Will Speak

Dr. Otto Engelman, Chicago optometrist who invented the dynoscope, will speak on "Visual Training and Orthoptics" at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the offices of Dr. Agnes Austin, 2488 Biscayne Blvd.

AT GROVE PLAYHOUSE

Rehearsal Room Has New Look As Art Gallery

By NORA OPHULS
Herald Staff Writer

A smiling muse is hovering over Coconut Grove Playhouse.

Not only are her disciples treading its boards; they are decorating its walls.

PERSON TO PERSON

In what used to be a second floor rehearsal room, now subtly decorated in beige and gray, art lovers reviewed paintings and sculpture lent by Palm Beach's Norton Gallery and the Joe and Emily Lowe Art Gallery of the University of Miami.

Goateed Jack Amoroso, a painter with three of his striking canvases in the exhibit, and director of the gallery, greeted guests with his tall blonde wife Judy.

Among the first arrivals were Helen and Bill Muir and Dr. and Mrs. Virgil Barker, long-time Coconut Grove residents.

Helen Muir

Kay and Don Sanderson—she's a painter—were among the true art crowd, as was Mrs. Carl Davis, who lent a water color, Cape Cod Pond by Xavier Gonzelez, to the exhibit.

A very small art lover was Mary Claire Dinsmore, about two, who wore a bright velvet Red Riding Hood cape. She brought her father, the Rev. William Dinsmore, head of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church Day School. Mrs. Dinsmore was home with a new little baby.

Also there were Gen. Arthur Evans, Edna and Richard Lackey, Bernice and John Shippmann, and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Amoroso, parents of the gallery's director.

The Playhouse Gallery is convertible into the Celebrity Room, where dinner will be served on special occasions. A small parquet dance circle in the middle, an orchestra and roast beef on a cart will transform the museum into an intimate refuge.

The gallery opens to the public on Monday.

UM Dinner Plans Launched

It's rocketing toward the moon! Plans for the 11th annual dinner meeting of the Citizens Board and Board of Trustees of University of Miami were launched Friday at a kick-off luncheon with co-chairman of the dinner Elsa (Mrs. William H.) Stubblefield acting as hostess in the UM dining hall.

Traditionally a formal event, this year's dinner will be at the Americana March 11. Mrs. Radford R. Crane, Mrs. Jose A. Ferre, Mrs. Robert Z. Greene and Mrs. Charles M. Moon are aiding with the arrangements as co-chairmen, and expect an attendance of 1000.

At the luncheon the some 50 committee members were welcomed by Daniel J. Mahoney, chairman of the Board of Trustees, and President and Mrs. Jay F. W. Pearson.

After lunch the women were taken on a bus tour of the campus, hearing the points of interest explained by Orange Bowl Queen Nanita Greene, Homecoming Queen Lonnie Robinson, Virginia Behney and Beverly Filip.

Good Way To Entertain

"It's a wonderful way to entertain friends," said Mrs. E. S. McCann of Canada about her box at Tropical Park. "We'd never be able to have this many friends to the house."

With her one day this week were Mr. and Mrs. Ceilestine Leone of Bay Point.

Mr. Leone was complaining of missing his beauty sleep. What with marketing for his Hallandale restaurant at dawn, then supervising the place until it closes after the last late diners leave, he has to catch half his daily sleep during the afternoon.

The Leones plan to move into the Golden Beach home they just bought when their 13-year-old son finishes school this spring.

Elbow Room at El Centro

When El Centro serves its first dinner this evening there will be elbow room for 40 fewer members than there usually is at lunch time. The atmosphere will be more spacious, more relaxed with 80 diners being served rather than 120.

Some of the early reservations for the dinner hour opening — the club has served lunch only since it opened — have been made by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Pierce, Judge and Mrs. George E. Holt, Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Beckwith, and T. D. Reducka.

Secure your turban, pull in the fringe — we're off on a Flying Carpet House Party.

Friday, 50 members of Nassau's Coral Reef Yacht Club assembled at Miami International Airport to board their chartered carpet for a weekend on Li'l Nassau.

Informal dance Friday, formal dinner dance tonight, luncheon on the terrace patio Sunday—they'll be back after all this by dinner time Sunday.

Her assistants will be Mrs. Buhrman Staley, Mrs. Cyril Vivian, Mrs. Evelyn Daoud, Mrs. Charles Carter, Mrs. Alfred Glover and Mrs. Dorothy Hughes.

The new home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leroy Tracy doesn't stand a chance of remaining chilly when more than 100 guests gather there tonight for a house-warming.

Mrs. Jack Kessler and Mrs. Samuel Gitlen are giving the party at the new Tracy address, 7800 SW 128th St.

A 'Summer' Honeymoon

A mid-summer honeymoon in January? Sounds impossible, but Mr. and Mrs. William Morse Davidson are on their wedding trip to Rio de Janeiro and Buenos Aires where the seasons are the reverse of ours.

Mr. Davidson and the former Carol Serns were married Dec. 29 at the Fontainebleau. Their parents are Mrs. William J. Serns, 1700 S. Treasure Dr., Miami Beach, and Mrs. Ralph Davidson of Detroit, Mich.

Tom Guytons Have a Son

They're still working on a name for the wee six-pounder who became the son of Evelyn and Dr. Thomas Guyton Friday morning in Jackson Memorial Hospital. He'll be carrying on the Guyton name for posterity since he's the first male in this generation of the family. Evelyn and Tom also have a girl Mary Evelyn who's a year and a half old.

Serve Dressed-Up Noodles For Casual Family Supper

Buttered and Cheesed Noodles Are Fun for Supper
. . . make it an easygoing meal and call it a cook-in

By JEANNE VOLTZ
Herald Homemaking Editor

If you're tired of the same old meals served the same old way, tell the family tonight's supper is a cook-in.

Daily Food Guide

A cook-in is simply supper which borrows fun ideas from a cook-out. Dress is casual — bermudas or slacks. The setting can be the Florida room or a fireside table.

And the food is causal — but filling and good.

Serve Fettucini Americano, hot buttered noodles tossed with Parmesan cheese and freshly snipped parsley. With it go a platter of cold cuts, a big tossed salad and simple dessert.

COOK-IN SUPPER

Assorted Cold Cuts
Fettucini Americano
Tossed Green Salad
Bread Sticks
Fresh Fruits, Cookies

Bring the steaming platter of noodles to the table and toss with the butter, cheese and parsley for everybody to see.

FETTUCINI AMERICANO

3 tablespoons salt
4 to 6 quarts water
1 pound fettucini (or spagetti) noodles
1 cup (2 sticks) butter, melted
1 cup grated Parmesan cheese
¼ cup snipped parsley

Add salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add fettucini so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring now and then, until noodles are tender, about 12 minutes. Drain in colander. Place on large platter.

Add melted butter, cheese and parsley. Using two forks, quickly toss noodles thoroughly coating with butter and cheese and blending in parsley. If desired, serve with more melted butter and cheese. Makes 6 servings.

Miamian Attends NY Symposium

Mrs. Lilburn R. Railey, 3115 Kirk St., is on her way to New York to attend the Federated Garden Clubs of New York State's sixth annual symposium.

It will be held next week at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, and will include arrangements, horticulture, history and an examination "which I hope to pass," Mrs. Railey said. She'll be back Jan. 17.

Bad Health Doesn't Need To Be Partner of Old Age

By ELEANOR DIXON
Herald Club Editor

Perhaps you've asked yourself the same question a South Miami woman put to a Social Security official Friday:

Why can women, who usually live longer than men, start collecting Social Security benefits at 62, when a man must wait until he's 65?

The reason, explained by Kenneth F. Valentine, assistant manager of the Miami downtown Social Security office, is this:

Men usually marry women two or three years younger than they, and this age rule permits both the man and wife to start receiving benefits at about the same time.

Mr. Valentine explained that when a woman chooses to collect her benefits at 62, the amount she receives is about 25 per cent less than if she waits until she is 65.

In spite of this, most women do take their benefits at 62.

Mr. Valentine and Dr. Samuel Gertman, a gerontologist, both spoke Friday at a meeting of the South Miami Woman's Club.

Dr. Gertman's topic was the physical aspects of aging, while Mr. Valentine dealt with the economic aspects.

"Sickness and old age are not inevitable partners," said Dr. Gertman, discussing some of the research coming out of the geriatric clinic of the University of Miami Medical School. In the clinic, they measure the status of an aged person in relation to how well the person meets his basic needs.

These needs, said Dr. Gertman, are: physical health; economic security, a definite role (or job) in life, and a feeling of self worth.

"There's a difference in the term "aged" and "old," said the doctor. Aged is a technical term, meaning after 65. "Old is something you feel. It's psychological."

Mr. Valentine pointed out that three out of five clients coming to the downtown Social Security office are women.

Some of the 1958 amendments revising the Social Security laws which may affect women are those involving dependent parents, wives of disabled men drawing benefits, and re-marriage of a woman already receiving benefits.

He distributed an informative booklet, "What Social Security Means to Women," which is available at Social Security offices.

80th Birthday Party Also a Family Reunion

Although her 80th birthday is in May, Mrs. Anna Haupt Schertzer, 2126 NW 18th St., has already celebrated it. This was the one time this year when most of her school-age grandchildren and great grandchildren could be present.

The reunion, which was the first time the entire family had been under one roof in 27 years, was held at the home of Mrs. Schertzer's daughter, Mrs. Albert Helfand, 1140 NW 57th St. The celebrators were the octogenarian's six daughters and their families.

They were Mr. and Mrs. Edgar F. Hall, Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Louise Holtzberger, Erie, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. S. Puschaver, Florence, Ala.; Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Margarone, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Warner and the Helfands, all of Miami. Their families included nine grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

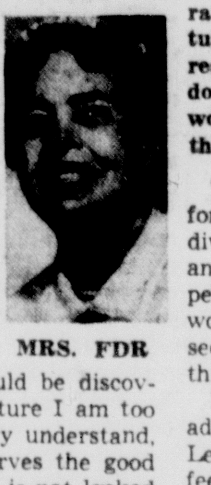
MRS. FDR PONDERS

Moon Rocket, Cuba And a New Hit Play

By ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

NEW YORK — The most exciting news recently was the Russian moon rocket, now claimed to be approaching the point where it will go into orbit around the sun.



MRS. FDR

The Russians have a gift for propagandizing well whatever they do, and they are already talking about a future lunar expedition.

Just what would be discovered by this venture I am too ignorant to really understand, but I hope it serves the good of humanity and is not looked upon entirely as something that may or may not be of military value.

CUBA HAS a new president, Dr. Manuel Urrutia Lleo, and we will now see whether he will bring back law and order to the country.

We'll also see if some of the reforms, which the people really need, will be started. But we cannot tell about these things for sometime to come.

LAST WEEK I saw "J. B.," the play written by Archibald MacLeish. It certainly has a tremendous impact and it is very well acted, but I don't know that I liked "God" upon the stage.

I kept thinking that I would rather read this play than actually see it acted, and yet I realized that it had a tremendous effect which perhaps one would not experience quite in the same way in reading it.

The cry for justice, the effort at understanding one's individual failures, the acceptance of merging one's own personality in that of the world — each thought, it seemed to me, required long thinking through by itself.

I came away with a great admiration for what Mr. MacLeish had done but with a feeling that my share of what he wished to accomplish was very far from being really understood by me, or thought through by me as yet.

'CUT PRICE' APPLIANCE:

Is It a Bargain? –Or Price Packed?

CHICAGO—(AP)—Beware of price packing, a retailer suggests, if you see a price that has been slashed 20 to 30 per cent.

He said too many fictional prices are being handed down by manufacturers. He said one refrigerator had a list price of $299, yet it never had sold for more than $269.

Martin was asked at a news conference how a person can detect an artificial original price.

"Any time it is 20 to 30 per cent off," he replied, "it is price packing."

Martin made clear he was talking about appliances and other home furnishings in particular and those sold in one-price stores, where there is no haggling. He also stated he was not talking about seasonal clearance sales.

At the same news conference, Henry E. Lamar, of Florence, Ala., president of the National Retail Furniture Association, urged each merchant to

"Re-analyze his own advertising in the light of Better Business Bureau (BBB) standards and new Federal Trade Commission guides against deceptive advertising.

"Work with his fellow merchants, his local newspaper and his local BBB to the end that all home furnishings advertising be kept above reproach.

"Bring cases of fraudulent advertising, if it occurs, to the attention of local law enforcement agencies."

Lamar also estimated that buying at the show is 20 per cent heavier than it was a year ago.

He said there have been some small price increases. But, he added, he thinks they won't be reflected in the retail stores for at least six months.

How About A Satellite Love Seat?

The legs and frames of some dinette tables and chairs, for example, come in such colors as pink, yellow, red and turquoise.

Besides new uses of color, furniture manufacturers are showing some novelty items which will please children.

Among them is a triple deck bed — a good height for climbing indoors on winter days. To bring the playground further indoors is a double-deck bed featuring a sliding board which can be detached.

Shoppers will have to wait a while to see these items, though. The show is not open to the public.

Among other novelty articles on display are:

A pole lamp featuring an electric clock around the top shade.

A triple electronic cooking center built with three ovens for cooking steaks and chops, frozen fruits and vegetables and bulk items such as roasts and hams, respectively.

'I HOPE GOD WILL LET ME SEE HER . . .'

Grieving Man Goes To Join His Bride

WYNDANCH, N.Y. —(AP)— "I hope God will see fit to let me see Mickey, again. I loved her so much I know I could never by happy without her."

The note lay on the car seat beside the body of Lawrence Baker, a 27-year-old Air Force sergeant. There, too, was a picture of his Japanese bride, Midoni — or Mickey, as he called her.

They met and fell in love three years ago while Baker was stationed in Japan. There they looked forward to settling down in the U.S.

Six weeks ago the sergeant was transferred back to this country and his bride came with him. She was welcomed at the home of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Baker, and the couple stayed there while seeking a home of their own.

But after three weeks Mickey found herself ill. On Dec. 27 she was hospitalized at the Mitchel Air Force Base and doctors found that she had a malignant cancer.

Last Saturday with her husband at her side, Mickey died.

On Wednesday, the Bakers and relatives and friends gathered at a funeral home for Mickey's services. After a while it was discovered that the grieving husband had disappeared.

Finally the parents went home and there they found their son's body in the car, parked in the garage with the doors closed. He had started the motor and died of carbon monoxide poisoning.

There the parents also found the picture of Mickey and the note: "Mom and Dad —I'm sorry it has to be this way . . . It's my only chance for happiness."

Their son will be buried beside his bride.

Angry Wife Traps Teenage Burglars

NORWALK, Calif. —(UPI) — A housewife, angered that her home had been burglarized three times within a month, turned detective and succeeded where the sheriff's office failed.

Mrs. Maria D. Villegas, 46, not only solved the case in the best tradition of a television cops-and-robbers thriller, she also:

FORCED the two suspects to sign confessions.

TOOK colored pictures of them in the act of breaking a lock on a hankie box where she kept money.

COMPLETELY humiliated the suspects by ordering them at the point of a rifle to open a window of her home and yell "help" until a neighbor called sheriff's deputies.

Both suspects — 13 year-old boys—admitted breaking into Mrs. Villegas' home three times within the past month and taking a total of $230 in cash.

Liz 'Nauseated' By Illness Report

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. —(AP) — Actress Elizabeth Taylor says she is nauseated by published reports that she is in a mental clinic.

LIZ

She made the statement to reporters while she and Eddie Fisher were dining at a restaurant here.

"I feel a little bit the same way," said Fisher.

The actress and the singer invited newsmen to their table to discuss the report, which appeared in a Los Angeles newspaper.

Bottle Barrage Routs Drugstore Bandits

LONG BEACH, Calif. —(AP)— A lady pharmacist with a strong throwing arm routed two gunmen with a barrage of bottles.

MARION

Miss Marion Buckmaster ducked behind a counter when the bandits tried to hold up Cashier Marlene Hair, 21, on the other side of the drug store.

She opened her attack with a pint of iodine. The bottle hit one man on the side of the head and broke. The gun in his hand discharged, sending a bullet into Miss Hair's toe.

Miss Buckmaster executed a flanking maneuver behind the cover of her counter, popped up and hurled a quart bottle of cough syrup. It smashed on the counter next to the gunmen, drenching them.

The bandits went into a sticky retreat, firing wildly about the store at their unseen foe. One bullet smashed into a perfume display, spreading an overpowering aroma over the battlefield.

As the bewildered, bespattered bandits turned and fled Miss Buckmaster loosed a final salvo. She was a little high with the hair oil, missed to the left with the shampoo, but nicked one fleeing figure with the mouth wash.

When it was all over, the drug store was a mess and Miss Hair was hospitalized. But the cash was still in the drawer.

Mrs. Barco Is Installed

Mrs. Gladys Barco, 601 Grand Concourse, Miami Shores, and Al C. Holman are the new worthy matron and patron of Edison Center Chapter 257, Order of Eastern Star.

Mrs. Barco

New officers of the chapter were installed at a public ceremony in the Masonic Hall NW 71st St. and 3rd Ave.

Miss Rosalie Lipkind Bride of Mr. Wilkins

Miss Rosalie Paul Lipkind and Harvey Wilkins were married Friday in the North Shore Temple. Reception was held in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Lipkind, 6891 Bay Dr., Miami Beach.

After a wedding trip to Naples, Fla., the couple will live in the Costa Hotel and Apartments, 6891 Bay Dr., Miami Beach.

Remarks on Religion

World Outlook Bright

By ADON TAFT

Herald Religion Editor

Really great men always are simple and straightforward in their approach and always leave you refreshed and inspired after an encounter.

Many Miamians are feeling that way today about Dr. E. Stanley Jones, probably the best-known missionary of our day, who just finished a week of meetings at White Temple Methodist Church.

It was refreshing and inspiring to hear him say that his success at winning thousands to our Lord all over the world came from the fact that he simply preached Christ, whether his listeners were intellectual Japanese, primitive Africans or sophisticated Americans.

"People all over the world are just alike," he said. "They suffer from an inward emptiness that only can be filled by Christ."

The famed missionary who has travelled the globe for well over 50 years pictured the world situation like this, on the basis of his experiences and observations:

Decade of Decision

JAPAN — in a time of decision for the next 10 years. Could easily turn out to be a Christian nation. Japanese rapidly accepting that faith. No opposition to missionaries. Communism on wane. Some old religions being revived, but lack vitality. Secularism only real threat to Christianity in race to fill vacuum created by shattering of "divine emperor" philosophy.

INDIA — increased outward opposition to Christianity. Attempts to make Hinduism state religion. Greater response to Christian preaching than ever before. Communists dangerous, but finding it hard to operate in one state they control because national constitution still democratic.

AFRICA — will be battleground for human freedom in next few years. Undergoing great revival which began three years ago. Christianity growing faster than Islam.

UNITED STATES — integration cannot be stopped. Will be accepted with rejoicing as part of world social revolution. Current religious revival will continue.

Moderation Urged

A somewhat more moderate view on the integration situation was expressed here by a lesser known but outstanding ex-Miami pastor back to lead an evangelistic campaign at Kendall Methodist Church.

Dr. Walt Holcomb, dynamic former pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, suggested that Paul's admonition that while all things are lawful, they are not always expedient ought to be considered by Negro ministers who he said are pushing integration.

"The white preachers in my home city (it's Atlanta now) went the second mile and voted to go along with integrationists and abide by the law," he said. "Now I would appeal to our Negroes to go the second mile with their white brothers and not push too fast.

He agreed with Dr. Jones that integration is inevitable, but cautioned against bringing it about too fast. There's a need for more Christian thinking on both sides to make it work, he concluded.

Adventists Lead

That's what was being said in Miami this week. Now here's what was happening around the nation:

The Missionary Research Library in New York exploded the popular notion that foreign missionaries are on the way out. The library announced that 25,058 North American Protestant missionaries now work around the globe. That's an increase of 10,000 since 1950.

Seventh-day Adventists, who rank 23rd in size among U.S. Protestant bodies, send out the most missionaries — 2,000 men and women now in 184 countries.

Records Broken

The Episcopal Church topped two million communicant members for the first time, the church annual disclosed, but faces an acute shortage of priests.

Southern Baptists reported that $24,808,919 was contributed to the convention last year, with $15 million going to foreign missions. Methodists of the Southeastern jurisdiction gave a record $125,644,715 to their churches last year and built a new church a week.

It's Only a Start, but This Foundation of Faith Is Sturdy

. . . Rev. Walter T. Strickland views his "church" with pride

Age, Tragedy Fail To Dim His Vision of Own Church

Most people have retired by the time they're 78, and a lot of younger men would have called it quits if they had lost both feet. But not the Rev. Walter T. Strickland, 450 NW 21st Ter., because he hasn't yet realized his ambition of building a church.

"I expect to save a whole lot of people," declared the determined minister. "I ain't thinking about dieing. I think about living, and what I want to do."

Because of his persistence and the help of friends like the Rev. I. C. Mickins, of Mt. Olivette Baptist Church, the Rev. Mr. Strickland's dream is on its way to coming true at NW 68th St. and 24th Ct.

There the foundations have been poured and a few blocks of the walls for the Mars Hill Christian Church have gone up on the three-lot site. It will be the only Negro church of the Christian (Disciples) denomination south of Jacksonville.

You can't appreciate what an accomplishment this is until you know that the Rev. M. Strickland, who was ordained in Dennett, Fla., in 1915, came here in 1936 as a house to house toilet goods salesman and part time preacher.

His wife was ill and work was slow, but the bespectacled little minister started organizing a congregation which met in various halls around the city.

Progress was slow but steady until Feb. 13, 1947, when the Rev. Mr. Strickland's left foot was amputated. Blood poisoning had set in after he had trimmed a corn with a razor blade.

Three years later he lost his greatest asset — his wife.

But the church work began to pick up and the congregation invested a big sum (for them) in a tent in which to meet. They met and grew in the tent for a year before a high wind destroyed it and discouraged many of the congregation.

Since that time, the worshipers have gathered in the tiny living room of the Rev. Mr. Strickland's home. The number of the faithful has dwindled to about a dozen as many members have moved from that neighborhood.

To make matters worse, the soft-spoken preacher lost his other foot in 1955 as a result of hardening of the arteries.

But he had a lot of faith and determination and friends. He found the lots at the site of his church, made the down payment and began the monthly payments on the total of $4,500. The attorney who handled the sale and one of his friends offered $400 to help the cause along.

The Miami Christian Fellowship, the area organization for white churches of the Rev. Strickland's denomination, furnished the money to pay off the property. And the Rev. Mr. Mickins, a carpenter on the side, got the blue prints and some volunteer labor and materials for the proposed 100-seat sanctuary.

The site is located in a section which until a few years ago was a white area. There is only one other small Negro church anywhere in that territory where the Rev. Mr. Strickland hopes to reach a portion of the many children with his Sunday school.

And nobody who knows him and the story of his struggle doubts that his dream will come true soon.

Installation Highlight Of Week

Installation of officers of the Lutheran CREW of Greater Miami on Sunday will highlight activities in area churches next week.

Royce A. Watson will be installed as president of the young adult group in the 8 p.m. Sunday service at St. Peter's Lutheran Church, with the Rev. John Taylor and the Rev. Earl L. Hively officiating.

Dr. Henry Dahlberg will mark his fifth year as the pastor of First Presbyterian Church during the 11 a.m. Sunday service.

The annual charter review and supper for the Cub Scouts sponsored by the Rader Memorial Methodist Church will be held at 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

Theosophical Talks Listed

Phillip Strunk and Cloyd Bennett will discuss "Awareness in a Changing World" for the 8 p.m. Sunday meeting of the Theosophical Society of Miami, 6916 NW Seventh Ave.

Carle Giving Concert

The annual winter series of sacred concerts at the Boca Raton Bible Conference Grounds will open Sunday at 3:30 p.m.

Featured in the opening event will be Bill Carle, operatic and concert stage basso from Pasadena, Calif. He has sung for King George VI and Queen Elizabeth and has sung at the White House four times.

A graduate of the Wisconsin Conservatory of Music, Carle sang with the Chicago Civic Opera and then went into night club and show work.

Building Rites Set Sunday

Ground will be broken Sunday for the first unit of St. Simon's Episcopal Church and plans for a new sanctuary will be revealed in a service of dedication for the present buildings at Fulford Methodist Church.

The first unit for St. Simon's Episcopal Church will be a chapel-parish house seating 160 worshipers and costing $22,000. It will include a kitchen and sacristy. And it will have a 55-foot bell tower in the middle of a large reflecting pool.

The Rev. M. Wendell Hainlin, vicar, will break ground at the five-acre site at 10950 SW 34th St. at 11 a.m. John Mueller, Lynn Morehouse and Percy Richardson, members of the building committee, will assist him.

Seven units costing a total of $200,000 will be erected by the church before the plant is completed for the 300-member congregation organized in August, 1956.

Dedication rites for the three buildings at Fulford Methodist Church will be held at both the 8:45 and 11 a.m. Sunday services since all debts on the buildings and the land were paid in full Jan. 1.

Dr. P. M. Boyd, district superintendent, will give the dedication message and Mrs. William Hanford, president of the board of trustees, will give a history of the church.

Architects drawings for a new sanctuary will be unveiled as part of the ceremony dedicating the present $158,000 plant.

An intense campaign for funds for the new building will be conducted in April.

Adventists Name Hall

Leighton T. Hall, administrator of the Florida Sanitarium and Hospital in Orlando, has been appointed medical and hospital consultant for the Southern Union Conference of Seventh-day Adventists.

The conference includes the eight southeastern states and has headquarters in Atlanta. In this territory are some 80 Adventist medical institutions over which Hall will serve in an advisory capacity.

He has been associated with the Orlando hospital for 32 years.

1 Pastor Comes, Another Going

The first pastor for the Friendship Presbyterian Chapel has been named and Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church is losing its first pastor.

YOUR CHURCH PAGES

Edited by ADON TAFT

Dr. J. Russell Young, former pastor of the Keystone Heights Community Church in Jacksonville, has been named pastor of Friendship Presbyterian Chapel.

He is a graduate of Oglethorpe University, Columbia Seminary and received his master's degree from Union Theological Seminary in Richmond. He has toured Europe and the Middle East, including the Holy Land.

Dr. Young comes to a year-old congregation which has been meeting as a mission of Miami Springs Presbyterian Church at the DuPuis Elementary School. He will preach there at 11 a.m. Sunday.

The Rev. Norman Gardels, of Mt. Calvary Lutheran Church, has been granted a release by the congregation to become the pastor of Redeemer Lutheran Church in New Orleans. He will preach his farewell sermon at 11 a.m. Sunday.

The Rev. Mr. Gardels founded the church in 1954 and has seen it grow to a membership of 200. He organized and managed the Miami Lutheran Youth Camp and was active in church and civic organizations.

The church has called the Rev. James Bouman, of Jacksonville, to be the new pastor, but the Rev. Francis Gyle, of Deaf Zion Lutheran Church, will serve until the Rev. Mr. Bouman can come here.

Iverson Starts Church

A new church has been organized here by a pastor bearing an old and well-known name in this area.

The church has been named the Miami Bible Church, and meets for 9:45 a.m. Sunday school sessions and 10:45 a.m. worship services at the Coral Way Elementary School.

Pastor is the Rev. Ned Iverson, a graduate of Miami High and son of the Rev. Daniel Iverson who built the Shenandoah Presbyterian Church. He is a graduate of Davidson College and Columbia Theological Seminary. And he served as a Navy chaplain in World War II:

There are 40 members starting the church which will include healing services as part of its ministry.

In addition to leading Miami Bible Church, the Rev. Mr. Iverson will conduct prayer meetings in his home, 4504 Alhambra Circle, Coral Gables, on Thursday nights and preach Sunday nights for the Grace Gospel Church in West Palm Beach.

WMU Week To Be Marked

Woman's Missionary Union Focus Week will be observed at Little River Baptist Church beginning Sunday when the members of the union will be given special recognition in the 10:50 a.m. service.

The women will have charge of the 7:30 p.m. Wednesday service and wind up the week with a party Friday.

50-Year Mark Reached

A year-long program marking the 50th anniversary of the Homestead First Methodist Church will open Sunday at the 11 a.m. service.

The first event will be the honoring of all charter members and all those who have been members for 45 years or more.

For the occasion, the Rev. Edwin C. Willson, who was pastor of the church from 1951-56, will be the guest speaker and those who joined the church during his ministry will serve as a welcoming committee.

John Frederick, general chairman of the anniversary committee, said the second Sunday of each month of the year will be dedicated to the anniversary celebration. A former pastor will be guest speaker for each of those occasions.

The church started as the Southern Methodist Church. Then it united with the Northern Methodist Church in 1929 and became First Methodist Church. The present building on N. Krome Ave. was erected in 1949 and the educational center was added in 1956.

The Rev. Joseph Jones has been the pastor for three years and has seen the membership grow from 644 to 802 persons.

Graham, Africa Films Scheduled

A Billy Graham movie and a film about a missionary doctor in Africa will be shown in Miami churches Sunday.

"The Heart Is A Rebel, the Graham film starring Ethel Waters, Georgia Lee and John Milford will have its local premiere at the Miami Springs Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

It is a story of what happens in a home when an advertising executive's wife becomes a Christian.

The movie on Africa will be shown at 7:30 p.m. at Sylvania Heights Baptist Church.

Called "The Young Doctor Goes Home," the movie is about a young doctor who loses his life on the missionary field in West Sudan where a $48,000 hospital now is being erected in his memory.

The film will be shown by Dr. Sidney Robert Correll, of Dayton, O., whose son was the missionary whose life and work the movie depicts. He will speak on "The Four World Dangers."

Nazarenes Note Big Gains

KANSAS CITY —(AP)— The Church of the Nazarene reported Friday it had established 232 new churches and had a net gain of 9,500 members in 1958, its Golden Anniversary year.

Dr. S. T. Ludwig, general secretary, said total membership was 301,700 in 4,587 churches and that total denominational contributions in 1958 reached $40,000,000, making per capita giving $133.

It's Easy—Just Say 'Book,' 'Desk'

. . . explains Fay Feinstein, TV teacher

They Watch Her And Get Religion

Religion is never mentioned on the television show conducted by Fay Feinstein. In fact, it is studiously avoided. But men (and women) are driven—at least gently prodded—to religion when they watch this pretty blond "star."

Her show is, of all places, found on Channel 2 — the educational station. It comes on from 8 to 8:30 p.m. on Wednesdays.

The tall, willowy glamor girl stops the dialers and then she softly speaks the words that fan mail says is sending some of the television viewers back to the synagogue they often have neglected since childhood.

Mrs. Feinstein is the teacher on the program "Living Hebrew," which she originated. And it is the sound of Hebrew being spoken again that starts some listeners to remembering their synagogue—usually the only place they ever heard the language.

A lot of people who have never been to a synagogue also get a boost in their religion by watching the show, Mrs. Feinstein has learned from the mail and phone calls. Ministers and Sunday school teachers interested in studying the Old Testament find this unique language program a help in getting started on the Hebrew documents.

The daughter of a rabbi, Mrs. Feinstein is pleased by all this because her idea in starting this 10-weeks-old program was to make people realize that the Holy Land has come to life again and Hebrew is a living language spoken in the new Israel where more and more world attention is being focused.

Although a native New Yorker, Mrs. Feinstein received most of her schooling in Israel because her father wanted her two brothers to have a solid Jewish background to prepare them for the rabbinate. She graduated from Beth Jacob Teacher's Seminary in Jerusalem in preparation for her life-long dream of being a teacher.

She went back to New York to teach and marry, then came here to teach — she now is on the faculty at the New Tamid Hebrew School.

Three years ago she hit upon the idea of teaching Hebrew on television so that Jews as well as non-Jews would realize that it no longer is a language just of the synagogue, but is indeed a living language in daily use.

The Hebrew Teachers Association, of which she is a member, approved the idea and contacts were made with the television station. But the birth of her son — she also has two daughters — interrupted plans until the end of last October.

Now the only program of its kind in the country, Mrs. Feinstein's show has attracted the interest of visiting Israeli educators and has earned the faithful support of television audiences which watch religiously.

'Racket-Busting' Preacher, Lawyer, Bishop to Be Pulpit Guests Sunday

Miami's "racket-busting" preacher of the boom days, a lawyer and the Episcopal bishop of South Florida will be among the guest speakers in Greater Miami pulpits this weekend.

Dr. Walt Holcomb, who forced a gambling probe here in 1926 by fingering from the pulpit at Trinity Methodist Church a large-scale gambling operation in the same block as the church, will conduct one of his famous one-day evangelistic rallies Sunday at the Kendall Methodist Church.

Dr. Holcomb left Miami in 1930, but came back in 1949 as an evangelist and once again blasted gambling in the area.

A "fire and brimstone" preacher who campaigned for years in revivals with the famous Sam Jones—and married Jones' youngest daughter, Dr. Holcomb said he doesn't preach that way any more.

He said Miami is a comparatively clean city now. The one thing that bothers him is that church people don't seem to have as solid a foundation as they used to have.

"In the old days, when people joined the church, they had a great change of life," the "retired" Atlanta minister asserted. "You don't see that today. The people seem shallow. There's not a clear line between the church and the world."

Dr. Walt Holcomb

Herbert Heiken, a member of the lawyers panel of the American Civil Liberties Union, will address the 11 a.m. Sunday meeting of the Miami Ethical Society at the Koubek Center of the University of Miami. His topic will be "Religious Freedom."

The Rt. Rev. Henry I. Louttit, bishop of the South Florida diocese, will confirm a class of 50 at the Episcopal Church of the Resurrection and preach for the 11 a. m. Sunday service.

Ted Hubert, a Miami Edison High graduate now studying for the ministry at Atlantic Christian College, will describe "Life and Church Activities in the Newest of the 49 States" at the 7:30 p.m. Sunday service at the North Dade First Christian Church.

Hubert worked last summer in the only Christian church in Alaska (in Anchorage) and married that preacher's daughter. She will sing the Alaska state song during the service Sunday night.

Dr. Raymond Charles Barker, minister of the New York First Church of Religious Science, will lecture at 11 a.m. and 8 p.m. Sunday at the Miami Church of Religious Science. He is a past president of the International Association of Religious Science Churches and the International New Thought Alliance.

Mrs. Lucille Buffin, secretary-treasurer of the Coral Gables division of the Association for the United Nations, will be the 7:45 p.m. Sunday speaker at the Baha'i Center.

Unitarians Slate Committee Clinic

Top denominational workers from Boston and Charlotte, N.C., will staff a clinic on the work of church committees to be held Wednesday at First Unitarian Church.

Panelists for the 7:30 p.m. session will be:

Royal H. Cloyd, associate director of the division of education from the headquarters of the Council of Liberal Churches in Boston.

Mrs. Nelson Burgess, executive secretary of the General Alliance in Boston.

And Mrs. Dorothee Flippo, regional vice president of the General Alliance from Charlotte.

They will describe ways of stability and growth and outline ways of leadership through listening, setting goals, raising standards, and discussion groups.

Representatives from Unitarian groups in Naples, Fort Pierce, Fort Lauderdale and West Palm Beach will join in the clinic.

Dedication Of Organ Is Planned

A new Allen C-4 electric organ will be dedicated at Coral Gables Congregational Church during the 11 a.m. Sunday service.

The instrument is a gift from Dr. and Mrs. John C. Setzer in the memory of their fathers. She is president of the Women's Fellowship of the church and he is head of the department of finance at the University of Miami.

Latin Tint Ready for Chi Rho's

A Latin-American atmosphere will surround the 160 Chi Rho members from the Christian churches of the area at 4:30 p.m. Sunday when they stage their quarterly roundup at Boulevard Christian Church.

Using the theme, "Bootprints That Cannot Be Erased," the teenagers will conduct a mission study of Mexico and Puerto Rico.

An adobe hut, a burro, and Mexican laborer, and sand will be featured in the interest center. A chili supper will be served and there will be a skit by Karen Packard, Sue McDermott and Jerry Beazley.

Barbara Jordan will be in charge of the program, Cathy Hooten will lead the worship, and special flute and violin music will be played by David and Jackie Gilbert.

Youths To Hear Community Leaders

A youth rally featuring panel discussions by community leaders on many of the problems faced by today's young people will be held at 7:30 p.m. Sunday at Hialeah First Baptist Church.

Speakers whose addresses will be followed by discussion periods will include:

Capt. David Maynard, of the Hialeah Police Department, who will talk on "The Juvenile Problem."

Carl Baughm, assistant Dade County probation officer, who will talk on "Alochol and Law Observance."

Dr. George Wessel, who will discuss "Child Welfare and Public Health."

And the Rev. R. P. Tomlinson, pastor of the church, who will speak on "Christian Americanization and World Peace."

Dating on Film

"Going Steady," a film on teenage dating, will be shown at 7 tonight at the First Free Methodist Church, 4875 NW Second Ave.

Heaviest Day Since November

NEW YORK — (AP) — The stock market boomed to another record peak Friday in the heaviest trading since November.

The broad advance took in high-quality and speculative issues and added an estimated 1½ billion dollars to the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Leading issues rose fractions to 2 or 3 points, closing somewhat below their best prices of the day.

Gains were scored by steels, motors, rails, rubbers, mail order-retails, utilities, electronics, chemicals, nonferrous metals, tobaccos, electrical equipment and most airlines. Drugs were mixed and aircrafts lower.

Wall Streeters said the rise was due cheifly to conviction that prices were going higher and that the Dow Jones industrial average would not meet serious resistance until it hit 600.

The Dow industrials rose 4.58 to close at 592.72, a record top.

Little heed was given by the market to President Eisenhower's state of the union address, brokers said, since most of the points made were familiar ones.

Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton was the most active stock, rising 1⅛ to 15 3-8 on 109,700 shares. Second was Avco, up 7-8 at 12 3-8 on 92,700 shares. Third was Studebaker-Packard, up ¼ at 14 7-8 on 75,600 shares.

American Stock Exchange prices rose on volume of 2,260,000 shares compared with 1,770,000 Thursday.

Drug to Treat Ulcers Is Now On the Market

Dow Jones, AP, UPI

Here's good news for the harrassed businessman. A leading manufacturer of organic chemicals announced it has marketed a new drug to treat stomach ulcers.

Called "Daricon," the drug can be taken orally.

Charles Pfizer & Co. Inc. emphasized that Daricon is not a cure. With rest and proper food, ulcers usually clear up by themselves, the company said.

TWO MOTION PICTURE companies announced Friday they are going into the television business. Paramount Pictures Corp. has bought the pay-as-you-see television system of International Telemeter Corp. National Theatres Inc. stockholders have approved the acquisition of common stock holdings of National Telefilm Associates Inc., a firm which makes TV films.

DINERS CLUB INC. expects to have more than a million members and total revenues of 12 million dollars for the year ending March 31. The corporation collects 10 per cent commissions from restaurants, hotels and retail stores that allow members to dine, lodge or buy goods on the cuff. It is working on a similar arrangement with Broadway theatres.

CELANESE CORP. announced a cut of five cents a pound in its price on rigid polyethylene plastic. Hercules Power Co. said it has reduced its price, too.

NATIONAL HOMES CORP. shipments of prefabricated houses in the first quarter of 1959 will be at least 50 per cent ahead of the like 1958 months, the company said.

* * *

OIL PRODUCERS, facing a nationwide strike, plan price increases on some items as a result of rising demand and decreasing supplies. Some increases have already been made in recent weeks on various refined products.

NATIONAL VULCANIZED FIBRE Co. and Parsons Paper Co. have approved a plan whereby National would acquire the business and assets, subject to liabilities, of Parsons. National would exchange 76,000 shares of its common for all the 567,000 shares of Parsons stock.

EATON MANUFACTURING CO. will buy the assets and business of Cleveland Worm & Gear Co. on Jan. 31 through the exchange of 81,670 shares of Eaton common on a share-for-share basis.

WHOLESALE FOOD prices measured by the Dun & Bradstreet index scored their sharpest decline this week in more than a year. The index fell 11 cents below the previous week to $6.24.

Buy Electronics for Growth, Not Earnings

By WILLIAM A. DOYLE

Q. Our gin rummy group has decided to put the $1,800 dues and kitty money we have accumulated over the past year into a "reasonably sound" speculation.

We are considering W. L. Maxson Corp. and Electronic Research Associates, two electronic issues that are traded in the over-the-counter market. What are your comments on these stocks?

We have been warned to stay away from the over-the-counter market. Are the rumors regarding its notorious reputation true?

A. Well now, you must have some hot card games to build up that much of a kitty in so short a time. You make us nickel-and-dime poker players look like pikers. But then maybe some members of your group may need a profit in stocks, just to get even for the losses they have taken in your gin sessions.

The two stocks you are considering are certainly speculations. And they can be counted as reasonable risks, which is what you are looking for. They have both had fair price rises over the past couple of months.

Like many other electronic issues, these two are trading at prices that reflect their potential — not their current earnings and dividends. And the both do have possibilities for the future, because of their advanced scientific work.

Electronic Research has had the better rate of earnings growth recently. Maxson may require a little more patience.

Don't put too much faith in those wild stories you have heard about the over-the-counter market. Sure, you can get burned there. But the same thing can happen if you trade in securities listed on any of the stock exchanges. Just deal with a reputable broker. Check your facts and prices before you buy and you won't be swindled.

Florida Livestock

JACKSONVILLE—Estimated receipts at 30 Florida auction markets this week totaled 5,450 cattle and 3,200 calves compared 3,100 and 1,550 the previous week and 4,715 and 3,341 the comparable period one year ago.

Active selling, good demand, and steady to higher prices featured trading in the first full week of the new year. Compared with previous week: Slaughter steers and cows steady to 1.00 higher, heifers and bulls steady to 50c up, and calves fully steady to 1.00 higher. Stocker and feeder steers, cows, and calves steady to 1.00 higher, some sales reflecting more advance, and heifers steady to 50c higher. In Thursday's sales at Lake City small supply poorly tested but steady to strong on classes and grades available. At Wauchula slaughter steers and bulls scarce, heifers and cows steady, and calves .50-1.00 higher. Replacement steers and cows .75-1.50 higher, heifers steady, and calves .50-1.00 higher. At Ocala compared three weeks ago: General market strong to 1.50 higher except stocker cows 1.00-2.00 up.

JACK ANDERSON—About TV

Ernie Ford Appreciates No. 1 Vote by Herald Fans

COPIES OF THE HERALD'S Fun in Florida magazine, announcing that South Floridians had elected Tennessee Ernie Ford "Star of the Year" for 1958, reached the west coast the other day.

ANDERSON

Comes a telegram from Ford who wants me to pass this message on to all his constituents here:

"What a pleasure it was to read in The Herald's TV Preview and find that I was voted your 'Star of the Year.' I certainly want to thank the people of Miami for putting their faith in me.

"Thanks to you all and bless your pea pickin' hearts."

And so there you are.

TALLULAH BANKHEAD was dished up on the Milton Berle Show Wednesday night like flaming plum pudding. The Alabama dahling only served to throw poor Uncle Miltie into tattered relief.

Talloo was as brassily indestructible as ever — probably because she hasn't been left out regularly in that fierce TV sun to spoil — whereas Berle looked beat.

It's been a disappointing season for the stand-up comics. They returned to the scene last fall with the good wishes of a lot of viewers who hoped they, at least, could reverse the saddle sores trend.

But they didn't reverse anything. They turned out to be so many Sarah Bernhardt's making that one last tour. And at this point at least one of them — Jackie Gleason — has turned in his greasepaint.

Berle is said to feel that his weekly half-hour efforts have improved. There has been no improvement from where this particular viewer sits before his set.

As a Berle fan from way back, I had hoped there would be.

There is still a canned, dispirited quality about the show. The star has none of his old camera-hogging ebullience. When he and Tallulah did the parody of the "I Remember" song from "Gigi" the other night it might almost have been a lament for the good old days of TV — his good old days, before he got soft-Berled.

THEY'VE FINALLY firmed up a starting date for impressionist Dean Murphy's weekly TV show from the Coconut Grove Playhouse. The definite premiere now is scheduled for 6 Saturday night, Jan. 24 on WPST-TV (Ch. 10).

He'll have an hour of interviews and chatter each Saturday evening before show time, aided and abetted by Maxine Barrat who has been away from the TV cameras for months.

Dean calls Maxine his "Girl Friday on Saturday."

WHERE WILL IT ALL END: note: Channel 10's Alec Gibson is going to have to go on a personal double daylight saving schedule to keep up with the Gibson enterprises.

In addition to his TV duty as late night movie moderator, he has a camping show on Channel 2 and a hunting and camping equipment business, to say nothing of a side-line in real estate.

Now he tells me he and wife, Bonnie, have leased a summer camp near Warm Springs, Ga., a 320-acre preserve for kids. All he needs now is a convalescent home. Just in case.

Daytime TV Shows

7:45 a.m.

11:30

12 noon

1 p.m.

4 — MOVIE — "Alias the Bad Man," Ken Maynard.

7 — MOVIE — "Howards of Virginia," (1940), Cary Grant, Martha Scott, Sir Cedric Hardwicke. A family is torn apart by the American Revolution, with the husband and wife on opposite sides.

2:30

10 — MOVIE — "Adam and Evalyn," (1949), Jean Simmons, Stewart Granger. A prominent gambler adopts the daughter of a dying friend and years later they fall in love.

4:30

7 — WOMEN'S BOWLING — Elvira Toepfer, Detroit, opposes Ann Rand, Des Moines, Iowa . . . film.

10 — ALL-STAR GOLF — PGA champion Dow Finsterwald; takes on Al Balding in an 18-hole match at Ponce de Leon Golf Club in St. Augustine . . . film.

5:30

4 — DEATH VALLEY — A man-hating woman prospector and her runty, little male partner strike it rich in Nevada, only to have her long-lost husband turn up to claim his share.

7 p.m.

4 — RESCUE 8 — "Secret of the Mission."

7 — JACK LONDON — A friend of Capt. Grief is kidnaped and shipped with six others for forced labor on a plague-ridden island.

10 — YOU ASKED FOR IT — Cleo, TV's talking dog, Puppets out of this world, the helicopter that has no pilot and how they put stripes on candy canes.

4 — PERRY MASON — Poor Aunt Agnes. She's accused of murder, and you couldn't find a nicer and more perplexed aunt. Seems Aunt Agnes and her pretty niece got bamboozled into occupying a certain apartment. It's all a nice frame, of course and Auntie's gun is the murder weapon. Mason is his usually slippery self.

7 — PEOPLE ARE FUNNY— film.

7 — PERRY COMO — This show has everything from a piece of plywood music (a song was sent to Perry that way, and he sings it) to Rosemary Clooney reeling off the names and birthdays of her children. Perry also introduces The Kingston Trio, an Italian singer, Claudio Villa, and bats out some Italo-American badinage with him.

10 — PUBLIC DEFENDER — A young boy is saved from prison by the faith of a nun.

4 — DEAD OR ALIVE — Josh races death on a slow, dynamite-laden stagecoach in an all-out effort to get his prisoner to Bannach before an innocent man is hanged.

4 — GALE STORM — Capt. Huxley is replaced by a hard-boiled skipper who will not tolerate Gale's shenanigans.

7 — BLACK SADDLE — A new Western with a teeny-weeny difference. The difference is that the hero, Clay Culhane, is a lawyer. But rest easy — he used to be a gunfighter, so all is not lost. He leaves a trail of habeas corpses all over the West, as he gets his law degree and turns away from gunfighting. It takes him to Latigo, N. M., where he meets Marshal Gib Scott. The two men, who will be co-stars, are different types — Where Culhane is volatile and trusting, Gib is quiet and suspicious. Culhane is played by Peter Breck, Scott by Russell Johnson. Another regular will be Anna Lisa, a tall Swedish gal who looks something like Ingrid Bergman.

Best Bet

Hope Emerson and Percy Helton
. . . on Death Valley Days at 6:30 on Ch. 4

4 — HAVE GUN, WILL TRAVEL — Paladin rides into a town to aid a client who is running for mayor, finds him dead and sets about to help his widow run for the same office.

7 — CIMARRON CITY — A 20-year-old ne'er-do-well, who spends his time singing for whisky, decides to take vengeance when he comes into possession of a land grant which gives him title to the town.

4 — GUNSMOKE — Tonight, it's a pretty good show, as Marshal Matt Dillon goes to work and finds he's suddenly Chester's assistant and Chester is the marshal — at least to Chester's uncle. But, the most important reason to watch this is so all the characters will be fresh in your mind when "Maverick" satirizes the show tomorrow.

10 — SAMMY KAYE — The swing and sway orchestra and singers Hank Kanui, Larry Ellis, Lynn Roberts and Ray Michaels.

4 — HIGHWAY PATROL — Protection racketeers kill a freight-yard worker.

7 — D.A.'S MAN — Shannon tries to buy some guns from a man who is suspected of selling stolen arms to ex-convicts for robberies.

11:15

4 — MOVIE — "Task Force," Gary cooper, Jane Wyatt, Walter Brennan. The life of Billy Mitchell.

11:30

Awards Due For Scholars

ATLANTA —(AP)— Not all the Fulton County (Atlanta) high school students winning letters or shoulder patches in the future will be athletes.

The county board of education has authorized awarding shoulder decorations purely for scholarship.

Their Freedom Is Short-Lived

BATON ROUGE, La. — (UPI)—Robert C. Booker, 42, and James Walden, 39, enjoyed only 18 hours of freedom after their release from the state penitentiary.

Booker was arrested for forcible entry and Walden was back in jail for picking Booker's pockets.

Big Dog Mangles Girl, 5

COLUMBUS, Ohio — (AP) — The 19 children in Miss Barbara Drugan's kindergarten class were romping in the school playground when the big dog suddenly sprang and went for the throat of a five-year-old.

Little Suzanne Ziegler, who could only lay there, unresisting, as the animal tore at her face and neck, required nine stitches. The dog missed the child's jugular vein by about an eighth of an inch, Miss Drugan said.

It was near lunchtime when the dog, Keeno, a Norwegian elk hound about three years old, appeared in the playground outside Bexley Cassingham School in suburban Bexley.

Without warning, the animal raced into the group. There were some 30 children on the playground at the time.

"The dog was mad as far as I could see," said Miss Drugan.

"He was terribly strong. He was up and down and around her (Suzanne) and I tried to pull her away from him. I pulled so hard I tore her dress . . . She was pretty horribly mangled."

Truck Lines Denied Rate Hikes of $4 Million

By JOHN L. BOYLES
Capitol Bureau Chief

The Supreme Court threw out a rate increase of 8.72 per cent granted June. 5, 1957, designed to give the 11 companies an estimated one and one-half million dollars boost in revenue.

The Railroad Commission, at the same time, shut the door on a new petitition for another 15 per cent hike to produce an estimated two and one-half million dollars.

In a 4-1 decision the court said the 1957 increase had been approved on evidence the commission itself had called unreliable.

The companies had asked for a ten per cent increase and the commission allowed 8.72 per cent.

At the same time Friday, Lewis Petteway, general counsel for the Railroad Commission, said the commission had denied the trucking companies a rehearing on their request for an additional 15 per cent increase in freight rates. The commission turned down the original plea last September.

Petteway said the denial was based on the commission's view that a freight rate increase is not the only way to gain new revenue and that the companies should practice certain economies in their operations."

The Florida Rate Conference, the Traffic and Rate Bureau of St. Petersburg, the Tampa Chamber of Commerce, the Greater Miami Traffic Association, the Broward County Traffic Association and the Jacksonville Traffic Bureau challenged the commission's 1957 rate hike order.

'Time' Stealers Are Fined $20

Nine "meter cheaters," Miami Beach hotel and construction workers, caught manipulating parking meters for free time, were convicted Friday.

Judge Milton Feller fined each $20 and costs and gave each a 20-day suspended jail sentence. Six persons were convicted of the same thing Wednesday.

Garden Classes

But His Parking Lot Award Is Tossed Out

Fire-McSherry Move Balked

Port Unit Chief Hit By Metro

Pot Still Boils On Concessions

By LEO ADDE
Herald Staff Writer

Metro Commissioners struck down a move to fire Port Authority Director George McSherry Friday, then turned around and tossed out a controversial parking lot concession award he recommended.

Commissioner Robert Haverfield's try at ousting the $30,000-a-year director for "bad judgment" failed to receive a second.

Then by 8-3 vote, commissioners decided to start from scratch on the parking lot concession for the new 20th St. Terminal. Commissioners Alex Gordon, John McLeod and Faris Cowart opposed the action.

McSherry has been under fire for what some commissioners have called favoritism in contract negotiations on terminal concessions.

Commissioner Arthur Patten drafted the double-edged parking lot motion which:

1—TOOK THE CONCESSION away from Saul Cohen, whose bid was termed by McSherry the best of seven submitted and by County Auditor Robert M. Morgan the worst.

2—INSTRUCTED McSHERRY to advertise for a whole new set of bids on operating the huge lot at the new terminal.

Earlier in the day, Circuit Judge John Prunty dismissed a suit by a losing bidder which called the Port Authority's tentative parking lot deal with Cohen illegal.

The day-long special session on Port Authority matters was called by Commission Chairman Walter Weiss to "settle once and for all every complaint commissioners have about airport concessions."

Heated exchanges which peppered the session indicated the meeting failed in its purpose.

After Haverfield's motion died, he said he "took this as an expression by my fellow commissioners they approve all of Mr. McSherry's actions."

Three commissioners lunged for the microphones.

"I don't condone McSherry's actions," Patten said. "But I won't let him off the spot so easily. I want him to stay around to answer my questions in the future."

Gordon declared, "I've expressed my criticism of airport methods in no uncertain terms. We'll never let contracts in that fashion again."

Commissioner Joe Boyd said, "If things don't smooth out at the airport in the next 60 days, I'm going to be in favor of firing somebody."

Several commissioners who voted to kill the parking lot deal said they still thought Cohen made the best offer, but wanted to "clear the air by making a fresh start."

Cohen's second concession deal with the airport — for building and operating the 265-room hotel — survived a two-hour duel between rival auditors trying to show whether Cohen or rival bidder Laurence Tisch made the better offer.

The commission's verdict was a draw. Patten offered and then withdrew a motion to learn what it would cost the county to tear up the hotel contract.

McSherry called Morgan's hotel contract audit "careless and astounding." Morgan replied he "staked his reputation on its accuracy" — and kept his $16,500-a-year contract to audit the Port Authority for the county.

Boyd's gambit to get a legislative amendment to the Port Authority act barring negotiated contracts was beaten 9-2.

The winning side in that argument contended "we have already made that change in procedures by our own resolution. So why go to the Legislature?"

The Town Crier

BELL

"A STRANGE new plague has appeared on the American scene. Creeping into every form of domestic life, it has taken tremendous toll in lives and misery, unbelievable when compared with other diseases."

The above is from an article by Dr. Marvin Weil in the January issue of The Bulletin of the Dade County Medical Association. He is talking about accidents.

"During 1957 accidents afflicted 9,600,000 people," he writes, "causing 95,000 deaths and untold hardships. Hospital costs due to accidents amounted to $300,000,000. The past 50 years has seen great progress in immunization against illness and in the chemotherapeutic triumph over many diseases, but the accident rate remains almost unchanged."

How to Land

Sen. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma, interviewed Sunday night on TV by former Senator Harry Cain, made a fantastic statement about man in space. He calmly said the U. S. will launch a man into space this summer. He will control his rocket by means of small jet explosions. "In order to come down in California," the senator said, "He'll start his descent over Australia."

Senator Monroney was with Scripps-Howard newspapers for six years before going into politics. "Sometimes, when things get too dull or confused down on the Senate floor," he told me, "I wish I were up in the press gallery again."

Some characters can be most insulting. I've a new red hat, a beeeeautiful thing. It became soiled and I took it up to NE Second St. The old character looked it over.

"It's nuthin' but wool," he said. "The band ain't real. Take it away."

"What'll I do about it?" I asked.

"Throw it away and buy a new hat," he growled. I'm glad he didn't throw it on the floor and stamp on it.

At Swank Gambling Den

Gem-Studded Suckers Bucked Loaded Dice

Old Days Back, 8B

By BOB HARDIN And JAMES BUCHANAN
Herald Staff Writers

Diamond-studded suckers paid $10,000 a chip to roll loaded dice at a swank gambling den in Golden Beach, raiders said Friday.

"The customers never had a chance," a state attorney's investigator said.

Lookouts strolled lazily out of the garage as Golden Beach Police Chief Richard Kuiken knocked on the door at 12:30 a.m. Friday.

He identified himself as an officer and was invited in.

Mink-draped ladies and 25 well-heeled men gaped as they learned it was a raid. Men crowded about an upstairs gaming table hurriedly dumped equipment out the window.

"These people may have been told a fix was in," a high-ranking investigator speculated.

The air-conditioned, 10-room house was laid out downstairs as a huge dining room, complete with waiters and cooks.

The house is up for sale with a $175,000 price tag. It was rented Dec. 23 to a man identified as Harold Jenkins, probers said.

Lights began blazing at night and cars swarmed around almost immediately, neighbors said.

"We thought it was some of Batista's men," a next-door neighbor said.

What was actually inside, investigators said, included about $600 in gambling equipment of a type that can be easily moved — plus clips holding loaded dice in readiness under the table.

Raiders found large quantities of $10,000 and $5,000 markers. They also grabbed a thick sheaf of blank checks which could be written on any bank in the country.

The 25 men arrested included tourists from New York, Detroit and Chicago.

The stage for their arrest was set late Thursday afternoon when the Golden Beach Town Council met in emergency session.

"A woman came and told us her friend had been taken for $300," said Council President Ryan Missett.

The council decided to ask the state attorney's office for aid.

Raiders found the white-roofed, palm-shaded den doing a brisk Friday morning business. None of the women were gambling however, they said. Raiders let the women go.

Customers of the bad-bounce dice house were shuttled off to the county jail in relays, clapping handkerchiefs over their faces to hide from photographers.

Typical was Abraham Klibansky, a Miami Beach florist of 421 62nd St., Miami Beach:

"A bartender told my friend and I about it. He said it was an after-hours place." However, Klibansky claimed he did not know it was a gambling house.

And authorities Friday didn't know for certain the whereabout of Harold Jenkins. State attorney's investigators said the $5,000 Jenkins put down was half-payment of the rent between Dec. 23 and May 1.

The real estate agent, Mrs. Georgia Clarke, said she would be able to identify Jenkins.

Herman Averner, 1017 Meridian Ave., said Jenkins hired him as cook. "He said he'd be having friends around, and I should cook them up steaks and chops," Averner said. "But I never saw him after the first day."

The names of two Fort Lauderdale men well-known to Broward gambling raiders cropped up as the probe continued, but there was no link to them announced officially.

The setting for the busted operation is a community of homes ranging in price from $100,000 to $500,000.

Council President Missett is a former New York attorney and Mayor Burt Hengeveld, also in on the raid, is the board chairman of two Pittsburgh steel corporations.

Police Fly Suspect In Secret

Three Identify Accused Killer

Arriving unannounced on a commercial airline, Smith was hustled into a lineup and "positively identified" by three witnesses, police said.

The accused man's arrival was handled quietly so witnesses wouldn't be prejudiced by photographs.

His trip to Miami, delayed by extradition proceedings in New Orleans where he was captured in a holdup attempt, was handled by R. J. Gow of the Miami homicide bureau.

Chief of Detectives Tom Lipe said the witnesses picked Smith out of a seven-man lineup "without hesitation."

Three more witnesses will be brought to Miami Monday by Key West authorities.

Smith is accused of the murder in Key Largo of John Thomas Stewart Jr. retired Navy commander, on Oct. 21, and of the fatal shooting of Cab Driver Edward Setnor, 63, in Miami the following day.

Police said the prisoner will be transferred from the Miami city jail to the county jail today.

Robber Victim Takes to Heels

When Bar Owner James D. McQuagge was accosted by robbers early Friday, he ran—because they told him to.

The two assailants jumped McQuagge as he walked out of his bar at 3460 NW Seventh St. shortly before midnight. Instead of telling him not to move, they insisted that he run away—after he handed over a cigar box containing $225.

Driver Pact Signed

Coast Cities Line Gives Pay Raise, Asks Fare Boost

Coast Cities Coaches Friday announced agreement with the bus drivers' union on a new contract which will give drivers a wage increase and probably also bring a fare hike for passengers.

John L. Williams, president of the Hialeah bus firm, said he has petitioned the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission for a hike in fares from 20 to 25 cents for local rides and 30 to 35 cents for two-zone rides.

Williams said the fare increase is necessary to meet a 23-cent-an-hour wage hike for drivers under the new one-year contract with the union. He said there will be no change in children's school fares.

"The new wage agreement will cost the company about $70,000 in additional wages and other benefit costs," Williams said.

He said the company will also reduce night and Sunday service on several of its routes because of "very little or no patronage."

Coast Cities operates primarily in North Dade and has no-stop routes to downtown Miami. The company operates 46 buses.

Williams said that under the new contract, which went into effect Jan. 2 and runs through Jan. 1, 1960, drivers' wages go up from $1.70 an hour at present to $1.93 an hour.

The Miami Transit and Miami Beach Railway companies were struck for four days in October and drivers won a 25-cent-an-hour wage hike that put their salaries at $2.12 an hour.

He Was Dead for 3 Minutes

Albert Brussman, 55, was dead for three minutes.

At least he was dead in so far as heart action is concerned—and to most folks, that's dead.

Then suddenly, he was alive again, his heart throbbing weakly—then stronger—in the skilled fingers of a Miami doctor.

Late Friday, Brussman was still in critical condition at Jackson Memorial Hospital. But thanks to a resident physician, he had a fighting chance to recover.

A carpenter, of 240 Albatross Ave., Miami Springs, Brussman crashed into a pine tree at Fern Way and Westward Dr. about 1 a.m. Friday.

An ambulance rushed him to the emergency room of Jackson. He was in shock.

To facilitate his breathing, a tracheotomy tube was inserted through an incision in the throat.

Then the patient's heart stopped beating. In a lightning decision, the doctor opened Brussman's chest and began a steady massage of the heart.

For three or four minutes, it remained quiet. Then came the faint pulsating, growing stronger as the doctor continued the massage for 15 minutes. Other doctors and nurses assisted him in the dramatic battle for Brussman's life, which included an abdominal incision.

A hospital spokesman gave the victim a 50-50 chance, but said his blood pressure remains high.

"It'll be a day or two before we know if he's out of the woods," he said.

Surgery is not the only thing Brussman has to recuperate from. He had multiple fractures of the jaw and rib too.

But Friday, he was alive.

Only Sunspot Not Satellite

Several South Dade workers thought they saw the Russian "Lunik" orbiting around the sun Friday but an astronomical expert said it was only a sunspot.

The workers saw the little dot moving across the sun at 10 a.m. and again at 3 p.m.

Aged Man Is Gypped

Phony Diamond Selling Con Game Returns Here

A phony rabbi and a phony jeweler, con men who cheated four old couples out of their life savings last season, are back working Miami Beach again.

A 90-year-old man, feeling ashamed and foolish, told Detective Barney Kaplan Friday that he took $2,000 from the bank to buy diamonds that turned out to be 11 small round pebbles.

"I believe they are the same bunch that worked here last year," said Kaplan. "But this year they've changed the story a little and have a woman with them."

Samuel Savitzki, 911 Sixth St., befriended a stranger named "Feldman" who visited him at his home for almost a month.

One day early this week a woman dropped in to see them, claiming she just got off the boat from Israel.

She was trying to raise money by selling her jewels. A phony jeweler then evaluated the diamonds at more than $5,000.

As the woman had to sell in a hurry and "Feldman" needed time to raise the money to buy them himself, the victim is prevailed upon to hold them for $2,000.

The diamonds were carefully wrapped in an envelope. Then the envelopes were switched and the victim got pebbles.

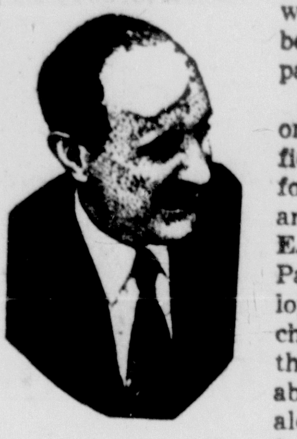
Nightlife with George Bourke

Pinkie Lee Takes Latin Quarter Like Grant . . .



IT TAKES some courage for a night club impresario, no matter how big his reserve resources, to book into a smart supper club featuring a French revue an act which in recent years has been best known as the darling of the pablum and tootsie roll set.

And it requires some guts — or at least a high degree of confidence in one's basic talents — for that entertainer to face such an adult audience as frequents E. M. Loew's Latin Quarter on Palm Island — a spot where one's loyalty is tested not by regular chomping on tootsie rolls, but in the taste for — and the ability to absorb — a required minimum of alcoholic beverages.

Experienced Trouper Wins Fans

BUT E. M. LOEW and Pinkie Lee displayed that courage, which was further tested by a not too terrific turn-out for his opening. Before the evening was over, however, Lee had just about won his audience with an ingratiating manner, a Bert Lahrish attitude and timing, a unique eccentric dancing skill, and a well-spotted demonstration of the the tricks and surefire lines learned in his years in show business, an experience which ranged from burlesque to kiddie TV shows — believe it or not, in that order.

On paper it seems a colossal mistake to try to entertain people who would come to the swank Latin Quarter with a male strip tease, a high bosomed lass tearing the pants away from a pint-sized foil, frequent reference with ribald intent to extra-sensory reactions of the anatomy, and so on.

But Lee makes them seem inoffensive because he is himself an inoffensive and apologetic fellow. He even begs the audience's indulgence for some of his stunts but points out that the theater of operations is a night club.

The balance of the Latin Quarter show is basically the same as it was for Sophie Tucker's engagement, with the thrilling adagio dance stylings of Holger and Dolores providing the focal highpoint of Donn Arden's "Sky High" revue.

FIDO Keeps Movies Off British TV

THERE MAY BE a mixed metaphor somewhere in the following about not letting the dog you feed bite the hand that paid for his smiling teeth—or it may be mere coincidence that the letters of the Film Industry Defense Organization, which has the aim of keeping theatrical films off British television spell FIDO! . . . Shirley Jones, opening at the Fontainebleau La Ronde next Tuesday, just finished a movie called "Never Steal Anything Small," with Jimmie Cagney. Did you know that James worked in vaudeville under the name of Nye, which is the name of the bandleader at the Fontainebleau's next door neighbor, the Eden Roc?

Those with a pipeline of optimism to Cuba predict the shooting will resume during the first week in February. They probably mean the crap-shooting, however. It is rumored that a million dollars says a casino for tourists only (as in Nassau) plan may be tried!

If there is to be a more liberal view it won't be a matter of financial fix—entirely. It has been proven in the last six years in Cuba that there is more sticky sugar to be gotten from 10 miles of new highway or 14 stories of public building than in all of Havana's 13 gambling places combined.

"No House Limit," which Grant may do in Havana, with Dick Powell as director, has been retitled "Casino." . . . "Tomboy," penned by two laddies from Firehouse No. 2 here, will be heard twice on Perry Como's show tonight.

Comedian Don Adams, who has just been added to Lou Walters' Ziegfeld Follies at the Carillon has been featured on Steve Allen's TV show . . . Victor Borge will be on the stage of the Deauville Hotel Casanova Room live on Sunday night but he will also be on TV on Channel 4 at 6 o'clock as guest of Ed Murrow's "It's a Small World" through the so-called "miracle of magnetic tape.

Paul Gray, now at Murray Franklin's, also plays the less important clubs on occasion. He goes into Chicago's Chez Paree for the 11th date this spring . . . It is rumored that Sir Sydney Oakes and some Fort Lauderdale businessmen may bid for the Grand Bahama West End Club. Wonder if that will affect the titular rights of "Sir" Judson Smith, who works there so frequently.

His Sign Began Great White Way

NEW YORK —(AP)— Historians will mark 1958 as the year that the originator of the Great White Way died. He was George A. Singer, 85, a man unknown to the public but who contributed a significant bit to the story of Broadway.

Henry Fonda's Jane Signed For 5 Films

Jane Fonda ... talent

Carol Bruce ... brooch

Joyce Bryant ... a doctor

Rory Calhoun ... KO'd

HOLLYWOOD execs say Jane Fonda (Henry's daughter) will be a big star. Famous Artists signed her for five films . . . One Broadway newsreel temple's sense-of-humor: The Marquee shouts: "De Gaulle Devalues De Franc" . . . Add good timing: Paramount's soon-due film spectacle, "Tempest," is about a wild, bearded revolutionary heading thousands of rebels . . . Don't Invite: Don Rickles and disc-jockey Howard Miller. Over Rickles' remarks . . . Intimates hear that Suzy Parker and her French groom are editing another headline . . . We recently reported that Kelly Leigh of "Say Darling" is picked up nightly at the stage door by a Rolls-Royce. She wires: "Thanks for the item. He just gave it to me!"

CAST OF CHARACTERS: Val Anthony, the recording star at the Tender Trap, who has headlined locally for 9 years. Won't leave the Big Burg despite offers of thrice his wage . . . "Papa Jac" Assunto, hot trombonist with the Dukes of Dixieland combo, making its Big City debut on the 12th at the Roundtable. He's a Phi Beta Kappa grad of Tulane . . . Latest ex-dancer to become a restaurateur, Eddie Lane, now bossing the Chez Carlo. A Gus Edwards "Kid" who played the Palace . . . The hilarious parody of Zsa-Zsa in that teevee bread commercial is the funny work of actress Lynn Merrill, Ben Hecht's Girl Friday . . . Rev. Oscar Penniworth, a Harlem preacher, composer of the Forbes Brothers' hit record: "Sinful Love."

Manhattan Murals: The Sutton Place dweller, who has a lifesized dummy of a bikini-clad gal on his penthouse terrace . . . The 7th Avenue tailor shop sign: "We Remove Spotniks" . . . The exquisite orchid tree in the window of the Eastsider, a smart new restaurant on 52nd off 5th . . . Sign in the window of a teevee repair shop: "We can fix anything on your set except the programs" . . . Sign on rear of a truck: "Have Wife, Must Travel."

BROADWAY TABLETALK: Carol Bruce's gift from Milt Rackmil: A diamond-studded brooch worth $10,000. Intimates believe this romance will last . . . Don Rondo had a close call in an accident. Almost lost an eye . . . Ben Cooper, the fastest draw in H'wood, and Susan Cabot are a new coosome . . . Tommy Manville, who is wealthy, got richer via AT&T's 3-for-one stock-split . . . A Brooklyn schoolboy named Roger Stone (12) has become a minor celebrity. RCA-Victor recorded his rock-and-roller, "Shakey Little Baby" . . . Former Hungarian film star Erika Kolossy (she runs Erika's) won't allow Denise Darcel in her cafe in slacks or Errol Flynn without a cravat. Erika wears tights and a sweater! . . . Oops! "Falling in Love With Love" is from "Boys From Syracuse," not "Brigadoon" . . . Joyce Bryant, who quit chirping in night spots to become an Evangelist, weds a Washington doctor soon.

THE LATE WATCH: Middleweight title contender Rory Calhoun and Vivian Hunter are altar-bound . . . Eileen Barton and ex-husband Vic Jarmel are dating, but chums doubt a complete reconciliation . . . The Craig Stevens (Alexis Smith) tut-tut the talk. He's tv's popular "Peter Gunn."

OPENINGS are tough on playwrights. Robert Sherwood once confessed: "On the day 'There Shall Be No Night' was to open I rose at 3 a.m., dressed and took a cab to Pennsylvania Station. I boarded the train for Washington. By the time I got there, I thought 'What the hell did I do that for?' I was just churned up too much. It was a disgraceful piece of escapism, I concluded. I had a glass of orange juice and a cup of coffee and sent a telegram to my wife which said: 'For some reason I have gone to Washington and will be back at noon.' "

ROD STEIGER, who stars in the current "Rashomon" drama, is one of the few actors who isn't fooled by illusions. He has an intelligent, down-to-earth philosophy: "Living is an art. That's something I really believe in. Say a man raises a happy child, for a whole lifetime. That's an art. How can you compare that to an actor who makes people happy for only two and a half hours—and in costume?"

Travel Film Hours Shift

"Travel MPL," a series of films presented in the Miami Public Library auditorium, will continue on alternate Thursdays through May 28. Instead of twice a day as has been the schedule, they will be presented three times each day—at 1, 3:30 and 8 p.m.

Free tickets are required and are available at 6 p.m. on the Monday before the program at the main and branch libraries. They are also given out at the end of each program.

Africa will be featured on Jan. 22. By May 28 the globe will be circled and the series will end with films about Florida.

Actor Got Kick Out of His Role

Holidays Scored Hit with Peggy

Helping dedicate an oversize mailbox in Times Square during the holiday season, she was hit on the head with a wooden Christmas decoration.

Revolt Trapped Actress, Party on Isle of Pines

. . . Batista also was expected but couldn't make it

Margia Dean
. . . 'we were afraid'

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — Motion picture actress Margia Dean is a very happy girl to be safe at home from one of the Cuban islands after experiences in the revolution there that had all the nightmarish aspects of a dark melodrama.

Margia went to Cuba for the opening of a hotel on the Isle of Pines, a very swank resort some miles out of Havana. The then President Fulgencio Batista, who is a friend of the owner of the new hotel, was expected New Year's Eve, but fled to the Dominican Republic the same night as the revolution gained momentum.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Adam Gimbel, Prince Serge Obolensky and party, Mr. and Mrs. Porfirio Rubirosa, Gen. Rafael Trujillo and Duncan McMartin, the Canadian mining heir.

Said Margia: "We waited for two days at the airport for a plane that didn't come. We were afraid to leave to get food, and you'll never know the relief when I was finally to leave.

"With us was the daughter of the commandant of the prison who had been killed. This tragic news was kept from her."

I'VE SELDOM seen Walt Disney as excited over any property he has acquired as he is over Robert Louis Stevenson's adventure classic, "Kidnapped."

Robert Stevenson, namesake and distant relative of the famous author, will serve Walt in the dual capacity of screenwriter and director, and "Kidnapped" will roll in April in England and Scotland.

Walt is spending the bankroll in a live action, Technicolor production. The story I am sure you remember, is laid in the 18th century and is about a British youth who is kidnaped and shipwrecked in Scotland.

Yale Staging 10-Hour Bill

NEW HAVEN, Conn. —(AP)— A theatrical marathon is the latest achievement of the Yale University School of Drama.

The opening plays of two famous trilogies written 2,500 years apart are being staged this month for five performances — the "Agamemnon" of Aeschylus and "The Homecoming" from "Mourning Becomes Electra" by Eugene O'Neill.

Purpose of the twin bill, to underline similarities between the dramas, is enhanced by having the same undergraduates perform respective roles in each. The total running time for each performance? Five hours.

LIFE WITH LARRY THOMPSON

Early Morning Grump

IF THERE'S anything I can't stand, it's the person who feels good early in the morning.

Personally, I think it should be unconstitutional for anybody to say a word until after a cup of coffee, and even then conversation should be limited to grunts and monosyllables for about another hour.

It is not surprising that I have a Jekyll and Hyde reputation with some people. They are the ones who call me right after I reach the office.

No matter what their message, I am in an ugly humor and the closest I can come to being civil is to snarl in a low key. When those people call me back after lunch, I am full of sweetness and light, a chortling good humor man.

I don't particularly mind being such an early-morning grouch. I'm so used to it that I consider it a normal condition. I just think everyone else ought to be the same way.

THE MORNING THE COLUMN appeared with my story about our woodpiles the weather turned chilly. This made me several enemies, folks who thought I was responsible. Maybe I was, but I certainly never had realized that I had so much influence.

Anyhow, we started up a fire and through the day my wife kept depleting our stock of excess lumber. She kept it up even though the sun came out and the day turned out right pleasant and balmy.

When I got home that evening, I continued to put wood on the blaze. We kept a fire going until bedtime. It did get pretty warm in the house, but we were stubborn.

Several times I had to step out on the front porch to cool off. Outside, the weather was perfect for shirtsleeves.

Then, I'd return to our front room and put another log on the fire. If we'd had air conditioning, I'd have turned it on. As it was, we sweated it out.

It was kind of hard on us, but we did get rid of quite a bit of firewood.

CONTRIBUTION TO OUR Unusual Names Department, from Mrs. James O. McNeely, Eau Gallie: "I have four sisters named Oris, Doris, Revola and Maburn Lucetra. Had a brother named Frelon. My mother's name is Lela Viola.

"My husband's family is a little odd, too. I mean their names are. His mother's name is Allie. He has a brother named Jeremiah Colombus, an uncle named Yancey, and a sister-in-law named Zerruh.

"My husband's name is Jones Oliver McNeely, and what trouble we do have with that first name!"

NOTE FROM HERMAN LANCE, Lake Worth: "Concerning odd business firm names, how about the law firm of 'Ruff and Ready' located in Miami?"

Okay, we'll mention them. I found the firm listed in the phone book, with offices in the Metropolitan Bank Building.

A girl answered the phone, "Ruff and Ready," and I asked to speak to Mr. Ruff.

He is Wallace Ruff, an attorney for 45 years who has been practicing here since 1925. He and the late Thomas J. Ready formed the firm in the early 30s. As is customary, the firm name remained unchanged after Mr. Ready's death.

"BEFORE OKLAHOMA became a state," writes W. L. D., Fort Lauderdale, "arrests were made by U.S. marshals. My father asked a marshal if it were not dangerous to read a warrant of arrest to the bad men roaming Oklahoma before making an arrest. The marshal said no, they shot them first and then read the warrant to the victim."

Mr. W. L. D. then adds: "Do you know why Texans love the state of Oklahoma? Because Oklahoma separates Texas from the state of Kansas."

I never heard that, but I have heard how Texas got its big population.

In the early days when a few pioneers returned to visit their home states, they told of the beauties and resources of Oklahoma and an immense migration started.

Along the way, the trail split. There was a sign, saying "Turn Right for Oklahoma." The people who couldn't read kept on going and ended up in Texas.

LOVERS OF OLD SONGS should visit Zissen's Bowery, a Miami saloon equipped with singing waiters, says Mrs. Barbara McCoy, 1554 NW Third St. She says that sheet music of oldies are framed and displayed on the walls. She writes: "Among a few I took note of were such jazzy numbers as "Next to Your Mother Who Do You Love?" "You Broke My Heart to Pass the Time," "There's a Girl in the Heart of Maryland," "The Devil's Ball," and "Lakawana."

Lakawana sounds like a railroad, but I guess it could be a song.

Keep Cash Stable

By CARROLL RIGHTER
Saturday, January 10, 1959

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) There would be very little wisdom in changing your financial situation right at this moment. Avoid any money problems and be out early with those comrades with whom you can have an enjoyable and profitable time.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 20) Refrain from speaking your mind with one who has some authority over you. This only takes away from own dignity and helps not at all with said individual.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) A private anxiety could easily keep you from profit and an excellent opportunity that present itself today if you are out in the business world. Forget it.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You are doing some muddled thinking about your goals and ambitions today. Firstly, you want to be extravagant, then you wonder if that was what you wanted in the first place.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Don't try to be forceful today where an influential person is concerned, for no amount of arguing will see him or her going along with your ideas.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) There are many important matters for you to attend to in the business world, but you are wasting time brooding over some unhappy situation. Forget this quickly and get out and work constructively.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You are not quite satisfied with your security, and are about to change things so radically that you could very well become bankrupt. Think before you leap.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You are tempted to act strangely toward a devoted outside friend because you have troubles at home. This would puzzle him or her very much. Learn to control your emotions.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You are having trouble finding just the efficiency gadget you require, or it is too expensive. Continue to search, but do not expend actual cash until early part of coming week.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Although you are uncertain about your actual financial standing, do not waste time arguing over petty amounts. P.M. have fun inexpensively.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) A certain situation at abode has you puzzled. You cannot get others to agree with your ideas, and you owe it to them to at least listen to their reasons and explanations.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Going around in circles of fuming will help not at all right now. Cultivate patience and know that delays are sometimes for the best.

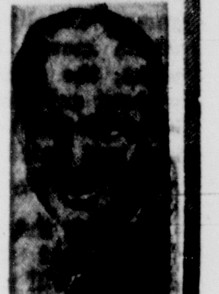
Jack Kofoed Says

Fair Trial Is Urged For Even the Worst



VICTORIOUS rebels are flushing Batista die-hards out of hideaways in the warrens of old Havana. Some of the hunted . . . particularly if they were members of the secret police, or informers . . . are shot without trial.

Those men were as ruthless and brutal as Hitler's Gestapo. No mercy for them.

Yet, what happened in Paris when German occupying forces pulled out in 1945 may be repeated in Cuba.

The Free French waged a gallant underground war against the Nazis. When Eisenhower's troops approached the city, they went almost mad with joy.

Then, out of hiding came the scum, men and women who never had lifted a finger for the cause. They had scores to settle, and now was the time to settle them.

In the welter of excitement, accusation without proof was often enough to bring quick death for the accused.

Many innocent persons, shouted down as collaborators, were murdered.

Once the blaze dies down, everyone will be sorry such tragedies happened, but then it's too late.

Even unspeakables of the secret police should be tried by orderly processes of law, for if such as they are executed by lynch mobs, people who have done no wrong also will die that way.

PROVISIONAL President Urrutia has indicated that the new government frowns on gambling, and is not likely to approve games, which are undeniable tourist bait — the boys may change their minds once they settle down.

The National Lottery is a big thing with the Cuban people. Most would hate to see it go, even though the chance of winning a sizable sum is small as Tom Thumb's little finger.

Big new hotels . . . the Riviera, Capri, Hilton . . . were built with gambling casinos as part of the anticipated profit pattern.

Millions of dollars in labor union funds, as well as those of Americans and the Batista government, were invested. For a year the hotels have been almost empty, and burdened with staggering operating losses.

Much of Cuba's economy is predicated on the tourist industry. Heavy pressure will be brought to bear on the new government to keep gambling alive.

Castro and Urrutia are idealists, but idealism must be watered with practicality.

A prosperous free people, are easy to handle, but even a free people, who are hungry, are not. It wouldn't be surprising if the new government eventually decided that crap tables and roulette wheels will be useful crutches until something better comes along.

VICTOR BORGE'S slogan is "There's nothing like a Dane." Since my ancestors on both sides of the family were Danes, I must agree with him. Borge, who is appearing at the Deauville, has an almost unparalleled success story. He left Denmark, following the German invasion, and arrived in the United States penniless and unable to speak English.

Victor has become one of the biggest money makers in show business. He received $100,000 for a one hour appearance on television and his one man show grossed more than two million dollars on Broadway.

Not only a magnificent pianist, he comes close to fulfilling Brooks Atkinson's statement that he is the funniest entertainer in the world. There have been other great Danes, but Victor Borge stands out all by himself right now.

NOTES ON A SHABBY CUFF: Due to the efforts of Past Chancellor Irving Pietrack, Gov. LeRoy Collins has been installed as a member of Beach Lodge 170, Knights of Pythias. The degrees were conferred in Tallahassee by Chancellor Leon A. Axelrod, Deputy Commander Al Zucker and Pietrack.

Stanley Raff and Hank Tracy have been pals ever since they were little fellows. When they decided to enlist in the Air Force, they wanted to be together. The boys told their story to T-Sgt. H. Lee Clardy at the recruiting office, 2180 SW 12th Ave., and will be assigned to the same outfit.

The Hotel Transportation Men's Association holds its 12th annual banquet at the Deauville Monday . . . Notre Dame and Fordham football teams used to have jaw breaking names on their rosters, but horse trainer Czelan Mrockowski, of Ringling-Barnum and Bailey, would do pretty well in that department anywhere.

THE MAYOR of a small midwest town is an ardent prohibitionist. He doesn't want people to drink, and decided that, though he had no legal right to do so, he'd stop 'em.

So, he indifinitely delayed signing licenses for men in the liquor business, even though they had fullfilled all necessary requirements.

The mayor made a mockery of the law through his delaying action. Crusaders, who work on the theory that the end justifies whatever means they use . . . even illegal ones . . . are a greater menace than the causes they fight against.

BALD, GRINNING boss of the Soviets, Nikita Khrushchev, had a New Year's Eve party, and the vodka flowed like water over Niagara Falls. One of the entertainment features was a singing program by Paul Robeson.

Robeson was an All-America football star at Rutgers, and one of the great voices of America. Unfortunately, he was inoculated by the virus of Communism, and became one of his own country's most bitter haters.

Paul is feted and praised in Moscow. He can write his own ticket as a VIP. Yet, if he stays there, I wonder if he won't react as "turncoats" in Korea, who elected to live in China instead of America, did as the years wore on.

A number have already come back. Few men can entirely black out feeling for their own land and their own people. Even Benedict Arnold couldn't.

It may be the same loneliness will some day fall upon Paul Robeson.

A PLEA TO HOLLYWOOD

Please, Hollywood, be careful with Miami's Satchel Paige
We need him on our baseball pitching staff
Those Western roles could be quite rough on guys of Satch's age
(Ole Satch in Western films? Boy, that's a laugh!)

Please hoist him gently on his horse. Avoid all chance of harm
And tie him firmly on, so he won't slip
In order to avoid exertion of his pitching arm
Please see that he shoots only from the hip

Though he may not be so hot at chasing Indians over hills
He'll be positively brilliant at posing for the stills.
—EDDIE HUGHES

Will Bigtime Gambling Try For Dade County Comeback?

Raid Story, P. 1B

By STEPHEN TRUMBULL
Herald Staff Writer

Dade County's biggest gambling raid in 18 years has alerted the Crime Commission of Greater Miami to the fact that unhappy days may be here again.

With American gamblers getting the heave-ho in Cuba —temporarily at least — Operating Director Dan Sullivan of the crime fighting group said he feared the big Golden Beach raid of early Friday may be but the forerunner of a lot more of the same.

Except for floating crap games, usually crooked ones which moved from night to night, the county has been without any real bigtime gambling since the "liberal policy" was ended by an aroused public in 1950.

"I think there's an excellent chance that those American gamblers will not just stay on in Cuba enjoying the sunshine," said Sullivan. "It's a pretty good bet at least some of them will be back trying to tilt the lid again—and then our troubles are back."

The raid of early Friday was reminiscent of some of the more dramatic chapters during that "liberal" past in this area.

In numbers arrested, it was the biggest since C. O. Huttoe — then as now a center of police department strife — knocked off Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom's Frolics club on the MacArthur causeway approach on Jan. 14, 1941.

It was an odd coincidence that Huttoe's son, Arthur, now a young assistant state attorney, figured in the Friday morning raid.

Reportedly acting without the knowledge of H. Leslie Quigg, then Miami police chief, Lt. C. O. Huttoe arrested 49 men, and confiscated $27,000 in that 1941 spectacular at the Frolics.

Arrow Shows Where House Was Raided
. . . on the beach near Dade-Broward line

The place was being operated by Sam (Gameboy) Miller, a big gambling operator of that day, with John Angersola and Moe (Dimples) Wilnsky.

It also appears unusual to longtime Miamians that it was an aroused public body, the city council of Golden Beach, that blew the whistle on the recent operation in the $175,000 mansion there.

In the "liberal days" that area from near the north boundary of Dade County to Hollywood was virtually the capital of winter gambling in America.

It was at the Golden Shores Club, long since gone and the site now occupied by Wilde's restaurant, where multimillionaire oil man Harry Sinclair was reportedly "taken" for $800,000 in what was said to be a rigged game. Reports had it he later settled for 500,000. Nick Delmore of New Jersey ran the place.

The Sunny Isles casino, the Sunny Isle Inn and the Island Club flourished in the same general area.

Across the Broward County line there were Club Boheme, Colonial Inn and Green Acres, all occupied by a group of nationally known gambling racketeers who later became targets for the Kefauver Senate Crime Investigation Committee.

BB-Hurt Boys Better

The world looks bright again to three South Dade boys wounded in the eyes over the New Year's weekend.

David Congdon, 14, of 9160 SW 87th Ave., was released from a hospital Thursday and pronounced in good condition at home. He was shot in the right eye New Year's Eve with a BB gun by teenagers he had never seen.

Also discharged from a hospital and in good condition are Harold Walker, 13, of 6366 SW 22nd St. and Eric Jonas, 14, of 1340 SW 60th St.

Walker was camping in the Everglades when he was accidentally shot in the eye by a friend. He was chopping wood when a BB pellet apparently ricocheted off the wood and struck him in the right eye.

Jonas was helping a young neighbor with his model rocket when it went off hitting him in the left eye.

The bids will be based on the furnishing, delivering and installing, or constructing Sidewalks, Curbs and Gutters on East Fourth Avenue (E. 4th Ave.), from Hialeah Drive north to Florida East Coast Railroad right-of-way, in the City of Hialeah, Florida.

The Bidder will submit along with his bid: (a) Evidence that he is licensed to perform the work and services or qualified by examination or reciprocity to be so licensed, and, (b) A certified check or bid bond in the amount of five percent (5%) of the base bid as a guarantee that the Bidder, if awarded the contract, will within five (5) consecutive days after written notice be given of such award, enter into a written contract with the City of Hialeah, Florida, in accordance with his accepted bid. The Bidder will submit a contract surety bond satisfactory to the City of Hialeah, Florida, equal to one hundred per cent (100%) of the contract price, and will submit other required documents as needed.

All construction shall be carried out in accordance with the plans, specifications and contract documents which may be examined at the Office of the Superintendent of Streets, Mr. George Wheeler, Superintendent, City Hall, Hialeah, Florida. Upon deposit of Ten Dollars ($10.00) the plans and specifications may be obtained at the Office of the Superintendent of Streets, City Hall, Hialeah, Florida. Upon return of the documents undamaged, within fifteen (15) days after the opening of bids, deposit will be completely refunded to active bidders only.

It is the intention of the City of Hialeah, Florida, to pay for this program by means of certificates of indebtedness which will be reclaimed by funds derived from assessments against the abutting property owners benefitting by this improvement. These certificates shall have a maximum maturity period of ten (10) years, but the City will retain the option to reclaim any or all certificates as funds become available. The interest rate of the certificates shall be five (5%) per cent interest per annum. The City of Hialeah will validate the certificates of indebtedness in the Circuit Court, if requested by the Bidder.

No Bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for the opening of bids.

The City of Hialeah, Florida, reserves the right to reject any and all bids or to readvertise.

ADVERTISEMENT FOR BIDS

Sealed bids for the construction of "New Incinerator" in the Coconut Grove Section of Miami, Florida, will be received by the Commission of the City of Miami, Florida, at 9:30 a.m. E.S.T. on the 4th day of March 1959, in the City Commission Room, first floor, Municipal Justice Building, 1145 N. W. 11th Street, Miami, Florida, at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read.

All Bids shall be submitted in accordance with the Instructions to Bidders and Specifications. Contract Documents may be obtained from the Office of Director, Department of Engineering, 3332 Pan American Drive, Miami, Florida. Contract Documents are available to general contractors upon deposit of $75.00 per set or outright purchase of $35.00 per set. Sub-contractors and material suppliers may purchase Contract Documents for $35.00 per set. The $35.00 purchase price of Contract Documents is non-refundable. $75.00 deposit is refundable if said Documents are returned in good order and unmarked within 10 days after the award of Contract.

Plans and Specifications will be on file at Miami Builders Exchange, F. W. Dodge Plan Room, and Alexis B. Kononoff Consulting Engineers for public use by subcontractors and material men.

Proposal includes the time of performance, and specifications contain provisions for liquidated damages for failure to complete work on time.

The City Commission reserves the right to waive any informalities in any bid, and the City Manager may reject any or all bids and re-advertise.

EXPLORE YOUR MIND

When to Marry

NO ONE SHOULD MARRY BEFORE THEY'RE 18!
RIGHT ☐
WRONG ☐

By S. M. DUVALL and EVELAN M. DUVALL, Ph.Ds

AS A RULE, RIGHT. Statistically, teen-age marriages are risky. But age in years isn't the only thing that counts. You should also be grown up intellectually, and emotionally. You should be old enough in discipline so that you won't squander your money, and can take the strains that child care requires. You should be old enough vocationally so that you can, or are well on the way to being able to earn a living. You should be far enough along to establish yourself as a responsible adult.

2. Can you insulate your child against delinquency?
Yes————— No—————

Yes, according to a recent study at Ohio State University. Sociologist Walter Reckless and his colleagues found that boys who had good self-concepts tended to remain out of trouble even in high delinquency areas. When a boy had been brought up to think of himself as a "good boy" he kept out of trouble significantly more often than the lad who'd learned to think of himself as a troublemaker. Let this be a warning to any of us who label a youngster "bad."

Disability claims sometimes result from neuroses.
True————— False—————

True. The person who believes he's sick may be quite as incapable of working as the person who really is sick. One thousand insurance claims for psychoneuroses, analyzed five years later, showed that 30 per cent of the cases had been diagnosed wrong. We need to know a good deal more about personality before we'll be able to tell whether the person who files a claim is really disabled, neurotically disabled, or merely looking for a way to live without working.

$1,995

HERE'S ONE that you'd better circle with your red pencil because it's the best 1958 BUICK Riviera 2-door HARDTOP buy in Florida today. From it's gleaming front end through the good looking two-tone Frost White over Gulf Aqua finish it's completely factory original. Of course the beautiful interior with its Naugahyde door panels, Naugahyde and Nylon seats, floor mats and headliner is factory original too. It's equipment includes Buick's smooth Dynaflow transmission, clock, directional signals, the big Buick SONOMATIC "8" tube push button radio and a special set of U.S. Royal "Safety 8" white wall tires. In fact the spare tire has never been on the ground. Bring the whole family with you and take this smooth performing beauty for a long test drive. You'll buy it if you do. No cash needed — Just trade in your 1952 model for the downpayment.

NO. THAT'S not a mistake in the price. We're actually going to sell our 1957 ENGLISH FORD 4-door PREFECT for only $995. It's finished in beautiful original Gainesbrough Blue. The interior including the washable Naugahyde door panels and floor mats is factory original — and the seats have a very expensive set of Naugahyde custom tailored to fit seat covers. Of course the Goodyear tubeless white wall tires are in A-1 condition too. Here's your chance to have your cake and eat it too, because this popular model English Ford that will give you up to 35 miles per gallon of gas mileage is priced way below the going market value. You'll make part of the payments with the gas money saved. Come prepared to do business because you'll buy it if you do. No cash needed — Just trade in your 1952 model for the down payment.

WANTED

THAT'S right. We want the one person in the Miami area that appreciates the unusual in a fine automobile because that is the only proper description that will fit our 1957 LINCOLN PREMIERE 4 door LANDOU HARDTOP with a smart rear and continital tire mount finished in chrome. It is in absolute NEW CAR condition from the ground up and of course completely factory original. The Starmist White finish is complimented by a truly gorgeous interior finished in genuine leather and doeskin on door panels, headliner and seats with thick pile floor carpeting that would do justice to your living room.

AND talk about equipment — POWER STEERING — POWER BRAKES — POWER WINDOWS — 6 WAY POWER SEAT, Automatic transmission, the special TOWN and COUNTRY radio that finds its own stations automatically with dual front and rear seat speakers, power antenna, Lincoln's Magic Air thermostat dual control heating and fresh air system, E.Z. eye Solex tinted glass and of course special white wall tires that are in top condition. It even has an inside control to adjust the fender mounted rear view mirror.

IF YOU'RE the one person in Miami that can appreciate the extra value in a fine automobile such as this one is ask anyone of our courteous salesmen to show you Miami's finest Lincoln.

LOOKING ALL OVER TOWN FOR A STATIONWAGON

AND at the price of only $595 this is an absolute "BARGAIN VALUE BUY." I think that the showroom condition Victorian white and platinum is one of the smartest two tone combinations that I've ever seen on a 1953 PLYMOUTH STATIONWAGON. The interior including the doorpanels and headliner is factory original and in excellent condition. One look at the special expensive set of custom tailored to fit seat covers that the former owner had installed, lets you know that this smooth performer has been cared for. There's the Plymouth automatic HI-DRIVE transmission and A-1 white wall tires too. Its guaranteed in writing by Grentner Bros., for 90 days and best of all—no cash needed, just trade in your 1949 model for the down payment.

HERE'S a special buy for you people who want to own a Cadillac. And at the price of only $1,495 for our 1954 Fleetwood sedan, I don't blame you, because it's actually priced way below the average market price. And — it's gorgeous with its spotless cool Arlington green finish and original factory Fleetwood interior including the thick pile floor carpeting, door panels, headliner and seats that have been protected by very expensive custom cut to fit white Naugahyde and Loompuff nylon seats.

Of course there's all the Cadillac extras in this fine performing automobile — POWER STEERING — POWER BRAKES — DUAL RANGE HYDRAMATIC — the big SELECTRONIC "8" tube radio that finds its own stations automatically and has dual front and rear seat speakers, thermostat-controlled heating and fresh air system, E.Z. eye Solex tinted glass clock, directional signals, POWER WINDOWS—power seat — excellent white wall tires and the special SAFETY PADDED DASHBOARD.

It's not often that we are in position to offer you a buy like this. Don't miss it. No cash needed — Just trade in your 1950 model for the down payment.

TRAILER owners, increase the value of your trailer by making it into a waterfront home or a cruiser. We can float your trailer with 2 or more fiberglassed pontoons. You can go anywhere in the U.S. by inland waterways. Your cabin cruiser can be changed back to a trailer in a few minutes. It cost less to live modern. Call for further information TU 7-9792.

$1,995

HERE'S ONE that you'd better circle with your red pencil because it's the best 1958 BUICK Riviera 2-door HARDTOP buy in Florida today. From it's gleaming front end through the good looking two-tone Frost White over Gulf Aqua finish it's completely factory original. Of course the beautiful interior with its Naugahyde door panels, Naugahyde and Nylon seats, floor mats and headliner is factory original too. It's equipment includes Buick's smooth Dynaflow transmission, clock, directional signals, the big Buick SONOMATIC "8" tube push button radio and a special set of U.S. Royal "Safety 8" white wall tires. In fact the spare tire has never been on the ground. Bring the whole family with you and take this smooth performing beauty for a long test drive. You'll buy it if you do. No cash needed — Just trade in your 1952 model for the downpayment.

NO, THAT'S not a mistake in the price. We're actually going to sell our 1957 ENGLISH FORD 4-door PREFECT for only $995. It's finished in beautiful original Gainesbrough Blue. The interior including the washable Naugahyde door panels and floor mats is factory original — and the seats have a very expensive set of Naugahyde custom tailored to fit seat covers. Of course the Goodyear tubeless white wall tires are in A-1 condition too. Here's your chance to have your cake and eat it too, because this popular model English Ford that will give you up to 35 miles per gallon of gas mileage is priced way below the going market value. You'll make part of the payments with the gas money saved. Come prepared to do business because you'll buy it if you do. No cash needed — Just trade in your 1952 model for the down payment.

WANTED

THAT'S right. We want the one person in the Miami area that appreciates the unusual in a fine automobile because that is the only proper description that will fit our 1957 LINCOLN PREMIERE 4 door LANDOU HARDTOP with a smart rear and continental tire mount finished in chrome. It is in absolute NEW CAR condition from the ground up and of course completely factory original. The Starmist White finish is complimented by a truly gorgeous interior finished in genuine leather and doeskin on door panels, headliner and seats with thick pile floor carpeting that would do justice to your living room.

AND talk about equipment — POWER STEERING — POWER BRAKES — POWER WINDOWS — 6 WAY POWER SEAT, Automatic transmission, the special TOWN and COUNTRY radio that finds its own stations automatically with dual front and rear seat speakers, power antenna, Lincoln's Magic Air thermostat dual control heating and fresh air system, EZ eye Solex tinted glass and of course special white wall tires that are in top condition. It even has an inside control to adjust the fender mounted rear view mirror.

IF YOU'RE the one person in Miami that can appreciate the extra value in a fine automobile such as this one is ask anyone of our courteous salesmen to show you Miami's finest Lincoln.

LOOKING ALL OVER TOWN FOR A STATIONWAGON

AND at the price of only $595 this is an absolute "BARGAIN VALUE BUY." I think that the showroom condition Victorian white and platinum is one of the smartest two tone combinations that I've ever seen on a 1953 PLYMOUTH STATIONWAGON. The interior including the doorpanels and headliner is factory original and in excellent condition. One look at the special expensive set of custom tailored to fit seat covers that the former owner had installed, lets you know that this smooth performer has been cared for. There's the Plymouth automatic HI-DRIVE transmission and A-1 white wall tires too. Its guaranteed in writing by Grentner Bros., for 90 days and best of all—no cash needed, just trade in your 1949 model for the down payment.

HERE'S a special buy for you people who want to own a Cadillac. And at the price of only $1,495 for our 1954 Fleetwood sedan, I don't blame you, because it's actually priced way below the average market price. And — it's gorgeous with its spotless cool Arlington green finish and original factory Fleetwood interior including the thick pile floor carpeting, door panels, headliner and seats that have been protected by very expensive custom cut to fit white Naugahyde and Loompuff nylon seats.

Of course there's all the Cadillac extras in this fine performing automobile — POWER STEERING — POWER BRAKES — DUAL RANGE HYDRAMATIC — the big SELECTRONIC "8" tube radio that finds its own stations automatically and has dual front and rear seat speakers, thermostat-controlled heating and fresh air system, E.Z. eye Solex tinted glass clock, directional signals, POWER WINDOWS—power seat — excellent white wall tires and the special SAFETY PADDED DASHBOARD.

It's not often that we are in position to offer you a buy like this. Don't miss it. No cash needed — Just trade in your 1950 model for the down payment.

ASK any salesman on our lot what is the best running inexpensive automobile on our lot and they'll all show you our 1950 Pontiac 2 door sedan STOCK NO. 6339. It's finished in cool surf green. The interior has apparently had extra care. You can tell by just looking at it and you'll appreciate the gay plaid seat covers that were installed by the former owner. Here's an extra I'll bet you didn't expect for only $295. This smooth performer is equipped with HYDRAMATIC. There's the best "8" tube Chieftain push button radio, clock, excellent white wall tires and even rain shields. Best of all— theres no cash needed— Just trade in your 1946 model automobile for the down payment.

NO. That's not a mistake in the price. We're actually going to sell our 1953 PLYMOUTH 4 door sedan for only $395, of course for this price we're just going to clean it up. It's finished in two tone Winter white over Caribbean turquoise. There's a Philco radio and much better tires than you'd expect at this price. I almost forgot to tell you about the rain vents, too. We'll guarantee it in writing for 90 days and there's no cash needed. Just trade in your 1949 model for the down payment. At the price of only $395 it will sell to the first person that drives it. Enough said.

Naitonally syndicated columnist Robert Ruark remarked with sadness the passing of individual styling, once so outstanding among such great names of history as Packard, Pierce-Arrow, etc. He pointed to Rolls Royce as one of the few on earth still retaining the dignity and individuality of the great name. Earth-bound aircraft capable of fantastic ability to pass all but the gas station and finance company. Could this be a major factor why we, the American public, are turning to European cars of modest design that don't outdate the purchaser years before the payments end?

Bardstown Has Won Both of His Starts at Tropical Race Track

IT MAY not mean a thing so far as the Tropical Handicap today is concerned . . . But, Racing Director Francis P. Dunne reminds that Calumet's Bardstown has won his only two starts at the Gables track . . . The first was when he took the 1957 Handicap, and the other was last Saturday when Bardstown won the Orange Bowl feature in record time . . . Dunne took time out from racing chatter to comment on the speed of jets . . . He rode National's jet to New York recently and recalled, "We had no more than taken off when I saw the Hollywood Beach hotel below us. I knew it was 18 miles from the airport. When the pilot announced we were traveling more than 500 m.p.h., I realized we were moving in a hurry . . . Getting back to the Tropical Handicap, the Ben and Jimmy Jones combine — they're the ones who've made Calumet the New York Yankees of racing — has scored twice in the Handicap . . . They won it in 1949 with Faultless and in '57 with Bardstown.

EDDIE ARCARO

Arcaro Won First One

YOU'LL FIND Jockey Eddie Arcaro's name listed among a lot of firsts in horse racing . . . One was winning the inaugural of the Tropical Handicap back in 1938 with Tatterdemalion . . . The race then was a mile 1-16th compared to the mile and a furlong today . . . Another difference is the winner will collect many times the $8,000 earned by Eddie's mount.

President Saul Silberman and Treasurer Ralph DeChiaro are hopeful two betting records will be topped today . . . The $215,632 wagered on the Handicap last year was the highest single race pool for Tropical . . . The handle of $1,405,074 was the top single day wagering.

Horse with British Accent

AMERIGO, WHICH placed behind Bardstown in the Orange Bowl Handicap last Saturday, is highly regarded today and is carrying only 114 pounds . . . Amerigo was bred in England and raced there as a two-year-old, winning his first two starts, including the Coventry Stakes . . . He was purchased by Mrs. Tilyou Christopher of Miami at a private sale last summer and made his American debut at Atlantic City . . . Sammy Boulmetis, one of Tropical's leading jockeys, will ride Amerigo.

Hoop Band Could Pay Out

IF HOOP BAND, assigned 116 pounds, should win, his owners — the Price brothers of Cleveland — would get back their purchase price . . . Hoop Band bred by Fred W. Hooper was sold in the Hialeah paddock in 1957 to Mrs. Ada L. Rice for $39,000 . . . He won almost double his purchase price that year and last fall at Belmont, Mrs. Rice sold Hoop Band to his present owners for $55,000 . . . He has earned $15,277 under his new colors . . . Hoop Band will have Howard Grant, who guided his mount home first in the Hurricane and Christmas Handicaps, in the saddle . . . If Gray Phantom of Wheatley Stables goes to the post he'll be taking his third shot in this race . . . Gray Phantom was second to Bardstown in 1957, but was out of the money last year.

Refund for Sooner?

"KNOWING YOUR reputation for fair play, I think you will want to tell your readers, here and in Oklahoma, the facts about the attached clipping from Tuesday's paper," writes Edward E. Eicher, Americana hotel publicity director.

(Editor's Note: The article had to do with a piece written by a Tulsa World reporter about an Oklahoma player and his date having to pay a $20 minimum beverage bill for a coke and a drink).

"The Oklahoma critic failed to add that for this price the couple not only had their drinks, but also saw an original Broadway musical revue with a cast of 90 that lasted 90 minutes," Eicher continued. "He failed to add that each nightclub table has a card which clearly spells out the minimum charges.

"Be that as it may, we are sorry the incident happened, especially to our fine friends from Oklahoma, so just send me the name and address of the complainant and we'll be happy to refund his money."

The Mailbag

Comment: You'll have to contact Bill Henthorne of the Tulsa World for that information, Edward.

Orlando Cepeda is an unusual baseball player in many respects . . . Boat Group Appreciates Talent

THE CONTRACT of Peggy Leyshon as director of the Miami International Boat show has been extended for five years, Woody Thompson reports . . . Peggy is the only woman director of a major boat show in the nation . . . Television sports fans will get a variety of comments tonight over WCKT at 6:30 p.m. . . . Coach Bruce Hale of UM will talk about his Hurricane basketball team and General Manager Walter Donovan will have something to say about Hialeah's plans for a big season.

Nadir Heads 14-Horse Opposition

Favored Bardstown Seeks Rare Repeat In Tropical 'Cap

By JOE McLAUGHLIN
Herald Turf Editor

Fifteen thoroughbred handicap stars, the best now in training in Florida, will go to the post at Tropical Park today in the second richest running of the $50,000 added Tropical Park Handicap.

If all 15 start, the race will carry a gross value of $68,100, a figure surpassed only in 1957 when Calumet Farm's Bardstown defeated 15 rivals to earn $49,900. Today's winner will net $39,760. The discrepancy in the winner's share is due to the fact that larger chunks of the purse money have been allocated to the second, third and fourth finishers.

Despite the large field slated to start today, the self-styled experts have pegged the mile and an eighth stake as essentially a two-horse duel. The two, of course, are Bardstown, seeking to become the first horse in 18 years to score two victories in the Tropical Park Handicap, and Claiborne Farm's Nadir, a typically erratic son of Nasrullah.

Bardstown has been installed a tight overnight favorite on the strength of his superb performance in last week's $20,000 added Orange Bowl Handicap. Carrying 124 pounds, the seven-year old son of Alibhai set a track record for a mile and a sixteenth in scoring by a length and a quarter over Mrs. Tilyou Christopher's Amerigo.

Bardstown today will pick up two additional pounds and will be trying to carry his speed an additional sixteenth of a mile. He will be spotting Nadir four pounds, an assignment of which few horses are capable on a day when Nadir has on his running shoes.

In winning the 1957 renewal of the Tropical Park, Bardstown toted 128 pounds and ran the 1⅛ miles in 1:48 4-5. The Calumet star thus has made but two starts over the Tropical racing strip and has accounted for two stakes victories.

Nadir will be making his first start since Sept. 27 at Belmont. Like many another of Nasrullah's get, the long-striding Claiborne colt is capable of moments of incredible brilliance. He has also turned in occasional disappointing performances.

In his last start, Nadir was second to Clem in the $100,000 added Woodward Handicap. He was beaten half a length but was closing ground at the end of the mile and a quarter. Round Table, the odds-on favorite in the race finished 16 lengths back of Nadir.

Recent workouts indicate that Nadir is at the peak of his form. He has been clocked in 1:36 4-5 for a mile in a public workout over the Tropical Park oval, 1:52 4-5 for 1⅛ miles and most recently 46 4-5 for a half mile.

Bill Hartack, who rode Bardstown to his Tropical Handicap triumph two years ago, will have the mount on Nadir today, while veteran Steve Brooks, who steered the Calumet star to victory in last week's Orange Bowl, will again ride Bardstown.

Mister Jive, the victim of bad racing luck in the Orange Bowl when he finished third; Amerigo, who forced Bardstown's pace over the entire route last week; and Hoop Band loom as the dark horses in the field.

Completing the list of starters are Air Pilot, Village Idiot, Ricci Tavi, A Dragon Killer, Powder Cap, Point of Order, My Night Out, Mariner's Guide, Wise Margin and Meeting.

Most observers have pegged today's field as the best to go postward in the Tropical Handicap since Eddie Arcaro won the inaugural running aboard Tatterdemalion back in 1938.

HOOFBEATS—Trainer Ivan Park intends to start his promising Derrick in the $10,000 Sophomore Handicap, the closing day feature at Tropical Thursday . . . A number of trainers have started getting their stock in order for shipment to Sunshine Park at the end of the Gables meet . . . Trainer Herb E. Lewis, who has eight in his care, expects to remain in Florida through Hialeah and then ship to Lincoln Downs . . . Battle Morn, the stallion owned by the San Juan Racing Association, will stand in southern Puerto Rico at a farm convenient to the majority of breeders of the Island . . . Three of Battle Morn's first crop of nine foals were stakes winners. The list includes Warhead.

Army, Navy Prep Courses Win OK

CINCINNATI — (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association passed its somewhat controversial "Navy-Army" legislation Friday with a rather surprising swing in sentiment that indicated delegates want to give service academies an exemption from certain recruiting rules.

This move, hanging fire since last year, was in a two-part amendment to NCAA by-laws. It says first that colleges or their representatives may not provide or arrange for financial help to athletes covering their preparatory school or post-graduate years. Then it gives the NCAA Council, the main governing body of the organization, the right to grant certain exceptions to the U.S. Government service academies.

So far, only Army and Navy are affected by this legislation, but conceivably the Air Force, Coast Guard and Merchant Marine Academies could be involved. There were 135 favoring the exceptions and only one against.

What it probably means is that Army can receive a quick OK on its six-week cram course for examination-bound athletes which already has the blessing of the Eastern College Athletic Conference. Navy, whose longer, more elaborate prep program was turned down by the ECAC, has at least a new peg upon which to hand appeals for its consideration.

In addition, convention delegates Friday disposed of a stack of other business. This included approval of a few unexpected decisions by the Council during the past year, setting up machinery for another year of controlled television, passing a broad rule designed to check tampering with athletes at other schools, and voting down a proposed eligibility committee change and a proposal which would have banned spring practice football games against alumni teams.

Some of Friday's other business included establishing a national soccer championship and setting up the machinery for new regional small college competition in baseball, track and field, tennis and golf, and giving the small colleges more representation on various rules committees.

The way was eased a bit for bowl game promoters, shortening the wait from the time they filed applications to the approval of their plans. Two new football bowls received approval for games next season under the old machinery — the Liberty Bowl at Philadelphia and the Flower Bowl Classic at New Orleans.

Winding up the day, H. J. Dorricott, assistant to the president at Western State College of Colorado, was elected NCAA president; Percy L. Sadler of Lehigh was named secretary-treasurer and Robert R. Neyland was chosen to fill the vacant chairmanship of the important football rules committee.

Marlins To Train At Beach

After three years of setting up spring training camp in various parts of Florida, the Miami Marlins have come home to roost.

Marlin General Manager Joe Ryan announced Friday that the Marlins will train at Flamingo Park on Miami Beach. Camp is expected to open around March 7.

In the three previous years of the Marlins' existence they trained at Plant City, Stuart and Melbourne.

The Marlins also will be a part of a Gold Coast Grapefruit Exhibition League which includes Indianapolis and Dallas of the American Association and Memphis of the Southern Association.

Clash Sunday

West Backs Too Tough For East?

LOS ANGELES—(AP)— "Any coach in the National Football League would gladly trade his own for either of the West's two backfields."

So said West Coach Weeb Ewbank in announcing this dream assembly for backfield action in Sunday's Pro Bowl football classic:

Johnny Unitas, Jon Arnett, Lenny Moore and Alan Ameche.

In reserve—Bill Wade, Hugh McElhenny, Willie Galimore and Rick Casares.

Ewbank said the entire West squad had made rapid progress "in jelling as a unit" but that he was especially pleased over the near precision execution of his two all-star backfields.

The coach said he was not yielding one iota of respect for Wade and company, but that it was "understandably easier for the other backfield to perfect its timing since they had to break in only one new man."

All except Arnett are regular-season players for Baltimore. Arnett is the star halfback of the Los Angeles Rams.

East Coach Jim Lee Howell's starting backfield will be directed by Norm Van Brocklin, who moved to Philadelphia last season from Los Angeles. Rounding out the East's backfield are explosive Jimmy Brown, Cleveland, and Frank Gifford and Alex Webster of the New York Giants.

Boss Put Top Rookie at Ease

Owe It All to Rigney--Cepeda; Renn Signs; UM Holds Lead

By Herald Services

Orlando Cepeda of the San Francisco Giants Friday credited Manager Bill Rigney with helping him win the 1958 National League Rookie of the Year award.

Sports Roundup

"Rigney put me at ease right at the start of spring training," said the 21-year-old Puerto Rican. "He told me the first base job was mine right off and gave me every chance to make good. Once you know you don't have to sell yourself to the manager you can concentrate on playing."

Cepeda, now playing in the Puerto Rico Winter League, was the unanimous selection in balloting by the Baseball Writers' Association of America. He received all 21 votes cast.

The 6-2, 200-pounder batted .312, seventh highest in the league, and hit 25 homers and had 96 runs batted in.

MORE BASEBALL — Shortstop Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs, the National League's Most Valuable Player in 1958, Friday signed his contract for next season reportedly calling for around $40,000 . . . Bob Purkey, the Cincinnati Redlegs' best pitcher last season, and Jerry Lynch, their leading batter, signed their 1959 contracts.

FOOTBALL — Bobby Renn, star halfback for Florida State the last three years, signed a professional contract with the Cleveland Browns Friday.

TENNIS — The starring role of the American-Australian tennis campaign passed Friday from ailing Alex Olmedo to 18-year-old Earl (Butch) Buchholz. Buchholz thrashed Barry MacKay, 10-8, 6-3, 6-1, Friday to enter the finals of the West Australian Championships and find himself shooting for both the senior and junior crowns today . . . Irked by defeat in the doubles, Pancho Gonzales Friday unleashed his tremendous power and whipped Ken McGregor, 6-2, 6-2, in the second round of the $14,560 Victorian Pro Tennis Championships. In the other match, Pancho Segura downed Ken Rosewall, 6-2, 7-5 . . . Cuban Champion Reynaldo Garrido, seeded fifth in the Dixie International Tennis Championships at Tampa, was eliminated Friday by second-seeded Jack Frost of Monterrey, Calif., but all other seeded players made it to the semifinals.

BASKETBALL—Miami kept its national team scoring lead and Oscar Robertson's scoring average declined a bit, in figures released Friday on games through Tuesday. Miami's 88.5 average tops Cincinnati's 87.0. After averaging 42 points in his first three games, Robertson has averaged "only" 28.8 the last four and his average is 34.3. The scoring leaders:

Majors and Minors Map 'Fun to Be Fan' Campaign

CHICAGO — (AP) — The minor baseball leagues Friday were assured major league backing in 20 loops for 1959 and also promised a nationwide campaign by the big leagues to bolster lagging attendance.

Twenty-four minor loops operated last season. At least 23 may continue this year although three still must arrange final lineups.

"I would say we have helped minor league baseball," George M. Trautman, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, said after a three-hour meeting between minor presidents and major farm directors.

Trautman said the major league's committee to aid the minors, working with a $500,000 fund, unanimously gave a go-ahead sign for an intensive promotional program in the minors.

The three leagues which still must get set include the Class C Arizona-New Mexico and California loops and the Class D Georgia-Florida League.

The publicity campaign's theme will be "It's fun to be a fan." The drive calls for widespread use of posters and billboards, and radio and television interviews with major league stars.

Trautman had hard words for the minor's arch enemy, television.

"We have always been and still are not in sympathy with Sunday television network games," he said.

The representatives of both leagues also discussed new legislation and working rules which will be presented at the fall meeting in St. Petersburg, Dec. 1, 1959.

Herb Score Signs Pact With Tribe

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Southpaw Herb Score signed his 1959 contract with the Cleveland Indians Friday, hoping to have a healthy year and earn a raise in pay.

"I'm tired of signing the same contract," he said.

He accepted the same pay—an estimated $20,000 — he received the last two seasons, when he was plagued by injuries and arm trouble.

His salary was boosted to $20,000 following the 1956 season, his sophomore year in the majors, when he had a 20-9 record and led the American League in strikeouts with 263.

"This has to be a better year for me," the 25-year-old left-hander said. "Things can't get any worse."

Score said he felt that his arm had healed, but would make no predictions for the coming season.

Nothing would make him happier, he added, than to pitch the opening and closing games of the 1959 season and not miss a turn on the mound in between. Score said he would spend several weeks at his home in Lake Worth, before reporting to Tucson, where training will open Feb. 22.

Boone Baffles Jackson

Special To The Herald

ORLANDO — A hot Orlando Boone High School basketball team swamped a cold Miami Jackson, 71-48, in a Big Ten Conference game Friday night.

The Miamians stayed close (30-25) until the start of the third period.

Johnny Jones led Boone with 22 points. Tom Seymour hit 12 for Jackson. The Miamians lost Ron Scott in the fourth period via fouls. He scored 10 points.

Curley Bows To Key West

Winless Curley High held Key West's strong basketball team to a 22-22 halftime deadlock Friday night before the Conchs pulled away to a 63-48 victory at Edison's gymnasium.

Big Boog Powell led the Conchs' second half surge with some tremendous rebounding. He also scored 24 points.

John Sweat's 17 points were tops for the improving Knights.

Beach Belts South Dade

Art Sater hit 15 points and Jeff Joseph added 11 for the winners. Larry Evans had 16 and Racey Timmons 15 for South Dade.

Beach earned a 39-21 halftime margin, and wrapped up the triumph, its third against three losses, with a 23-point third period. South Dade won the junior varsity contest, 53-35.

Miami Club Wins Fish Tourney

PALM BEACH — The Cocolobo Cay Fishing Club, Miami, captained by Gar Wood Jr., Friday won the 14th International Light Tackle Tournament here by a single sailfish.

In second place was the Rod and Reel Club of Miami which set a fast pace in the final round to land eight silver fighters and come within 100 points of the championship.

The Cocolobo Cay team [illegible] 14 sails on the score-[illegible]rd, the Rod and Reel Club, 13.

In third place was the Manasquan River Marlin and Tuna Club of New Jersey with 1100 points and the Sailfish Conservation Club of Palm Beach was fourth with 1,000 points.

Candy Conflict

Palm Beach Defeats North Miami, 77 to 50

Tom Olafson, 6-1 forward, hit on eight of 16 field goal attempts to pace the Palm Beach attack with 16 points.

Most of Baxley's shots were jumps from around the foul circle. He also was North Miami's most aggressive defensive player.

Palm Beach, with Verle Beebe sparking the early attack, built a 42-28 halftime lead. Coach Hank Williams used mostly subs in the final quarter, but Palm Beach still poured in 26 points.

First Ace Scored By 67-Year-Old

Arthur E. North of Fairfield, Conn., scored a hole-in-one Friday at Plantation Golf Course in Fort Lauderdale. He used a three iron for his perfect shot on the 155-yard No. 7 hole.

Best Ball 60 Wins 'Poor Gal'

The Westview Women's Golf Association staged a "poor gal" tournament Friday with a low net, best ball score of 60 taking top honors. Competing teams were composed of three women and a male member of Westview.

The winning team listed H. Schanzer, Mrs. Roy Schechter, Mrs. Robert Cooper and Mrs. Howall Kase.

In second place with 61 was the team of Fred Meyer, Mrs. Sam Resnick, Mrs. Faye Ablin and Mrs. Harry Frohman.

Clarke Return to Action Highlights Stock Cards

Return to action of Alan Clarke and hopeful "repeaters" Bobby Johns and Al Gorham highlight tonight's action at two Miami area stock car tracks.

After a month's layoff, Clarke returns to Hialeah Speedway piloting a V-8 overhead cam modified Chevrolet, reputed to be one of the fastest cars in South Florida.

Johns and Gorham will try to make it two wins in a row during Hollywood Speedway's seven-event program. Johns was last week's modified winner and Gorham was the sportsman division victor.

Among the wheelmen chasing Clarke, high point man at Hialeah last year, will be Bruce "Pee Wee" Griffen. Griffen was one of last season's top men in the Class B division. Now he's racing with the "big goys" and will have a chance to see what he can do with his three-carburetor modified Chevrolet.

Competing for the fans' attention at Hollywood will be Lyle Puckheiser, racing in the three-event Class B portion of the program. Puckheiser scored a "grand slam" last week, winning both his heat and the 20-lap feature.

Hollywood's program opens with a 15-lap jalopy race at 8:30. Hialeah action begins at 8:15.

Bowling Event Near Deadline

Only nine days remain for bowlers to enter Florida's largest and most exicting tournament — The Herald's Lend-a-Hand tourney.

Stings Triumph; Gables, Edison Battered in Jax

Herald Service

Miami's Stings overcame a 10-point Landon halftime lead and nipped the host Lions, 51-50.

Gables could never get started against Jacksonville Jackson and bowed 65-51. Edison was victim of a rough-playing Lee five that opened fast and coasted to a 78-66 decision.

Landon led all the way until Miami High's Dave Austin sank a long set shot with 4:19 remaining to give the Stings a 46-44 edge. They built it to 51-46 and then held on frantically as Landon trimmed the margin to 51-50 with second to go.

Rebounding by Austin and Pete Somerindyke killed Landon's chances and the Stings held onto the ball until the buzzer sounded. Somerindyke paced Miami High with 18 points.

Lee jumped ahead with a 23-point surge in the first quarter and built it to 45-33 by halftime.

Jackson's tall Tigers boosted their season record to 8-1 by completely dominating the backboards against Gables. Vernon Waters, 6-5, hauled in most of most of the missed shots and led scoring with 20 points.

Louisiana Raps Integration

BATON ROUGE — (AP) — Louisiana is preparing a last ditch battle before the U.S. Supreme Court to preserve its law banning racially mixed sports.

A special three-judge Federal court Nov. 28 knocked out the portion of the law requiring segregation in athletic events. It did not affect other parts of the law requiring segregated seating and separate rest room facilities.

Asst. Atty. Gen. George Ponder said the state filed notice of appeal last week.

KC Cards Only One Minor Game

KANSAS CITY, Mo. —(UPI)— The Kansas City Athletics will play only one exhibition game against minor league competition this spring.

Basketball

14 Prep Contests Tonight

Fourteen basketball games involving South Florida high school teams will be played tonight.

Four Miami teams — Jackson, Coral Gables, Edison and Miami High — will continue their two-night invasion of Orlando and Jacksonville.

High-flying Hialeah runs into West Palm Beach in what looms the best game in South Florida.

Another top game should be the Fort Myers-Stranahan meeting at Fort Lauderdale. Both teams are loaded.

The schedule:

Miami Jackson at Jax Lee.
Coral Gables at Jax Landon.
Edison at Orlando Boone.
Key West at South Dade.
Miami High at Jax Jackson.
Tech at St. Patrick's.
North Miami vs. Curley, at Edison.
New Smyrna at Fort Pierce.
Palmetto at Norland.
Pine Crest at Moore Haven.
Hialeah at WPB.
Ft. Myers at Stranahan.
Central Catholic at POMPANO.
Seacrest at McArthur.

Dixon Drops Decision

NEW YORK — (AP) — Gene (Ace) Armstrong, unbeaten Elizabeth, N. J., middleweight, sent patrolman Eddie Dixon back to his job on the Newark, N.J. police force a loser Friday night on a unanimous decision after 10 rounds. Armstrong weighed 155½, Dixon 160¾.

The fighting cop who had risked censure by the higher brass because he went through with the match, gave it a good hustle but it wasn't enough.

Judge Joe Agnello scored it 7-3, Judge Tony Castellano 8-1-1 and Referee Ruby Goldstein 7-1-2, all in favor of Armstrong who now has won 16 straight as a pro. The Associated Press had Armstrong on top 7-3.

After the fight, Dixon said he would take a couple of days to think over his future.

Havana Bout Doubtful -- Basilio

Movie Actor—Havana Casino Host Raft Thursday night said he would guarantee Robinson $450,000 for the fight with Moore. He announced no guarantee for Moore.

"Frankly," said Basilio Friday, "I don't think there's that much money floating around in Havana right now.

"Raft mentioned TelePrompTer (Theater TV). Maybe he can make enough out of that, but I doubt it."

A rumor around Miami has Basilio, currently vacationing here, already signed to meet Robinson for the middleweight crown in Chicago in April.

"I haven't signed yet," said Basilio. "But I'm sure willing to."

Sailors Face Choppy Water In 'Sunshine'

By LUTHER EVANS
Herald Sports Writer

Skill of sailors and durability of their boats' rigging appear in for a stern test when the Sunshine Regatta—the Southland's foremost smallboat sailing classic—gets under way at 1 p.m. today.

The starting signal probably will find small craft warnings flying in 20-30 mile-an-hour winds and the south Biscayne Bay course whipped into a white-capped fury.

But the sun is due to be shining with temperatures in the mid-60's, which will make the water endurable if some of the skippers suddenly find their boats upsidedown.

State championships will be up for the earning in three popular classes — Lightning, Senior Moth and Junior Moth.

With the exception of three larger Cruising divisions — A, B and C according to boat sizes and sail area — each class will be decided by three races.

Second heat comes up at 10 a.m. Sunday with the final voyage scheduled for 1 p.m.

Financially sponsored by the City of Miami, the regatta is being staged by three local yacht clubs — host Coconut Grove, Miami and Biscayne Bay.

In the Lightning title tests, Alex Carlin will defend his title against more than 15 rivals. In order to try and make it two in a row, Carlin postponed his departure to sail in the Buenos Aires to Rio de Janiero Yacht Race starting Jan. 18.

It'll probably take no-mistake sailing by Alex to defeat several-time former Florida champ Howard Foht, ex-titleholder Oscar Nelson and Guy Willett, who'll handle a fast new Lightning.

Other Lightning entrants include Dick Bothfeld, Don Bloss, Charlie Kehoe, Al Tibbertts, Frank Cavanaugh and Gus Perry.

Seventeen-year-old Kenny Klare, the International Moth titlist, Friday was undecided whether to seek the Junior Moth crown for the third successive year or tackle the Senior fleet.

The 1958 Senior Moth champ, Mrs. Pat Duane of Delray Beach, will not defend, having moved into the Flying Dutchman division.

In the Senior field are expected to be three former International champs — Warren Bailey, Lewis Twitchell and Don Lapp.

If a strong norther cooks up as predicted, Twitchell will be the skipper to beat — the 6-4 veteran thrives on rough going.

Barring too hazardous winds, a big Junior Moth fleet will be on hand. Among likely participants are Bill Spencer, George Spiecker, James Bailey, Stevie Griffin, Jerry Kuehner and Bill Bailey.

Other classes scheduled by Regatta Chairman Ed Clarke are Star, Raven, Suicide, Flying Dutchman, Thistle, Sail Area, Lightning, Southeaster, Jet 14, Cricket, Snipe, Bullseye, Seminole, Pelican and Pram.

It's the debut for Jet 14's and Seminoles in local regattas.

37 Captures Gables Event

Mrs. J. B. McMurray, with a 37, won Class A in the low net competition staged Friday by Coral Gables Country Club women golfers at Granada.

Northwestern's Rohr Bids Farewell to 7-Foot McCoy

Bill Rohr, Northwestern basketball coach, Friday announced he considered as "closed" the case of Mike McCoy, the seven-foot center who got away to the University of Miami.

"I wish him," said Rohr in Evanston, "the very best of fortunes."

"Good," said Miami's Bruce Hale, "that certainly closes the case as far as I'm concerned.

"I only hope," added Hale, "that everybody will leave the boy alone for a while and let him get squared away to enter school when his transcript arrives."

During Christmas vacation at Fort Wayne, Ind., McCoy announced he was transferring to Miami because he was "unhappy" as a freshman at Northwestern.

In a formal statement Friday, Rohr said:

"It is now apparent that Mike McCoy has left Northwestern University. Naturally, the basketball staff regrets this decision because he was definitely counted upon in our future plans.

"We have no idea of his future plans because there was no contact since Dec. 17 when he left for Christmas vacation.

"In regards to statements made concerning Northwestern's high academic standards, I consider these remarks a compliment. As long as I am privileged to serve as Northwestern's basketball coach it will be with the idea that a young man is coming to the university, first and foremost to gain a college degree. Of secondary importance will be his playing on a representative basketball team.

"With this statement, I consider the case of Mike McCoy closed. I wish him the very best of fortunes."

Rohr's reference to academics apparently was inspired by McCoy complaining that he had done no better than C's and D's in his first semester despite "working hard."

Hillsdale Goes Today

He tops a field of 11 in the $25,000-added San Fernando Stakes for four-year-olds at a mile and one-sixteenth.

Hillsdale took the $25,000-added Malibu Stakes two weeks ago and shaded famed Round Table last week in the $50,000-added San Carlos.

Today he meets a group most of whom are eligible for the $100,000-added Santa Anita Maturity Jan. 31.

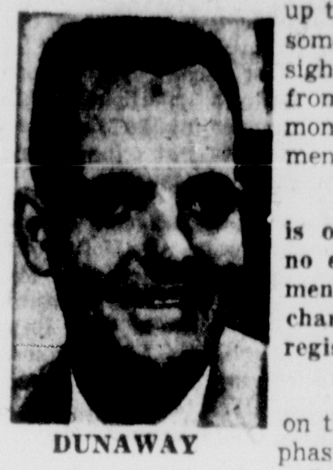
FISHING . . . WITH VIC DUNAWAY

Record Sailfish Take Likely in Palm Beach Derby

Anglers will begin trolling baits Sunday in the 22nd staging of the Silver Sailfish Derby of the Palm Beaches. If the show is as good as the previews, a record number of sails can be expected during the three-week run of the tourney.

In the past couple of weeks catches have ranged up to eight or 10 sailfish per day on some of the leading boats. The sight of two or more flags flying from charter craft has been so common that it scarcely received comment.



DUNAWAY

Competition in the Derby is open to all fishermen. There is no entry fee, and the only requirement is that anglers fish from a charter or private boat officially registered.

Again, main emphasis will be on the release of sailfish, which emphasis is boosted by the rule that sails less than seven feet long are not eligible for any awards. As a result, the Derby last year posted a record release average of 82 per cent, freeing 237 of the 289 fish which were brought to boat.

Novices and women anglers often win major trophies, and also score about half the awards presented daily throughout the competition for the largest sailfish.

Women last year took away five of the 10 major trophies. Topping all competitors in the featured release race, Mrs. Ray Cohen of Brigantine, N. J., scored 24 sailfish releases. The runnerup, Mrs. S. N. Bolling, Brecksville, Ohio, released 22 sails.

The Old Man and the Sea Trophy, presented by Ernest Hemingway, was awarded to Mrs. Lon Ehler, Prospect Heights, Ill., who released 15 sails after bringing them to boat on extremely light tackle—15-pound line.

Peak Season for Sailfish in Florida

JANUARY IS the peak season for sailfish in Florida Gulfstream waters, a fact which is apparent from the number of tournaments up and down the East Coast at this time of year.

The Stuart Sailfish Club's Light Tackle Tournament —a three-day affair — kicked off today, and the International Light Tackle Tournament ended at Palm Beach Friday.

Three of the four previous winners of the Stuart tourney arrived early and got in some practice licks. They were 1955 champ, Mrs. Carl Schaeffer of Sands Point, Long Island; 1957 winner Frank C. Neff of Harmon, N.Y.; and last year's titlist, G. Newell Hurd of Milton, Mass.

Local entrants include Richard K. Lackey of Golden Beach, and Alfred D. Stalford of Miami Beach.

The Stuart tournament is a contest among individual anglers, and all sailfish must be released except those taken for mounting. The lighter the line used, the more points won for each fish.

DEPARTMENT OF RED FACES: The tides in the 1959 Fishing Guide are listed exactly five hours too fast, due to a personal entanglement in U.S. Government time conversion tables.

Accurate tide levels can be obtained simply by subtracting five hours from the times listed.

All future copies of the Guide sold will contain a correction key. If you already own a Guide and would like the key sent to you for insertion in the book as a reminder, write me your request.

FIRST ALLISON tuna taken out of Boynton Beach in more than two years was snared on a Gulfstream jaunt by Arnold Goldman, right, of Miami Beach. The big 160-pounder was caught aboard Capt. Mac Engel's boat Swish, out of the Boynton Inlet Docks.

UM, UF Natators Eye Marks Today

Swimmers from the Universities of Miami and Florida will open their 1959 seasons in a dual meet today in the Veterans Hospital pool, Coral Gables, at 2 p.m.

Three Hurricane swimmers competing today hold or share UM records. Jack Nelson owns the pool and school record in the 200-yard butterfly; Hal Mischner is co-holder of the record in the 50-yard freestyle, while William Lahde holds the standard for the pool in the 200-yard backstroke.

Florida, with swimmers who won seven individual titles as the Gators hung up their second Southeastern Conference title in a row, poses a record-breaking threat in just about every event-save the butterfly in which Nelson appears to have a lock.

A sophomore, Dave Pollock of Fort Lauderdale, has broken the Gator freestyle sprint records in practice.

CANDLE WOOD, outrun for a half, moved outside for his rally and wore down KILLDEE. The latter assumed command immediately, increased his advantage when roused entering the stretch and just failed to last. FRONT PEW lacked sufficient response after having held a menacing position. NIRGAL LAD was without a rally. GOOD SIGN weakened. YOUR SHINE, closest to the leader for a half, gave way badly.

SCRATCHES: Ball Of Twine, Receipt, Cork Screw, Noble Song, Gladdie Girl, Risk Again.

WARRANTOR, hard held early, rallied well through the final quarter to outfinish the opposition. SATAN'S MATE wrested command before completing five furlongs, established a long lead and was unable to hold sway. REQUA moved menacingly entering the stretch and lacked a late surge. OIL BOOM failed to menace the top ones while rallying mildly. KAYS ACE gave way badly. GALA-PIERRE stumbled at the start. BRIGHT SHOES was sore prior to and after his dull effort. FLORIDIAN SUN flattened out.

SCRATCHES: Helens Song, Raising Cain, Son O' Doge, Lebanon Lad, Rich Acres, Twinight.

SEATATION raced in closest attendance to the pace and showed a fine late response to outfinish DISPOSITION. The latter failed to rally sufficiently. CHASMAR FLASH wore down FRESH MARBLE. The latter drew clear on the turn and faltered badly. KEEP PITCHING failed to enter contention. BACK LOG was outrun. KINDA CLEVER was unruly while outrun. SOUND 'N FURY displayed speed along the backstretch and flattened out.

BUNUCHA enjoyed a commanding advantage for much of the distance and was roused to hold the opposition safe. ETHEL-RITA continued on willingly to make up ground on the top one and outfinish DAD'S DELIGHT. The latter weakened under pressure. TRIANON loomed a threat from the outside and hung. RARE MUSIC showed nothing. DUSTY TIGER flattened out badly.

SCRATCHES: Bit-O-Sport, Eternal Mark.

Faulk, Hanson Fire 75's

SANFORD —(AP)— Beverly Hanson and Mary Lena Faulk a pair of seasoned professional golfers, matched women's par 75 in chilly windy weather Friday and took the first round lead in the Sanford Women's Open.

Patty Berg, another veteran, came to the last two holes with a chance to go into the lead only to bogey both of them and post 76 in the first of three rounds of the 54-hole $5,000 event.

Miss Hanson had four birdies. She finished with a flourish, chipping to within two feet of the cup on the 18th hole for what she termed an "unmissable" putt and a birdie.

Barbara Romack, former National Amateur champion from Sacramento, Calif., admitted she was a little nervous in her debut as a pro. She finished with 84, tied for 20th place.

Sophomore Jinx? Not For Carlos

Carlos, a 24-year-old who grabbed rookie-of-the-year honors last season, has been a standout thus far as a Miami Jai Alai Fronton sophomore.

No "sophomore jinx" has hampered Carlos this season. In fact, the tougher the competition the better Carlos has played.

In the tough fourth game singles, Carlos is 2-2-2 in eight starts against some of the best young talent on the roster. In the seventh game he's won two of four starts and in the featured 11th game doubles he won his only start.

Careaga Sizzles

After a slow start, big Careaga has been burning up the court at the Dania Jai Alai Palace. At present, he holds an amazing record of 13 victories, 13 placements and 11 show finishes in 82 games.

It's likely he'll go postward the favorite in the seventh game singles. In the 10th, 11th and 12th doubles, Careaga is paired with his brother, Carea, an equally "hot" performer.

Futurity Semis Head Flagler Card Tonight

Sixteen fast young greyhounds will clash tonight in the two-heat semifinal round of the rich Flagler Futurity. All are survivors of an original starting list of 24, and all will be battling for the eight berths in Wednesday's final round.

The $2,500 added stake features youngsters whelped since January 1st, 1957. Tonight's semifinals highlight an 11-race weekend card which also includes three Flagler Course distance runs and a 7-16th-mile marathon finale.

The three first round Futurity winners will collide in the 10th race. Master Spot will be shooting for a seventh winter victory, Mar Utah will be after his sixth and his third in a row, while Rio Grande Rose will be trying for win number four.

They'll be challenged by the trio of third place finishers, Mr. Tears, Master Cut, and Blue Grass Jo. Master Vote and Jotaway, complete the field.

Three speedsters who finished second in round one will run in the ninth race — Pittance, trying for win number five, plus Master Flight and Local Talent. They'll be up against two other four-time winners in Josie Turner and Gertie's Memory. Rounding out the group will be Imposer, Hurry Cleo, and Mine and Yours.

Flip That Keys Card At Beach

L. M. Baltes' Flip That heads a strong eighth race field at the Miami Beach Kennel Club tonight.

Flip That's top challengers in the O. P. Smith Course chase, one of two features on an 11-race program, include Amble and Space Command.

Amble finished third behind Flip That and Naja Hannah in a recent start; Space Command was a Grade A winner his last time out.

Naja Hannah is the likely choice in the ninth race, also over the Smith Course. Sultry and Buck Joe, who finished one-two behind Space Command in their most recent start, key the opposition.

Midget Grid Title Game Set Today

John Combs of South Miami and Randy Kunkle of Kinlock Park Friday were named as starting quarterbacks in their teams' battle for the Southwest YMCA Midget Football League championship today.

Kickoff time for the unbeaten but once-tied elevens is 10:30 a.m. at Kinloch Park.

Joining Combs in the South Miami backfield are Halfbacks Nathan Davis and Doug Johnson and Fullback John White. Center Rickie DeFrank and End Rusty Pipinger are line standouts.

Name Withdrawn

DETROIT —(AP)— The University of Detroit said Friday that Jerry Burns of the University of Iowa has asked that his name be withdrawn from consideration for the job of head football coach at Detroit.

Hollywood Sets Debut Of 'Guest'

The 1959 debut of Easy Guest and a race over the 7-16th mile Gulfstream marathon course tops tonight's 11-event greyhound card at Hollywood Kennel Club.

Easy Guest was Hollywood's great star two years ago but started in only a handful of races last season. He was in the nation's spotlight again last summer as he swept to 11 victories at the West Memphis, Ark., track.

Easy Guest schooled exceptionally well at Hollywood and this evening makes his debut against the feature Grade A dogs in the 10th race. He meets Peter Pines, Black Issure and Bright Magic among other foes in the Hollywood Course event.

The Gulfstream Course marathon comes 11th on the slate and sends into action a greyhound named Trans Midway, which in his last start over the 3-8th mile course moved from eighth position to finish a fast going third.

Ryff to Substitute For Ill Ralph Dupas

HOUSTON — (UPI) — Frankie Ryff of New York has been named to substitute for Ralph Dupas in a 10-round bout against Aldo Mente Tuesday night. Dupas was forced to withoudraw because of a virus infection.

300	2	Jonter	R. Fairholm	112	20-1

a—Old Rose Farm & J. L. Friedman entry.

BUCKNELL holds the upper hand here; FAUCHELEVENT is always dangerous, loves Tropical track; SECOND STRING is improving right along; HOT COFFEE has a steady way of going.

346—FOURTH—Purse $2,100, 4-year-olds and up, claiming $4,000-3,500, 1 1-16 miles. Post 2:51.

	2	a-Palenque 2nd	J. Contreras	112	6-1

a—H. Frank entry.

FABULOUS FOX holds the upper hand here; VET'S BOY's last trip was commendable, a sharp contender; KOPE'S HOPE's recent race was not a true effort; CAN TRUST could be an upsetter on his best.

350—EIGHTH—Purse $50,000 added, 3-year-olds and up, Tropical Park Handicap, 1⅛ miles. Post 4:39.

New Apportioning Proposal Offered

TALLAHASSEE — (UPI) — The chairman of the Governor's Constitutional Advisory Committee said Friday that the group has come up with new reapportionment and home rule plans which it believes will pass the Legislature.

William McRae, Bartow attorney, said the reapportionment proposal will expand membership in the House and Senate to give the big counties more voice in lawmaking.

He said it also "probably" will contain some provision for the Supreme Court to pass on future reapportionments under the requirement that House and Senate seats be reshuffled every 10 years to take care of population changes.

But he declined to give any specific details of the number of seats or where any new ones would go. McRae said the plan is not down on paper yet and is too complicated to explain this early.

But he said it is definitely not the 45-member Senate, 114-member House which the 1957 Legislature wrote into its proposed new constitution, which the Supreme Court later struck down as invalidly drawn.

Most other provisions of that rewrite, including a section creating the office of lieutenant governor, will be carried almost verbatim into the document the commission will recommend to Gov. LeRoy Collins, McRae said.

Only major changes are in the reapportionment and home rule sections.

He said the commission will suggest a general provision to enable any county, after local referendum, to adopt home rule and do away with the so-called local bill "evil" in the Legislature.

$1,277 Verdict In Auto Death

A Circuit Court jury has returned a $1,277.77 verdict for the death of a pedestrian who was Dade's first 1957 traffic fatality.

The suit was filed by Benjamin Stevens for the estate of his 63-year-old brother, William J. Stevens, a Jersey City, N.J. visitor against Albert and Alice Susman, 334 Candia St., Coral Gables. William Stevens was struck by Mrs. Sussman's car as he tried to cross Biscayne Blvd. at Flagler St., Jan. 5, 1957.

Police Seek 'Dope' On Raided Casino

Plush Den's Operators Are Hunted

Barons Flourishing? [illegible]

By BOB HARDIN
and JAMES BUCHANAN
Herald Staff Writers

The intricate operations [illegible] bigtime gambling casino [illegible] revealed Friday as author[illegible] dug into the background [illegible] plush "tourist trap" which [illegible] raided shortly after midn[illegible] at Golden Beach.

Tipped off by the City Council, Golden Beach police [illegible] state attorney investigators [illegible] rested 25 persons in a pa[illegible] home at 277 Ocean Dr.

The residence, belonging [illegible] a Virginia horse breeder, [illegible] been leased Dec. 23 and [illegible] into operation the next day [illegible] an ultra-chic gambling house.

Just who rented the property remained a mystery hidden [illegible] make-believe names.

It was no secret, however, that $5,000 cash was laid on [illegible] line by the gamblers for [illegible] Dec. 23 to Feb. 1 occupancy. And they'd promised to put another $5,000 to keep the [illegible]sino open until May 1.

Officers broke up the [illegible] at 12:30 a.m., simply by [illegible]ing Golden Beach Police C[illegible] Richard Kuiken up to the [illegible] to knock for admittance.

Once inside, he summoned four other officers and state attorney investigators [illegible] helped make the arrests of [illegible] dozen men around the dice [illegible]bles on the second floor [illegible] another 13 seated at co[illegible] tables on the first floor.

As the raiders entered, [illegible]ployes, themselves, of [illegible] casino attempted to destroy [illegible]idence by throwing chips, [illegible]ling equipment and parts of dice tables out the window.

While no money was in [illegible]dence at the time of the [illegible] officers said the tables [illegible]tained $10,000 and $5,000 [illegible] and loads of blank checks which customers could [illegible] the names of their local [illegible]

The casino went into [illegible]tion Dec. 24, the next day after the home was leased through a Fort Lauderdale real [illegible] agent. The state attorney's [illegible]fice said Mrs. Georgia R. C[illegible] handled the deal for the [illegible]er, Daniel Van Clief of [illegible]lottesville, Va. Neither [illegible] knowledge of the gambling [illegible]erations planned.

Mrs. Clarke told officers the residence was rented [illegible] a "Harold Jenkins," who gave no local address but said he would live in the home with his brother, Robert Pappie Jenkins, beginning Jan. 15.

"Jenkins" identified his brother as a partner in the Pappie-Stewart Drilling Co. of Cut Bank, Mont.

Mrs. Clarke said she would be able to identify "Jenkins," and was to be shown police photos of the men arrested by Asst. State Attorney Arthur Huttoe on Monday.

The Herald, checking Cut Bank, found a Pattie and Stewart Drilling Co., in which R. L. Pattie was a partner.

A neighbor of the Patties said the executive and his wife and daughter were driving toward Florida in easy stages, but had been in Cut Bank on Dec. 23, when the Van Clief

Loaded Dice and Chips Seized in Raid
. . . cup holding dice was clipped to belt

Dice Were Loaded For the Suckers

"The suckers never had a chance," the state attorney's investigator said.

As he talked, he flipped a pair of loaded dice seized in Friday's early morning gambling house raid at Golden Beach.

In his other hand he held a new gimmick which the shills have developed to fleece their customers.

"These dice are topped," he said, holding a pair that looked perfect. "And these," pointing to another pair, "are loaded."

The special "house dice" are put into a game whenever a customer "gets hot" and it looks as if he might take a little money from the promoters.

In Friday morning's raid, agents found a small, tray-like affair to hold dice which they said had been attached to the shill's belts.

"A shill, who looks like a regular customer but works for the house, is the man who flips the bad dice into a game and busts the customer who has a bill roll riding on the next throw," the agent explained.

"These were inexperienced shills," the agent added. "A good shill can hide these extra, trick dice in the palm of his hand and doesn't need this tray."

The "topped" dice are shaved by machine so they are lopsided and come up with an ace-deuce "crap" showing, or with a four-three "seven out."

The "loaded" dice are drilled, metal poured into the cavity and then covered so they have the same effect. A good crap player can "feel" loaded dice but usually is unable to distinguish the slight difference in weight between "topped" and regular dice.

In the case of the Golden Beach operation, where the agents said four shills were operating, they had to carry the extra dice in the "tray" attached to their belts and beneath their coats.

"Sure," an agent said. "When the customer placing his bets with a hot shill lost a wad, the shill lost too. But the shill didn't care, because what he lost wasn't his money to begin with—it belonged to the house."

The shills, in most cases, use fake dice to run up a hot streak and get customers "betting with them" or on their side against the house. When the customer's pile on the table gets big enough, the shill switches dice for a "sure loss" and the customer loses heavily.

Dam Toll In Spain Over 100

Wall of Water Hits Sleeping Village

More than 100 persons were believed swept to death. The Spanish news agency Mencheta reported 116 bodies recovered. The semi-official agency Cifra reported 23 bodies recovered but 130 persons missing.

The 70-foot high Vega de Tera Hydroelectric dam burst at 4 a.m. with a roar that at 4 a.m. with a roar that could be heard on the other side of the mountains.

Three miles from the dam, where the Vega de Tera River enters the lake, the wall of water engulfed the village of Ribadelago where 500 to 600 inhabitants were sleeping.

Those who escaped its path apparently were awakened by the roar and reached the slope of a mountain behind the village. Children, the old and the infirm caught the brunt of the tons of cascading water.

Word of the disaster reached the outside world when bodies washed up at Puebla de Sanabria, on the lake south of Ribadelago.

The Highlights

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Textual highlights of President Eisenhower's State of the Union message Friday:

Russia

We can have no confidence in any treaty to which Communists are a party except where such a treaty provides within itself for self-enforcing mechanisms . . .

Peace and Its Price

Modern weapons are exceedingly expensive . . .

America will never give up the hope that eventually all nations can, with mutual confidence, drastically reduce these non-productive expenditures . . .

American's security can be assured only within a world community of strong, stable, independent nations, in which the concepts of freedom, justice and human dignity can flourish.

There can be no such thing as Fortress America . . .

Inflation

The material foundation of our national safety is a strong and expanding economy. This we have—and this we must maintain . . .

The basic question facing us today is more than survival—the military defense of national life and territory. It is the preservation of a way of life . . .

We can afford everything we clearly need, but we cannot afford one cent of waste . . .

The Budget

By working together, the congress and the executive can keep a balance between income and outgo. If this is done there is real hope that we can look forward to a time in the foreseeable future when needed tax reforms can be accomplished . . .

Civil Rights

We are making noticeable progress in the field of civil rights . . . That progress must continue . . .

State Due Weekend Of Chilly Weather

The new cold front which rolled over Florida may put a chill on the state for the whole weekend, weathermen said Friday.

Temperatures in Miami dropped a few degrees after the front passed early in the morning and hovered in the mid-60s most of the day. The rest of Florida had readings in the low and mid-50s Friday.

"It looks like another day of pretty much the same sort of weather Saturday," said Forecaster William McGehee of the Miami Weather Bureau.

He said it was too early to tell how long the chill would remain, but that there was "some potential of a protracted cold spell."

Predictions were for readings of close to 50 in the western suburbs of Miami early today and the mid to upper 50s in areas closer to the water. Daytime temperatures should be in the mid-60s, McGehee said.

Blustery north winds kept small craft warnings up all around the state, except for the area north of Fort Myers on the west coast, and McGehee said weekend fishermen probably will find seas rough today and Sunday.

Temperatures were expected to hit close to freezing in North Florida early today and not go much above the mid-50s during the day.

State of Union Message Accents Need of Defenses

Complete Text of President's Message 7A, 8A

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Eisenhower challenged a "yes, but" Democratic Congress Friday to join him in quest of military and economic strength for a surging America and a just peace for a fearful world.

These were the great goals set forth for the year ahead in a presidential State of the Union message. In general terms, Eisenhower outlined a formidable but "sensible posture of defense" along with a balanced budget and war against inflation.

In these days when the latest bombers "cost their weight in gold," Eisenhower said, "we can afford everything we clearly need, but we cannot afford one cent of waste."

The President appealed to the legislators to work with him to keep in balance the 77 billion dollar budget he is sending to them Jan. 19. If this is done, he said, there is hope for tax reforms "in the foreseeable future."

A White House official interpreted this to mean tax cuts, but not before the 1961 fiscal year — beginning July 1, 1960 — a period which spans the next presidential election campaign.

To Senate and House members assembled in the House chamber, and to Americans who heard him by radio and television, Eisenhower said:

"One basic purpose unites us: To promote strength and security, side by side with liberty and opportunity."

The President drew his heaviest applause for jabs at inflation and a pledge to defend the people of Berlin "against any effort to destroy their freedom."

Comments after he finished his 5,000-word, 42-minute speech fit into a familiar format. Republicans offered generous praise. Some said it was the best presidential message they ever heard.

Many Democrats found no reason to quarrel with the broad objectives. Some said the speech lacked meaty details. Others were strictly uncomplimentary. Some pointedly yawned.

"A bowl of mush without even a bean," said Rep. Richard Bolling (D., Mo.)

"Evidently," said freshman Rep. Neal Smith (D., Iowa), "you can't teach an old general much about farm income and expenses merely by his buying a farm."

The "yes, but" reaction was strongest where it counted most — among the Democratic leaders who will have so much to say about how the presidential program fares.

Both Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn and Lydon B. Johnson, leader of Senate Democrats, noted that the last Congress, also controlled by the Democrats, chopped $5,600,000,000 out of the last Eisenhower budget. Yet there were no hints that there might be a repeat performance.

Rather, many Democrats have criticized the Eisenhower budget, especially the $40,900,000,000 reported included for the armed forces, as inadequate and unrealistic.

But as Eisenhower saw it, "it is a realistic budget with wholly attainable objectives."

In general terms, Eisenhower renewed bids for legislation to strengthen civil rights, correct abuses in labor unions, protect the purchasing power of the dollar, and help the farmer while trimming heavy federal spending for agriculture.

He promised increased spending on health programs, science and education, water resources, highways, and rebuilding cities.

Details were left for later messages. So was any spelling out of places where Congress can economize to get government costs again within income.

In national defense, Eisenhower said, increased efficiency and avoidance of waste are a secondary aim. The prime goal, he said, is a sensible posture of defense. His budget, he said, advances both.

"Working by these guide lines," the President said, "I believe with all my heart that America can be as sure of the strength and efficiency of her armed forces as she is and has always been of their loyalty. I am equally sure that the nation will thus avoid useless expenditures which, in the name of security, might tend to undermine the economy and, therefore, the nation's safety."

'Dynamic' Speech To GOP

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Democrats, who control Congress, found little to get excited about Friday in President Eisenhower's State of the Union message.

Most Republicans liked it very much. "Dynamic" was the word that Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R., Mass.) had for it. "Heartening," said Sen. Everett Dirksen (R., Ill.).

It was literally a "ho-hum" reaction that came from Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate majority leader.

Johnson was yawning in the audience when Eisenhower told the House and Senate he intends to submit a balanced budget.

And in his formal statement of comment, Johnson said:

"Mr. Eisenhower's hopes for a balanced budget remain to be proved . . . Our efforts will be not only to balance the fiscal books of the nation but to balance the books of our public trust as well."

The No. 1 man in the House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D., Tex.), took a casual, matter-of-fact attitude toward the President's speech. Rayburn said: "We'll look over his recommendations very thoroughly, and then we'll write the ticket."

The new Republican leaders of the House and Senate, Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana and Sen. Dirksen of Illinois, were enthusiastic.

"To those shouting for leadership," Dirksen said, "the President's message is a clear and ringing answer. It supplies a chart and compass for the Congress and the country . . .

"The accent on the perils of inflation is a timely warning to those who believe that by means of planned deficits we can spend ourselves rich."

Rep. Halleck's comment: "This is a message of strength — of strength to meet the Communist threat to free men wherever it appears; of strength to continue the fight for peace."

Democratic commendation for parts of the speech came from Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, who liked what he called Eisenhower's determination to move toward sound finances.

"If we do not reduce nonessential expenditures now," Byrd said, "the alternative is to spend and spend, and tax and tax. There is no hope for sound tax reduction with continuing deficits."

The People Support Us, Says Rebel

By GEORGE SOUTHWORTH
Herald Latin America Editor

HAVANA, Cuba — Fidel Castro vowed Friday "the revolutionary army will never again need the force of arms" to maintain peace in war-torn Cuba.

In an interview with The Herald, Castro declared, "the people of Cuba are on our side and the day they don't want us, we will leave."

And, he warned, the nation "must never permit anyone to conspire against her peace again."

The 32-year-old Cuban leader said he knows trouble may lie ahead and he indicated it may come from within the revolutionary organizations that won the victory.

"I must tell you that at this moment there are elements of revolutionary organizations who are hiding contraband arms and ammunition," Castro said. "Arms for what?

"Who are they going to fight against? Are they going to fight against the provisional government that has the support of all the Cuban people?

"Are they going to fight against a free government that respects the rights of the people now that there is no censorship of the press?

"The press is free now and people can meet together and all of the rights of citizens have been restored."

One of the biggest problems faced by the new government at this moment is to disarm the thousands of men who joined the rebel movement after the victory for hope of personal gain.

Castro said he is trying to bring about a closer union of all the rebel forces. He thanked former President Carlos Prio Socarras for his aid to the rebels "and unconditional support of the new government."

"If you ask me what troops I prefer to command," Castro said, "I would answer the people of the nation.

"The people can't be conquered and the common people won this war. We had no army, boats, tanks, planes, cannons, military schools . . .

"How did the rebel army win the war? By telling the truth. How did the despotic government lose the war? By telling lies to its soldiers.

"But the real winner of the war were the people. The people who suffered seven years of horror," he declared.

Castro said the people of Cuba are very much interested in learning if the new rebel government will make the same mistakes of other revolutionary governments.

He said the circumstances are different now and the opportunities are greater now for his government to completely carry out its destiny.

"The people of Cuba wants peace with justice and liberty," he said, "and we don't want peace at a price. We must remember that Batista also spoke of peace and order . . ."

Plane Found Burned; 10 Feared Dead

KINGSPORT, Tenn.—(UPI) —The burned wreckage of a Southeast Airlines plane was found Friday and it is feared all 10 persons aboard are dead.

The plane, a twin-engine DC3 bound from Memphis to the Tri-Cities Airport near Bluff City, crashed Thursday night during a snowstorm.

The plane was only minutes away from Tri-Cities Airport. The pilot, Robert Gollmier, had radioed that he was moving into his approach pattern and coming in for an instrument landing. Then the radio went dead.

The crew was composed of Gollmier, a veteran Southeast pilot, Co-Pilot Robert Erwin, and Stewardess Wanda Nalley, 21, who was to be married in June.

The passengers were all from Tennessee.

Leaves Host in Lurch

Mikoyan Dodges Egg, Takes a Dig at Ike

CHICAGO —(UPI)— Eggs and insults greeted Russian Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan in Chicago Friday, but he shrugged them off and got in a dig against President Eisenhower's State of the Union speech.

The beetle-browed Russian leader made such a fast getaway from angry pickets at Chicago's Midway Airport that he left his official host in the lurch.

At least one egg made a direct hit on Mikoyan's black limousine. The car started to pull away just as the Russian's official host, Edard L. Ryerson, retired board chairman of the Island Steel Co., tried to enter it.

Ryerson pluckily hung onto the roof of the moving car, but had to drop off and take another auto to a Loop hotel where more pickets awaited the Russians.

Speaking through an interpreter, Mikoyan chided President Eisenhower for saying in his State of the Union address that "we have learned the bitter lesson that internal agreements historically considered by us as sacred are regarded in Communist doctrine to be mere scraps of paper."

Mikoyan commented "I have not read the statement. If it has been made, I cannot agree with it."

home was rented by the gamblers.

Pattie and his family were expected "within two days" at the Chattanooga, Tenn., home of E. B. Stanger before continuing on to St. Petersburg, their final destination.

The Stangers were not available for a telephone call early Friday evening.

Oddly enough, another person with the name Stanger was among the 25 arrested in the raid. He identified himself as Carl Stanger, 54, of the Marine Hotel.

State attorney's men, who refused to be quoted, said "there's evidence that someone is going around the county selling phoney 'police protection' to would-be casino operators."

They theorize that gamblers are beihg told, by someone, "I can fix you up for a fee." On this assurance, and the payment of huge sums of money, the gamblers are opening dice dens.

Friday morning's raid was the second within a week by police who wrote finis to plush operations. A week ago, officers found a "house-within-a-house" built in such a way that no one on the outside could know gambling was in process inside.

No patrons or employes were present at the time of last week's raid.

Friday morning, however, the officers had better luck.

They described the Ocean Drive home as a beautiful residence, and operating with only a "minimum lookout. The man assigned to tip-off employes against approaching police "strolled from the garage when Police Chief Kuiken approached," one source said, "and must have been half-asleep on the job."

Kuiken, although in full uniform, never was challenged after knocking on the door and being admitted. Since he was virtually invited into the home he needed no warrant.

Officials said this "may be further evidence that employes believed a 'fix' had been made with authorities, since they had no fear in admitting a police officer."

Kuiken went through the first floor dining and cocktail rooms, where mink-clad women were sitting, and on up a sweeping set of stairs to the air conditioned gaming room.

There he announced, "This is a raid." His words were the starting gun for a general wrecking of the gambling equipment, and some employes stepped onto the second floor balcony to throw chips and table covers onto the lawn.

There was no effort by either customers or employes to resist arrest. The women were not taken into custody.

State attorney's men said the case "still is under investigation, and it has opened up other avenues of the gambling picture which we will pursue."

Acting States Attorney John Wynn said the gamblers and clients of the casino would be prosecuted, "and we'll keep pressure on the racketeers and others attempting to engage in any illegal gambling operation in the county."

Value of the gambling equipment in the huge, 10-room home, was set at "about $600." It was described as the "break-away" type which can be moved easily and quickly from one place to another."

The Town Crier

BELL

"A STRANGE new plague has appeared on the American scene. Creeping into every form of domestic life, it has taken tremendous toll in lives and misery, unbelievable when compared with other diseases."

The above is from an article by Dr. Marvin Weil in the January issue of The Bulletin of the Dade County Medical Association. He is talking about accidents.

"During 1957 accidents afflicted 9,600,000 people," he writes, "causing 95,000 deaths and untold hardships. Hospital costs due to accidents amounted to $300,000,000. The past 50 years has seen great progress in immunization against illness and in the chemotherapeutic triumph over many diseases, but the accident rate remains almost unchanged."

American, Pilots in Agreement

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The government Friday announced a settlement in principle of the 21-day American Airlines strike. Final details remain to be worked out.

Chairman Leverett Edwards of the National Mediation Board said he hopes specific language covering broad principles already agreed upon can be worked out soon.

"I hope that by Saturday night the airline can begin recalling its people and possibly resume operations early next week," Edwards said.

Edwards emphasized, however, that representatives of the carrier and the striking Airline Pilots Association could still run into a hitch.

The main stumbling block has been the pay rates to apply when the pilots begin flying the new jet airliners.

MIAMI Readings at 5:30 p.m. Friday: Skies cloudy; temperature 63 degrees, winds from the north at 12 miles an hour; barometer 29.98 inches, relative humidity 58 per cent.

National Summary

Intense low pressure disturbances off both the northern Atlantic and Pacific coasts maintained gusty winds while a cold mound of high pressure continued to settle from Canada over much of the country's midsection.

Northerly winds sweeping across the eastern half of the nation limited 70 degree weather at noon to extreme southern Florida with temperatures in the 30s and 40s reaching across most of the Gulf States.

Precipitation patterns will show little change over the nation during the next 24 hours. Colder air will push more deeply into the southeast and the mild temperature trend in the west will expand into the Plains on Saturday.

Intermittent rains in the Pacific states will be heavy at times but showers and snow flurries working eastward to the mountains from Montana to Utah are expected to remain mostly light and scattered. Temperatures 10 to 20 degrees below zero are likely in northern Minnesota and teens should penetrate northern Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia with freezing readings on the Gulf coast.

Snow showers are forecast from the Great Lakes region into New England and southward over the mountains to West Virginia through Saturday.

Gambling Barons Flourishing Again?

Raid Story, P. 1A

By STEPHEN TRUMBULL
Herald Staff Writer

Dade County's biggest gambling raid in 18 years has alerted the Crime Commission of Greater Miami to the fact that unhappy days may be here again.

With American gamblers getting the heave-ho in Cuba —temporarily at least — Operating Director Dan Sullivan of the crime fighting group said he feared the big Golden Beach raid of early Friday may be but the forerunner of a lot more of the same.

Except for floating crap games, usually crooked ones which moved from night to night, the county has been without any real bigtime gambling since the "liberal policy" was ended by an aroused public in 1950.

"I think there's an excellent chance that those American gamblers will not just stay on in Cuba enjoying the sunshine," said Sullivan. "It's a pretty good bet at least some of them will be back trying to tilt the lid again—and then our troubles are back."

The raid of early Friday was reminiscent of some of the more dramatic chapters during that "liberal" past in this area.

In numbers arrested, it was the biggest since C. O. Huttoe — then as now a center of police department strife — knocked-off Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom's Frolics club on the MacArthur causeway approach on Jan. 14, 1941.

It was an odd coincidence that Huttoe's son, Arthur, now a young assistant state attorney, figured in the Friday morning raid.

Reportedly acting without the knowledge of H. Leslie Quigg, then Miami police chief, Lt. C. O. Huttoe arrested 49 men, and confiscated $27,000 in that 1941 spectacular at the Frolics.

The place was being operated by Sam (Gameboy) Miller, a big gambling operator of that day, with John Angersola and Moe (Dimples) Wilnsky.

It also appears unusual to longtime Miamians that it was an aroused public body, the city council of Golden Beach, that blew the whistle on the recent operation in the $175,000 mansion there.

In the "liberal days" that area from near the north boundary of Dade County to Hollywood was virtually the capital of winter gambling in America.

It was at the Golden Shores Club, long since gone and the site now occupied by Wilde's restaurant, where multimillionaire oil man Harry Sinclair was reportedly "taken" for $800,000 in what was said to be a rigged game. Reports had it he later settled for $500,000. Nick Delmore of New Jersey ran the place.

The Sunny Isles casino, the Sunny Isle Inn and the Island Club flourished in the same general area.

Across the Broward County line there were Club Boheme, Colonial Inn and Green Acres, all occupied by a group of nationally known gambling racketeers who later became targets for the Kefauver Senate Crime Investigation Committee.

Steve Trumbull's been digging into his favorite subject again — questionable real estate sales tactics.

TRUMBULL

This time Trumbull, who knows the backlands of Florida like the back of his hand, poked around central Florida and uncovered some eye-opening facts about several new deals.

In one, even the local Chamber of Commerce was found to be going along with the promoters and their "fine print" arrangements.

First of Trumbull's renewed series on questionable real estate promotions will be yours in Sunday's Miami Herald.

Bingo Crackdown Ires Tampa-St. Pete Oldsters

'Clear Your Card; Game's Over'

ST. PETERSBURG —(P)— Many St. Petersburg residents and tourists, mainly elderly persons, wondered Friday what they will do with their evenings now that bingo has shut down.

A few Tampans may also have to look for other activities, for it was a newspaper article about busloads of them going to St. Petersburg for bingo that prompted Thursday's police crackdown on the game.

The Tampa Tribune printed the story last month. St. Petersburg police Chief E. Wilson Purdy read it and asked the city legal department for a ruling on bingo. He was told it was illegal.

Purdy then announced police would take action if any complaints were received. Someone complained Wednesday about a bingo game at an American Legion post. Thursday Purdy asked all bingo operators to halt immediately.

Many of the oldsters were up in arms.

One woman at the Senior Citizens Center Club where bingo is played said that she didn't play bingo herself but thought it was innocent entertainment, "and why didn't Tampa keep its nose out of St. Petersburg affairs."

Miss Mary Sawyer, manager of the city-sponsored club, said "we play on a purely recreational basis. We play twice a week. The charge is 25 cents a person, with one-third of the money retained by the club and the rest used for prizes.

"Hundreds of these older people can enjoy the game. The members never think of it as a form of gambling. I don't know what we will do to replace bingo on the schedule."

No games were reported Thursday night.

For many years bingo has been an attraction for the city's many senior citizens. Many played it the six nights a week it was available. Games were sponsored by fraternal organizations, churches and trailer courts.

Police had not interfered until Thursday.

Chief Purdy suggested that organizations which use bingo funds for charitable purposes ask the legislature for a law legalizing the game for this reason.

Martin Protest Ignored

Discharge Rate Stands -- FCD

By PETE WEITZEL
WPB Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — David Click, central and southern Florida Flood Control District board chairman, Friday labeled a Martin County Commission protest as filled with "inaccuracies and misconceptions."

Martin County officials, in a four page resolution, opposed aspects of the FCD program for St. Lucie and Martin Counties. They asked for limited discharge of fresh water into the St. Lucie River Canal.

The present projected works of the district, they said, will be detrimental to Martin County interests.

Click said two things should be made clear to the Martin officials.

"We are going ahead with our basic program and we are not going to lower the discharge rate into the St. Lucie," he declared.

W. H. Hitt, board member from West Palm Beach, also questioned the accuracy of "facts" contained is the resolution. At his suggestion, the board turned the project over to the engineering staff for study.

The FCD Board said it would be willing to meet with the County Commission on the matter when the report of the staff was completed.

General counsel for the district, Robert Tylander, reported on the water resources legislation proposed by the State Department of Water Resources.

The recommendations, calling for the establishment of water management and conservation districts, will have only an indirect effect on the FCD, he said.

Tylander explained the districts would be small scale FCDs, and would be in areas of the state outside the 17 county FCD region.

In other action Friday, the FCD Board:

OFFICIALLY declared the extension of Canal C-8 in Dade County from Red Rd. westward as a works of the district. This action will enable the district to get the canal dug at no expense by offering the spoil for sale.

AUTHORIZED its engineering staff to work with residents of the Alligator Lake area in Osceola County to determine the feasibility of a spill way. Residents requested the aid.

LEARNED the District Court had upheld a lower court decision giving the FCD the right to build Structure 27 on C-7 in Miami. Residents filed suit to prevent the district from building on the site, near NW 79th St. and U.S. 1.

DIRECTED its staff to study reported over-drainage from Canal C-19 at Structure 47 in Glades County.

PLEDGED cooperation with the State Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission in efforts to remove squatters from Conservation Areas 1 and 2.

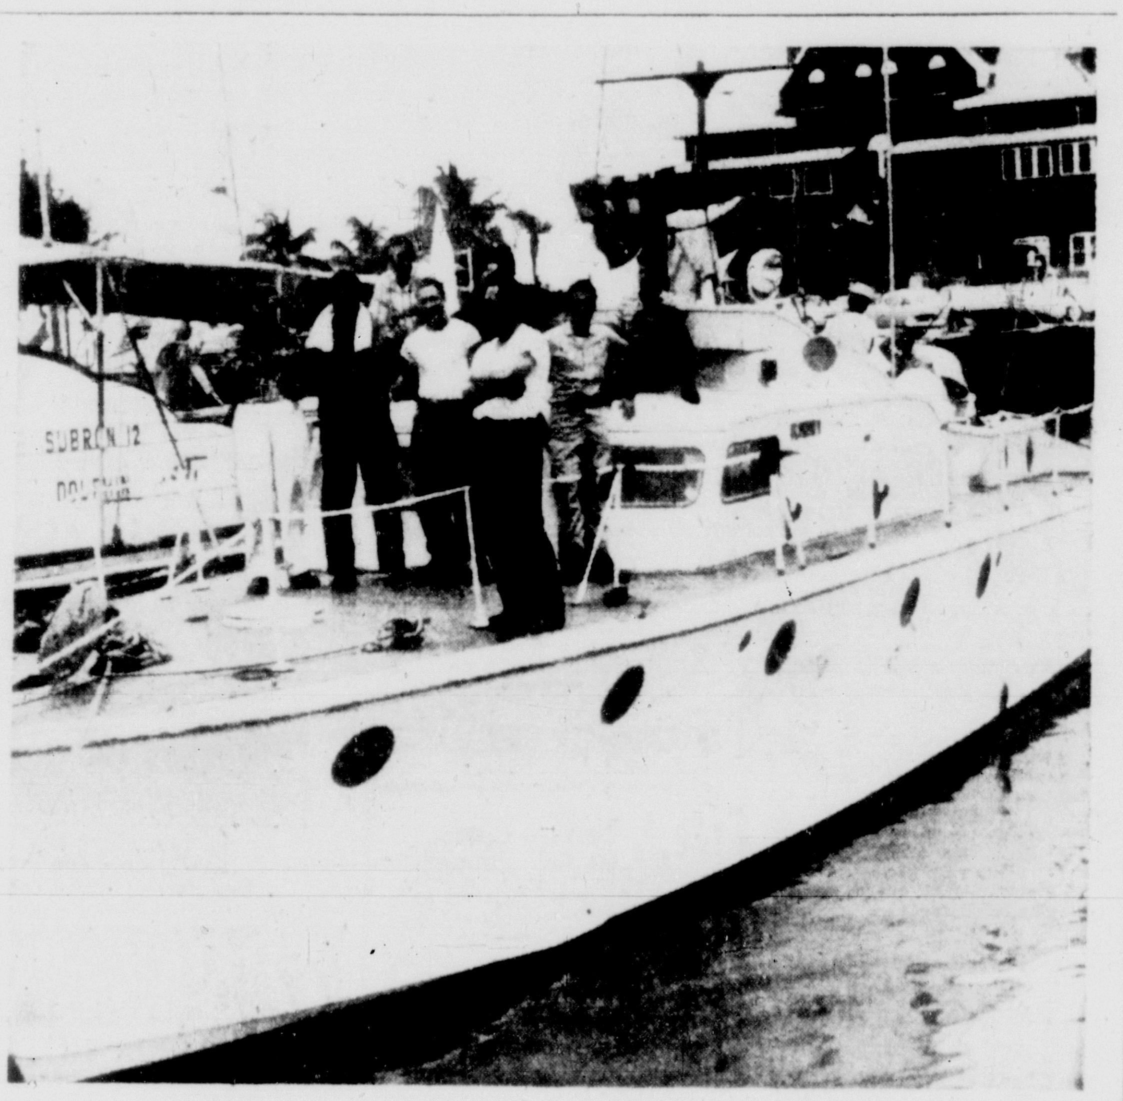
APPROVED the granting of a quit-claim deed to Perini-Westward Developers for land reservations on the Canal C-17 extension line in West Palm Beach.

OKAYED the purchase of five acres of land in the ultimate right-of-way of the Caloossahatchee River Canal for $22,500. FCD officials said this was less than half what they would eventually have to pay for the land.

RENEWED a contract with C and M Dredging Co. for Canal C-9 in Broward County and approved the advertising for sale of spoil on C-18 in Palm Beach County.

$4 Million Revenue Boost Suffers Setback

Truck Rate Hike KOd



The Long Wait

Twenty-six fugitives from the overthrow of Cuban President Fulgencio Batista are sweating out their freedom aboard this converted PT boat at Key West. The U.S. Navy has provided rations and other essentials to the crew, which includes Rolando Masferrer, a former senator, accused of smuggling 17 million dollars out of Cuba.

Companies Told To Use Economy

By JOHN L. BOYLES
Capitol Bureau Chief

The Supreme Court threw out a rate increase of 8.72 per cent granted June 5, 1957, designed to give the 11 companies an estimated one and one-half million dollars boost in revenue.

The Railroad Commission, at the same time, shut the door on a new petition for another 15 per cent hike to produce an estimated two and one-half million dollars.

In a 4-1 decision the court said the 1957 increase had been approved on evidence the commission itself had called unreliable.

The companies had asked for a ten per cent increase and the commission allowed 8.72 per cent.

At the same time Friday, Lewis Petteway, general counsel for the Railroad Commission, said the commission had denied the trucking companies a rehearing on their request for an additional 15 per cent increase in freight rates. The commission turned down the original plea last September.

Petteway said the denial was based on the commission's view that a freight rate increase is not the only way to gain new revenue and that the companies should practice certain economies in their operations."

The Florida Rate Conference, the Traffic and Rate Bureau of St. Petersburg, the Tampa Chamber of Commerce, the Greater Miami Traffic Association, the Broward County Traffic Association and the Jacksonville Traffic Bureau challenged the commission's 1957 rate hike order.

In granting the 1957 increase the Railroad Commission said it found that the trucking lines were in need of $1,540,994 in new revenue.

Its finding was based on a "separation" study of Central Truck Lines, Inc., one of the applicants.

Central's study showed the ratio between interstate and intrastate business of the trucking companies.

Justice T. Frank Hobson quoted the commission order:

"While we feel that the (seperation) study did not follow the stipulated procedure, and is therefore unreliable, we must make some use of it because we have no other source from which to draw in making the necessary apportionment of revenues and expenses."

Hobson said the commission had the authority to decide upon the separation study but it measured the study against its own experience and found it unreliable.

"The question is clearly whether or not the Railroad Commission may grant an essential portion of its order solely on evidence it characterizes as unreliable. We think not," Hobson said.

Chief Justice Glenn Terrell and Justices Elwn Thomas and Stephen C. O'Connell concurred. Justice B. K. Roberts made no comment in dissenting.

New Plan Offered to Apportion

TALLAHASSEE — (UPI) — The chairman of the Governor's Constitutional Advisory Committee said Friday that the group has come up with new reapportionment and home rule plans which it believes will pass the Legislature.

William McRae, Bartow attorney, said the reapportionment proposal will expand membership in the House and Senate to give the big counties more voice in lawmaking.

He said it also "probably" will contain some provision for the Supreme Court to pass on future reapportionments under the requirement that House and Senate seats be reshuffled every 10 years to take care of population changes.

But he declined to give any specific details of the number of seats or where any new ones would go. McRae said the plan is not down on paper yet and is too complicated to explain this early.

But he said it is definitely not the 45-member Senate, 114-member House which the 1957 Legislature wrote into its proposed new constitution, which the Supreme Court later struck down as invalidly drawn.

Most other provisions of that rewrite, including a section creating the office of lieutenant governor, will be carried almost verbatim into the document the commission will recommend to Gov. LeRoy Collins, McRae said.

Only major changes are in the reapportionment and home rule sections.

He said the commission will suggest a general provision to enable any county, after local referendum, to adopt home rule and do away with the so-called local-bill "evil" in the Legislature.

$143 Million Increase

2-Year Road Plan Needs $476 Million

TALLAHASSEE — (UPI) — The road department filed a budget Friday estimating its expenditures in the coming biennium will exceed the current two years by $143,000,000 most of it as a result of increased federal aid.

The department, which will spend approximately $332,955,392 in the current biennium, budgeted $476,200,000 for the next two years. It said most of the increase will be spent for actual road and bridge construction.

Administrative costs will increase only slightly, compared to expenditures for construction which comprise 94.8 per cent of the total budget.

The budget anticipates that gasoline taxes will produce $214,500,000 for road building in 1959-61, an increase of $22,085,000 or 11.5 per cent.

Federal funds to Florida, mostly for interstate highway building, will amount to $160,000,000 or $75,049,000 above the current two-year allotment.

Bond money will decrease $33,000,000 in the period, the department said, and revenue from tolls, city and county governments are expected to fall off $2,607,000.

But the department said it will carry forward into the new biennium a balance of nearly $82,000,000, mostly in unspent bond money for projects not yet built.

The administrative salary budget will jump $2,000,000 to a total of $10,722,000. The increase includes raises averaging 3.1 per cent per year for 1,041 present employes and funds for a requested 76 new positions.

Of the new positions, 53 are key engineering and other technical personnel for increased activity at state headquarters here. The rest will be distributed among the various road districts.

The department estimated construction and maintenance expenses will increase $136,000 or 47.4 per cent. One large item in this category is $51,124,000 to buy right-of-way, an increase of 14½ million dollars over the current budget.

$100,000 Is Willed To Negro

SEBRING — (UPI) — A wealthy rancher willed $100,000 tax clear to a Negro woman here who said she once cured his ailments with home remedies.

The bequest was made to Mrs. Ellen Myers Hansen, 45, who operates a beauty shop here, by Duane V. Palmer, white rancher who died Christmas Day at the age of 70.

When she learned she was named in the will, Mrs. Hansen said, "He was a very fine man. He believed in helping others."

She said she once used "old remedies" to treat Palmer's leg ulcers. She said he told her at the time that the treatment saved his life and "you won't regret it."

Palmer's will left half his estate to his widow, Lillian S. Palmer, 61, who still lives at the ranch. The will specified the taxes on her share should be paid out of the remainder of the estate.

The same tax-paid stipulation was made for Mrs. Hansen's $100,000 bequest.

There's Life in the Old Fort Yet

THERE GOES MY INITIALS!
BANG!

FERNANDINA BEACH —(P)— After entertaining thousands of visitors — some of whom scratched their initials into cannon balls and shells — officials of Fort Clinch State Park found out this week that part of their ammunition may not be duds.

An ordnance team from Mayport Naval Air Station inspected the fort's ammunition and found eight pieces which possibly are live. They took it to their base for a further check.

Since it is so old, the ammunition isn't considered dangerous even if it is live. Most of it dates back to the Spanish American war and earlier.

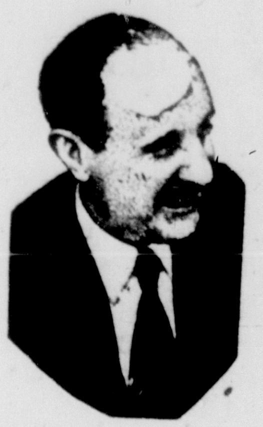
Pinkie Lee Takes Latin Quarter Like Grant . . .



IT TAKES some courage for a night club impresario, no matter how big his reserve resources, to book into a smart supper club featuring a French revue an act which in recent years has been best known as the darling of the pablum and tootsie roll set.

And it requires some guts — or at least a high degree of confidence in one's basic talents — for that entertainer to face such an adult audience as frequents E. M. Loew's Latin Quarter on Palm Island — a spot where one's loyalty is tested not by regular chomping on tootsie rolls, but in the taste for — and the ability to absorb — a required minimum of alcoholic beverages.

Experienced Trouper Wins Fans

BUT E. M. LOEW and Pinkie Lee displayed that courage, which was further tested by a not too terrific turn-out for his opening. Before the evening was over, however, Lee had just about won his audience with an ingratiating manner, a Bert Lahrish attitude and timing, a unique eccentric dancing skill, and a well-spotted demonstration of the the tricks and surefire lines learned in his years in show business, an experience which ranged from burlesque to kiddie TV shows — believe it or not, in that order.

On paper it seems a colossal mistake to try to entertain people who would come to the swank Latin Quarter with a male strip tease, a high bosomed lass tearing the pants away from a pint-sized foil, frequent reference with ribald intent to extra-sensory reactions of the anatomy, and so on.

But Lee makes them seem inoffensive because he is himself an inoffensive and apologetic fellow. He even begs the audience's indulgence for some of his stunts but points out that the theater of operations is a night club.

The balance of the Latin Quarter show is basically the same as it was for Sophie Tucker's engagement, with the thrilling adagio dance stylings of Holger and Dolores providing the focal highpoint of Donn Arden's "Sky High" revue.

FIDO Keeps Movies Off British TV

THERE MAY BE a mixed metaphor somewhere in the following about not letting the dog you feed bite the hand that paid for his smiling teeth—or it may be mere coincidence that the letters of the Film Industry Defense Organization, which has the aim of keeping theatrical films off British television spell FIDO! . . . Shirley Jones, opening at the Fontainebleau La Ronde next Tuesday, just finished a movie called "Never Steal Anything Small," with Jimmie Cagney. Did you know that James worked in vaudeville under the name of Nye, which is the name of the bandleader at the Fontainebleau's next door neighbor, the Eden Roc?

Those with a pipeline of optimism to Cuba predict the shooting will resume during the first week in February. They probably mean the crap-shooting, however. It is rumored that a million dollars says a casino for tourists only (as in Nassau) plan may be tried!

If there is to be a more liberal view it won't be a matter of financial fix—entirely. It has been proven in the last six years in Cuba that there is more sticky sugar to be gotten from 10 miles of new highway or 14 stories of public building than in all of Havana's 13 gambling places combined.

"No House Limit," which Grant may do in Havana, with Dick Powell as director, has been retitled "Casino." . . . "Tomboy," penned by two laddies from Firehouse No. 2 here, will be heard twice on Perry Como's show tonight.

Comedian Don Adams, who has just been added to Lou Walters' Ziegfeld Follies at the Carillon has been featured on Steve Allen's TV show . . . Paul Gray, now at Murray Franklin's, also plays the less important clubs on occasion. He goes into Chicago's Chez Paree for the 11th date this spring . . . It is rumored that Sir Sydney Oakes and some Fort Lauderdale businessmen may bid for the Grand Bahama West End Club. Wonder if that will affect the titular rights of "Sir" Judson Smith, who works there so frequently.

His Sign Began Great White Way

NEW YORK —(AP)— Historians will mark 1958 as the year that the originator of the Great White Way died. He was George A. Singer, 85, a man unknown to the public but who contributed a significant bit to the story of Broadway.

Singer was credited with having designed the first electric sign to be hung above a New York theater—the beginning of the Great White Way.

Dodges Eggs in Chicago

Serene Mikoyan Visits Home of Bus Driver

By Herald Wire Services

CHICAGO — Russian Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan, unruffled by eggs, jeers and insults, smiled at Chicago's pretty girls Friday and played with a bus driver's children on a faded living room couch.

The beetle-browned Russian leader, on a tour of the U.S. which has been marked by mobs of anti-Communist pickets at Detroit and Cleveland, ran into more of the same when his plane arrived at Midway Airport.

An egg splattered the roof of his black limousine and the car made such a fast getaway that Mikoyan's official host, retired Inland Steel Board Chairman Edward L. Ryerson, was left in the lurch. The car started up before Ryerson could get in. He clung to its roof a few moments, and then took another car.

More demonstrators, 200-strong at their peak, pelted the Russian's party with eggs, threw placards, tried to break through police cordons as Mikoyan entered a downtown hotel for a news conference and then crossed the street to lunch with 40 civic leaders at the exclusive Chicago Club.

Among those present were Adlai E. Stevenson, John S. Knight, editor and publisher of The Miami Herald and other Knight newspapers, Charles Percy, head of the Bell and Howell Camera Co. and other prominent citizens of Chicago.

At Friday's pre-luncheon news conference Mikoyan said among other things that he expects no new changes in the Soviet government and that lack of trust is the greatest obstacle to ending the cold war.

He stated also that the placard-waving, egg-tossing demonstrations of groups of Iron Curtain refugees and other anti-Communists which greeted him here and elsewhere on his trip are comedies to which he attaches no importance.

After the luncheon the deputy premier took a $100-a-week bus driver up on his invitation to drop around and visit.

The bus driver was Joseph Polowsky, 41, a veteran of the meeting of American and Russian troops on the River Elbe at the end of World War II who has conducted a one-man crusade for U.S.-Soviet understanding.

Polowsky had telephoned Mikoyan in Cleveland with an invitation to hobnob with "a typical American family." Accordingly, Mikoyan's half-mile motorcade pulled up in front of the North Side house where Polowsky lives in a $97.50-a-month, four-room apartment on the second floor with his wife and two children.

Mikoyan, a smiling, grandfatherly figure, sat on the living room couch with the Polowski's two-year-old son, Benjamin, on his lap. Mrs. Marie Polowsky, 27, dressed her her Sunday best, held the family's baby, 15-month-old Irene.

"I have 10 grandchildren," the Russian told his hosts through an interpreter, "and I lost a son at Stalingrad. I hope your children and my grandchildren will all live in peace in the future."

Mikoyan stayed only 15 minutes in the Polowsky's apartment after the bus driver helped him off with his coat. He examined the tiny kitchen, containing a four-burner gas stove and an aging refrigerator, and two sparsely - furnished bedrooms before leaving. Polowsky didn't even have time to get out a bottle of wine he had bought especially for the occasion.

85 Million Boxes Stand

U.S. Orange Estimate Stuns Citrus Growers

More State News, Pages 12A, 13A, 1B

LAKELAND —(UPI)— The federal government failed to reduce its Florida citrus crop estimate of 85 million boxes of oranges Friday and many veteran citrusmen blinked in amazement.

Most of the Florida industry has considered the 85-million-box estimate excessive since the first monthly crop forecast was issued last October and they had believed the U.S. Agriculture Department would revise the estimate downward in its January estimate. But the federal men stood firm Friday.

In other estimates, over which there has been no disagreement, the government also left the grapefruit and orange crop forecasts unchanged — 34 million boxes of grapefruit and 4,500,000 boxes of tangerines.

General Manager Robert W. Rutledge of Florida Citrus Mutual said "the failure of the Crop Report Board of the USDA to reduce its estimate of production for Florida citrus is difficult to understand."

General Manager Homer Hooks of the Florida Citrus Commission said "today's estimate of our citrus crop . . . doesn't quite jibe with the feelings of several commission members I talked with here yesterday. They thought the government might cut the estimate by one or two million boxes."

Only Wednesday, Mutual's staff reported to the board of directors that it still believed that the orange crop would only total 80 million boxes—five million less than the government estimate. And at that time it delivered a detailed market analysis based on that figure.

"Informed fruit handlers, growers and buyers," Rutledge said, "have contended for weeks that the current estimate of the government is somewhat overstated."

He said "individual crops have not picked out in accordance with preseason estimates. Fruit has failed to attain normal size development and wastage of fruit due to abnormal weather conditions has been extremely heavy."

Plot to Kill Rhee Reported

TOKYO —(AP)— A high Korean source reported Friday that a Communist plot to assassinate President Syngman Rhee and other top leaders of the South Korean government was uncovered recently.

No confirmation of the report was available. There was some suspicion that it was being circulated in an attempt to justify the controversial new security law which Rhee's majority Liberal Party rammed through the South Korean Assembly Dec. 24. Such plots are known to have existed in the past, however.

Who Ran That Plush Casino?

Raiders Checking On Bigtime Layout

Barons Flourishing? 13A

By BOB HARDIN
and JAMES BUCHANAN
Herald Staff Writers

The intricate operations of a bigtime gambling casino were revealed Friday as authorities dug into the background of a plush "tourist trap" which they raided shortly after midnight at Golden Beach.

Tipped off by the City Council, Golden Beach police and state attorney investigators arrested 25 persons in a palatial home at 277 Ocean Dr.

The residence, belonging to a Virginia horse breeder, had been leased Dec. 23 and went into operation the next day as an ultra-chic gambling house.

Just who rented the property remained a mystery hidden by make-believe names.

It was no secret, however, that $5,000 cash was laid on the line by the gamblers for the Dec. 23 to Feb. 1 occupancy. And they'd promised to put up another $5,000 to keep the casino open until May 1.

Officers broke up the game at 12:30 a.m., simply by sending Golden Beach Police Chief Richard Kuiken up to the door to knock for admittance.

Once inside, he summoned four other officers and state attorney investigators who helped make the arrest of a dozen men around the dice tables on the second floor and another 13 seated at cocktail tables on the first floor.

As the raiders entered, employes, themselves, of the casino attempted to destroy evidence by throwing chips, gambling equipment and parts of the dice tables out a window.

While no money was in evidence at the time of the raid, officers said the tables contained $10,000 and $5,000 chips and loads of blank checks on which customers could write the names of their local banks.

The casino went into operation Dec. 24, the day after the home was leased through a Fort Lauderdale real estate agent. The state attorney's office said Mrs. Georgia R. Clarke handled the deal for the owner, Daniel Van Clief of Charlottesville, Va. Neither had any knowledge of the gambling operations planned.

Mrs. Clarke told officers the residence was rented by a "Harold Jenkins," who gave no local address but said he would live in the home with his brother, Robert Pappie Jenkins, beginning Jan. 15.

"Jenkins" identified his brother as a partner in the Pappie-Stewart Drilling Co. of Cut Bank, Mont.

Mrs. Clarke said she would be able to identify "Jenkins," and was to be shown police photos of the men arrested by Assistant State Attorney Arthur Huttoe on Monday.

The Herald, checking Cut Bank, found a Pattie and Stewart Drilling Co., in which R. L. Pattie was a partner.

Loaded Dice and Chips Seized in Raid

. . . marker in foreground is worth $5,000

Dice Were Loaded For the Suckers

"The suckers never had a chance," the state attorney's investigator said.

As he talked, he flipped a pair of loaded dice seized in Friday's early morning gambling house raid at Golden Beach.

In his other hand he held a new gimmick which the shills have developed to fleece their customers.

"These dice are topped," he said, holding a pair that looked perfect. "And these," pointing to another pair, "are loaded."

The special "house dice" are put into a game whenever a customer "gets hot" and it looks as if he might take a little money from the promoters.

In Friday morning's raid, agents found a small, tray-like affair to hold dice which they said had been attached to the shill's belts.

"A shill, who looks like a regular customer but works for the house, is the man who flips the bad dice into a game and busts the customer who has a bill roll riding on the next throw," the agent explained.

"These were inexperienced shills," the agent added. "A good shill can hide these extra, trick dice in the palm of his hand and doesn't need this tray."

The "topped" dice are shaved by machine so they are lopsided and come up with an ace-deuce "crap" showing, or with a four-three "seven out."

The "loaded" dice are drilled, metal poured into the cavity and then covered so they have the same effect. A good crap player can "feel" loaded dice but usually is unable to distinguish the slight difference in weight between "topped" and regular dice.

In the case of the Golden Beach operation, where the agents said four shills were operating, they had to carry the extra dice in the "tray" attached to their belts and beneath their coats.

"Sure," an agent said. "When the customer placing his bets with a hot shill lost a wad, the shill lost too. But the shill didn't care, because what he lost wasn't his money to begin with—it belonged to the house."

The shills, in most cases, use fake dice to run up a hot streak and get customers "betting with them" or on their side against the house. When the customer's pile on the table gets big enough, the shill switches dice for a "sure loss" and the customer loses heavily.

State Due Weekend Of Chilly Weather

The new cold front which rolled over Florida may put a chill on the state for the whole weekend, weathermen said Friday.

Temperatures in Miami dropped a few degrees after the front passed early in the morning and hovered in the mid-60s most of the day. The rest of Florida had readings in the low and mid-50s Friday.

"It looks like another day of pretty much the same sort of weather today," said Forecaster William McGehee of the Miami Weather Bureau.

He said it was too early to tell how long the chill would remain, but that there was "some potential of a protracted cold spell."

Predictions were for readings of close to 50 in the western suburbs of Miami early today and the mid to upper 50s in areas closer to the water. Daytime temperatures should be in the mid-60s, McGehee said.

Blustery north winds kept small craft warnings up all around the state, except for the area north of Fort Myers on the west coast, and McGehee said weekend fishermen probably will find seas rough today and Sunday.

Temperatures were expected to hit close to freezing in North Florida early today and not go much above the mid-50s during the day.

State of Union Message Accents Need of Defenses

Complete Text of President's Message 7A

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Eisenhower challenged a "yes, but" Democratic Congress Friday to join him in quest of military and economic strength for a surging America and a just peace for a fearful world.

These were the great goals set forth for the year ahead in a presidential State of the Union message. In general terms, Eisenhower outlined a formidable but "sensible posture of defense" along with a balanced budget and war against inflation.

In these days when the latest bombers "cost their weight in gold," Eisenhower said, "we can afford everything we clearly need, but we cannot afford one cent of waste."

The President appealed to the legislators to work with him to keep in balance the 77 billion dollar budget he is sending to them Jan. 19. If this is done, he said, there is hope for tax reforms "in the foreseeable future."

A White House official interpreted this to mean tax cuts, but not before the 1961 fiscal year — beginning July 1, 1960 — a period which spans the next presidential election campaign.

To Senate and House members assembled in the House chamber, and to Americans who heard him by radio and television, Eisenhower said:

"One basic purpose unites us: To promote strength and security, side by side with liberty and opportunity."

The President drew his heaviest applause for jabs at inflation and a pledge to defend the people of Berlin "against any effort to destroy their freedom."

Comments after he finished his 5,000-word, 42-minute speech fit into a familiar format. Republicans offered generous praise. Some said it was the best presidential message they ever heard.

Many Democrats found no reason to quarrel with the broad objectives. Some said the speech lacked meaty details. Others were strictly uncomplimentary. Some pointedly yawned.

"A bowl of mush without even a bean," said Rep. Richard Bolling (D., Mo.)

"Evidently," said freshman Rep. Neal Smith (D., Iowa), "you can't teach an old general much about farm income and expenses merely by his buying a farm."

The "yes, but" reaction was strongest where it counted most — among the Democratic leaders who will have so much to say about how the presidential program fares.

Both Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn and Lyndon B. Johnson, leader of Senate Democrats, noted that the last Congress, also controlled by

'Dynamic' Speech To GOP

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Democrats, who control Congress, found little to get excited about Friday in President Eisenhower's State of the Union message.

Most Republicans liked it very much. "Dynamic" was the word that Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R., Mass.) had for it. "Heartening," said Sen. Everett Dirksen (R., Ill.).

It was literally a "ho-hum" reaction that came from Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate majority leader.

Johnson was yawning in the audience when Eisenhower told the House and Senate he intends to submit a balanced budget.

And in his formal statement of comment, Johnson said:

"Mr. Eisenhower's hopes for a balanced budget remain to be proved . . . Our efforts will be not only to balance the fiscal books of the nation but to balance the books of our public trust as well."

The No. 1 man in the House, Speaker Sam Rayburn (D., Tex.), took a casual, matter-of-fact attitude toward the President's speech. Rayburn

The Highlights

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Textual highlights of President Eisenhower's State of the Union message Friday:

Russia

We can have no confidence in any treaty to which Communists are a party except where such a treaty provides within itself for self-enforcing mechanisms . . .

Peace and Its Price

Modern weapons are exceedingly expensive . . .

America will never give up the hope that eventually all nations can, with mutual confidence, drastically reduce these non-productive expenditures . . .

America's security can be assured only within a world community of strong, stable, independent nations, in which the concepts of freedom, justice and human dignity can flourish.

There can be no such thing as Fortress America . . .

Inflation

The material foundation of our national safety is a strong and expanding economy. This we have—and this we must maintain . . .

The basic question facing us today is more than survival—the military defense of national life and territory. It is the preservation of a way of life . . .

We can afford everything we clearly need, but we cannot afford one cent of waste . . .

The Budget

By working together, the Congress and the executive can keep a balance between income and outgo. If this is done there is real hope that we can look forward to a time in the foreseeable future when needed tax reforms can be accomplished . . .

Civil Rights

We are making noticeable progress in the field of civil rights . . . That progress must continue . . .

. . . desperate struggle

Pat Boone's teenage weaknesses were beer-drinking and shoplifting. But the two vices never really had a chance. Pat conquered them almost as soon as they appeared.

Mary Astor's weaknesses, as a glamorous Hollywood actress in the 1930s, were men and drink. And she gave both of them an ample chance. "I was out of control," she says of those days.

Both of them have a lot to tell Herald readers in their new books. In "Twixt Twelve and Twenty," Pat Boone gives teenagers the benefit of his experience in growing up — the mistakes he made, the things he learned about people and himself, why he holds so strong a faith in God.

In "My Story," Mary Astor writes of her dizzying rise to the game she was far too young to control; of her stormy love affairs and their tragic consequence, of her desperate struggle to keep her child free from the shame of scandal.

Both of these entertaining books begin running in series form in Sunday's edition of

Won't Need Force For Peace—Castro

Cuban Meets Death Unafraid

The People Support Us, Says Fidel

By GEORGE SOUTHWORTH
Herald Latin America Editor

HAVANA, Cuba — Fidel Castro vowed Friday "the revolutionary army will never again need the force of arms" to maintain peace in war-torn Cuba.

In an interview with The Herald, Castro declared, "the people of Cuba are on our side and the day they don't want us, we will leave."

And, he warned, the nation "must never permit anyone to conspire against her peace again."

The 32-year-old Cuban leader said he knows trouble may lie ahead and he indicated it may come from within the revolutionary organizations that won the victory.

"I must tell you that at this moment there are elements of revolutionary organizations who are hiding contraband arms and ammunition," Castro said. "Arms for what?

"Who are they going to fight against? Are they going to fight against the provisional government that has the support of all the Cuban people?

"Are they going to fight against a free government that respects the rights of the people now that there is no censorship of the press?

"The press is free now and people can meet together and all of the rights of citizens have been restored."

One of the biggest problems faced by the new government at this moment is to disarm the thousands of men who joined the rebel movement after the victory for hope of personal gain.

Castro said he is trying to bring about a closer union of all the rebel forces. He thanked former President Carlos Prio Socarras for his aid to the rebels "and unconditional support of the new government."

"If you ask me what troops I prefer to command," Castro said, "I would answer the people of the nation.

"The people can't be conquered and the common people won this war. We had no army, boats, tanks, planes, cannons, military schools . . .

"How did the rebel army win the war? By telling the truth. How did the despotic government lose the war? By telling lies to its soldiers.

"But the real winner of the war were the people. The people who suffered seven years of horror," he declared.

Castro said the people of Cuba are very much interested in learning if the new rebel government will make the same mistakes of other revolutionary governments.

He said the circumstances are different now and the opportunities are greater now for his government to completely carry out its destiny.

"The people of Cuba want peace with justice and liberty," he said, "and we don't want peace at a price. We must remember that Batista also spoke of peace and order . . ."

10 Are Dead In Plane Wreckage

KINGSPORT, Tenn. — (AP) — A rescue party reached the burned wreckage of a Southeast Airlines plane near the top of rugged Holston Mountain late Friday. All 10 persons aboard it were dead.

Rescuers said they found a grim scene of death and destruction in a charred area of heavy woods and thick underbrush about 30 miles east of here.

The plane, a twin-engine DC3, disappeared Thursday night while trying to grope its way through fog to an instrument landing at nearby Tri-Cities airport. The last radio report to the field from pilot Robert L. Gollmier of Kingsport said the plane was preparing to land.

The passengers included Dr. R. L. Hasche, 62, president of Hasche Engineering Co. of Johnson City. Other passengers were W. L. Dennis, Johnson City; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Halstead and J. A. Bradley, Kingsport; and Robert Matthews and James A. Porter, both of Nashville.

Challenge From Ike Leaves Demos Cold

the Democrats, chopped $5,600,000,000 out of the last Eisenhower budget. Yet there were no hints that there might be a repeat performance.

Rather, many Democrats have criticized the Eisenhower budget, especially the $40,900,000,000 reported included for the armed forces, as inadequate and unrealistic.

But as Eisenhower saw it, "it is a realistic budget with wholly attainable objectives."

In general terms, Eisenhower renewed bids for legislation to strengthen civil rights, correct abuses in labor unions, protect the purchasing power of the dollar, and help the farmer while trimming heavy federal spending for agriculture.

He promised increased spending on health programs, science and education, water resources, highways, and rebuilding cities.

Details were left for later messages. So was any spelling out of places where Congress can economize to get government costs again within income.

In national defense, Eisenhower said, increased efficiency and avoidance of waste are a secondary aim. The prime goal, he said, is a sensible posture of defense. His budget, he said, advances both.

"Working by these guide lines," the President said, "I believe with all my heart that America can be as sure of the strength and efficiency of her armed forces as she is and has always been of their loyalty. I am equally sure that the nation will thus avoid useless expenditures which, in the name of security, might tend to undermine the economy and, therefore, the nation's safety."

said the executive and his wife and daughter were driving toward Florida in easy stages, but had been in Cut Bank on Dec. 23, when the Van Clief home was rented by the gamblers.

Pattie and his family were expected "within two days" at the Chattanooga, Tenn., home of E. B. Stanger before continuing on to St. Petersburg, their final destination.

The Stangers were not available for a telephone call early Friday evening.

Oddly enough, another person with the name Stanger was among the 25 arrested in the raid. He identified himself as Carl Stanger, 54, of the Marine Hotel.

State attorney's men, who refused to be quoted, said "there's evidence that someone is going around the county selling phoney 'police protection' to would-be casino operators."

They theorize that gamblers are being told, by someone, "I can fix you up for a fee." On this assurance, and the payment of huge sums of money, the gamblers are opening dice dens.

Friday morning's raid was the second within a week by police who wrote finis to plush operations. A week ago, officers found a "house-within-a-house" built in such a way that no one on the outside could know gambling was in process inside.

No patrons or employes were present at the time of last week's raid.

Friday morning, however, the officers had better luck.

They described the Ocean Drive home as a beautiful residence, and operating with only a "minimum lookout. The man assigned to tip-off employes against approaching police "strolled from the garage when Police Chief Kuiken approached," one source said, "and must have been half-asleep on the job."

Kuiken, although in full uniform, never was challenged after knocking on the door and being admitted. Since he was virtually invited into the home he needed no warrant.

Officials said this "may be further evidence that employes believed a 'fix' had been made with authorities, since they had no fear in admitting a police officer."

Kuiken went through the first floor dining and cocktail rooms, where mink-clad women were sitting, and on up a sweeping set of stairs to the air conditioned gaming room.

There he announced, "This is a raid." His words were the starting gun for a general wrecking of the gambling equipment, and some employes stepped onto the second floor balcony to throw chips and table covers onto the lawn.

There was no effort by either customers or employes to resist arrest. The women were not taken into custody.

State attorney's men said the case "still is under investigation, and it has opened up other avenues of the gambling picture which we will pursue."

Acting States Attorney John Wynn said the gamblers and clients of the casino would be prosecuted, "and we'll keep pressure on the racketeers and others attempting to engage in any illegal gambling operation in the county."

Value of the gambling equipment in the huge, 10-room home, was set at "about $600." It was described as the "break-away" type which can be moved easily and quickly from one place to another."

The prisoners were booked for suspicion of gambling at Dade County jail as:

The Town Crier

BY Jack Bell

"A STRANGE new plague has appeared on the American scene. Creeping into every form of domestic life, it has taken tremendous toll in lives and misery, unbelievable when compared with other diseases."

BELL

The above is from an article by Dr. Marvin Weil in the January issue of The Bulletin of the Dade County Medical Association. He is talking about accidents.

"During 1957 accidents afflicted 9,600,000 people," he writes, "causing 95,000 deaths and untold hardships. Hospital costs due to accidents amounted to $300,000,000. The past 50 years has seen great progress in immunization against illness and in the chemotherapeutic triumph over many diseases, but the accident rate remains almost unchanged."

"In order to come down in California," the senator said, "He'll start his descent over Australia."

Senator Monroney was with Scripps-Howard newspapers for six years before going into politics. "Sometimes, when things get too dull or confused down on the Senate floor," he told me, "I wish I were up in the press gallery again."

said: "We'll look over his recommendations very thoroughly, and then we'll write the ticket."

The new Republican leaders of the House and Senate, Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana and Sen. Dirksen of Illinois, were enthusiastic.

"To those shouting for leadership," Dirksen said, "the President's message is a clear and ringing answer. It supplies a chart and compass for the Congress and the country . . .

"The accent on the perils of inflation is a timely warning to those who believe that by means of planned deficits we can spend ourselves rich."

Rep. Halleck's comment: "This is a message of strength — of strength to meet the Communist threat to free men wherever it appears; of strength to continue the fight for peace."

Democratic commendation for parts of the speech came from Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, who liked what he called Eisenhower's determination to move toward sound finances.

"If we do not reduce nonessential expenditures now," Byrd said, "the alternative is to spend and spend, and tax and tax. There is no hope for sound tax reduction with continuing deficits."

National Summary

Intense low pressure disturbances off both the northern Atlantic and Pacific coasts maintained gusty winds while a cold mound of high pressure continued to settle from Canada over much of the country's midsection.

Northerly winds sweeping across the eastern half of the nation limited 70 degree weather at noon to extreme southern Florida with temperatures in the 30s and 40s reaching across most of the Gulf States.

Precipitation patterns will show little change over the nation during the next 24 hours. Colder air will push more deeply into the southeast and the mild temperature trend in the west will expand into the Plains on Saturday.

Intermittent rains in the Pacific states will be heavy at times but showers and snow flurries working eastward to the mountains from Montana to Utah are expected to remain mostly light and scattered. Temperatures 10 to 20 degrees below zero are likely in northern Minnesota and teens should penetrate northern Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia with freezing readings on the Gulf coast.

Snow showers are forecast from the Great Lakes region into New England and southward over the mountains to West Virginia through Saturday.

Naples, Oldsters Split Over Civic Center

Project Rejected By City

$250,000 Plan Becomes Issue

By TOM MORGAN
Naples Bureau Chief

NAPLES—Opposition to any investment of city funds in the proposed civic center had developed from the finance committee of City Council, following endorsement of the center project earlier in the week by the Senior Citizens Club.

The center has been under consideration for more than two years. First a Kiwanis Club project, it was taken under city consideration when Mayor W. Roy Smith said it could only be accomplished if included in a general bond issue.

Mayor Smith recently reversed himself to declare the center should be built by donations and the funds would not be difficult to obtain.

Apparently fearing a return to the bond issue proposal the Naples Civic Association has said there is no need for it and the city cannot meet the cost, estimated to run as high as $250,000.

Endorsement by the Senior Citizens, offshoot of the City Recreation Department, declared the building is essential and that "contrary opinions although boldly asserted are ill advised and without foundation in fact."

The club's view was not unanimous. Charter Member Samuel W. Bell declared the group was being dragged into a political controversy; the members were not freeholders "or even residents" and so would not pay for or even know the cost of the project, and finally that the resolution was "railroaded" through the group.

Bell added he did not oppose the center but it should be considered only after other "urgent" projects.

New Dye Bill Introduced In Congress

Herald Bureau

WASHINGTON — Legislation authorizing the use of a new dye in the coloring of Florida oranges was introduced in congress Friday by Sen. Spessard Holland and Rep. James Haley of Sarasota.

Identical bills were proposed in the Senate by Holland and in the house by Haley.

Under a recent U.S. Supreme Court decision, Red 32, the dye which has been used for over 20 years, can not be used after March 1.

The Holland Haley bill would authorize the use of the new and much less toxic coloring known as Citrus Red 2.

"The Food and Drug Administration and the citrus industry are in agreement," Holland said, "that the intended use of the new color will be completely safe.

"The bill must be speedily enacted (by March 1) if the citrus industry is to be allowed to continue coloring oranges.

"Our legislation, basically, has the support of the FDA, and I anticipate early passage."

Coloring is added to the skins of most of the oranges Florida markets in fresh form. Some 19,000,000 boxes of fresh oranges were marketed by Florida last year.

Most of the state's crop goes into processed products.

Bulging Micco Is Mixed Up

By BILL BUNGE
Melbourne Bureau Chief

MELBOURNE — One of the fastest growing unincorporated areas in Brevard County is the community of Micco, at the southern end 13 miles below Melbourne. And it's perhaps the most "mixed up" place in the entire county.

BUNGE

Residents there were put on the Sebastian exchange by Southern Bell Telephone Co. But phone bills are payable to the Vero Beach office, and telephoning Melbourne is just as easy as if you were inside that city.

However, Micco folks have to use a special code to get a friend on the line down Vero Beach way. Perhaps this was done because Vero is farther away from Micco than Melborne.

And several years ago the Post Office Department closed Micco's post office, forcing residents to either get their mail on a Vero Beach rural route or at the nearby community of Grant, to the north.

Melbourne's rural route stops at the Micco line, which nobody can presently find because the entrance signs were removed when U.S. 1 was four-laned.

Micco is under the jurisdiction of the Melbourne Florida Power and Light Co. office, yet electric bills are paid in Sebastian, next town south, and in Indian River County.

To make this situation a little more confusing, Micco children go to school in Melbourne because the community is in Brevard.

Some Melbourne leaders are becoming alarmed because they feel that Micco — and the entire southern end of Brevard — should be closer to Melbourne. Besides, one of the biggest single housing developments in this Central East Coast section is going up at Micco, making it more of a prize.

And these Melbourne leaders are correct, this corner feels. After all, Micco, Grant and the other nearby communities ARE IN Brevard County.

CHARLIE SMITH was "wearing" something new when he and the missus came down here the other day from Ludington, Mich., for their annual winter stay with South Brevard relatives.

You see, last year Charlie was bald — "bald as an egg," he used to comment. On this trip he showed prospects of having one of the best heads of hair in about 25 years.

How did he accomplish this? Well, Charlie — who celebrated his 75th birthday last Sunday — attributes his amazing new start of hair to just plain massaging.

"I rubbed my head until it hurt. Every day, too, for a whole year. At first," he explained, "my scalp was so tight it actually made a cracking noise when I rubbed. Tight scalp, that's what makes you bald," Charlie declared.

His story, and results, are so convincing that even I might give it a whirl.

AF Is Spending $60 Million To Improve Missile Layout

Tracking Station, Launching Pads Among Projects

By DAN BROWN
Cocoa Bureau Chief

Leading the multi-million dollar list of projects is the 16-million-dollar Capehart housing area at Patrick AFB, a 999-home development for Air Force officers and enlisted men.

The biggest chunk of the remaining money—$14,133,000—is going into three launching areas for Titan intercontinental ballistic missiles at Cape Canaveral.

Completion of the 60-million-dollar program will push the Air Force's investment in its missile-testing layout to beyond 500 million dollars—most of it spent since 1950.

The program also exceeds Brevard County's 1958 total of civilian construction by about five million dollars.

Money for the Capehart project is coming from civilian mortgage companies which loaned it under 100 per cent FHA guarantees, but the rest is all military money appropriated by the Air Force, the Army and the Navy.

At Cape Canaveral, more than 25 million is being spent. The balance of the 60 million is going into the island stations of the Atlantic missile range, Patrick and the military docks at Port Canaveral.

At Patrick, the top-ranking project is three airmen's dormitories which will cost $1,258,000.

Other base projects include a guided missile engineering laboratory, $985,000; utilities for Capehart, $775,000; a stand-by power plant, $507,000; visiting officers quarters, $479,000; and a communications building, $450,000.

The station at Antiqua in the federation of the West Indies is getting the lion's share of the island money—a $2,792,000 chunk.

A missile-tracking station will account for $1,932,000 of the sum and the balance is earmarked for other instruments, an electrical distribution system and a communication facility.

Nearly another million will be pumped into the station at Fernando de Noronha off Brazil which needs water distillation equipment and electric power. At Eleuthera in the Bahamas, $878,000 will go for an azuza (radio transponder) missile instruments system.

At Cape Canaveral, pads for the Pershing tactical range missile — which is being built in Orlando — will cost over two million dollars.

Other Cape Canaveral allocations include:

$950,000 for additional electrical distribution lines.

$619,000 for a war head service building.

$504,000 for an engineering building.

$454,000 for a missile assembly building.

And $793,000 for new azuza setup similar to the one installed at Eleuthera.

The 16-million-dollar Capehart housing project is the largest residential subdivision under way in Brevard although the Gaines Construction Co. of Miami is planning a 50,000-home development near Micco.

Virtually all the work to be done under the 60-million-dollar program will be performed by civilian contractors.

Collier Bar Mum on Move Of County Seat to Naples

Herald Bureau

NAPLES — Lawyers in Naples, probably those most interested in movement of the county seat of Collier County here from Everglades, have taken no stand on the proposal.

"Possibly informally and individually most lawyers are for the move unless they have other commitments," said Bob Scott, president of the Collier County Bar Association.

The group has only one member outside Naples, Dick Stanley of Immokalee.

Scott explained movement of the county seat here would be of more advantage to lawyers than to any one else "except those using lawyers." Court costs for service of legal papers out of Everglades are $25. The fee might be cut to $5 if the courthouse moved here.

A meeting of the School Bond Advisory Committee Monday at 8 p.m. in the Florida Power & Light Co. office will consider the county seat movement petition being circulated by Naples Junior Chamber of Commerce members.

Pitt Orick, Naples chairman, said the group would take any action as individuals, not as a committee. Jaycees held up their petition in November to prevent interference with the vote on 2.9 million dollars worth of school bonds. It was feared the bond election might have lost if the county seat movement became an issue. It passed by a comfortable margin.

Opposition to the petition has developed in the last few days, led off by Mayor W. Roy Smith and the Collier County News with support of a taxpayers' group, the Collier County Citizen's research.

Support of the move has come from some county officials including Sheriff Doug Hendry and from residents of Naples and Immokalee. The Immokalee Bulletin has backed the proposal to change the county seat to Naples as "the only logical answer."

Allen Studies Charges

Herald Bureau

KEY WEST — Tax Assessor Joe Allen Friday said he was "studying" charges made against him in a letter to Gov. LeRoy Collins by Fred J. Dion, a local retired businessman.

Dion told the governor that improper assessing in the county and city, under 50 per cent of value, accounted for Key West's chronic financial problems.

Allen said he read a report of Dion's letter in The Herald Friday and may issue a statement on the matter soon.

60 Boats Take Part in Fishing

STUART — More than 60 boats are expected to participate in the Fifth Annual Light Tackle Sailfish Tournament, sponsored by the Stuart Sailfish Club Saturday through Monday.

The contest will be held also on Tuesday should weather blank out fishing in any of the scheduled days.

All sails must be released except those taken for mounting, unless they are more than 7 ft. 9 inches long. The lighter the line used the more points the angler receives for each fish shipped. Awards and tropys will be given Monday at the buffet dinner at 6:30 p.m. at the Key Club Sunrise Inn.

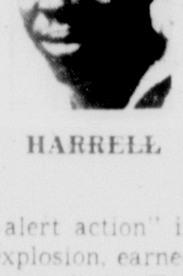
Navy Cites 3 Men For Boat Rescue

LCDR BIRD

PETRI



HARRELL

Herald Bureau

KEY WEST—"Keen observance and alert action" in rescuing victims of a recent charter boat explosion, earned three locally-based Navymen letters of commendation Friday.

The letters went to Lt. Cmdr. George W. Bird of Texon, Tex.; Melvin R. Petri, torpedoman second, of Wausau, Wisc.; and Lee Harrell, machinist's mate third, of Marshville, N. C. All are assigned to the Surface Anti-Submarine Development Detachment here.

The three men were aboard a small craft Dec. 10 off Sand Key, near Key West, when they saw the charter cruiser "Sea Raider II" catch fire and explode.

They immediately rushed to the side of the stricken boat.

The commendation in part reads:

"Due to your keen observance and alert action eight injured survivors were rescued from the perils of the sea, medical assistance was called and the survivors were expeditiously returned to port.

"You actions in this matter were in the highest traditions of the Naval service."

Rear Adm. Francis McCorkle, base commander, signed Bird's commendation. The other two were signed by Capt. C. R. Stephen, skipper of the detachment.

Earman To Head Chamber

Herald Correspondent

VERO BEACH — Joe Henry Earman, county and city civil defense director, has been elected president of the Vero Beach-Indian River County Chamber of Commerce.

Other officers, elected Thursday by the new board of directors are Tracy L. Turner Jr. and Robert Spillman, vice presidents; and E. G. Thatcher, executive secretary-treasurer.

The annual recognition dinner of the board of directors will be at noon Monday at the Riviera Dining Room.

Invited guests will include Mayor Harry C. Offutt Jr., City Manager Eugene Lyon, County Commission Chairman Robert W. Graves, past presidents and outgoing directors of the chamber.

Plans will be announced for the coming membership campaign and for the annual membership banquet Jan. 26, according to Thatcher.

Not Guilty Plea Filed For Sailors

Herald Bureau

KEY WEST — Two teenage sailors charged with armed robbery were bound over to Criminal Court Friday after a preliminary hearing before Peace Justice Roy Hamlin.

A plea of not guilty was entered by the state for Noah A. Krouse and Joseph Suozzi, both 18, in the absence of legal counsel for them.

The pair are accused of stealing $66 from Oliveri's store, 811 Fleming St., on Dec. 28.

Mrs. Catherine Carawan, a clerk at the store, testified that Suozzi held a knife to her back while he emptied a cash register. She said Krouse waited outside the store.

Four other witnesses substantially corroborated Mrs. Carawan's testimony.

The two sailors, both of whom are assigned to the Key West-based USS Salinan, are being held in the county jail in lieu of $5,000 bond each.

Volunteers Working In Fund Drive

Herald Correspondent

JENSEN BEACH — More than 55 volunteer workers are canvassing all homes and business places in Jensen Beach and Rio in the three-day drive to raise $6,000 for the Jensen Beach-Rio United Funds Association.

The kick-off breakfast held at Seymour's Inn Thursday, the first day of the drive, was attended by 55 persons. William J. Weiss, a director, was emcee of the program.

The Rev. Allan Purdom, also a director, traced the history of man's needs and how they were taken care of through biblical days, to the present time.

Co-drive chairmen Mrs. Warren Shipes, Jr., and Robert Larsen gave instructions to the workers in the two areas. All workers are to report the last day of the drive, which is Sunday, between 7-9 p.m. at Mrs. Shipes home on Park Rd., and Hickory Drive results.

A "Victory Dance" will be held Jan. 28 at Seymour's Inn. The board of directors will meet Jan. 22 at 8 p.m. at the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce building to receive final reports. The finance committee consisting of Mrs. Frank Wacha, president; Mrs. Zola Swarthout, vice-president and Martin Wahl, secretary-treasurer, will recommend the amount of funds to be distributed to the nine participating agencies.

Nightlife with George Bourke

Pinkie Lee Takes Latin Quarter Like Grant . . .

IT TAKES some courage for a night club impresario, no matter how big his reserve resources, to book into a smart supper club featuring a French revue an act which in recent years has been best known as the darling of the pablum and tootsie roll set.

And it requires some guts — or at least a high degree of confidence in one's basic talents — for that entertainer to face such an adult audience as frequents E. M. Loew's Latin Quarter on Palm Island — a spot where one's loyalty is tested not by regular chomping on tootsie rolls, but in the taste for — and the ability to absorb — a required minimum of alcoholic beverages.

Experienced Trouper Wins Fans

BUT E. M. LOEW and Pinkie Lee displayed that courage, which was further tested by a not too terrific turn-out for his opening. Before the evening was over, however, Lee had just about won his audience with an ingratiating manner, a Bert Lahrish attitude and timing, a unique eccentric dancing skill, and a well-spotted demonstration of the the tricks and surefire lines learned in his years in show business, an experience which ranged from burlesque to kiddie TV shows — believe it or not, in that order.

On paper it seems a colossal mistake to try to entertain people who would come to the swank Latin Quarter with a male strip tease, a high bosomed lass tearing the pants away from a pint-sized foil, frequent reference with ribald intent to extra-sensory reactions of the anatomy, and so on.

But Lee makes them seem inoffensive because he is himself an inoffensive and apologetic fellow. He even begs the audience's indulgence for some of his stunts but points out that the theater of operations is a night club.

The balance of the Latin Quarter show is basically the same as it was for Sophie Tucker's engagement, with the thrilling adagio dance stylings of Holger and Dolores providing the focal highpoint of Donn Arden's "Sky High" revue.

FIDO Keeps Movies Off British TV

THERE MAY BE a mixed metaphor somewhere in the following about not letting the dog you feed bite the hand that paid for his smiling teeth—or it may be mere coincidence that the letters of the Film Industry Defense Organization, which has the aim of keeping theatrical films off British television spell FIDO! . . . Shirley Jones, opening at the Fontainebleau La Ronde next Tuesday, just finished a movie called "Never Steal Anything Small," with Jimmie Cagney. Did you know that James worked in vaudeville under the name of Nye, which is the name of the bandleader at the Fontainebleau's next door neighbor, the Eden Roc?

Amusements

Movies Night Clubs Drama

Jerry Brooks . . . patient

Paul Gray . . . 11th

Harry Mufson, Eden Roc boss, off to New York to buy talent. Wonder if he ever thought of opening a penthouse lounge and calling it Top o' the Roc? . . . Those with a pipeline of optimism to Cuba predict the shooting will resume during the first week in February. They probably mean the crap-shooting, however. It is rumored that a million dollars says a casino for tourists only (as in Nassau) plan may be tried!

If there is to be a more liberal view it won't be a matter of financial fix—entirely. It has been proven in the last six years in Cuba that there is more sticky sugar to be gotten from 10 miles of new highway or 14 stories of public building than in all of Havana's 13 gambling places combined.

George Raft Visits Jerry Brooks

GEORGE RAFT, host at Capri Casino in Havana, at Luau before visiting Jerry Brooks — partner in both Luau and the Capri—at the Heart Institute . . . Jan Murray's "Treasure Hunt" TV show will originate from Fontainebleau Hotel pool area Jan. 18-29 . . . Janet Leigh and the kiddies to join Tony Curtis here in about two weeks. He'll be working with Cary Grant on "Operation Petticoat" at Key West. Janet and Tony's "The Perfect Furlough," will open at Wometco Theaters soon . . . "No House Limit," which Grant may do in Havana, with Dick Powell as director, has been retitled "Casino." . . . "Tomboy," penned by two laddies from Firehouse No. 2 here, will be heard twice on Perry Como's show tonight.

Comedian Don Adams, who has just been added to Lou Walters' Ziegfeld Follies at the Carillon has been featured on Steve Allen's TV show . . . Victor Borge will be on the stage of the Deauville Hotel Casanova Room live on Sunday night but he will also be on TV on Channel 4 at 6 o'clock as guest of Ed Murrow's "It's a Small World" through the so-called "miracle of magnetic tape.

Paul Gray, now at Murray Franklin's, also plays the less important clubs on occasion. He goes into Chicago's Chez Paree for the 11th date this spring . . . It is rumored that Sir Sydney Oakes and some Fort Lauderdale businessmen may bid for the Grand Bahama West End Club. Wonder if that will affect the titular rights of "Sir" Judson Smith, who works there so frequently.

His Sign Began Great White Way

NEW YORK —(AP)— Historians will mark 1958 as the year that the originator of the Great White Way died. He was George A. Singer, 85, a man unknown to the public but who contributed a significant bit to the story of Broadway.

Singer was credited with having designed the first electric sign to be hung above a New York theater—the beginning of the Great White Way.

'CUT PRICE' APPLIANCE:

Is It a Bargain? –Or Price Packed?

CHICAGO—(AP)—Beware of price packing, a retailer suggests, if you see a price that has been slashed 20 to 30 per cent.

He said too many fictional prices are being handed down by manufacturers. He said one refrigerator had a list price of $299, yet it never had sold for more than $269.

Martin was asked at a news conference how a person can detect an artificial original price.

"Any time it is 20 to 30 per cent off," he replied, "it is price packing."

Martin made clear he was talking about appliances and other home furnishings in particular and those sold in one-price stores, where there is no haggling. He also stated he was not talking about seasonal clearance sales.

At the same news conference, Henry E. Lamar, of Florence, Ala., president of the National Retail Furniture Association, urged each merchant to:

"Re-analyze his own advertising in the light of Better Business Bureau (BBB) standards and new Federal Trade Commission guides against deceptive advertising.

"Work with his fellow merchants, his local newspaper and his local BBB to the end that all home furnishings advertising be kept above reproach.

"Bring cases of fraudulent advertising, if it occurs, to the attention of local law enforcement agencies."

Lamar also estimated that buying at the show is 20 per cent heavier than it was a year ago.

He said there have been some small price increases. But, he added, he thinks they won't be reflected in the retail stores for at least six months.

How About A Satellite Love Seat?

The legs and frames of some dinette tables and chairs, for example, come in such colors as pink, yellow, red and turquoise.

Metal and plastic bedroom furniture with orange, yellow, beige, coral, blue and turquoise drawer fronts is another furniture men's concept of what should be in today's homes.

Besides new uses of color, furniture manufacturers are showing some novelty items which will please children.

Among them is a triple deck bed — a good height for climbing indoors on winter days. To bring the playground further indoors is a double-deck bed featuring a sliding board which can be detached.

Shoppers will have to wait a while to see these items, though. The show is not open to the public.

Among other novelty articles on display are:

A pole lamp featuring an electric clock around the top shade.

A triple electronic cooking center built with three ovens for cooking steaks and chops, frozen fruits and vegetables and bulk items such as roasts and hams, respectively.

'But Where Are Your Real Live Cowboys?'

By Herald Wire Services

NEW YORK —(WNS)— The tastiest new French toast of Broadway, Colette Brosset, is just a bit disappointed in the U.S.A.

Here she's been in the wide open spaces of New York City two whole months and she hasn't seen a real live cowboy yet. Mlle. Brosset is the star of the hit French musical revue, La Plume de Ma Tante.

"I thought all Americans were on a horse," she sighed sorrowfully. "And I wanted so much to see a real cowboy, like Davy Crockett.

"But all your cowboys are in the movies and TV, and there are no horses in New York."

If the Shoe Fits . . .

MILAN—Giulietta Corsino, who weighs 187 pounds, complained to police in Milan because a sandwich man kept following her up and down the main streets of the city.

The advertising board which the sandwich man was carrying called women's attention to a beauty salon where their chubby figures could be put into a more attractive shape.

What She Means Is: She's the Groom

"To people outside the horse industry, that's a groom," explains the 20-year-old girl. "I don't think the job is so unusual. It beats pounding a typewriter."

Judy came here from Doylestown, Pa., after answering an ad in a horse publication. She suited Mr. and Mrs. Lowry Watkins, so they entrusted her with the care and feeding of their six horses.

Judy also treats the animals' aches and pains, being something of an amateur veterinarian.

Judy expects to give up her career one day for marriage.

"And that's going to give some society editor a hard time. I can see them listing me as a groom."

No Cheesecake For This Maid

NEW YORK — The 1959 Maid of Cotton believes in wearing it, in full measure. No scanty attire for her, she said, whatever the texture.

"I do not approve of displaying my body in front of the public," the 20-year-old beauty, Miss Malinda Diggs Berry, said. Malinda hails from Stillwater, Okla.

She said she didn't mean to be critical of other girls who were willing to parade in a minimum of clothing, but that for her, there'll be no cheesecake or bathing suit public poses.

"I'm more or less prudish," she said. "I was reared very Southern and very strictly."

Mrs. Barco Is Installed

Mrs. Gladys Barco, 601 Grand Concourse, Miami Shores, and Al C. Holman are the new worthy matron and patron of Edison Center Chapter 257, Order of Eastern Star.

Mrs. Barco

New officers of the chapter were installed at a public ceremony in the Masonic Hall NW 71st St. and 3rd Ave.

Miss Rosalie Lipkind Bride of Mr. Wilkins

Miss Rosalie Paul Lipkind and Harvey Wilkins were married Friday in the North Shore Temple. Reception was held in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Lipkind, 6891 Bay Dr., Miami Beach.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wilkins, New York. His bride is a student at the University of Miami.

After a wedding trip to Naples, Fla., the couple will live in the Costa Hotel and Apartments, 6891 Bay Dr., Miami Beach.

St. Lucie—Fort Pierce Group to Seek Industry

By ANNE WILDER
Herald Correspondent

FORT PIERCE — A "Committee of One Hundred" has been formed here to seek new light industry for Fort Pierce and St. Lucie County, and is seeking the endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce.

Jack Hallam, president of the group, announced its formation at a Chamber coffee club meeting Friday morning, when methods of industrial development were due for discussion.

Hallam said the group has given the Chamber a petition asking that it be recognized, and urged that a special directors' meeting be called to give official approval to the committee and its by-laws. However, President George Goff said later Friday that since a regular directors' meeting is scheduled for Jan. 16, no special session will be called.

Hallam said the group has over 50 members and final dues will be set up later. However, with or without official sanction, the committee has already started working and has made arrangements for getting an industrial survey specialist, Koder Collison of Dayton, O., here to look over the situation. Later Hallam said that Collison's arrival date will hinge on the action of chamber directors.

Just how the independently formed Committee of One Hundred will fit with the industrial development work of the chamber remains to be seen. Some critical comment on Chamber activities made by one of the committee members Friday brought a strong reply from Manager Alvin Morland, who outlined the program which has been in effect. Later Hallam said that the committee's formation did not cast aspersions on the chamber work, that the group was 100% behind the chamber, and that all must work today.

John Glenton, who has been studying industrial development for the chamber, commented that the first requirement for a committee to attract industry is that it must represent a united community. Next development will await the action of the Chamber directors next Friday.

Police Alert

Thief Wheels, But Not Far

Herald Bureau

KEY WEST — City, county and state law enforcement agencies working together, took only 64 minutes to nab a suspected auto thief on the run.

Police turned over to deputy sheriff a stolen car complaint at 3:23 p.m. Thursday. At 4:27 p.m. a Florida Highway Patrolman, alerted by the sheriff's office, stopped the car at Islamorado.

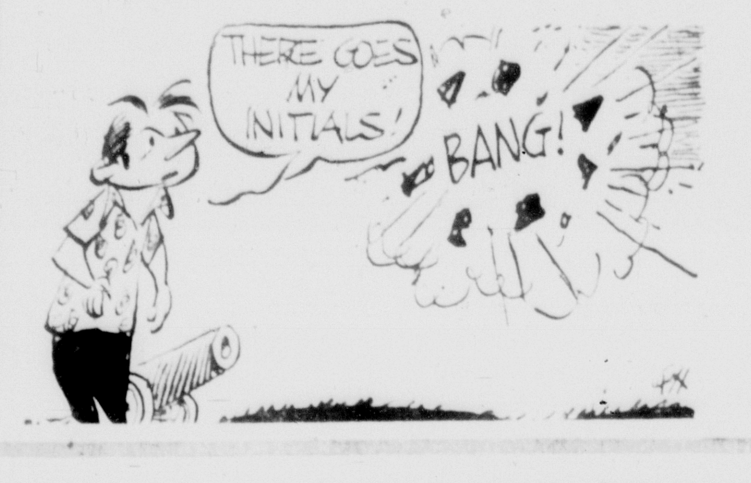
Charged with auto theft and driving while intoxicated is John Patrick Owens, 30, of 23 SW 10th Ave., Miami. His bond was set at $1,000.

Child Smothers

CRESTVIEW — (AP) — A three-month-old boy smothered in his crib at the farming community of Garden City, five miles north of here, today, peace Justice Sid Locke reported. Locke said the victim was James Glenn Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Williams. He said there would be no inquest.

Bangup Tourist Trade Possible

There's Life in the Old Fort Yet



THERE GOES MY INITIALS!
BANG!

FERNANDINA BEACH —(AP)— After entertaining thousands of visitors — some of whom scratched their initials into cannon balls and shells — officials of Fort Clinch State Park found out this week that part of their ammunition may not be duds.

An ordnance team from Mayport Naval Air Station inspected the fort's ammunition and found eight pieces which possibly are live. They took it to their base for a further check.

Since it is so old, the ammunition isn't considered dangerous even if it is live. Most of it dates back to the Spanish-American war and earlier.

47-Year Resident Rites Today

By Herald Services

VERO BEACH — Funeral Services will be held at 4 p.m. today for Mrs. Harriet Ella Thompson, 88, a pioneer resident of Winter Beach, who died Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Thompson had lived here for 47 years, moving here from East Hiram, Me. She was a member of the Sebastian Woman's Club and a member of Mt. Moriah, Denmark, Me., and the Order of Eastern Star. She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Persia Stanley, Mill Valley, Calif., and Mrs. Sarah Burlingame, Cumberland, R.I.; two sisters, Mrs. Eulia Arnold, Salem Depot, N.H., and Mrs. Evie E. Hamilton, Gaspee Plateau, R.I.

Services will be held from the Floyd Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. J. P. Sartain officiating. Burial will be at Winter Beach Cemetery.

George Gilbert, Realty Broker

FORT PIERCE — George Jay Gilbert, 66, of 1604 Seaway Dr., real estate broker and developer and operator of the Burston Hotel here for many years, died Thursday evening.

Mr. Gilbert came here in 1918 from New York City, where he had been a fur buyer and auto dealer. He owned and operated the Burston Hotel from 1926 until it was closed several years ago. He was a member of Temple Beth El, and a charter member of Fort Pierce Lodge 1520 B.P.O.E.

Survivors include his mother, Mrs. Jacob Albert of Fort Pierce, a son Spencer of Fort Pierce; a daughter, Geraldine Horowitz of Westbury, N.Y.; and two grandsons.

Services will be Sunday at 1 p.m. from the Yates Funeral Chapel with Rabbi Jack Freedman of Temple Beth El officiating. Burial will be in Hillcrest Memorial Gardens.

Fred A. Shirley

FORT PIERCE—Fred Albert Shirley, 63, who moved here from New Jersey eight weeks ago, died Friday. He had been an inspector-buyer with the A&P for over 35 years.

Survivors include his wife Hazel, a son Richard of West Springfield, Mass., two brothers and three sisters. Services and burial will be in Springfield, with the Yates Funeral Home in charge here.

Mrs. Jessie Duda

VERO BEACH—Services for Mrs. Jessie Duda, 90, of Wabasso who died Friday will be held at 7 p.m. today at Floyd's Funeral Chapel.

Burial will be at Fox Lake, Ill.

Mrs. Duda moved here eight years ago from Fox Lake. Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Betty Krec of Vero Beach, and Mrs. Annie Peters of Glen Ellyn, Ill.; a son Fred H. of Wabasso, and three sisters who are in Europe.

Missing 12-Year-Old Girl Found After 1-Day Search

MELBOURNE — The missing 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith E. Swiers, object of a countywide search by military and civilian police, was found late Friday in Melbourne.

The youngster was reported missing by her parents Thursday.

No 'Gators

MELBOURNE — Professional hunters spent a second unsuccessful day Friday in their search for several large alligators in a marshy area adjoining a thickly populated North Melbourne area.

Conservation Agent L. A. Tindall, who sighted one 10-foot gator and found evidence of others near the Tradewinds housing section earlier this week, said spectators on the scene were making "too much noise."

The hunt was started when neighborhood children brought baby gators home after playing in the swamp.

Days Numbered

EAU GALLIE — The days are numbered for the dangerously narrow U.S. 1 "humpback" bridge over Elbow Creek here.

City Manager Clark Maxwell said Friday that the Corps of Army Engineers reported that the state road department has requested a permit to construct a new four-lane bridge to replace the old one.

The present span has been blamed for numerous accidents on the highway there.

Gets Award

FORT PIERCE — The Dan McCarty High School has been awarded a School System Safety certificate, by judges of the National School Safety Honor Roll Committee.

Alfred L. Papillion, chairman of the judges, sent the award, with congratulations to the student body and faculty. The high school has had an active safety committee, not only for student and school safety, but for cooperation with the St. Lucie County Safety Council on community projects.

Wall Started

EAU GALLIE — R. W. Peacock of the State Road Department said Friday that workmen have started building a concrete slab sea wall along the J. W. Creel Causeway approach.

The wall will run 75 yards on the north side and 50 yards on the south side of the west approach to the draw bridge.

In addition to protecting the causeway over the Indian River during storms, the project will expand and improve the area for river fishermen.

Mrs. Wimbrow is editor and publisher of the Indian River News, a weekly.

Parsons Sworn In As Chief

FORT PIERCE — Fort Pierce's new police chief, Bruce E. Parsons, arrived in town early from Parkersburg, W. Va. He was sworn in Friday and will begin his duties Monday.

Appointed on December 23rd, he was scheduled to begin the $7,100 a year job on January 15. He resigned as police chief at Parkersburg to accept this position.

The 42-year old chief had a tour of the police department with city manager J. Floyd Glisson Friday afternoon.

Midair Collision Kills 3

PENSACOLA — (AP) — Two Navy T28 training planes collided in flight about 15 miles west of Pensacola Thursday, killing three fliers.

The planes spun to the ground and crashed in a wooded area.

The Navy identified the victims as Lt. Merle Merkel, 26, Bowdle, S.D., son of Arthur C. Merkel; his passenger, an enlisted man, Rubert Ervin Carter, 21, San Pablo, Calif., son of Ralph E. Hammond.

All of the victims were married and Hammond had one child.

Merkel and Hammond were flight instructors on routine proficiency flights from Saufley Field, the Pensacola Naval Air Station said.

Group Plans Capital Visit

Herald Bureau

MELBOURNE — The Brevard County Home Builders Association this week started gathering new material for presentation to the Federal Housing Authority in Washington during a second visit there at a future date.

The association, whose representatives have just returned from talks with the FHA there, is attempting to get the federal agency to relax certain regulations that will permit missile base workers to continue purchasing homes.

According to the builders, the FHA has imposed stiff regulations on this area because of a poor road system and because of a "little opposite thinking."

Gambling Flourishing Again on Gold Coast?

Raid Story, P. 1A

By STEPHEN TRUMBULL
Herald Staff Writer

Dade County's biggest gambling raid in 18 years has alerted the Crime Commission of Greater Miami to the fact that unhappy days may be here again.

With American gamblers getting the heave-ho in Cuba —temporarily at least — Operating Director Dan Sullivan of the crime fighting group said he feared the big Golden Beach raid of early Friday may be but the forerunner of a lot more of the same.

Except for floating crap games, usually crooked ones which moved from night to night, the county has been without any real bigtime gambling since the "liberal policy" was ended by an aroused public in 1950.

"I think there's an excellent chance that those American gamblers will not just stay on in Cuba enjoying the sunshine," said Sullivan. "It's a pretty good bet at least some of them will be back trying to tilt the lid again—and then our troubles are back."

The raid of early Friday was reminiscent of some of the more dramatic chapters during that "liberal" past in this area.

In numbers arrested, it was the biggest since C. O. Huttoe — then as now a center of police department strife — knocked off Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom's Frolics club on the MacArthur causeway approach on Jan. 14, 1941.

It was an odd coincidence that Huttoe's son, Arthur, now a young assistant state attorney, figured in the Friday morning raid.

Reportedly acting without the knowledge of H. Leslie Quigg, then Miami police chief, Lt. C. O. Huttoe arrested 49 men, and confiscated $27,000 in that 1941 spectacular at the Frolics.

The place was being operated by Sam (Gameboy) Miller, a big gambling operator of that day, with John Angersola and Moe (Dimples) Wilnsky.

It also appears unusual to longtime Miamians that it was an aroused public body, the city council of Golden Beach, that blew the whistle on the recent operation in the $175,000 mansion there.

In the "liberal days" that area from near the north boundary of Dade County to Hollywood was virtually the capital of winter gambling in America.

It was at the Golden Shores Club, long since gone and the site now occupied by Wilde's restaurant, where multimillionaire oil man Harry Sinclair was reportedly "taken" for $800,000 in what was said to be a rigged game. Reports had it he later settled for 500,000. Nick Delmore of New Jersey ran the place.

The Sunny Isles casino, the Sunny Isle Inn and the Island Club flourished in the same general area.

Across the Broward County line there were Club Boheme, Colonial Inn and Green Acres, all occupied by a group of nationally known gambling racketeers who later became targets for the Kefauver Senate Crime Investigation Committee.

Girl Sentenced In Gang Slaying

TAMPA, Fla. — (AP) — Fifteen-year-old Janice Stephens awaited transfer to the Florida School for Girls Thursday while eight of her male companions in a fatal gang fight faced second degree murder charges.

Juvenile Court Judge O. D. Howell sentenced Janice to the girls' school for her part in the fight. Police said the gang "rumble" last month was the result of two youths fighting over her affections.

Janice, who once was married to a Georgia man, wielded a rubber hose in the fight, in which 15-year-old James Rowe was shot to death.

Max G. Scheuer Dies in Arcadia

ARCADIA — (AP) — Max G. Scheuer, 78, manager of the Desoto Feed Mill and Jelly plant the last 10 years, died in a hospital here Friday.

He was a member of the board of directors of the Florida Citrus Processors Association. Survivors include the widow and a daughter, Mrs. Clayton Donahue of New York City.

Truck Rate Hike KOd

Companies Told To Use Economy

By JOHN L. BOYLES
Capitol Bureau Chief

The Supreme Court threw out a rate increase of 8.72 per cent granted June 5, 1957, designed to give the 11 companies an estimated one and one-half million dollars boost in revenue.

The Railroad Commission, at the same time, shut the door on a new petition for another 15 per cent hike to produce an estimated two and one-half million dollars.

In a 4-1 decision the court said the 1957 increase had been approved on evidence the commission itself had called unreliable.

The companies had asked for a ten per cent increase and the commission allowed 8.72 per cent.

At the same time Friday, Lewis Petteway, general counsel for the Railroad Commission, said the commission had denied the trucking companies a rehearing on their request for an additional 15 per cent increase in freight rates. The commission turned down the original plea last September.

Petteway said the denial was based on the commission's view that a freight rate increase is not the only way to gain new revenue and that the companies should practice certain economies in their operations."

The Florida Rate Conference, the Traffic and Rate Bureau of St. Petersburg, the Tampa Chamber of Commerce, the Greater Miami Traffic Association, the Broward County Traffic Association and the Jacksonville Traffic Bureau challenged the commission's 1957 rate hike order.

In granting the 1957 increase the Railroad Commission said it found that the trucking lines were in need of $1,540,994 in new revenue.

Its finding was based on a "separation" study of Central Truck Lines, Inc., one of the applicants.

Central's study showed the ratio between interstate and intrastate business of the trucking companies.

Justice T. Frank Hobson quoted the commission order: "While we feel that the (separation) study did not follow the stipulated procedure, and is therefore unreliable, we must make some use of it because we have no other source from which to draw in making the necessary apportionment of revenues and expenses."

Hobson said the commission had the authority to decide upon the separation study but it measured the study against its own experience and found it unreliable.

"The question is clearly whether or not the Railroad Commission may grant an essential portion of its order solely on evidence it characterizes as unreliable. We think not," Hobson said.

Chief Justice Glenn Terrell and Justices Elwn Thomas and Stephen C. O'Connell concurred. Justice B. K. Roberts made no comment in dissenting.

Martin Protest Ignored

By PETE WEITZEL
WPB Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — David Click, central and southern Florida Flood Control District board chairman, Friday labeled a Martin County Commission protest as filled with "inaccuracies and misconceptions."

Martin County officials, in a four page resolution, opposed aspects of the FCD program for St. Lucie and Martin Counties. They asked for limited discharge of fresh water into the St. Lucie River Canal.

The present projected works of the district, they said, will be detrimental to Martin County interests.

Click said two things should be made clear to the Martin officials.

"We are going ahead with our basic program and we are not going to lower the discharge rate into the St. Lucie," he declared.

W. H. Hitt, board member from West Palm Beach, also questioned the accuracy of "facts" contained is the resolution. At his suggestion, the board turned the project over to the engineering staff for study.

The FCD Board said it would be willing to meet with the County Commission on the matter when the report of the staff was completed.

General counsel for the district, Robert Tylander, reported on the water resources legislation proposed by the State Department of Water Resources.

The recommendations, calling for the establishment of water management and conservation districts, will have only an indirect effect on the FCD, he said.

Tylander explained the districts would be small scale FCDs, and would be in areas of the state outside the 17 county FCD region.

In other action Friday, the FCD Board:

OFFICIALLY declared the extension of Canal C-8 in Dade County from Red Rd. westward as a works of the district. This action will enable the district to get the canal dug at no expense by offering the spoil for sale.

AUTHORIZED its engineering staff to work with residents of the Alligator Lake area in Osceola County to determine the feasibility of a spill way. Residents requested the aid.

LEARNED the District Court had upheld a lower court decision giving the FCD the right to build Structure 27 on C-7 in Miami. Residents filed suit to prevent the district from building on the site, near NW 79th St. and U.S. 1.

DIRECTED its staff to study reported over-drainage from Canal C-19 at Structure 47 in Glades County.

PLEDGED cooperation with the State Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission in efforts to remove squatters from Conservation Areas 1 and 2.

APPROVED the granting of a quit-claim deed to Perini-Westward Developers for land reservations on the Canal C-17 extension line in West Palm Beach.

OKAYED the purchase of five acres of land in the ultimate right-of-way of the Caloossahatchee River Canal for $22,500. FCD officials said this was less than half what they would eventually have to pay for the land.

RENEWED a contract with C and M Dredging Co. for Canal C-9 in Broward County and approved the advertising for sale of spoil on C-18 in Palm Beach County.

Quick Ruling Bid Gets Quick 'No'

TALLAHASSEE — (UPI) — The State Utilities Commission Thursday refused an immediate ruling on Southeastern Telephone Company's application for large rate increases in 15 Northwest Florida communities.

The commission, in denying the company's motion for a quick ruling, served notice it does not intend to act until court litigation in connection with the increases is settled.

He's Optimistic Over Tourists

TALLAHASSEE — (UPI) — State Hotel and Restaurant Commissioner Richard Edgerton is optimistic over South Florida's late starting winter tourist season.

He predicted Thursday hotels and motles would be filled to capacity by Feb. 1.

He said during a quick inspection of the Miami resort area that he found everyone optimistic.

Heaviest Day Since November

NEW YORK — (AP) — The stock market boomed to another record peak Friday in the heaviest trading since November.

The broad advance took in high-quality and speculative issues and added an estimated 1½ billion dollars to the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Leading issues rose fractions to 2 or 3 points, closing somewhat below their best prices of the day.

Gains were scored by steels, motors, rails, rubbers, mail order-retails, utilities, electronics, chemicals, nonferrous metals, tobaccos, electrical equipment and most airlines. Drugs were mixed and aircrafts lower.

Wall Streeters said the rise was due cheifly to conviction that prices were going higher and that the Dow Jones industrial average would not meet serious resistance until it hit 600.

The Dow industrials rose 4.58 to close at 592.72, a record top.

Little heed was given by the market to President Eisenhower's state of the union address, brokers said, since most of the points made were familiar ones.

Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton was the most active stock, rising 1⅛ to 15 3-8 on 109,700 shares. Second was Avco, up 7-8 at 12 3-8 on 92,700 shares. Third was Studebaker-Packard, up ¼ at 14 7-8 on 75,600 shares.

American Stock Exchange prices rose on volume of 2,260,000 shares compared with 1,770,000 Thursday.

Dodges Eggs in Chicago

Serene Mikoyan Visits Home of Bus Driver

By Herald Wire Services

CHICAGO — Russian Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan, unruffled by eggs, jeers and insults, smiled at Chicago's pretty girls Friday and played with a bus driver's children on a faded living room couch.

The beetle-browned Russian leader, on a tour of the U.S. which has been marked by mobs of anti-Communist pickets at Detroit and Cleveland, ran into more of the same when his plane arrived at Midway Airport.

An egg splattered the roof of his black limousine and the car made such a fast getaway that Mikoyan's official host, retired Inland Steel Board Chairman Edward L. Ryerson, was left in the lurch. The car started up before Ryerson could get in. He clung to its roof a few moments, and then took another car.

More demonstrators, 200-strong at their peak, pelted the Russian's party with eggs, threw placards, tried to break through police cordons as Mikoyan entered a downtown hotel for a news conference and then crossed the street to lunch with 40 civic leaders at the exclusive Chicago Club.

Among those present were Adlai E. Stevenson, John S. Knight, editor and publisher of The Miami Herald and other Knight newspapers, Charles Percy, head of the Bell and Howell Camera Co. and other prominent citizens of Chicago.

At Friday's pre-luncheon news conference Mikoyan said among other things that he expects no new changes in the Soviet government and that lack of trust is the greatest obstacle to ending the cold war.

He stated also that the placard-waving, egg-tossing demonstrations of groups of Iron Curtain refugees and other anti-Communists which greeted him here and elsewhere on his trip are comedies to which he attaches no importance.

After the luncheon the deputy premier took a $100-a-week bus driver up on his invitation to drop around and visit.

The bus driver was Joseph Polowsky, 41, a veteran of the meeting of American and Russian troops on the River Elbe at the end of World War II who has conducted a one-man crusade for U.S.-Soviet understanding.

Polowsky had telephoned Mikoyan in Cleveland with an invitation to hobnob with "a typical American family." Accordingly, Mikoyan's half-mile motorcade pulled up in front of the North Side house where Polowsky lives in a $97.50-a-month, four-room apartment on the second floor with his wife and two children.

Mikoyan, a smiling, grandfatherly figure, sat on the living room couch with the Polowski's two-year-old son, Benjamin, on his lap. Mrs. Marie Polowsky, 27, dressed her her Sunday best, held the family's baby, 15-month-old Irene.

"I have 10 grandchildren," the Russian told his hosts through an interpreter, "and I lost a son at Stalingrad. I hope your children and my grandchildren will all live in peace in the future."

Mikoyan stayed only 15 minutes in the Polowsky's apartment after the bus driver helped him off with his coat. He examined the tiny kitchen, containing a four-burner gas stove and an aging refrigerator, and two sparsely-furnished bedrooms before leaving. Polowsky didn't even have time to get out a bottle of wine he had bought especially for the occasion.

85 Million Boxes Stand

U.S. Orange Estimate Stuns Citrus Growers

More State News, Pages 12A, 13A, 1B

LAKELAND —(UPI)— The federal government failed to reduce its Florida citrus crop estimate of 85 million boxes of oranges Friday and many veteran citrusmen blinked in amazement.

Most of the Florida industry has considered the 85-million-box estimate excessive since the first monthly crop forecast was issued last October and they had believed the U.S. Agriculture Department would revise the estimate downward in its January estimate. But the federal men stood firm Friday.

In other estimates, over which there has been no disagreement, the government also left the grapefruit and orange crop forecasts unchanged — 34 million boxes of grapefruit and 4,500,000 boxes of tangerines.

General Manager Robert W. Rutledge of Florida Citrus Mutual said "the failure of the Crop Report Board of the USDA to reduce its estimate of production for Florida citrus is difficult to understand."

General Manager Homer Hooks of the Florida Citrus Commission said "today's estimate of our citrus crop . . . doesn't quite jibe with the feelings of several commission members I talked with here yesterday. They thought the government might cut the estimate by one or two million boxes."

Only Wednesday, Mutual's staff reported to the board of directors that it still believed that the orange crop would only total 80 million boxes—five million less than the government estimate. And at that time it delivered a detailed market analysis based on that figure.

"Informed fruit handlers, growers and buyers," Rutledge said, "have contended for weeks that the current estimate of the government is somewhat overstated."

He said "individual crops have not picked out in accordance with preseason estimates. Fruit has failed to attain normal size development and wastage of fruit due to abnormal weather conditions has been extremely heavy."

Plot to Kill Rhee Reported

TOKYO —(AP)— A high Korean source reported Friday that a Communist plot to assassinate President Syngman Rhee and other top leaders of the South Korean government was uncovered recently.

No confirmation of the report was available. There was some suspicion that it was being circulated in an attempt to justify the controversial new security law which Rhee's majority Liberal Party rammed through the South Korean Assembly Dec. 24. Such plots are known to have existed in the past, however.

Who Ran That Plush Casino?

Raiders Checking On Bigtime Layout

Barons Flourishing? 13A

By BOB HARDIN and JAMES BUCHANAN
Herald Staff Writers

The intricate operations of a bigtime gambling casino were revealed Friday as authorities dug into the background of a plush "tourist trap" which they raided shortly after midnight at Golden Beach.

Tipped off by the City Council, Golden Beach police and state attorney investigators arrested 25 persons in a palatial home at 277 Ocean Dr.

The residence, belonging to a Virginia horse breeder, had been leased Dec. 23 and went into operation the next day as an ultra-chic gambling house.

Just who rented the property remained a mystery hidden by make-believe names.

It was no secret, however, that $5,000 cash was laid on the line by the gamblers for the Dec. 23 to Feb. 1 occupancy. And they'd promised to put up another $5,000 to keep the casino open until May 1.

Officers broke up the game at 12:30 a.m., simply by sending Golden Beach Police Chief Richard Kuiken up to the door to knock for admittance.

Once inside, he summoned four other officers and state attorney investigators who helped make the arrest of a dozen men around the dice tables on the second floor and another 13 seated at cocktail tables on the first floor.

As the raiders entered, employes, themselves, of the casino attempted to destroy evidence by throwing chips, gambling equipment and parts of the dice tables out a window.

While no money was in evidence at the time of the raid, officers said the tables contained $10,000 and $5,000 chips and loads of blank checks on which customers could write the names of their local banks.

The casino went into operation Dec. 24, the day after the home was leased through a Fort Lauderdale real estate agent. The state attorney's office said Mrs. Georgia R. Clarke handled the deal for the owner, Daniel Van Clief of Charlottesville, Va. Neither had any knowledge of the gambling operations planned.

Mrs. Clarke told officers the residence was rented by a "Harold Jenkins," who gave no local address but said he would live in the home with his brother, Robert Pappie Jenkins, beginning Jan. 15.

"Jenkins" identified his brother as a partner in the Pappie-Stewart Drilling Co. of Cut Bank, Mont.

Mrs. Clarke said she would be able to identify "Jenkins," and was to be shown police photos of the men arrested by Assistant State Attorney Arthur Huttoe on Monday.

The Herald, checking Cut Bank, found a Pattie and Stewart Drilling Co., in which R. L. Pattie was a partner.

Dice Were Loaded For the Suckers

"The suckers never had a chance," the state attorney's investigator said.

As he talked, he flipped a pair of loaded dice seized in Friday's early morning gambling house raid at Golden Beach.

In his other hand he held a new gimmick which the shills have developed to fleece their customers.

"These dice are topped," he said, holding a pair that looked perfect. "And these," pointing to another pair, "are loaded."

The special "house dice" are put into a game whenever a customer "gets hot" and it looks as if he might take a little money from the promoters.

In Friday morning's raid, agents found a small, tray-like affair to hold dice which they said had been attached to the shill's belts.

"A shill, who looks like a regular customer but works for the house, is the man who flips the bad dice into a game and busts the customer who has a bill roll riding on the next throw," the agent explained.

"These were inexperienced shills," the agent added. "A good shill can hide these extra, trick dice in the palm of his hand and doesn't need this tray."

The "topped" dice are shaved by machine so they are lopsided and come up with an ace-deuce "crap" showing, or with a four-three "seven out."

The "loaded" dice are drilled, metal poured into the cavity and then covered so they have the same effect. A good crap player can "feel" loaded dice but usually is unable to distinguish the slight difference in weight between "topped" and regular dice.

In the case of the Golden Beach operation, where the agents said four shills were operating, they had to carry the extra dice in the "tray" attached to their belts and beneath their coats.

"Sure," an agent said. "When the customer placing his bets with a hot shill lost a wad, the shill lost too. But the shill didn't care, because what he lost wasn't his money to begin with—it belonged to the house."

The shills, in most cases, use fake dice to run up a hot streak and get customers "betting with them" or on their side against the house. When the customer's pile on the table gets big enough, the shill switches dice for a "sure loss" and the customer loses heavily.

State Due Weekend Of Chilly Weather

The new cold front which rolled over Florida may put a chill on the state for the whole weekend, weathermen said Friday.

Temperatures in Miami dropped a few degrees after the front passed early in the morning and hovered in the mid-60s most of the day. The rest of Florida had readings in the low and mid-50s Friday.

"It looks like another day of pretty much the same sort of weather today," said Forecaster William McGehee of the Miami Weather Bureau.

He said it was too early to tell how long the chill would remain, but that there was "some potential of a protracted cold spell."

Predictions were for readings of close to 50 in the western suburbs of Miami early today and the mid to upper 50s in areas closer to the water. Daytime temperatures should be in the mid-60s, McGehee said.

Blustery north winds kept small craft warnings up all around the state, except for the area north of Fort Myers on the west coast, and McGehee said weekend fishermen probably will find seas rough today and Sunday.

Temperatures were expected to hit close to freezing in North Florida early today and not go much above the mid-50s during the day.

State of Union Message Accents Need of Defenses

Complete Text of President's Message 7A

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Eisenhower challenged a "yes, but" Democratic Congress Friday to join him in quest of military and economic strength for a surging America and a just peace for a fearful world.

These were the great goals set forth for the year ahead in a presidential State of the Union message. In general terms, Eisenhower outlined a formidable but "sensible posture of defense" along with a balanced budget and war against inflation.

In these days when the latest bombers "cost their weight in gold," Eisenhower said, "we can afford everything we clearly need, but we cannot afford one cent of waste."

The President appealed to the legislators to work with him to keep in balance the 77 billion dollar budget he is sending to them Jan. 19. If this is done, he said, there is hope for tax reforms "in the foreseeable future."

A White House official interpreted this to mean tax cuts, but not before the 1961 fiscal year — beginning July 1, 1960 — a period which spans the next presidential election campaign.

To Senate and House members assembled in the House chamber, and to Americans who heard him by radio and television, Eisenhower said:

"One basic purpose unites us: To promote strength and security, side by side with liberty and opportunity."

The President drew his heaviest applause for jabs at inflation and a pledge to defend the people of Berlin "against any effort to destroy their freedom."

Comments after he finished his 5,000-word, 42-minute speech fit into a familiar format. Republicans offered generous praise. Some said it was the best presidential message they ever heard.

Many Democrats found no reason to quarrel with the broad objectives. Some said the speech lacked meaty details. Others were strictly uncomplimentary. Some pointedly yawned.

"A bowl of mush without even a bean," said Rep. Richard Bolling (D., Mo.)

"Evidently," said freshman Rep. Neal Smith (D., Iowa), "you can't teach an old general much about farm income and expenses merely by his buying a farm."

The "yes, but" reaction was strongest where it counted most — among the Democratic leaders who will have so much to say about how the presidential program fares.

Both Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn and Lyndon B. Johnson, leader of Senate Democrats, noted that the last Congress, also controlled by

'Dynamic' Speech To GOP

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Democrats, who control Congress, found little to get excited about Friday in President Eisenhower's State of the Union message.

Most Republicans liked it very much. "Dynamic" was the word that Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R., Mass.) had for it. "Heartening," said Sen. Everett Dirksen (R., Ill.).

It was literally a "ho-hum" reaction that came from Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate majority leader.

Johnson was yawning in the audience when Eisenhower told the House and Senate he intends to submit a balanced budget.

And in his formal statement of comment, Johnson said:

"Mr. Eisenhower's hopes for a balanced budget remain to be proved . . . Our efforts will be not only to balance the fiscal books of the nation but to balance the books of our public trust as well."

The No. 1 man in the House, Speaker Sam Rayburn (D., Tex.), took a casual, matter-of-fact attitude toward the President's speech. Rayburn

The Highlights

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Textual highlights of President Eisenhower's State of the Union message Friday:

Russia

We can have no confidence in any treaty to which Communists are a party except where such a treaty provides within itself for self-enforcing mechanisms . . .

Peace and Its Price

Modern weapons are exceedingly expensive . . .

America will never give up the hope that eventually all nations can, with mutual confidence, drastically reduce these non-productive expenditures . . .

America's security can be assured only within a world community of strong, stable, independent nations, in which the concepts of freedom, justice and human dignity can flourish.

—There can be no such thing as Fortress America . . .

Inflation

The material foundation of our national safety is a strong and expanding economy. This we have—and this we must maintain . . .

The basic question facing us today is more than survival—the military defense of national life and territory. It is the preservation of a way of life . . .

We can afford everything we clearly need, but we cannot afford one cent of waste . . .

The Budget

By working together, the Congress and the executive can keep a balance between income and outgo. If this is done there is real hope that we can look forward to a time in the foreseeable future when needed tax reforms can be accomplished . . .

Civil Rights

We are making noticeable progress in the field of civil rights . . . That progress must continue . . .

Pat Boone's teenage weaknesses were beer-drinking and shoplifting. But the two vices never really had a chance. Pat conquered them almost as soon as they appeared.

Mary Astor's weaknesses, as a glamorous Hollywood actress in the 1930s, were men and drink. And she gave both of them an ample chance. "I was out of control," she says of those days.

Both of them have a lot to tell Herald readers in their new books. In "Twixt Twelve and Twenty," Pat Boone gives teenagers the benefit of his experience in growing up — the mistakes he made, the things he learned about people and himself, why he holds so strong a faith in God.

In "My Story," Mary Astor writes of her dizzying rise to the game she was far too young to control; of her stormy love affairs and their tragic consequence, of her desperate struggle to keep her child free from the shame of scandal.

Both of these entertaining books begin running in series form in Sunday's edition of

Won't Need Force For Peace—Castro

Cuban Meets Death Unafraid

Sentenced to death by a revolutionary tribunal, Police Chief Cornelio Rojas of Santa Clara marches briskly to the wall where he was executed by a firing squad. Rojas was convicted of acts against the revolutionary movement. These dramatic pictures were obtained from the Havana newspaper Avance.

The People Support Us, Says Fidel

By GEORGE SOUTHWORTH
Herald Latin America Editor

HAVANA, Cuba — Fidel Castro vowed Friday "the revolutionary army will never again need the force of arms" to maintain peace in war-torn Cuba.

In an interview with The Herald, Castro declared, "the people of Cuba are on our side and the day they don't want us, we will leave."

And, he warned, the nation "must never permit anyone to conspire against her peace again."

The 32-year-old Cuban leader said he knows trouble may lie ahead and he indicated it may come from within the revolutionary organizations that won the victory.

"I must tell you that at this moment there are elements of revolutionary organizations who are hiding contraband arms and ammunition," Castro said. "Arms for what?

"Who are they going to fight against? Are they going to fight against the provisional government that has the support of all the Cuban people?

"Are they going to fight against a free government that respects the rights of the people now that there is no censorship of the press?

"The press is free now and people can meet together and all of the rights of citizens have been restored."

One of the biggest problems faced by the new government at this moment is to disarm the thousands of men who joined the rebel movement after the victory for hope of personal gain.

Castro said he is trying to bring about a closer union of all the rebel forces. He thanked former President Carlos Prio Socarras for his aid to the rebels "and unconditional support of the new government."

"If you ask me what troops I prefer to command," Castro said, "I would answer the people of the nation.

"The people can't be conquered and the common people won this war. We had no army, boats, tanks, planes, cannons, military schools . . .

"How did the rebel army win the war? By telling the truth. How did the despotic government lose the war? By telling lies to its soldiers.

"But the real winner of the war were the people. The people who suffered seven years of horror," he declared.

Castro said the people of Cuba are very much interested in learning if the new rebel government will make the same mistakes of other revolutionary governments.

He said the circumstances are different now and the opportunities are greater now for his government to completely carry out its destiny.

"The people of Cuba want peace with justice and liberty," he said, "and we don't want peace at a price. We must remember that Batista also spoke of peace and order . . ."

10 Are Dead In Plane Wreckage

KINGSPORT, Tenn. — (AP) — A rescue party reached the burned wreckage of a Southeast Airlines plane near the top of rugged Holston Mountain late Friday. All 10 persons aboard it were dead.

Rescuers said they found a grim scene of death and destruction in a charred area of heavy woods and thick underbrush about 30 miles east of here.

The plane, a twin-engine DC3, disappeared Thursday night while trying to grope its way through fog to an instrument landing at nearby Tri-Cities airport. The last radio report to the field from pilot Robert L. Gollmier of Kingsport said the plane was preparing to land.

The passengers included Dr. R. L. Hasche, 62, president of Hasche Engineering Co. of Johnson City. Other passengers were W. L. Dennis, Johnson City; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Halstead and J. A. Bradley, Kingsport; and Robert Matthews and James A. Porter, both of Nashville.

Challenge From Ike Leaves Demos Cold

the Democrats, chopped $5,600,000,000 out of the last Eisenhower budget. Yet there were no hints that there might be a repeat performance.

Rather, many Democrats have criticized the Eisenhower budget, especially the $40,900,000,000 reported included for the armed forces, as inadequate and unrealistic.

But as Eisenhower saw it, "it is a realistic budget with wholly attainable objectives."

In general terms, Eisenhower renewed bids for legislation to strengthen civil rights, correct abuses in labor unions, protect the purchasing power of the dollar, and help the farmer while trimming heavy federal spending for agriculture.

He promised increased spending on health programs, science and education, water resources, highways, and rebuilding cities.

Details were left for later messages. So was any spelling out of places where Congress can economize to get government costs again within income.

In national defense, Eisenhower said, increased efficiency and avoidance of waste are a secondary aim. The prime goal, he said, is a sensible posture of defense. His budget, he said, advances both.

"Working by these guide lines," the President said, "I believe with all my heart that America can be as sure of the strength and efficiency of her armed forces as she is and has always been of their loyalty. I am equally sure that the nation will thus avoid useless expenditures which, in the name of security, might tend to undermine the economy and, therefore, the nation's safety."

said the executive and his wife and daughter were driving toward Florida in easy stages, but had been in Cut Bank on Dec. 23, when the Van Clief home was rented by the gamblers.

Pattie and his family were expected "within two days" at the Chattanooga, Tenn., home of E. B. Stanger before continuing on to St. Petersburg, their final destination.

The Stangers were not available for a telephone call early Friday evening.

Oddly enough, another person with the name Stanger was among the 25 arrested in the raid. He identified himself as Carl Stanger, 54, of the Marine Hotel.

State attorney's men, who refused to be quoted, said "there's evidence that someone is going around the county selling phoney 'police protection' to would-be casino operators."

They theorize that gamblers are being told, by someone, "I can fix you up for a fee." On this assurance, and the payment of huge sums of money, the gamblers are opening dice dens.

Friday morning's raid was the second within a week by police who wrote finis to plush operations. A week ago, officers found a "house-within-a-house" built in such a way that no one on the outside could know gambling was in process inside.

No patrons or employes were present at the time of last week's raid.

Friday morning, however, the officers had better luck.

They described the Ocean Drive home as a beautiful residence, and operating with only a "minimum lookout. The man assigned to tip-off employes against approaching police "strolled from the garage when Police Chief Kuiken approached," one source said, "and must have been half-asleep on the job."

Kuiken, although in full uniform, never was challenged after knocking on the door and being admitted. Since he was virtually invited into the home he needed no warrant.

Officials said this "may be further evidence that employes believed a 'fix' had been made with authorities, since they had no fear in admitting a police officer."

Kuiken went through the first floor dining and cocktail rooms, where mink-clad women were sitting, and on up a sweeping set of stairs to the air conditioned gaming room.

There he announced, "This is a raid." His words were the starting gun for a general wrecking of the gambling equipment, and some employes stepped onto the second floor balcony to throw chips and table covers onto the lawn.

There was no effort by either customers or employes to resist arrest. The women were not taken into custody.

State attorney's men said the case "still is under investigation, and it has opened up other avenues of the gambling picture which we will pursue."

Acting States Attorney John Wynn said the gamblers and clients of the casino would be prosecuted, "and we'll keep pressure on the racketeers and others attempting to engage in any illegal gambling operation in the county."

Value of the gambling equipment in the huge, 10-room home, was set at "about $600." It was described as the "break-away" type which can be moved easily and quickly from one place to another."

The prisoners were booked for suspicion of gambling at Dade County jail as:

"A STRANGE new plague has appeared on the American scene. Creeping into every form of domestic life, it has taken tremendous toll in lives and misery, unbelievable when compared with other diseases."

The above is from an article by Dr. Marvin Weil in the January issue of The Bulletin of the Dade County Medical Association. He is talking about accidents.

"During 1957 accidents afflicted 9,600,000 people," he writes, "causing 95,000 deaths and untold hardships. Hospital costs due to accidents amounted to $300,000,000. The past 50 years has seen great progress in immunization against illness and in the chemotherapeutic triumph over many diseases, but the accident rate remains almost unchanged."

said: "We'll look over his recommendations very thoroughly, and then we'll write the ticket."

The new Republican leaders of the House and Senate, Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana and Sen. Dirksen of Illinois, were enthusiastic.

"To those shouting for leadership," Dirksen said, "the President's message is a clear and ringing answer. It supplies a chart and compass for the Congress and the country . . .

"The accent on the perils of inflation is a timely warning to those who believe that by means of planned deficits we can spend ourselves rich."

Rep. Halleck's comment: "This is a message of strength — of strength to meet the Communist threat to free men wherever it appears; of strength to continue the fight for peace."

Democratic commendation for parts of the speech came from Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, who liked what he called Eisenhower's determination to move toward sound finances.

"If we do not reduce nonessential expenditures now," Byrd said, "the alternative is to spend and spend, and tax and tax. There is no hope for sound tax reduction with continuing deficits."

National Summary

Intense low pressure disturbances off both the northern Atlantic and Pacific coasts maintained gusty winds while a cold mound of high pressure continued to settle from Canada over much of the country's midsection.

Northerly winds sweeping across the eastern half of the nation limited 70 degree weather at noon to extreme southern Florida with temperatures in the 30s and 40s reaching across most of the Gulf States.

Precipitation patterns will show little change over the nation during the next 24 hours. Colder air will push more deeply into the southeast and the mild temperature trend in the west will expand into the Plains on Saturday.

Intermittent rains in the Pacific states will be heavy at times but showers and snow flurries working eastward to the mountains from Montana to Utah are expected to remain mostly light and scattered. Temperatures 10 to 20 degrees below zero are likely in northern Minnesota and teens should penetrate northern Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia with freezing readings on the Gulf coast.

Snow showers are forecast from the Great Lakes region into New England and southward over the mountains to West Virginia through Saturday.

Project Rejected By City

$250,000 Plan Becomes Issue

By TOM MORGAN
Naples Bureau Chief

NAPLES—Opposition to any investment of city funds in the proposed civic center had developed from the finance committee of City Council, following endorsement of the center project earlier in the week by the Senior Citizens Club.

The center has been under consideration for more than two years. First a Kiwanis Club project, it was taken under city consideration when Mayor W. Roy Smith said it could only be accomplished if included in a general bond issue.

Mayor Smith recently reversed himself to declare the center should be built by donations and the funds would not be difficult to obtain.

Apparently fearing a return to the bond issue proposal the Naples Civic Association has said there is no need for it and the city cannot meet the cost, estimated to run as high as $250,000.

Endorsement by the Senior Citizens, offshoot of the City Recreation Department, declared the building is essential and that "contrary opinions although boldly asserted are ill advised and without foundation in fact."

The club's view was not unanimous. Charter Member Samuel W. Bell declared the group was being dragged into a political controversy; the members were not freeholders "or even residents" and so would not pay for or even know the cost of the project, and finally that the resolution was "railroaded" through the group.

Bell added he did not oppose the center but it should be considered only after other "urgent" projects.

New Dye Bill Introduced In Congress

Herald Bureau

WASHINGTON — Legislation authorizing the use of a new dye in the coloring of Florida oranges was introduced in congress Friday by Sen. Spessard Holland and Rep. James Haley of Sarasota.

Identical bills were proposed in the Senate by Holland and in the house by Haley.

Under a recent U.S. Supreme Court decision, Red 32, the dye which has been used for over 20 years, can not be used after March 1.

The Holland Haley bill would authorize the use of the new and much less toxic coloring known as Citrus Red 2.

"The Food and Drug Administration and the citrus industry are in agreement," Holland said, "that the intended use of the new color will be completely safe.

"The bill must be speedily enacted (by March 1) if the citrus industry is to be allowed to continue coloring oranges.

"Our legislation, basically, has the support of the FDA, and I anticipate early passage."

Coloring is added to the skins of most of the oranges Florida markets in fresh form. Some 19,000,000 boxes of fresh oranges were marketed by Florida last year.

Most of the state's crop goes into processed products.

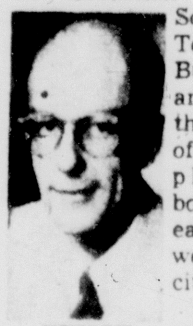
Bulging Micco Is Mixed Up

By BILL BUNGE
Melbourne Bureau Chief

MELBOURNE — One of the fastest growing unincorporated areas in Brevard County is the community of Micco, at the southern end 13 miles below Melbourne. And it's perhaps the most "mixed up" place in the entire county.



BUNGE

Residents there were put on the Sebastian exchange by Southern Bell Telephone Co. But phone bills are payable to the Vero Beach office, and telephoning Melbourne is just as easy as if you were inside that city.

However, Micco folks have to use a special code to get a friend on the line down Vero Beach way. Perhaps this was done because Vero is farther away from Micco than Melborne.

And several years ago the Post Office Department closed Micco's post office, forcing residents to either get their mail on a Vero Beach rural route or at the nearby community of Grant, to the north.

Melbourne's rural route stops at the Micco line, which nobody can presently find because the entrance signs were removed when U.S. 1 was four-laned.

Micco is under the jurisdiction of the Melbourne Florida Power and Light Co. office, yet electric bills are paid in Sebastian, next town south, and in Indian River County.

To make this situation a little more confusing, Micco children go to school in Melbourne because the community is in Brevard.

Some Melbourne leaders are becoming alarmed because they feel that Micco — and the entire southern end of Brevard — should be closer to Melbourne. Besides, one of the biggest single housing developments in this Central East Coast section is going up at Micco, making it more of a prize.

And these Melbourne leaders are correct, this corner feels. After all, Micco, Grant and the other nearby communities ARE IN Brevard County.

CHARLIE SMITH was "wearing" something new when he and the missus came down here the other day from Ludington, Mich., for their annual winter stay with South Brevard relatives.

You see, last year Charlie was bald — "bald as an egg," he used to comment. On this trip he showed prospects of having one of the best heads of hair in about 25 years.

How did he accomplish this? Well, Charlie — who celebrated his 75th birthday last Sunday — attributes his amazing new start of hair to just plain massaging.

"I rubbed my head until it hurt. Every day, too, for a whole year. At first," he explained, "my scalp was so tight it actually made a cracking noise when I rubbed. Tight scalp, that's what makes you bald," Charlie declared.

His story, and results, are so convincing that even I might give it a whirl.

Tracking Station, Launching Pads Among Projects

By DAN BROWN
Cocoa Bureau Chief

Leading the multi-million dollar list of projects is the 16-million-dollar Capehart housing area at Patrick AFB, a 999-home development for Air Force officers and enlisted men.

The biggest chunk of the remaining money—$14,133,000—is going into three launching areas for Titan intercontinental ballistic missiles at Cape Canaveral.

Completion of the 60-million-dollar program will push the Air Force's investment in its missile-testing layout to beyond 500 million dollars—most of it spent since 1950.

The program also exceeds Brevard County's 1958 total of civilian construction by about five million dollars.

Money for the Capehart project is coming from civilian mortgage companies which loaned it under 100 per cent FHA guarantees, but the rest is all military money appropriated by the Air Force, the Army and the Navy.

At Cape Canaveral, more than 25 million is being spent. The balance of the 60 million is going into the island stations of the Atlantic missile range, Patrick and the military docks at Port Canaveral.

At Patrick, the top-ranking project is three airmen's dormitories which will cost $1,258,000.

Other base projects include a guided missile engineering laboratory, $985,000; utilities for Capehart, $775,000; a stand-by power plant, $507,000; visiting officers quarters, $479,000; and a communications building, $450,000.

The station at Antiqua in the federation of the West Indies is getting the lion's share of the island money—a $2,792,000 chunk.

A missile-tracking station will account for $1,932,000 of the sum and the balance is earmarked for other instruments, an electrical distribution system and a communication facility.

Nearly another million will be pumped into the station at Fernando de Noronha off Brazil which needs water distillation equipment and electric power. At Eleuthera in the Bahamas, $878,000 will go for an azuza (radio transponder) missile instruments system.

At Cape Canaveral, pads for the Pershing tactical range missile — which is being built in Orlando — will cost over two million dollars.

Other Cape Canaveral allocations include:

$950,000 for additional electrical distribution lines.

$619,000 for a war head service building.

$504,000 for an engineering building.

$454,000 for a missile assembly building.

And $793,000 for new azuza setup similar to the one installed at Eleuthera.

The 16-million-dollar Capehart housing project is the largest residential subdivision under way in Brevard although the Gaines Construction Co. of Miami is planning a 50,000-home development near Micco.

Virtually all the work to be done under the 60-million-dollar program will be performed by civilian contractors.

Collier Bar Mum on Move Of County Seat to Naples

Herald Bureau

NAPLES — Lawyers in Naples, probably those most interested in movement of the county seat of Collier County here from Everglades, have taken no stand on the proposal.

"Possibly informally and individually most lawyers are for the move unless they have other commitments," said Bob Scott, president of the Collier County Bar Association.

The group has only one member outside Naples, Dick Stanley of Immokalee.

Scott explained movement of the county seat here would be of more advantage to lawyers than to any one else "except those using lawyers." Court costs for service of legal papers out of Everglades are $25. The fee might be cut to $5 if the courthouse moved here.

A meeting of the School Bond Advisory Committee Monday at 8 p.m. in the Florida Power & Light Co. office will consider the county seat movement petition being circulated by Naples Junior Chamber of Commerce members.

Pitt Orick, Naples chairman, said the group would take any action as individuals, not as a committee. Jaycees held up their petition in November to prevent interference with the vote on 2.9 million dollars worth of school bonds. It was feared the bond election might have lost if the county seat movement became an issue. It passed by a comfortable margin.

Opposition to the petition has developed in the last few days, led off by Mayor W. Roy Smith and the Collier County News with support of a taxpayers' group, the Collier County Citizen's research.

Support of the move has come from some county officials including Sheriff Doug Hendry and from residents of Naples and Immokalee. The Immokalee Bulletin has backed the proposal to change the county seat to Naples as "the only logical answer."

Allen Studies Charges

Herald Bureau

KEY WEST — Tax Assessor Joe Allen Friday said he was "studying" charges made against him in a letter to Gov. LeRoy Collins by Fred J. Dion, a local retired businessman.

Dion told the governor that improper assessing in the county and city, under 50 per cent of value, accounted for Key West's chronic financial problems.

Allen said he read a report of Dion's letter in The Herald Friday and may issue a statement on the matter soon.

60 Boats Take Part in Fishing

STUART — More than 60 boats are expected to participate in the Fifth Annual Light Tackle Sailfish Tournament, sponsored by the Stuart Sailfish Club Saturday through Monday.

The contest will be held also on Tuesday should weather blank out fishing in any of the scheduled days.

All sails must be released except those taken for mounting, unless they are more than 7 ft. 9 inches long. The lighter the line used the more points the angler receives for each fish shipped. Awards and trophys will be given Monday at the buffet dinner at 6:30 p.m. at the Key Club Sunrise Inn.

Navy Cites 3 Men For Boat Rescue

LCDR BIRD

HARRELL

Herald Bureau

KEY WEST—"Keen observance and alert action" in rescuing victims of a recent charter boat explosion, earned three locally-based Navymen letters of commendation Friday.

The letters went to Lt. Cmdr. George W. Bird of Texon, Tex.; Melvin R. Petri, torpedoman second, of Wausau, Wisc.; and Lee Harrell, machinist's mate third, of Marshville, N. C. All are assigned to the Surface Anti-Submarine Development Detachment here.

The three men were aboard a small craft Dec. 10 off Sand Key, near Key West, when they saw the charter cruiser "Sea Raider II" catch fire and explode.

They immediately rushed to the side of the stricken boat.

The commendation in part reads:

"Due to your keen observance and alert action eight injured survivors were rescued from the perils of the sea, medical assistance was called and the survivors were expeditiously returned to port.

"You actions in this matter were in the highest traditions of the Naval service."

Rear Adm. Francis McCorkle, base commander, signed Bird's commendation. The other two were signed by Capt. C. R. Stephen, skipper of the detachment.

Earman To Head Chamber

Herald Correspondent

VERO BEACH — Joe Henry Earman, county and city civil defense director, has been elected president of the Vero Beach-Indian River County Chamber of Commerce.

Other officers, elected Thursday by the new board of directors are Tracy L. Turner Jr. and Robert Spillman, vice presidents; and E. G. Thatcher, executive secretary-treasurer.

The annual recognition dinner of the board of directors will be at noon Monday at the Riviera Dining Room.

Invited guests will include Mayor Harry C. Offutt Jr., City Manager Eugene Lyon, County Commission Chairman Robert W. Graves, past presidents and outgoing directors of the chamber.

Plans will be announced for the coming membership campaign and for the annual membership banquet Jan. 26, according to Thatcher.

Not Guilty Plea Filed For Sailors

Herald Bureau

KEY WEST — Two teenage sailors charged with armed robbery were bound over to Criminal Court Friday after a preliminary hearing before Peace Justice Roy Hamlin.

A plea of not guilty was entered by the state for Noah A. Krouse and Joseph Suozzi, both 18, in the absence of legal counsel for them.

The pair are accused of stealing $66 from Oliveri's store, 811 Fleming St., on Dec. 28.

Mrs. Catherine Carawan, a clerk at the store, testified that Suozzi held a knife to her back while he emptied a cash register. She said Krouse waited outside the store.

Four other witnesses substantially corroborated Mrs. Carawan's testimony.

The two sailors, both of whom are assigned to the Key West-based USS Salinan, are being held in the county jail in lieu of $5,000 bond each.

Volunteers Working In Fund Drive

Herald Correspondent

JENSEN BEACH — More than 55 volunteer workers are canvassing all homes and business places in Jensen Beach and Rio in the three-day drive to raise $6,000 for the Jensen Beach-Rio United Funds Association.

The kick-off breakfast held at Seymour's Inn Thursday, the first day of the drive, was attended by 55 persons. William J. Weiss, a director, was emcee of the program.

The Rev. Allan Purdom, also a director, traced the history of man's needs and how they were taken care of through biblical days, to the present time.

Co-drive chairmen Mrs. Warren Shipes, Jr., and Robert Larsen gave instructions to the workers in the two areas. All workers are to report the last day of the drive, which is Sunday, between 7-9 p.m. at Mrs. Shipes home on Park Rd., and Hickory Drive results.

A "Victory Dance" will be held Jan. 28 at Seymour's Inn. The board of directors will meet Jan. 22 at 8 p.m. at the Jensen Beach Chamber of Commerce building to receive final reports. The finance committee consisting of Mrs. Frank Wacha, president; Mrs. Zola Swarthout, vice-president and Martin Wahl, secretary-treasurer, will recommend the amount of funds to be distributed to the nine participating agencies.

Pinkie Lee Takes Latin Quarter Like Grant . . .

IT TAKES some courage for a night club impresario, no matter how big his reserve resources, to book into a smart supper club featuring a French revue an act which in recent years has been best known as the darling of the pablum and tootsie roll set.

And it requires some guts — or at least a high degree of confidence in one's basic talents — for that entertainer to face such an adult audience as frequents E. M. Loew's Latin Quarter on Palm Island — a spot where one's loyalty is tested not by regular chomping on tootsie rolls, but in the taste for — and the ability to absorb — a required minimum of alcoholic beverages.

Experienced Trouper Wins Fans

BUT E. M. LOEW and Pinkie Lee displayed that courage, which was further tested by a not too terrific turn-out for his opening. Before the evening was over, however, Lee had just about won his audience with an ingratiating manner, a Bert Lahrish attitude and timing, a unique eccentric dancing skill, and a well-spotted demonstration of the the tricks and surefire lines learned in his years in show business, an experience which ranged from burlesque to kiddie TV shows — believe it or not, in that order.

On paper it seems a colossal mistake to try to entertain people who would come to the swank Latin Quarter with a male strip tease, a high bosomed lass tearing the pants away from a pint-sized foil, frequent reference with ribald intent to extra-sensory reactions of the anatomy, and so on.

But Lee makes them seem inoffensive because he is himself an inoffensive and apologetic fellow. He even begs the audience's indulgence for some of his stunts but points out that the theater of operations is a night club.

The balance of the Latin Quarter show is basically the same as it was for Sophie Tucker's engagement, with the thrilling adagio dance stylings of Holger and Dolores providing the focal highpoint of Donn Arden's "Sky High" revue.

FIDO Keeps Movies Off British TV

THERE MAY BE a mixed metaphor somewhere in the following about not letting the dog you feed bite the hand that paid for his smiling teeth—or it may be mere coincidence that the letters of the Film Industry Defense Organization, which has the aim of keeping theatrical films off British television spell FIDO! . . . Shirley Jones, opening at the Fontainebleau La Ronde next Tuesday, just finished a movie called "Never Steal Anything Small," with Jimmie Cagney. Did you know that James worked in vaudeville under the name of Nye, which is the name of the bandleader at the Fontainebleau's next door neighbor, the Eden Roc?

Amusements

Movies Night Clubs Drama

Janet Leigh . . . on way

Jerry Brooks . . . patient

Paul Gray . . . 11th

Harry Mufson, Eden Roc boss, off to New York to buy talent. Wonder if he ever thought of opening a penthouse lounge and calling it Top o' the Roc? . . . Those with a pipeline of optimism to Cuba predict the shooting will resume during the first week in February. They probably mean the crap-shooting, however. It is rumored that a million dollars says a casino for tourists only (as in Nassau) plan may be tried!

If there is to be a more liberal view it won't be a matter of financial fix—entirely. It has been proven in the last six years in Cuba that there is more sticky sugar to be gotten from 10 miles of new highway or 14 stories of public building than in all of Havana's 13 gambling places combined.

George Raft Visits Jerry Brooks

GEORGE RAFT, host at Capri Casino in Havana, at Luau before visiting Jerry Brooks — partner in both Luau and the Capri—at the Heart Institute . . . Jan Murray's "Treasure Hunt" TV show will originate from Fontainebleau Hotel pool area Jan. 18-29 . . . Janet Leigh and the kiddies to join Tony Curtis here in about two weeks. He'll be working with Cary Grant on "Operation Petticoat" at Key West. Janet and Tony's "The Perfect Furlough," will open at Wometco Theaters soon . . . "No House Limit," which Grant may do in Havana, with Dick Powell as director, has been retitled "Casino." . . . "Tomboy," penned by two laddies from Firehouse No. 2 here, will be heard twice on Perry Como's show tonight.

Comedian Don Adams, who has just been added to Lou Walters' Ziegfeld Follies at the Carillon has been featured on Steve Allen's TV show . . . Victor Borge will be on the stage of the Deauville Hotel Casanova Room live on Sunday night but he will also be on TV on Channel 4 at 6 o'clock as guest of Ed Murrow's "It's a Small World" through the so-called "miracle of magnetic tape.

Paul Gray, now at Murray Franklin's, also plays the less important clubs on occasion. He goes into Chicago's Chez Paree for the 11th date this spring . . . It is rumored that Sir Sydney Oakes and some Fort Lauderdale businessmen may bid for the Grand Bahama West End Club. Wonder if that will affect the titular rights of "Sir" Judson Smith, who works there so frequently.

His Sign Began Great White Way

NEW YORK —(AP)— Historians will mark 1958 as the year that the originator of the Great White Way died. He was George A. Singer, 85, a man unknown to the public but who contributed a significant bit to the story of Broadway.

Singer was credited with having designed the first electric sign to be hung above a New York theater—the beginning of the Great White Way.

Dodges Eggs in Chicago

Serene Mikoyan Visits Home of Bus Driver

By Herald Wire Services

CHICAGO — Russian Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan, unruffled by eggs, jeers and insults, smiled at Chicago's pretty girls Friday and played with a bus driver's children on a faded living room couch.

The beetle-browned Russian leader, on a tour of the U.S. which has been marked by mobs of anti-Communist pickets at Detroit and Cleveland, ran into more of the same when his plane arrived at Midway Airport.

An egg splattered the roof of his black limousine and the car made such a fast getaway that Mikoyan's official host, retired Inland Steel Board Chairman Edward L. Ryerson, was left in the lurch. The car started up before Ryerson could get in. He clung to its roof a few moments, and then took another car.

More demonstrators, 200-strong at their peak, pelted the Russian's party with eggs, threw placards, tried to break through police cordons as Mikoyan entered a downtown hotel for a news conference and then crossed the street to lunch with 40 civic leaders at the exclusive Chicago Club.

Among those present were Adlai E. Stevenson, John S. Knight, editor and publisher of The Miami Herald and other Knight newspapers, Charles Percy, head of the Bell and Howell Camera Co. and other prominent citizens of Chicago.

At Friday's pre-luncheon news conference Mikoyan said among other things that he expects no new changes in the Soviet government and that lack of trust is the greatest obstacle to ending the cold war.

He stated also that the placard-waving, egg-tossing demonstrations of groups of Iron Curtain refugees and other anti-Communists which greeted him here and elsewhere on his trip are comedies to which he attaches no importance.

After the luncheon the deputy premier took a $100-a-week bus driver up on his invitation to drop around and visit.

The bus driver was Joseph Polowsky, 41, a veteran of the meeting of American and Russian troops on the River Elbe at the end of World War II who has conducted a one-man crusade for U.S.-Soviet understanding.

Polowsky had telephoned Mikoyan in Cleveland with an invitation to hobnob with "a typical American family." Accordingly, Mikoyan's half-mile motorcade pulled up in front of the North Side house where Polowsky lives in a $97.50-a-month, four-room apartment on the second floor with his wife and two children.

Mikoyan, a smiling, grandfatherly figure, sat on the living room couch with the Polowski's two-year-old son, Benjamin, on his lap. Mrs. Marie Polowsky, 27, dressed her her Sunday best, held the family's baby, 15-month-old Irene.

"I have 10 grandchildren," the Russian told his hosts through an interpreter, "and I lost a son at Stalingrad. I hope your children and my grandchildren will all live in peace in the future."

Mikoyan stayed only 15 minutes in the Polowsky's apartment after the bus driver helped him off with his coat. He examined the tiny kitchen, containing a four-burner gas stove and an aging refrigerator, and two sparsely-furnished bedrooms before leaving. Polowsky didn't even have time to get out a bottle of wine he had bought especially for the occasion.

Wrestling's Future Hangs on License Fee

HOLLYWOOD — The future of wrestling matches in the National Guard armory here was in doubt Friday after city officials discovered that Promoter Gene Ellis of Fort Lauderdale had never purchased an occupational license.

He has staged matches there since Nov. 28.

Jack Lawton, chief city license and safety inspector, said Ellis appeared at City Hall Friday to discuss the matter, but he did not buy the $100 promotion and entertainment license required.

A boxing exhibition scheduled for tonight has been called off, Lawton said.

Ellis said he would have to talk to Municipal Judge Richard H. Cobourn, a National Guard major who arranged the Armory lease for weekly bouts, before he would decide whether the matches would continue.

"I've been in boxing and wrestling promotion since 1928 and have only run across a few places that made you get a license," Ellis said.

He said the licenses were $30 a year.

"I would have looked into this before if I thought I needed a license," he said.

Ellis said he will confer with city officials Monday on the price of the license. He said it was high.

Lawton said he did not learn of the matches until Thursday.

Judge Cobourn said the National Guard share of wrestling proceeds went into a maintenance fund.

"It costs a lot to maintain a building like that," the judge said.

"Renting armories for this sort of thing is common practice," he said. "I'm not sure Ellis needs a license, but if he does I know he will get one."

Lawton said Ellis would have to pay a 10 per cent fine because of the violation.

Plunge Kills TV Worker

ONONDAGA, Mich. — (AP) — A construction worker was killed instantly Friday when he was knocked off a TV transmission tower and dashed 450 feet to the ground.

State police identified the victim as Everett Kirkman, 28, of Decatur, Ill., a steel worker for the Tesco Tower and Service Co., of Columbus, Ohio. Police said he was married and had three children.

Police said Kirkman was at the 450 foot level attempting to fasten a 100 foot long pole near the top of the partially completed tower. Supporting cable gave way and the pole fell, carrying Kirkman with it to the ground.

Raiders Checking On Bigtime Layout

Barons Flourishing? 13A

The intricate operations of a bigtime gambling casino were revealed Friday as authorities dug into the background of a plush "tourist trap" which they raided shortly after midnight at Golden Beach.

Tipped off by the City Council, Golden Beach police and state attorney investigators arrested 25 persons in a palatial home at 277 Ocean Dr.

The residence, belonging to a Virginia horse breeder, had been leased Dec. 23 and went into operation the next day as an ultra-chic gambling house.

Just who rented the property remained a mystery hidden by make-believe names.

It was no secret, however, that $5,000 cash was laid on the line by the gamblers for the Dec. 23 to Feb. 1 occupancy. And they'd promised to put up another $5,000 to keep the casino open until May 1.

Officers broke up the game at 12:30 a.m., simply by sending Golden Beach Police Chief Richard Kuiken up to the door to knock for admittance.

Once inside, he summoned four other officers and state attorney investigators who helped make the arrest of a dozen men around the dice tables on the second floor and another 13 seated at cocktail tables on the first floor.

As the raiders entered, employes, themselves, of the casino attempted to destroy evidence by throwing chips, gambling equipment and parts of the dice tables out a window.

While no money was in evidence at the time of the raid, officers said the tables contained $10,000 and $5,000 chips and loads of blank checks on which customers could write the names of their local banks.

The casino went into operation Dec. 24, the day after the home was leased through a Fort Lauderdale real estate agent. The state attorney's office said Mrs. Georgia R. Clarke handled the deal for the owner, Daniel Van Clief of Charlottesville, Va. Neither had any knowledge of the gambling operations planned.

Mrs. Clarke told officers the residence was rented by a "Harold Jenkins," who gave no local address but said he would live in the home with his brother, Robert Pappie Jenkins, beginning Jan. 15.

"Jenkins" identified his brother as a partner in the Pappie-Stewart Drilling Co. of Cut Bank, Mont.

Mrs. Clarke said she would be able to identify "Jenkins," and was to be shown police photos of the men arrested by Assistant State Attorney Arthur Huttoe on Monday.

The Herald, checking Cut Bank, found a Pattie and Stewart Drilling Co., in which R. L. Pattie was a partner.

Loaded Dice and Chips Seized in Raid

Dice Were Loaded For the Suckers

"The suckers never had a chance," the state attorney's investigator said.

As he talked, he flipped a pair of loaded dice seized in Friday's early morning gambling house raid at Golden Beach.

In his other hand he held a new gimmick which the shills have developed to fleece their customers.

"These dice are topped," he said, holding a pair that looked perfect. "And these," pointing to another pair, "are loaded."

The special "house dice" are put into a game whenever a customer "gets hot" and it looks as if he might take a little money from the promoters.

In Friday morning's raid, agents found a small, tray-like affair to hold dice which they said had been attached to the shill's belts.

"A shill, who looks like a regular customer but works for the house, is the man who flips the bad dice into a game and busts the customer who has a bill roll riding on the next throw," the agent explained.

"These were inexperienced shills," the agent added. "A good shill can hide these extra, trick dice in the palm of his hand and doesn't need this tray."

The "topped" dice are shaved by machine so they are lopsided and come up with an ace-deuce "crap" showing, or with a four-three "seven out."

The "loaded" dice are drilled, metal poured into the cavity and then covered so they have the same effect. A good crap player can "feel" loaded dice but usually is unable to distinguish the slight difference in weight between "topped" and regular dice.

In the case of the Golden Beach operation, where the agents said four shills were operating, they had to carry the extra dice in the "tray" attached to their belts and beneath their coats.

"Sure," an agent said. "When the customer placing his bets with a hot shill lost a wad, the shill lost too. But the shill didn't care, because what he lost wasn't his money to begin with—it belonged to the house."

The shills, in most cases, use fake dice to run up a hot streak and get customers "betting with them" or on their side against the house. When the customer's pile on the table gets big enough, the shill switches dice for a "sure loss" and the customer loses heavily.

State Due Weekend Of Chilly Weather

The new cold front which rolled over Florida may put a chill on the state for the whole weekend, weathermen said Friday.

Temperatures in Miami dropped a few degrees after the front passed early in the morning and hovered in the mid-60s most of the day. The rest of Florida had readings in the low and mid-50s Friday.

"It looks like another day of pretty much the same sort of weather today," said Forecaster William McGehee of the Miami Weather Bureau.

He said it was too early to tell how long the chill would remain, but that there was "some potential of a protracted cold spell."

Predictions were for readings of close to 50 in the western suburbs of Miami early today and the mid to upper 50s in areas closer to the water. Daytime temperatures should be in the mid-60s, McGehee said.

Blustery north winds kept small craft warnings up all around the state, except for the area north of Fort Myers on the west coast, and McGehee said weekend fishermen probably will find seas rough today and Sunday.

Temperatures were expected to hit close to freezing in North Florida early today and not go much above the mid-50s during the day.

State of Union Message Accents Need of Defenses

Complete Text of President's Message 7A

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Eisenhower challenged a "yes, but" Democratic Congress Friday to join him in quest of military and economic strength for a surging America and a just peace for a fearful world.

These were the great goals set forth for the year ahead in a presidential State of the Union message. In general terms, Eisenhower outlined a formidable but "sensible posture of defense" along with a balanced budget and war against inflation.

In these days when the latest bombers "cost their weight in gold," Eisenhower said, "we can afford everything we clearly need, but we cannot afford one cent of waste."

The President appealed to the legislators to work with him to keep in balance the 77-billion dollar budget he is sending to them Jan. 19. If this is done, he said, there is hope for tax reforms "in the foreseeable future."

A White House official interpreted this to mean tax cuts, but not before the 1961 fiscal year — beginning July 1, 1960 — a period which spans the next presidential election campaign.

To Senate and House members assembled in the House chamber, and to Americans who heard him by radio and television, Eisenhower said:

"One basic purpose unites us: To promote strength and security, side by side with liberty and opportunity."

The President drew his heaviest applause for jabs at inflation and a pledge to defend the people of Berlin "against any effort to destroy their freedom."

Comments after he finished his 5,000-word, 42-minute speech fit into a familiar format. Republicans offered generous praise. Some said it was the best presidential message they ever heard.

Many Democrats found no reason to quarrel with the broad objectives. Some said the speech lacked meaty details. Others were strictly uncomplimentary. Some pointedly yawned.

"A bowl of mush without even a bean," said Rep. Richard Bolling (D., Mo.)

"Evidently," said freshman Rep. Neal Smith (D., Iowa), "you can't teach an old general much about farm income and expenses merely by his buying a farm."

The "yes, but" reaction was strongest where it counted most — among the Democratic leaders who will have so much to say about how the presidential program fares.

Both Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn and Lyndon B. Johnson, leader of Senate Democrats, noted that the last Congress, also controlled by

'Dynamic' Speech To GOP

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Democrats, who control Congress, found little to get excited about Friday in President Eisenhower's State of the Union message.

Most Republicans liked it very much. "Dynamic" was the word that Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R., Mass.) had for it. "Heartening," said Sen. Everett Dirksen (R., Ill.).

It was literally a "ho-hum" reaction that came from Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate majority leader.

Johnson was yawning in the audience when Eisenhower told the House and Senate he intends to submit a balanced budget.

And in his formal statement of comment, Johnson said:

"Mr. Eisenhower's hopes for a balanced budget remain to be proved . . . Our efforts will be not only to balance the fiscal books of the nation but to balance the books of our public trust as well."

The No. 1 man in the House, Speaker Sam Rayburn (D., Tex.), took a casual, matter-of-fact attitude toward the President's speech. Rayburn

The Highlights

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Textual highlights of President Eisenhower's State of the Union message Friday:

Russia

We can have no confidence in any treaty to which Communists are a party except where such a treaty provides within itself for self-enforcing mechanisms . . .

Peace and Its Price

Modern weapons are exceedingly expensive . . .

America will never give up the hope that eventually all nations can, with mutual confidence, drastically reduce these non-productive expenditures . . .

America's security can be assured only within a world community of strong, stable, independent nations, in which the concepts of freedom, justice and human dignity can flourish.

There can be no such thing as Fortress America . . .

Inflation

The material foundation of our national safety is a strong and expanding economy. This we have—and this we must maintain . . .

The basic question facing us today is more than survival—the military defense of national life and territory. It is the preservation of a way of life . . .

We can afford everything we clearly need, but we cannot afford one cent of waste . . .

The Budget

By working together, the Congress and the executive can keep a balance between income and outgo. If this is done there is real hope that we can look forward to a time in the foreseeable future when needed tax reforms can be accomplished . . .

Civil Rights

We are making noticeable progress in the field of civil rights . . . That progress must continue . . .

Mary Astor's weaknesses, as a glamorous Hollywood actress in the 1930s, were men and drink. And she gave both of them an ample chance. "I was out of control," she says of those days.

Both of them have a lot to tell Herald readers in their new books. In "Twixt Twelve and Twenty," Pat Boone gives teenagers the benefit of his experience in growing up — the mistakes he made, the things he learned about people and himself, why he holds so strong a faith in God.

In "My Story," Mary Astor writes of her dizzying rise to the game she was far too young to control; of her stormy love affairs and their tragic consequence, of her desperate struggle to keep her child free from the shame of scandal.

Both of these entertaining books begin running in series form in Sunday's edition of

Won't Need Force For Peace—Castro

Cuban Meets Death Unafraid

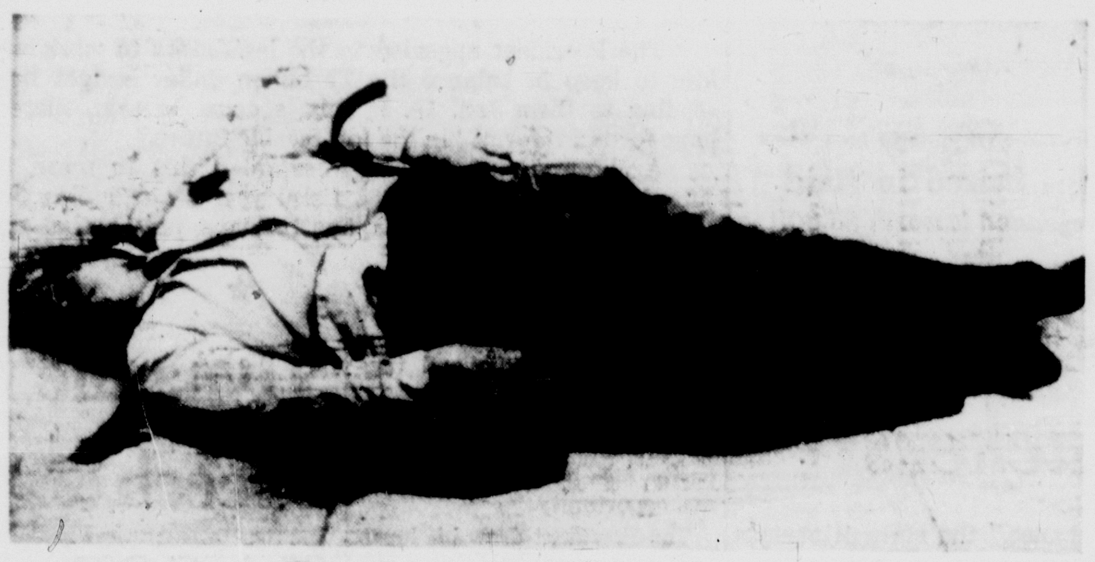
Sentenced to death by a revolutionary tribunal, Police Chief Cornelio Rojas of Santa Clara marches briskly to the wall where he was executed by a firing squad.

Rojas was convicted of acts against the revolutionary movement. These dramatic pictures were obtained from the Havana newspaper Avance.



The People Support Us, Says Fidel

By GEORGE SOUTHWORTH
Herald Latin America Editor

HAVANA, Cuba — Fidel Castro vowed Friday "the revolutionary army will never again need the force of arms" to maintain peace in war-torn Cuba.

In an interview with The Herald, Castro declared, "the people of Cuba are on our side and the day they don't want us, we will leave."

And, he warned, the nation "must never permit anyone to conspire against her peace again."

The 32-year-old Cuban leader said he knows trouble may lie ahead and he indicated it may come from within the revolutionary organizations that won the victory.

"I must tell you that at this moment there are elements of revolutionary organizations who are hiding contraband arms and ammunition," Castro said. "Arms for what?

"Who are they going to fight against? Are they going to fight against the provisional government that has the support of all the Cuban people?

"Are they going to fight against a free government that respects the rights of the people now that there is no censorship of the press?

"The press is free now and people can meet together and all of the rights of citizens have been restored."

One of the biggest problems faced by the new government at this moment is to disarm the thousands of men who joined the rebel movement after the victory for hope of personal gain.

Castro said he is trying to bring about a closer union of all the rebel forces. He thanked former President Carlos Prio Socarras for his aid to the rebels "and unconditional support of the new government."

"If you ask me what troops I prefer to command," Castro said, "I would answer the people of the nation.

"The people can't be conquered and the common people won this war. We had no army, boats, tanks, planes, cannons, military schools . . .

"How did the rebel army win the war? By telling the truth. How did the despotic government lose the war? By telling lies to its soldiers.

"But the real winner of the war were the people. The people who suffered seven years of horror," he declared.

Castro said the people of Cuba are very much interested in learning if the new rebel government will make the same mistakes of other revolutionary governments.

He said the circumstances are different now and the opportunities are greater now for his government to completely carry out its destiny.

"The people of Cuba want peace with justice and liberty," he said, "and we don't want peace at a price. We must remember that Batista also spoke of peace and order . . ."

10 Are Dead In Plane Wreckage

KINGSPORT, Tenn. — (AP) — A rescue party reached the burned wreckage of a Southeast Airlines plane near the top of rugged Holston Mountain late Friday. All 10 persons aboard it were dead.

Rescuers said they found a grim scene of death and destruction in a charred area of heavy woods and thick underbrush about 30 miles east of here.

The plane, a twin-engine DC3, disappeared Thursday night while trying to grope its way through fog to an instrument landing at nearby Tri-Cities airport. The last radio report to the field from pilot Robert L. Gollmier of Kingsport said the plane was preparing to land.

The passengers included Dr. R. L. Hasche, 62, president of Hasche Engineering Co. of Johnson City. Other passengers were W. L. Dennis, Johnson City; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Halstead and J. A. Bradley, Kingsport; and Robert Matthews and James A. Porter, both of Nashville.

the Democrats, chopped $5,600,000,000 out of the last Eisenhower budget. Yet there were no hints that there might be a repeat performance.

Rather, many Democrats have criticized the Eisenhower budget, especially the $40,900,000,000 reported included for the armed forces, as inadequate and unrealistic.

But as Eisenhower saw it, "it is a realistic budget with wholly attainable objectives."

In general terms, Eisenhower renewed bids for legislation to strengthen civil rights, correct abuses in labor unions, protect the purchasing power of the dollar, and help the farmer while trimming heavy federal spending for agriculture.

He promised increased spending on health programs, science and education, water resources, highways, and rebuilding cities.

Details were left for later messages. So was any spelling out of places where Congress can economize to get government costs again within income.

In national defense, Eisenhower said, increased efficiency and avoidance of waste are a secondary aim. The prime goal, he said, is a sensible posture of defense. His budget, he said, advances both.

"Working by these guide lines," the President said, "I believe with all my heart that America can be as sure of the strength and efficiency of her armed forces as she is and has always been of their loyalty. I am equally sure that the nation will thus avoid useless expenditures which, in the name of security, might tend to undermine the economy and, therefore, the nation's safety."

said the executive and his wife and daughter were driving toward Florida in easy stages, but had been in Cut Bank on Dec. 23, when the Van Clief home was rented by the gamblers.

Pattie and his family were expected "within two days" at the Chattanooga, Tenn., home of E. B. Stanger before continuing on to St. Petersburg, their final destination.

The Stangers were not available for a telephone call early Friday evening.

Oddly enough, another person with the name Stanger was among the 25 arrested in the raid. He identified himself as Carl Stanger, 54, of the Marine Hotel.

State attorney's men, who refused to be quoted, said "there's evidence that someone is going around the county selling phoney 'police protection' to would-be casino operators."

They theorize that gamblers are being told, by someone, "I can fix you up for a fee." On this assurance, and the payment of huge sums of money, the gamblers are opening dice dens.

Friday morning's raid was the second within a week by police who wrote finis to plush operations. A week ago, officers found a "house-within-a-house" built in such a way that no one on the outside could know gambling was in process inside.

No patrons or employes were present at the time of last week's raid.

Friday morning, however, the officers had better luck.

They described the Ocean Drive home as a beautiful residence, and operating with only a "minimum lookout. The man assigned to tip-off employes against approaching police "strolled from the garage when Police Chief Kuiken approached," one source said, "and must have been half-asleep on the job."

Kuiken, although in full uniform, never was challenged after knocking on the door and being admitted. Since he was virtually invited into the home he needed no warrant.

Officials said this "may be further evidence that employes believed a 'fix' had been made with authorities, since they had no fear in admitting a police officer."

Kuiken went through the first floor dining and cocktail rooms, where mink-clad women were sitting, and on up a sweeping set of stairs to the air conditioned gaming room.

There he announced, "This is a raid." His words were the starting gun for a general wrecking of the gambling equipment, and some employes stepped onto the second floor balcony to throw chips and table covers onto the lawn.

There was no effort by either customers or employes to resist arrest. The women were not taken into custody.

State attorney's men said the case "still is under investigation, and it has opened up other avenues of the gambling picture which we will pursue."

Acting States Attorney John Wynn said the gamblers and clients of the casino would be prosecuted, "and we'll keep pressure on the racketeers and others attempting to engage in any illegal gambling operation in the county."

Value of the gambling equipment in the huge, 10-room home, was set at "about $600." It was described as the "break-away" type which can be moved easily and quickly from one place to another."

The prisoners were booked for suspicion of gambling at Dade County jail as:

"A STRANGE new plague has appeared on the American scene. Creeping into every form of domestic life, it has taken tremendous toll in lives and misery, unbelievable when compared with other diseases."

The above is from an article by Dr. Marvin Weil in the January issue of The Bulletin of the Dade County Medical Association. He is talking about accidents.

"During 1957 accidents afflicted 9,600,000 people," he writes, "causing 95,000 deaths and untold hardships. Hospital costs due to accidents amounted to $300,000,000. The past 50 years has seen great progress in immunization against illness and in the chemotherapeutic triumph over many diseases, but the accident rate remains almost unchanged."

said: "We'll look over his recommendations very thoroughly, and then we'll write the ticket."

The new Republican leaders of the House and Senate, Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana and Sen. Dirksen of Illinois, were enthusiastic.

"To those shouting for leadership," Dirksen said, "the President's message is a clear and ringing answer. It supplies a chart and compass for the Congress and the country . . .

"The accent on the perils of inflation is a timely warning to those who believe that by means of planned deficits we can spend ourselves rich."

Rep. Halleck's comment: "This is a message of strength — of strength to meet the Communist threat to free men wherever it appears; of strength to continue the fight for peace."

Democratic commendation for parts of the speech came from Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, who liked what he called Eisenhower's determination to move toward sound finances.

"If we do not reduce nonessential expenditures now," Byrd said, "the alternative is to spend and spend, and tax and tax. There is no hope for sound tax reduction with continuing deficits."

National Summary

Intense low pressure disturbances off both the northern Atlantic and Pacific coasts maintained gusty winds while a cold mound of high pressure continued to settle from Canada over much of the country's midsection.

Northerly winds sweeping across the eastern half of the nation limited 70 degree weather at noon to extreme southern Florida with temperatures in the 30s and 40s reaching across most of the Gulf States.

Precipitation patterns will show little change over the nation during the next 24 hours. Colder air will push more deeply into the southeast and the mild temperature trend in the west will expand into the Plains on Saturday.

Intermittent rains in the Pacific states will be heavy at times but showers and snow flurries working eastward to the mountains from Montana to Utah are expected to remain mostly light and scattered. Temperatures 10 to 20 degrees below zero are likely in northern Minnesota and teens should penetrate northern Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia with freezing readings on the Gulf coast.

Snow showers are forecast from the Great Lakes region into New England and southward over the mountains to West Virginia through Saturday.

Rebuilding Aid Is Handy

Important advances toward getting rid of some of Fort Lauderdale's older buildings and brightening up its overly-congested sections may take place this year.

It can be done through the "Urban Renewal" program of federal aid, at what seems to be reasonable cost to the city. Interested people are at work on the necessary state legislation . . .

Your Think- You Have Troubles . . .?

YOU THINK THE COST OF LIVING is high here? Bill Richards of the Shipping Agencies of Florida, which has its headquarters at Port Everglades, received a report the other day of prices which one of the company's ships paid in Hong Kong:

Eggs, 17 cents each; ham, $3 a pound; oranges, $1 a dozen. And these were brought in bulk, for example, 3,500 eggs at a time . . .

Local Man Flew Gen. Romulo

WHEN GEN. CARLO ROMULO of the Phillippines was on the TV show "This Is Your Life" the other night, it reminded Doug Handley that Harlow Davock, the Fort Lauderdale boatman and canvas dealer, was one of Romulos' pilots during the war. Flew him all over the South Pacific . . .

The Days When Living Was Easy

BACK IN THE 1930'S when Joe Graham came to Fort Lauderdale from Bradenton to organize the local Credit Bureau, he had a little difficulty finding an office where the rent was within his means. Finally, J. D. Bryan, who constituted the Lauderdale Abstract Co., offered to share his office on the second floor over the northwest corner of Andrews and Wall St. They also split the telephone bill.

So the one-man Credit Bureau and the one-man abstract company spent many of their days trying to beat each other to the telephone when it rang. Then Joe Phillips the accountant came along, also looking for office space, and moved in with them and they split the rent and the phone bill three ways.

Tom Graham, Joe's brother, tells that the three of them used to spend a good deal of time in a pool room on the ground floor, next to Uncle Sam's Pawn Shop—but they always left the windows of the office open so they could hear the phone ring. One of their cronies was a doctor who had an office in the Sweet Building. When a patient arrived, his nurse would hang a handkerchief out the window as a signal to him to knock off the pool game.

Those were the days of really relaxed living around here. Another fellow who came here about that time recalls that a number of businessmen of the neighborhood hung out in the pool room and each one had some signal to be flashed when a customer showed up . . .

Griffis Bubbled With Humor

THE SIZABLE AUDIENCE which turned out to hear former Ambassador Stanton Griffis lecture on the Near East at the Art Center Thursday night found him a man with a bubbling sense of humor. His talk was liberally sprinkled with witticisms, as well as off-the-cuff remarks about the deficiences of the State Department.

At one point he was discussing the miracle of the crossing of the Red Sea by the Israelites as pictured in the movie "The Ten Commandments" and commented: "So Moses led the children of Israel out of Egypt and the Paramount stockholders out of the red." . . .

Buses to Roll Again After Three-Day Lull

By FRAN LASLIE
Herald Staff Writer

WEST HOLLYWOOD — Lionel Line buses — knocked out for three days by a state order — were to roll on schedule again this morning.

The West Hollywood-Miami bus run was halted Wednesday after the Florida Railroad and Utilities Commission charged the company's insurance had not been recorded.

The commission Friday wired Lionel Aselton, owner, of North Miami, that his carrier certificate had been temporarily reinstated. pending a hearing.

Aselton said the difficulty stemmed from an insurance company's failure to record the bus firms insurance with the state last November.

"It was purely a technicality. We've been fully insured at all times since we opened Sept. 22," he said.

During the period the license was revoked, Fort Lauderdale Transit Inc. petitioned the commission for a franchise to operate a West Hollywood-Miami run.

Aselton, who appeared at the hearing Tuesday in Miami, said he was not allowed to protest on grounds his franchise had been revoked and no written protest had been registered.

The company's three buses which carry a large number of commuters from here to jobs in Miami, were scheduled to return to service at 6:30 a.m. this morning.

The company, with 15 daily trips, picks up around 1,000 fares a month.

Court Had Busiest Year

FORT LAUDERDALE — The Broward County Circuit Court clerk's office, the second busiest in Florida, accepted 105,985 documents for recording in 1958, Frank H. Marks, clerk, reported Friday.

This was a gain of 2,400 over 1957.

It recorded mortgages amounting to $289,523,156, compared to $236,510,336 for the previous year. It collected $579,046 in intangible taxes on mortgages.

There were 4,811 suits filed, including 593 for divorce.

Boy Gets New Leg Today

Herald Bureau

FORT LAUDERDALE — Lester Mitchell, the eight-year-old Oakland Park boy who lost a leg last spring, will get a new one today.

He has a 9 a.m. date at the Daniel Rehabilitation Institute for the first fitting of his new wooden leg.

Lester, whose leg was taken off near the hip, requires a special type of artificial leg that costs $750. Friends and neighbors contributed to help pay for it and the rehabilitation institute agreed to pay half the cost.

His heavy medical bills have put a financial strain on Lester's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Mitchell, 1567 NE 38th St.

"He wants to run up and down the fishing pier and catch pompano," said Mrs. Lucille Waters, principal of Lester's school.

Ex-Batista Cops Like the Security

'Please, Senor! Keep Us in Jail'

By DUANE JONES
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE—Three Cubans who were thrown in the county jail last week may be thrown out today.

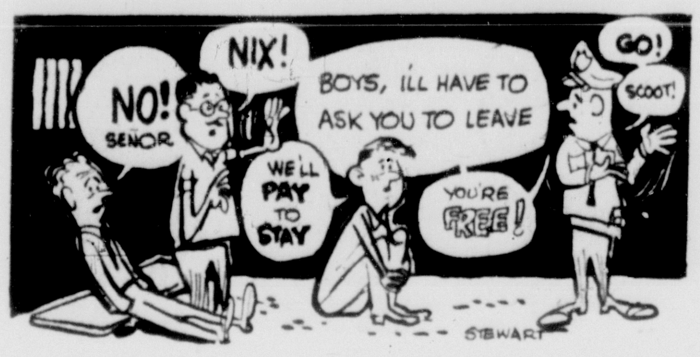
"They're nice fellows, but I can't keep them forever," said Sheriff J. A. Lloyd Friday.

"If they don't go voluntarily, I suppose I'll have to ask them to leave."

Lloyd identified the three as Jose Oliveras, 28; Gilberto Cruz, 22, and Marco Suarez, 19, former policemen for ousted Cuban President Fulgencio Batista.

"They were supposed to leave last Wednesday when the U.S. Immigration Service ordered the release of eight others," Lloyd said.

"But they wouldn't go. They were afraid some of Fidel Castro's boys would be waiting outside for them.



"They said they'd rather stay in jail, and agreed to pay $2.25 a day for their board and room."

Sheriff said immigration officers suggested that he not keep them more than a few days.

"I understand they are broke and are waiting for money so they can fly to New York City. They believe they would be safe up there."

The 11 were arrested in Miami last Saturday after fleeing Cuba.

Because there wasn't room for them in the Dade County jail, immigration officers sent them up here.

"They haven't caused us any trouble," Lloyd said. "They've behaved themselves and we happen to have plenty of room. Our jail is about three-quarters full."

Lloyd said the three "have no love for Batista," and added:

"They told me they didn't like him, but had a job to do. When they saw the handwriting on the wall—that Castro was taking over—they got out."

Immigration questioned the men but placed no formal charges against them.

Judges Agree to Preside At Preliminary Hearings

Legality Quashes Charge

FORT LAUDERDALE — Criminal Court Judge Louis Weissing quashed the charge of receiving stolen property against James Gunn for the second time Friday.

Ray Sandstrom, former assistant county solicitor representing Gunn, killed it by showing that the solicitor's office had committed a minor technical violation.

The charge against a defendant is supposed to be sworn to by the solicitor in front of a clerk.

The established practice has been for the solicitor to sign a group of charges, then send them to the clerk's office for signature.

"This has been done since 1949," Tom Coker, County Solicitor, said later.

The first charge was dismissed last week. Weissing then agreed with Sandstrom that the state should identify the stolen property allegedly received.

Coker said Friday that a third charge will be filed as soon as possible. Gunn, 28, is employed by Bondsman Claude Anderson.

Ice Cream Puts Boy In Hospital

Herald Bureau

FORT LAUDERDALE — A three-year-old boy who choked while eating ice cream was reported in "very critical" condition Friday night.

The boy, Darryl Hagman, was rushed to Broward General Hospital Friday afternoon by city police who administered oxygen en route.

A hemophilia victim (one who bleeds easily), the boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dexter Hagman, 2309, NW 13th Lane. The father is a Pompano Beach High School teacher.

Mrs. Hagman told police the lad chocked while eating a dish of ice cream about 3:20 p.m.

Charged With Receiving Stolen Property

'In-Again Out-Again' Baines Back in Again--But Briefly

By PETER LAINE
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — In-again, out-again Donald (Porky) Baines was in again at the sheriff's office early Friday — but this time only briefly.

Arresting officers picked Baines up at his nightspot around midnight Thursday and booked him on a second charge of receiving stolen property.

Baines promptly posted a $2,000 bond and went free pending arraignment.

He and Guido di Bona were released Thursday when Circuit Judge Lamar Warren ruled they were illegally detained following their arrest last Saturday.

Di Bona is charged with receiving stolen property, breaking and entering, and arson. Baines and di Bona were first picked up and charged last week. They bonded out then, too.

The latest arrest drew a blast from Baines' attorney, Ray Sandstrom, who said it had "the earmarks of a vehicle of oppression."

Sandstrom, who was in the Oakland Park nightspot at the time, said six officers came to get Baines — three Fort Lauderdale patrolmen, one Pompano Beach detective, Deputy Sheriff Pat Blackmore, and State Berevage Agent William Hardy.

Hardy made Baines serve a full dinner to show he could meet the terms of his license, Sandstrom said.

Sandstrom also charged that the arrest was made by capias, instead of by warrant, to remove the necessity of granting Baines a preliminary hearing. Judge Warren's ruling was based on the absence of such a hearing.

"The capias was issued before 5 p.m.," Sandstrom added. 'Why was the arrest postponed until midnight? In any event, I had told the sheriff's office that Baines would surrender voluntarily if they wanted him."

Sandstrom also complained at the amount of the $2,000 bond. Judge Warren set Baines' bond at $200.

New League Expects Charter

Herald Bureau

HOLLYWOOD — Final approval of a charter for the Tri - County Governmental League is expected next Friday at a meeting in the Diplomat West here.

Hollywood City Manager Joseph Watson said Friday's meeting had been postponed one week.

The charter committee decided in mid-December that Dade, Broward and Palm Beach counties would have equal representation of the board of governors.

Each county is to have five board members. One member from each county will be a county commissioner. Another member will be from the County League of Municipalities. Three members will be named at large.

Watson said the meeting would begin at 6:30 p.m.

Officials Set Out To Curb Delays

By ART ROBINSON
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE—From now on Broward County judges are prepared to hold preliminary hearings for all arrested persons who want them.

They will be conducted, as the law requires, "without unnecessary delay."

This may mean holding court on Saturday when a designated judge would set as a committing magistrate.

Most preliminary hearings will be conducted in Criminal Court and Court of Crimes by Judges Louis Weissing and Thomas F. Tompkins Jr.

However, Circuit Court judges Friday expressed a willingness to serve when needed as committing magistrates.

Just how many persons will demand preliminary hearings and what constitutes "unnecessary delay" still haven't been decided.

The judges informed Sheriff J. A. Lloyd that a preliminary hearing should be held for anyone asking for it as soon as he can arrange it.

That could mean the next morning or, in the case of Sunday or a holiday, whenever Lloyd is able to find a judge.

A preliminary hearing isn't compulsory. If a person is arrested late in the afternoon, and a judge is not available to give him a preliminary hearing until the next morning, the arrested person may waive the hearing, post bond and go home if he prefers.

Ordinarily, preliminary hearings will be given on the day of arrest, however.

Juge Farrington and other judges admitted that preliminary hearings have been neglected.

"The whole problem was a lack of judges, plus an additional burden placed on the courts by the abolishing of justices of the peace," Judge Farrington said.

Justices of the peace formerly conducted such hearings, which are usually held to determine whether there is enough evidence to hold a person.

Judges Tompkins and Weissing are working out a schedule for hearings.

Decision Hailed by Attorneys

By ART ROBINSON
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — Attorneys and law enforcement officials Friday welcomed the announcement that henceforth arrested persons will get immediate hearings.

"People should be informed of their rights at the earliest possible time," Police Chief J. Lester Holt of Fort Lauderdale said.

HOLT

The Browarl County Police Chiefs Association endorsed the principle of appointing magistrates or establishing additional courts in which preliminary hearings can be conducted.

The association's views were contained in a letter sent to a Broward County Bar Association committee considering legislation to provide additional courts. The action was authorized at an association meeting Thursday night.

VARON

BOGGS

The police chiefs said qualifications for the office of committing magistrate "should be very high."

"It's an important job and carries heavy responsibilities," commented James Boggs, who was elected association president at the meeting.

Joseph Varon, the county's most noted criminal lawyer before he abandoned criminal law, said that the practice of permitting the sheriff's office to bond out arrested persons was "an unlawful delegation of power" by the judges. However, he added, it was dictated by their crowded dockets.

"The sheriff's office has flagrantly violated the bond schedule and on occasion a prisoner's rights," he said.

"If they're getting religion, I'm glad. This is the subject closet to my heart."

John Tolar, president of the Broward County Bar Association, said he felt The Herald had performed a distinct service "by airing the thing."

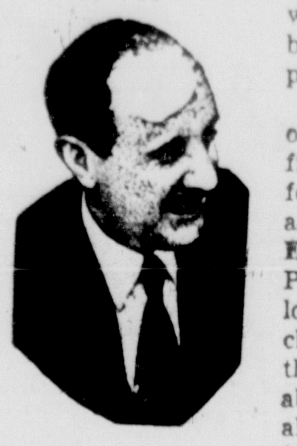
Nightlife with George Bourke

Pinkie Lee Takes Latin Quarter Like Grant . . .



IT TAKES some courage for a night club impresario, no matter how big his reserve resources, to book into a smart supper club featuring a French revue an act which in recent years has been best known as the darling of the pablum and tootsie roll set.

And it requires some guts — or at least a high degree of confidence in one's basic talents — for that entertainer to face such an adult audience as frequents E. M. Loew's Latin Quarter on Palm Island — a spot where one's loyalty is tested not by regular chomping on tootsie rolls, but in the taste for — and the ability to absorb — a required minimum of alcoholic beverages.

Experienced Trouper Wins Fans

BUT E. M. LOEW and Pinkie Lee displayed that courage, which was further tested by a not too terrific turn-out for his opening. Before the evening was over, however, Lee had just about won his audience with an ingratiating manner, a Bert Lahrish attitude and timing, a unique eccentric dancing skill, and a well-spotted demonstration of the the tricks and surefire lines learned in his years in show business, an experience which ranged from burlesque to kiddie TV shows — believe it or not, in that order.

On paper it seems a colossal mistake to try to entertain people who would come to the swank Latin Quarter with a male strip tease, a high bosomed lass tearing the pants away from a pint-sized foil, frequent reference with ribald intent to extra-sensory reactions of the anatomy, and so on.

But Lee makes them seem inoffensive because he is himself an inoffensive and apologetic fellow. He even begs the audience's indulgence for some of his stunts but points out that the theater of operations is a night club.

The balance of the Latin Quarter show is basically the same as it was for Sophie Tucker's engagement, with the thrilling adagio dance stylings of Holger and Dolores providing the focal highpoint of Donn Arden's "Sky High" revue.

FIDO Keeps Movies Off British TV

THERE MAY BE a mixed metaphor somewhere in the following about not letting the dog you feed bite the hand that paid for his smiling teeth—or it may be mere coincidence that the letters of the Film Industry Defense Organization, which has the aim of keeping theatrical films off British television spell FIDO! . . . Shirley Jones, opening at the Fontainebleau La Ronde next Tuesday, just finished a movie called "Never Steal Anything Small," with Jimmie Cagney. Did you know that James worked in vaudeville under the name of Nye, which is the name of the bandleader at the Fontainebleau's next door neighbor, the Eden Roc?

If there is to be a more liberal view it won't be a matter of financial fix—entirely. It has been proven in the last six years in Cuba that there is more sticky sugar to be gotten from 10 miles of new highway or 14 stories of public building than in all of Havana's 13 gambling places combined.

His Sign Began Great White Way

NEW YORK —(AP)— Historians will mark 1958 as the year that the originator of the Great White Way died. He was George A. Singer, 85, a man unknown to the public but who contributed a significant bit to the story of Broadway.

Singer was credited with having designed the first electric sign to be hung above a New York theater—the beginning of the Great White Way.

'CUT PRICE' APPLIANCE:

Is It a Bargain? –Or Price Packed?

CHICAGO—(AP)—Beware of price packing, a retailer suggests, if you see a price that has been slashed 20 to 30 per cent.

That advice — with some qualification — was offered by C. Virgil Martin, president of Carson Pirie Scott & Co., Chicago department store during the winter Home Furnishings Show.

He said too many fictional prices are being handed down by manufacturers. He said one refrigerator had a list price of $299, yet it never had sold for more than $269.

Martin was asked at a news conference how a person can detect an artificial original price.

"Any time it is 20 to 30 per cent off," he replied, "it is price packing."

Martin made clear he was talking about appliances and other home furnishings in particular and those sold in one-price stores, where there is no haggling. He also stated he was not talking about seasonal clearance sales.

At the same news conference, Henry E. Lamar, of Florence, Ala., president of the National Retail Furniture Association, urged each merchant to:

"Re-analyze his own advertising in the light of Better Business Bureau (BBB) standards and new Federal Trade Commission guides against deceptive advertising.

"Work with his fellow merchants, his local newspaper and his local BBB to the end that all home furnishings advertising be kept above reproach.

"Bring cases of fraudulent advertising, if it occurs, to the attention of local law enforcement agencies."

Lamar also estimated that buying at the show is 20 per cent heavier than it was a year ago.

He said there have been some small price increases. But, he added, he thinks they won't be reflected in the retail stores for at least six months.

How About A Satellite Love Seat?

The legs and frames of some dinette tables and chairs, for example, come in such colors as pink, yellow, red and turquoise.

Metal and plastic bedroom furniture with orange, yellow, beige, coral, blue and turquoise drawer fronts is another furniture men's concept of what should be in today's homes.

Besides new uses of color, furniture manufacturers are showing some novelty items which will please children.

Among them is a triple deck bed — a good height for climbing indoors on winter days. To bring the playground further indoors is a double-deck bed featuring a sliding board which can be detached.

Shoppers will have to wait a while to see these items, though. The show is not open to the public.

Among other novelty articles on display are:

A pole lamp featuring an electric clock around the top shade.

A triple electronic cooking center built with three ovens for cooking steaks and chops, frozen fruits and vegetables and bulk items such as roasts and hams, respectively.

'But Where Are Your Real Live Cowboys?'

By Herald Wire Services

NEW YORK —(WNS)— The tastiest new French toast of Broadway, Colette Brosset, is just a bit disappointed in the U.S.A.

Colette Brosset

Here she's been in the wide open spaces of New York City two whole months and she hasn't seen a real live cowboy yet. Mlle. Brosset is the star of the hit French musical revue, La Plume de Ma Tante.

"I thought all Americans were on a horse," she sighed sorrowfully. "And I wanted so much to see a real cowboy, like Davy Crockett.

"But all your cowboys are in the movies and TV, and there are no horses in New York."

If the Shoe Fits . . .

MILAN—Giulietta Corsino, who weighs 187 pounds, complained to police in Milan because a sandwich man kept following her up and down the main streets of the city.

The advertising board which the sandwich man was carrying called women's attention to a beauty salon where their chubby figures could be put into a more attractive shape.

What She Means Is: She's the Groom

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Judy Oberhuber calls herself an equestrian engineer.

"To people outside the horse industry, that's a groom," explains the 20-year-old girl. "I don't think the job is so unusual. It beats pounding a typewriter."

Judy came here from Doylestown, Pa., after answering an ad in a horse publication. She suited Mr. and Mrs. Lowry Watkins, so they entrusted her with the care and feeding of their six horses.

Judy also treats the animals' aches and pains, being something of an amateur veterinarian.

Judy expects to give up her career one day for marriage.

"And that's going to give some society editor a hard time. I can see them listing me as a groom."

No Cheesecake For This Maid

NEW YORK — The 1959 Maid of Cotton believes in wearing it, in full measure. No scanty attire for her, she said, whatever the texture.

"I do not approve of displaying my body in front of the public," the 20-year-old beauty, Miss Malinda Diggs Berry, said. Malinda hails from Stillwater, Okla.

She said she didn't mean to be critical of other girls who were willing to parade in a minimum of clothing, but that for her, there'll be no cheesecake or bathing suit public poses.

"I'm more or less prudish," she said. "I was reared very Southern and very strictly."

Voting Gag Rule In Wilton Manors Hit by Employes

By PETER LAINE
Herald Staff Writer

WILTON MANORS — City employes complained Friday about the council's gag on their freedom to discuss municipal election choices.

An ordinance passed Tuesday means an employe loses his job if he "solicits votes orally or by letter" for candidates.

"I feel it infringes on my civil rights," said Supt. Wallace Wakeley, longtime city official. "I think it violates the constitution. It's caused a lot of ill-feeling in City Hall."

Fort Lauderdale has a similar provision in its civil service regulations — but with one saving clause, Assistant Attorney Robert O'Toole said.

"It specifies that an employe may exercise his right as a citizen to express a private opinion, and to cast his vote," O'Toole said.

Pompano Beach City Manager James Hughes said that an ordinance there is designed to stop employes actively promoting candidates.

"But we feel that a man has the right to say what he wants in his own home," Hughes added.

The Wilton Manors ordinance was passed by a 4-1 vote on three emergency readings at one session.

The city has an election next Tuesday.

Police Chief Thomas Brace said his department is not politically minded, but added: "It means that people with a grudge against an employe could complain he had asked them for votes."

Wakeley said, "I don't see how it could be passed as an emergency. There isnt' any emergency."

Bolita Take Hurt By Cuban Revolt

The Cuban revolution has put many bolita peddlers out of work in FORT LAUDERDALE.

According to information received by police, the Cuban lottery has not been held since before Christmas. Peddlers here, who sell chances on it, haven't got anything to sell, officers say.

Their customers won't spend much money on local lotteries, the "Night House" or "Sunday Special," because they don't trust the operators to run an honest game.

The customers fear that if a number receives a heavy play, the operators will make sure it isn't picked for a payoff.

The situation is different with the Cuban lottery because the buyer can pick up radio broadcasts from Cuba that tell what the winning number is, police said.

Cab Dispute May Enter 2nd Round

Herald Bureau

FORT LAUDERDALE — Hollywood and Fort Lauderdale officials are about to be faced with another decision about taxicab operations at Port Everglades.

A temporary agreement allowing cabs from either city to pick up passengers in any part of the port terminates Jan. 27.

Port officials are hopeful the "temporary" arrangement can be continued.

Before it was reached, the two cities were in disagreement about whether cabs from Hollywood could enter the part of the port that belongs to Fort Lauderdale.

The steamship passenger terminal is in Fort Lauderdale.

Stop

With a big helping hand from school patrol boy Steve Miller, Rheunna Stevenson can cross the street safely. Steve was applying his best safety technique as Croissant Park Elementary School let out Friday afternoon.

Kingpin Gambler Reported 'Sick'

Lansky Missing; In Hospital?

By FRAN LASLIE
Herald Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Is gambling kingpin Meyer Lansky — one time member of U.S. Syndicate — in a hospital?

When he arrived Wednesday in Miami from Cuba, Lansky said he was going to his Hollywood home and he would "see a doctor" while here.

But relatives and Lansky's former Hollywood attorney said Friday they didn't know exactly where he was.

"He told me Wednesday night he was catching a plane north to enter a hospital," Joe Varon, his former lawyer, said Friday.

Varon didn't know where in the "north."

The attorney handled legal matters for Lansky in 1950-51. He said he was no longer associated with Lansky.

In pre-Kefauver crime investigation days, Lansky lived in palatial style in Hollywood.

After the Kefauver hearings, he was instrumental in setting up gambling enterprises in Havana. He fled Cuba after Fidel Castro's mob closed down gambling casinos.

A maid who answered the telephone Friday at the home of his brother, Jake, of 1146 Harrison St., said Meyer Lansky was not there but might be reached at his motel on Hollywood Beach.

However, the Tuscany Motel and Apartments said Meyer Lansky wasn't there.

When the gambler arrived in Florida he expressed the hope he could soon return to Cuba.

A Senate rackets committee said Lansky's name had been added to a list of well-known racketeers scheduled to testify in an investigation of gangster infiltration into the juke box industry.

Mrs. Lomax

Victim of Boat Blast, Woman Dies of Burns

Herald Bureau

FORT LAUDERDALE — Mrs. Lois Lomax, 32, injured in a boat explosion Dec. 27, died Friday in Broward General Hospital.

Police reported that she died from burns suffered when the yacht Claudia exploded at its New River dock.

Mrs. Lomax had been taking a nap aboard the boat which belongs to Carl Huber, 44, 215 SW Third Ave. She told police she lit a match when she awoke and the explosion followed. Firemen said it was caused by bilge fumes.

Mrs. Lomax ran from the boat with her clothing aflame. Two passing motorists saw her and beat out the flames.

Fannin Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements. Mrs. Lomax is survived by a sister, Mrs. Wilma Woodward of Ticonderoga, N.Y. Local authorities Friday were unable to get in touch with Mrs. Woodward.

She is survived by her husband, Ralph R. of Hollywood. She was a member of the Christian Science Church. Burial will be at Lauderdale Memorial Gardens.

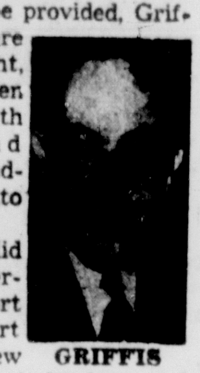
Egypt Policies Hit

Ex-Diplomat Raps U.S. 'Blunders'

By HENRY KINNEY
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE—The U. S. State Department has been guilty of several pieces of "diplomatic jackassism" in its handling of the Near East situation in the opinion of Stanton S. Griffis, former ambassador to Egypt.

It blundered in declining to build the Aswan Dam on the Nile after leading Egypt's Gen. Nasser to believe that the money would be provided, Griffis said here Thursday night, and again when it joined with England and France in sending troops into Suez.



GRIFFIS

In a candid lecture delivered at the Fort Lauderdale Art Center, the New York investment banker and Palm Beach resident said only a U.S.-Russian peace can solve the Near East problem.

The situation there, involving the hatred between Jew and Arab as well as the Arabs' hatred of each other, "is the same as it has been for 4,000 years," Griffis declared.

He said the matter of a million Arab refugees whose homes formerly were in Israel "is one of the most hopeless humanitarian situations in the world," and appears insoluble.

He acknowledged that he left Egypt "broken in spirit" after failing in his efforts to ease Near East tensions and meet the problem of the refugees.

Witness Held for Extortion

By TONY PATRUS
Herald Staff Writer

A witness in the Broward County barroom robbery case was ordered held in Miami under $1,000 bond Friday, accused of offering to change his testimony in favor of the defendant in exchange for $2,000.

Alvin Mark Zurouski, 30, of 1610 E. 4th Ave., Hialeah, was charged with extortion by State Attorney Dick Gerstein of Miami after officers said they witnessed the alleged payoff at a rendezvous Thursday night in a cocktail lounge on NW 27th Ave.

The rendezvous was arranged by Broward and Dade County officers after the man accused of the bar room robbery, Thomas Dell, 26, of Margate, informed the Broward County Solicitors office that he had been approached by the witness.

Metro Detective Charles Maddox and Carl Christy, special investigator for Broward County, stated that they saw Zurouski accept the money in an envelope anded him by Dell.

Metro officials said that they money has been confiscated and is being held as evidence.

Zurouski was slated to testify Jan. 19 in the scheduled trial of robbery charges against Dell for an armed stickup of the Black Rabbit Bar in Margate last December.

New Hospital?

FORT LAUDERDALE — Thirty-five physicians and laymen who make up the membership of Doctors' Hospital Inc., a nonprofit osteopathic group, met Friday night to discuss plans to build a hospital for the community. Principal speaker was Dr. Otterbein Dressler, prominent pathologist from Detroit.

Gambling Flourishing Again on Gold Coast?

Raid Story, P. 1A

By STEPHEN TRUMBULL
Herald Staff Writer

Dade County's biggest gambling raid in 18 years has alerted the Crime Commission of Greater Miami to the fact that unhappy days may be here again.

With American gamblers getting the heave-ho in Cuba—temporarily at least—Operating Director Dan Sullivan of the crime fighting group said he feared the big Golden Beach raid of early Friday may be but the forerunner of a lot more of the same.

Except for floating crap games, usually crooked ones which moved from night to night, the county has been without any real bigtime gambling since the "liberal policy" was ended by an aroused public in 1950.

"I think there's an excellent chance that those American gamblers will not just stay on in Cuba enjoying the sunshine," said Sullivan. "It's a pretty good bet at least some of them will be back trying to tilt the lid again—and then our troubles are back."

The raid of early Friday was reminiscent of some of the more dramatic chapters during that "liberal" past in this area.

In numbers arrested, it was the biggest since C. O. Huttoe — then as now a center of police department strife — knocked off Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom's Frolics club on the MacArthur causeway approach on Jan. 14, 1941.

It was an odd coincidence that Huttoe's son, Arthur, now a young assistant state attorney, figured in the Friday morning raid.

Reportedly acting without the knowledge of H. Leslie Quigg, then Miami police chief, Lt. C. O. Huttoe arrested 49 men, and confiscated $27,000 in that 1941 spectacular at the Frolics.

The place was being operated by Sam (Gameboy) Miller, a big gambling operator of that day, with John Angersola and Moe (Dimples) Wilnsky.

It also appears unusual to longtime Miamians that it was an aroused public body, the city council of Golden Beach, that blew the whistle on the recent operation in the $175,000 mansion there.

In the "liberal days" that area from near the north boundary of Dade County to Hollywood was virtually the capital of winter gambling in America.

It was at the Golden Shores Club, long since gone and the site now occupied by Wilde's restaurant, where multimillionaire oil man Harry Sinclair was reportedly "taken" for $800,000 in what was said to be a rigged game. Reports had it he later settled for 500,000. Nick Delmore of New Jersey ran the place.

The Sunny Isles casino, the Sunny Isle Inn and the Island Club flourished in the same general area.

Across the Broward County line there were Club Boheme, Colonial Inn and Green Acres, all occupied by a group of nationally known gambling racketeers who later became targets for the Kefauver Senate Crime Investigation Committee.

Girl Sentenced In Gang Slaying

TAMPA, Fla. — (AP) — Fifteen-year-old Janice Stephens awaited transfer to the Florida School for Girls Thursday while eight of her male companions in a fatal gang fight faced second degree murder charges.

Juvenile Court Judge O. D. Howell sentenced Janice to the girls' school for her part in the fight. Police said the gang "rumble" last month was the result of two youths fighting over her affections.

Janice, who once was married to a Georgia man, wielded a rubber hose in the fight, in which 15-year-old James Rowe was shot to death.

Max G. Scheuer Dies in Arcadia

ARCADIA — (AP) — Max G. Scheuer, 78, manager of the Desoto Feed Mill and Jelly plant the last 10 years, died in a hospital here Friday.

He was a member of the board of directors of the Florida Citrus Processors Association. Survivors include the widow and a daughter, Mrs. Clayton Donahue of New York City.

Truck Rate Hike KOd

Companies Told To Use Economy

By JOHN L. BOYLES
Capitol Bureau Chief

TALLAHASSEE — Florida's major truck lines suffered a double setback Friday in their efforts to increase annual freight revenue an estimated four million dollars.

The Supreme Court threw out a rate increase of 8.72 per cent granted June 5, 1957, designed to give the 11 companies an estimated one and one-half million dollars boost in revenue.

The Railroad Commission, at the same time, shut the door on a new petition for another 15 per cent hike to produce an estimated two and one-half million dollars.

In a 4-1 decision the court said the 1957 increase had been approved on evidence the commission itself had called unreliable.

The companies had asked for a ten per cent increase and the commission allowed 8.72 per cent.

At the same time Friday, Lewis Petteway, general counsel for the Railroad Commission, said the commission had denied the trucking companies a rehearing on their request for an additional 15 per cent increase in freight rates. The commission turned down the original plea last September.

Petteway said the denial was based on the commission's view that a freight rate increase is not the only way to gain new revenue and that the companies should practice certain economies in their operations."

The Florida Rate Conference, the Traffic and Rate Bureau of St. Petersburg, the Tampa Chamber of Commerce, the Greater Miami Traffic Association, the Broward County Traffic Association and the Jacksonville Traffic Bureau challenged the commission's 1957 rate hike order.

In granting the 1957 increase the Railroad Commission said it found that the trucking lines were in need of $1,540,994 in new revenue.

Its finding was based on a "separation" study of Central Truck Lines, Inc., one of the applicants.

Central's study showed the ratio between interstate and intrastate business of the trucking companies.

Justice T. Frank Hobson quoted the commission order:

"While we feel that the (separation) study did not follow the stipulated procedure, and is therefore unreliable, we must make some use of it because we have no other source from which to draw in making the necessary apportionment of revenues and expenses."

Hobson said the commission had the authority to decide upon the separation study but it measured the study against its own experience and found it unreliable.

"The question is clearly whether or not the Railroad Commission may grant an essential portion of its order solely on evidence it characterizes as unreliable. We think not," Hobson said.

Chief Justice Glenn Terrell and Justices Elwn Thomas and Stephen C. O'Connell concurred. Justice B. K. Roberts made no comment in dissenting.

Martin Protest Ignored

By PETE WEITZEL
WPB Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — David Click, central and southern Florida Flood Control District board chairman, Friday labeled a Martin County Commission protest as filled with "inaccuracies and misconceptions."

Martin County officials, in a four page resolution, opposed aspects of the FCD program for St. Lucie and Martin Counties. They asked for limited discharge of fresh water into the St. Lucie River Canal.

The present projected works of the district, they said, will be detrimental to Martin County interests.

Click said two things should be made clear to the Martin officials.

"We are going ahead with our basic program and we are not going to lower the discharge rate into the St. Lucie," he declared.

W. H. Hitt, board member from West Palm Beach, also questioned the accuracy of "facts" contained is the resolution. At his suggestion, the board turned the project over to the engineering staff for study.

The FCD Board said it would be willing to meet with the County Commission on the matter when the report of the staff was completed.

General counsel for the district, Robert Tylander, reported on the water resources legislation proposed by the State Department of Water Resources.

The recommendations, calling for the establishment of water management and conservation districts, will have only an indirect effect on the FCD, he said.

Tylander explained the districts would be small scale FCDs, and would be in areas of the state outside the 17 county FCD region.

In other action Friday, the FCD Board:

OFFICIALLY declared the extension of Canal C-8 in Dade County from Red Rd. westward as a works of the district. This action will enable the district to get the canal dug at no expense by offering the spoil for sale.

AUTHORIZED its engineering staff to work with residents of the Alligator Lake area in Osceola County to determine the feasibility of a spill way. Residents requested the aid.

ACCEPTED an invitation from the Miami-Dade County Chamber of Commerce to hold their March meeting there.

LEARNED the District Court had upheld a lower court decision giving the FCD the right to build Structure 27 on C-7 in Miami. Residents filed suit to prevent the district from building on the site, near NW 79th St. and U.S. 1.

DIRECTED its staff to study reported over-drainage from Canal C-19 at Structure 47 in Glades County.

PLEDGED cooperation with the State Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission in efforts to remove squatters from Conservation Areas 1 and 2.

APPROVED the granting of a quit-claim deed to Perini-Westward Developers for land reservations on the Canal C-17 extension line in West Palm Beach.

OKAYED the purchase of five acres of land in the ultimate right-of-way of the Caloossahatchee River Canal for $22,500. FCD officials said this was less than half what they would eventually have to pay for the land.

RENEWED a contract with C and M Dredging Co. for Canal C-9 in Broward County and approved the advertising for sale of spoil on C-18 in Palm Beach County.

Quick Ruling Bid Gets Quick 'No'

TALLAHASSEE — (UPI) — The State Utilities Commission Thursday refused an immediate ruling on Southeastern Telephone Company's application for large rate increases in 15 Northwest Florida communities.

The commission, in denying the company's motion for a quick ruling, served notice it does not intend to act until court litigation in connection with the increases is settled.

He's Optimistic Over Tourists

TALLAHASSEE — (UPI) — State Hotel and Restaurant Commissioner Richard Edgerton is optimistic over South Florida's late starting winter tourist season.

He predicted Thursday hotels and motles would be filled to capacity by Feb. 1.

He said during a quick inspection of the Miami resort area that he found everyone optimistic.

Heaviest Day Since November

NEW YORK — (AP) — The stock market boomed to another record peak Friday in the heaviest trading since November.

The broad advance took in high-quality and speculative issues and added an estimated 1½ billion dollars to the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Leading issues rose fractions to 2 or 3 points, closing somewhat below their best prices of the day.

Gains were scored by steels, motors, rails, rubbers, mail order-retails, utilities, electronics, chemicals, nonferrous metals, tobaccos, electrical equipment and most airlines. Drugs were mixed and aircrafts lower.

Wall Streeters said the rise was due cheifly to conviction that prices were going higher and that the Dow Jones industrial average would not meet serious resistance until it hit 600.

The Dow industrials rose 4.58 to close at 592.72, a record top.

Little heed was given by the market to President Eisenhower's state of the union address, brokers said, since most of the points made were familiar ones.

Baldwin-Lima-Hamilton was the most active stock, rising 1⅛ to 15 3-8 on 109,700 shares. Second was Avco, up 7-8 at 12 3-8 on 92,700 shares. Third was Studebaker-Packard, up ¼ at 14 7-8 on 75,600 shares.

American Stock Exchange prices rose on volume of 2,260,000 shares compared with 1,770,000 Thursday.

Dodges Eggs in Chicago

Serene Mikoyan Visits Home of Bus Driver

By Herald Wire Services

CHICAGO — Russian Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan, unruffled by eggs, jeers and insults, smiled at Chicago's pretty girls Friday and played with a bus driver's children on a faded living room couch.

The beetle-browned Russian leader, on a tour of the U.S. which has been marked by mobs of anti-Communist pickets at Detroit and Cleveland, ran into more of the same when his plane arrived at Midway Airport.

An egg splattered the roof of his black limousine and the car made such a fast getaway that Mikoyan's official host, retired Inland Steel Board Chairman Edward L. Ryerson, was left in the lurch. The car started up before Ryerson could get in. He clung to its roof a few moments, and then took another car.

More demonstrators, 200-strong at their peak, pelted the Russian's party with eggs, threw placards, tried to break through police cordons as Mikoyan entered a downtown hotel for a news conference and then crossed the street to lunch with 40 civic leaders at the exclusive Chicago Club.

Among those present were Adlai E. Stevenson, John S. Knight, editor and publisher of The Miami Herald and other Knight newspapers, Charles Percy, head of the Bell and Howell Camera Co. and other prominent citizens of Chicago.

At Friday's pre-luncheon news conference Mikoyan said among other things that he expects no new changes in the Soviet government and that lack of trust is the greatest obstacle to ending the cold war.

He stated also that the placard-waving, egg-tossing demonstrations of groups of Iron Curtain refugees and other anti-Communists which greeted him here and elsewhere on his trip are comedies to which he attaches no importance.

After the luncheon the deputy premier took a $100-a-week bus driver up on his invitation to drop around and visit.

The bus driver was Joseph Polowsky, 41, a veteran of the meeting of American and Russian troops on the River Elbe at the end of World War II who has conducted a one-man crusade for U.S.-Soviet understanding.

Polowsky had telephoned Mikoyan in Cleveland with an invitation to hobnob with "a typical American family." Accordingly, Mikoyan's half-mile motorcade pulled up in front of the North Side house where Polowsky lives in a $97.50-a-month, four-room apartment on the second floor with his wife and two children.

Mikoyan, a smiling, grandfatherly figure, sat on the living room couch with the Polowski's two-year-old son, Benjamin, on his lap. Mrs. Marie Polowsky, 27, dressed her her Sunday best, held the family's baby, 15-month-old Irene.

"I have 10 grandchildren," the Russian told his hosts through an interpreter, "and I lost a son at Stalingrad. I hope your children and my grandchildren will all live in peace in the future."

Mikoyan stayed only 15 minutes in the Polowsky's apartment after the bus driver helped him off with his coat. He examined the tiny kitchen, containing a four-burner gas stove and an aging refrigerator, and two sparsely-furnished bedrooms before leaving. Polowsky didn't even have time to get out a bottle of wine he had bought especially for the occasion.

West Palm Beach Ruling

Bus Line to Appeal Award to Drivers

More Palm Beach News, Pages 12A, 13A, 1B

By ED PFISTER
WPB Bureau Chief

WEST PALM BEACH—The Florida Cities Bus Co. will appeal a Circuit Court award of more than $23,000 in damages to nine discharged union bus drivers.

Mrs. Helen Combes, president of the transportation system, and Attorney Wareing T. Miller, counsel for the lines, said Friday the appeal will be taken.

Miller added that he also expects to file a motion for a new trial in Circuit Court. He said he will meet next week with Attorney Russell T. McIntosh, counsel for the union drivers, who won the decree.

The award of damages — largely covering wages the bus drivers would have received had they been retained on the payroll — was made Thursday by Judge James R. Knott.

The decision climaxed litigation that dated back to 1956.

The court did not order reinstatement of the drivers, as they requested, but left the way open for them to seek it either through recourse to federal boards or through a show cause rule in Circuit Court.

Attorneys said the appeal will stay the Circuit Court order pending final settlement.

McIntosh has filed charges of unfair labor practices against the bus company and reportedly is prepared to proceed with steps to have the drivers reinstated.

The bus company last October declined to renew a contract with the union. The company claims most of its employes are nonunion.

Spanish Dam Bursts: Over 100 Killed

ZAMORA, Spain — (UPI) — A giant dam burst before the pent-up weight of a rain-swollen reservoir in northwest Spain Friday cascading a watery wave of death onto a sleeping mountain village.

More than 100 persons were believed swept to death. The Spanish news agency Mencheta reported 116 bodies recovered. The semi-official agency Cifra reported 23 bodies recovered but 130 persons missing.

The 70-foot high Vega de Tera Hydroelectric dam burst at 4 a.m. with a roar that could be heard on the other side of the mountains.

Millions of cubic feet of water thundered down the valley toward mountain-locked Lake Sanabria.

Three miles from the dam, where the Vega de Tera River enters the lake, the wall of water engulfed the village of Ribadelago where 500 to 600 inhabitants were sleeping.

The giant wave uprooted trees, smashed houses to kindling and drowned some villagers in their beds.

Who Ran That Plush Casino?

Raiders Checking On Bigtime Layout

Barons Flourishing? 13A

By BOB HARDIN
and JAMES BUCHANAN
Herald Staff Writers

The intricate operations of a bigtime gambling casino were revealed Friday as authorities dug into the background of a plush "tourist trap" which they raided shortly after midnight at Golden Beach.

Tipped off by the City Council, Golden Beach police and state attorney investigators arrested 25 persons in a palatial home at 277 Ocean Dr.

The residence, belonging to a Virginia horse breeder, had been leased Dec. 23 and went into operation the next day as an ultra-chic gambling house.

Just who rented the property remained a mystery hidden by make-believe names.

It was no secret, however, that $5,000 cash was laid on the line by the gamblers for the Dec. 23 to Feb. 1 occupancy. And they'd promised to put up another $5,000 to keep the casino open until May 1.

Officers broke up the game at 12:30 a.m., simply by sending Golden Beach Police Chief Richard Kuiken up to the door to knock for admittance.

Once inside, he summoned four other officers and state attorney investigators who helped make the arrest of a dozen men around the dice tables on the second floor and another 13 seated at cocktail tables on the first floor.

As the raiders entered, employes, themselves, of the casino attempted to destroy evidence by throwing chips, gambling equipment and parts of the dice tables out a window.

While no money was in evidence at the time of the raid, officers said the tables contained $10,000 and $5,000 chips and loads of blank checks on which customers could write the names of their local banks.

The casino went into operation Dec. 24, the day after the home was leased through a Fort Lauderdale real estate agent. The state attorney's office said Mrs. Georgia R. Clarke handled the deal for the owner, Daniel Van Clief of Charlottesville, Va. Neither had any knowledge of the gambling operations planned.

Mrs. Clarke told officers the residence was rented by a "Harold Jenkins," who gave no local address but said he would live in the home with his brother, Robert Pappie Jenkins, beginning Jan. 15.

"Jenkins" identified his brother as a partner in the Pappie-Stewart Drilling Co. of Cut Bank, Mont.

Mrs. Clarke said she would be able to identify "Jenkins," and was to be shown police photos of the men arrested by Assistant State Attorney Arthur Huttoe on Monday.

The Herald, checking Cut Bank, found a Pattie and Stewart Drilling Co., in which R. L. Pattie was a partner.

Loaded Dice and Chips Seized in Raid

Dice Were Loaded For the Suckers

"The suckers never had a chance," the state attorney's investigator said.

As he talked, he flipped a pair of loaded dice seized in Friday's early morning gambling house raid at Golden Beach.

In his other hand he held a new gimmick which the shills have developed to fleece their customers.

"These dice are topped," he said, holding a pair that looked perfect. "And these," pointing to another pair, "are loaded."

The special "house dice" are put into a game whenever a customer "gets hot" and it looks as if he might take a little money from the promoters.

In Friday morning's raid, agents found a small, tray-like affair to hold dice which they said had been attached to the shill's belts.

"A shill, who looks like a regular customer but works for the house, is the man who flips the bad dice into a game and busts the customer who has a bill roll riding on the next throw," the agent explained.

"These were inexperienced shills," the agent added. "A good shill can hide these extra, trick dice in the palm of his hand and doesn't need this tray."

The "topped" dice are shaved by machine so they are lopsided and come up with an ace-deuce "crap" showing, or with a four-three "seven out."

The "loaded" dice are drilled, metal poured into the cavity and then covered so they have the same effect. A good crap player can "feel" loaded dice but usually is unable to distinguish the slight difference in weight between "topped" and regular dice.

In the case of the Golden Beach operation, where the agents said four shills were operating, they had to carry the extra dice in the "tray" attached to their belts and beneath their coats.

"Sure," an agent said. "When the customer placing his bets with a hot shill lost a wad, the shill lost too. But the shill didn't care, because what he lost wasn't his money to begin with—it belonged to the house."

The shills, in most cases, use fake dice to run up a hot streak and get customers "betting with them" or on their side against the house. When the customer's pile on the table gets big enough, the shill switches dice for a "sure loss" and the customer loses heavily.

State Due Weekend Of Chilly Weather

The new cold front which rolled over Florida may put a chill on the state for the whole weekend, weathermen said Friday.

Temperatures in Miami dropped a few degrees after the front passed early in the morning and hovered in the mid-60s most of the day. The rest of Florida had readings in the low and mid-50s Friday.

"It looks like another day of pretty much the same sort of weather today," said Forecaster William McGehee of the Miami Weather Bureau.

He said it was too early to tell how long the chill would remain, but that there was "some potential of a protracted cold spell."

Predictions were for readings of close to 50 in the western suburbs of Miami early today and the mid to upper 50s in areas closer to the water. Daytime temperatures should be in the mid-60s, McGehee said.

Blustery north winds kept small craft warnings up all around the state, except for the area north of Fort Myers on the west coast, and McGehee said weekend fishermen probably will find seas rough today and Sunday.

Temperatures were expected to hit close to freezing in North Florida early today and not go much above the mid-50s during the day.

State of Union Message Accents Need of Defenses

Complete Text of President's Message 7A

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Eisenhower challenged a "yes, but" Democratic Congress Friday to join him in quest of military and economic strength for a surging America and a just peace for a fearful world.

These were the great goals set forth for the year ahead in a presidential State of the Union message. In general terms, Eisenhower outlined a formidable but "sensible posture of defense" along with a balanced budget and war against inflation.

In these days when the latest bombers "cost their weight in gold," Eisenhower said, "we can afford everything we clearly need, but we cannot afford one cent of waste."

The President appealed to the legislators to work with him to keep in balance the 77 billion dollar budget he is sending to them Jan. 19. If this is done, he said, there is hope for tax reforms "in the foreseeable future."

A White House official interpreted this to mean tax cuts, but not before the 1961 fiscal year — beginning July 1, 1960 — a period which spans the next presidential election campaign.

To Senate and House members assembled in the House chamber, and to Americans who heard him by radio and television, Eisenhower said:

"One basic purpose unites us: To promote strength and security, side by side with liberty and opportunity."

The President drew his heaviest applause for jabs at inflation and a pledge to defend the people of Berlin "against any effort to destroy their freedom."

Comments after he finished his 5,000-word, 42-minute speech fit into a familiar format. Republicans offered generous praise. Some said it was the best presidential message they ever heard.

Many Democrats found no reason to quarrel with the broad objectives. Some said the speech lacked meaty details. Others were strictly uncomplimentary. Some pointedly yawned.

"A bowl of mush without even a bean," said Rep. Richard Bolling (D., Mo.)

"Evidently," said freshman Rep. Neal Smith (D., Iowa), "you can't teach an old general much about farm income and expenses merely by his buying a farm."

The "yes, but" reaction was strongest where it counted most — among the Democratic leaders who will have so much to say about how the presidential program fares.

Both Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn and Lyndon B. Johnson, leader of Senate Democrats, noted that the last Congress, also controlled by

'Dynamic' Speech To GOP

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Democrats, who control Congress, found little to get excited about Friday in President Eisenhower's State of the Union message.

Most Republicans liked it very much. "Dynamic" was the word that Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R., Mass.) had for it. "Heartening," said Sen. Everett Dirksen (R., Ill.).

It was literally a "ho-hum" reaction that came from Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate majority leader.

Johnson was yawning in the audience when Eisenhower told the House and Senate he intends to submit a balanced budget.

And in his formal statement of comment, Johnson said:

"Mr. Eisenhower's hopes for a balanced budget remain to be proved . . . Our efforts will be not only to balance the fiscal books of the nation but to balance the books of our public trust as well."

The No. 1 man in the House, Speaker Sam Rayburn (D., Tex.), took a casual, matter-of-fact attitude toward the President's speech. Rayburn

The Highlights

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Textual highlights of President Eisenhower's State of the Union message Friday:

Russia

We can have no confidence in any treaty to which Communists are a party except where such a treaty provides within itself for self-enforcing mechanisms . . .

Peace and Its Price

Modern weapons are exceedingly expensive . . .

America will never give up the hope that eventually all nations can, with mutual confidence, drastically reduce these non-productive expenditures . . .

America's security can be assured only within a world community of strong, stable, independent nations, in which the concepts of freedom, justice and human dignity can flourish.

There can be no such thing as Fortress America . . .

Inflation

The material foundation of our national safety is a strong and expanding economy. This we have—and this we must maintain . . .

The basic question facing us today is more than survival—the military defense of national life and territory. It is the preservation of a way of life . . .

We can afford everything we clearly need, but we cannot afford one cent of waste . . .

The Budget

By working together, the Congress and the executive can keep a balance between income and outgo. If this is done there is real hope that we can look forward to a time in the foreseeable future when needed tax reforms can be accomplished . . .

Civil Rights

We are making noticeable progress in the field of civil rights . . . That progress must continue . . .

Both of them have a lot to tell Herald readers in their new books. In "Twixt Twelve and Twenty," Pat Boone gives teenagers the benefit of his experience in growing up — the mistakes he made, the things he learned about people and himself, why he holds so strong a faith in God.

In "My Story," Mary Astor writes of her dizzying rise to the game she was far too young to control; of her stormy love affairs and their tragic consequence, of her desperate struggle to keep her child free from the shame of scandal.

Won't Need Force For Peace—Castro

Cuban Meets Death Unafraid

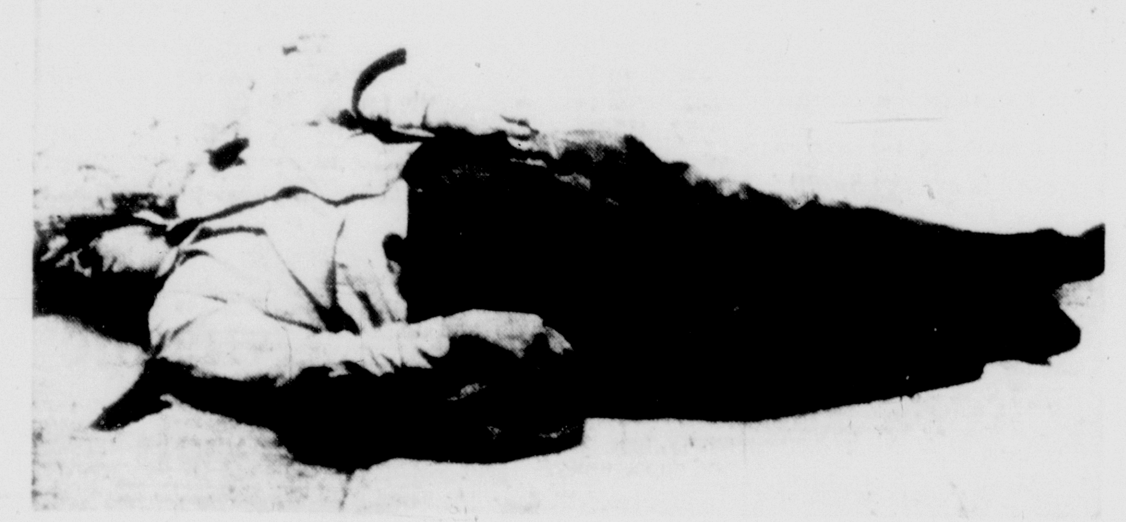
Sentenced to death by a revolutionary tribunal, Police Chief Cornelio Rojas of Santa Clara marches briskly to the wall where he was executed by a firing squad. Rojas was convicted of acts against the revolutionary movement. These dramatic pictures were obtained from the Havana newspaper Avance.



The People Support Us, Says Fidel

By GEORGE SOUTHWORTH
Herald Latin America Editor

HAVANA, Cuba — Fidel Castro vowed Friday "the revolutionary army will never again need the force of arms" to maintain peace in war-torn Cuba.

In an interview with The Herald, Castro declared, "the people of Cuba are on our side and the day they don't want us, we will leave."

And, he warned, the nation "must never permit anyone to conspire against her peace again."

The 32-year-old Cuban leader said he knows trouble may lie ahead and he indicated it may come from within the revolutionary organizations that won the victory.

"I must tell you that at this moment there are elements of revolutionary organizations who are hiding contraband arms and ammunition," Castro said. "Arms for what?

"Who are they going to fight against? Are they going to fight against the provisional government that has the support of all the Cuban people?

"Are they going to fight against a free government that respects the rights of the people now that there is no censorship of the press?

"The press is free now and people can meet together and all of the rights of citizens have been restored."

One of the biggest problems faced by the new government at this moment is to disarm the thousands of men who joined the rebel movement after the victory for hope of personal gain.

Castro said he is trying to bring about a closer union of all the rebel forces. He thanked former President Carlos Prio Socarras for his aid to the rebels "and unconditional support of the new government."

"If you ask me what troops I prefer to command," Castro said, "I would answer the people of the nation.

"The people can't be conquered and the common people won this war. We had no army, boats, tanks, planes, cannons, military schools . . .

"How did the rebel army win the war? By telling the truth. How did the despotic government lose the war? By telling lies to its soldiers.

"But the real winner of the war were the people. The people who suffered seven years of horror," he declared.

Castro said the people of Cuba are very much interested in learning if the new rebel government will make the same mistakes of other revolutionary governments.

He said the circumstances are different now and the opportunities are greater now for his government to completely carry out its destiny.

"The people of Cuba want peace with justice and liberty," he said, "and we don't want peace at a price. We must remember that Batista also spoke of peace and order . . ."

10 Are Dead In Plane Wreckage

KINGSPORT, Tenn. — (AP) — A rescue party reached the burned wreckage of a Southeast Airlines plane near the top of rugged Holston Mountain late Friday. All 10 persons aboard it were dead.

Rescuers said they found a grim scene of death and destruction in a charred area of heavy woods and thick underbrush about 30 miles east of here.

The plane, a twin-engine DC3, disappeared Thursday night while trying to grope its way through fog to an instrument landing at nearby Tri-Cities airport. The last radio report to the field from pilot Robert L. Gollmier of Kingsport said the plane was preparing to land.

The passengers included Dr. R. L. Hasche, 62, president of Hasche Engineering Co. of Johnson City. Other passengers were W. L. Dennis, Johnson City; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Halstead and J. A. Bradley, Kingsport; and Robert Matthews and James A. Porter, both of Nashville.

Members of the crew other than Gollmier were First Officer Robert Irwin, Kingsport, and Stewardess Wanda Nalley, Johnson City.

Challenge From Ike Leaves Demos Cold

the Democrats, chopped $5,600,000,000 out of the last Eisenhower budget. Yet there were no hints that there might be a repeat performance.

Rather, many Democrats have criticized the Eisenhower budget, especially the $40,900,000,000, reported included for the armed forces, as inadequate and unrealistic.

But as Eisenhower saw it, "it is a realistic budget with wholly attainable objectives."

In general terms, Eisenhower renewed bids for legislation to strengthen civil rights, correct abuses in labor unions, protect the purchasing power of the dollar, and help the farmer while trimming heavy federal spending for agriculture.

He promised increased spending on health programs, science and education, water resources, highways, and rebuilding cities.

Details were left for later messages. So was any spelling out of places where Congress can economize to get government costs again within income.

In national defense, Eisenhower said, increased efficiency and avoidance of waste are a secondary aim. The prime goal, he said, is a sensible posture of defense. His budget, he said, advances both.

"Working by these guide lines," the President said, "I believe with all my heart that America can be as sure of the strength and efficiency of her armed forces as she is and has always been of their loyalty. I am equally sure that the nation will thus avoid useless expenditures which, in the name of security, might tend to undermine the economy and, therefore, the nation's safety."

said the executive and his wife and daughter were driving toward Florida in easy stages, but had been in Cut Bank on Dec. 23, when the Van Clief home was rented by the gamblers.

Pattie and his family were expected "within two days" at the Chattanooga, Tenn., home of E. B. Stanger before continuing on to St. Petersburg, their final destination.

The Stangers were not available for a telephone call early Friday evening.

Oddly enough, another person with the name Stanger was among the 25 arrested in the raid. He identified himself as Carl Stanger, 54, of the Marine Hotel.

State attorney's men, who refused to be quoted, said "there's evidence that someone is going around the county selling phoney 'police protection' to would-be casino operators."

They theorize that gamblers are being told, by someone, "I can fix you up for a fee." On this assurance, and the payment of huge sums of money, the gamblers are opening dice dens.

Friday morning's raid was the second within a week by police who wrote finis to plush operations. A week ago, officers found a "house-within-a-house" built in such a way that no one on the outside could know gambling was in process inside.

No patrons or employes were present at the time of last week's raid.

Friday morning, however, the officers had better luck.

They described the Ocean Drive home as a beautiful residence, and operating with only a "minimum lookout. The man assigned to tip-off employes against approaching police "strolled from the garage when Police Chief Kuiken approached," one source said, "and must have been half-asleep on the job."

Kuiken, although in full uniform, never was challenged after knocking on the door and being admitted. Since he was virtually invited into the home he needed no warrant.

Officials said this "may be further evidence that employes believed a 'fix' had been made with authorities, since they had no fear in admitting a police officer."

Kuiken went through the first floor dining and cocktail rooms, where mink-clad women were sitting, and on up a sweeping set of stairs to the air conditioned gaming room.

There he announced, "This is a raid." His words were the starting gun for a general wrecking of the gambling equipment, and some employes stepped onto the second floor balcony to throw chips and table covers onto the lawn.

There was no effort by either customers or employes to resist arrest. The women were not taken into custody.

State attorney's men said the case "still is under investigation, and it has opened up other avenues of the gambling picture which we will pursue."

Acting States Attorney John Wynn said the gamblers and clients of the casino would be prosecuted, "and we'll keep pressure on the racketeers and others attempting to engage in any illegal gambling operation in the county."

Value of the gambling equipment in the huge, 10-room home, was set at "about $600." It was described as the "break-away" type which can be moved easily and quickly from one place to another."

The prisoners were booked for suspicion of gambling at Dade County jail as:

The Town Crier

BY Jack Bell.

"A STRANGE new plague has appeared on the American scene. Creeping into every form of domestic life, it has taken tremendous toll in lives and misery, unbelievable when compared with other diseases."

BELL

The above is from an article by Dr. Marvin Weil in the January issue of The Bulletin of the Dade County Medical Association. He is talking about accidents.

"During 1957 accidents afflicted 9,600,000 people," he writes, "causing 95,000 deaths and untold hardships. Hospital costs due to accidents amounted to $300,000,000. The past 50 years has seen great progress in immunization against illness and in the chemotherapeutic triumph over many diseases, but the accident rate remains almost unchanged."

said: "We'll look over his recommendations very thoroughly, and then we'll write the ticket."

The new Republican leaders of the House and Senate, Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana and Sen. Dirksen of Illinois, were enthusiastic.

"To those shouting for leadership," Dirksen said, "the President's message is a clear and ringing answer. It supplies a chart and compass for the Congress and the country . . .

"The accent on the perils of inflation is a timely warning to those who believe that by means of planned deficits we can spend ourselves rich."

Rep. Halleck's comment: "This is a message of strength — of strength to meet the Communist threat to free men wherever it appears; of strength to continue the fight for peace."

Democratic commendation for parts of the speech came from Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, who liked what he called Eisenhower's determination to move toward sound finances.

"If we do not reduce nonessential expenditures now," Byrd said, "the alternative is to spend and spend, and tax and tax. There is no hope for sound tax reduction with continuing deficits."

National Summary

Intense low pressure disturbances off both the northern Atlantic and Pacific coasts maintained gusty winds while a cold mound of high pressure continued to settle from Canada over much of the country's midsection.

Northerly winds sweeping across the eastern half of the nation limited 70 degree weather at noon to extreme southern Florida with temperatures in the 30s and 40s reaching across most of the Gulf States.

Precipitation patterns will show little change over the nation during the next 24 hours. Colder air will push more deeply into the southeast and the mild temperature trend in the west will expand into the Plains on Saturday.

Intermittent rains in the Pacific states will be heavy at times but showers and snow flurries working eastward to the mountains from Montana to Utah are expected to remain mostly light and scattered. Temperatures 10 to 20 degrees below zero are likely in northern Minnesota and teens should penetrate northern Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia with freezing readings on the Gulf coast.

Snow showers are forecast from the Great Lakes region into New England and southward over the mountains to West Virginia through Saturday.

They'd Just Climb Over, Says Zell Altman

Will Fences Keep Kids Out of Pools?

By ROSE ALLEGATO
WPB Bureau

LAKE WORTH—You can't fence young 'uns in—or in this case—out.

Lake Worth city commissioners have dallied for more than a month about taking the plunge into a proposed swimming pool law. The measure would require fences around all public and private swimming pools.

The purpose—to keep youngsters from tumbling into the drink.

But some commissioners wonder if you can fence children in or out.

Commissioner Zell Altman, for instance, says he has "mixed emotions" about the law, which was introduced Dec. 1 and is yet to pass first reading.

"No government body," Altman says, "can legislate control over children. The control is best in the hands of the parents."

He conceded several other cities have adopted similar swimming pool legislation and he agreed a swimming pool can constitute an "attractive nuisance."

The ordinance was presented after a delegation of residents from the south end of town appeared to demand protective measures. The law, as currently written, would require a four-foot wall surrounding every "outdoor" pool. It prohibits any opening of more than four inches except for doors or gates, which must be self-closing or self-latching.

The ordinance would affect every pool 18 inches or deeper.

Residents have also appeared before commissioners to complain that some swimming pools, though fenced, failed to have latched gates. "It is impossible to legislate something like that," Altman said. "You can't tell me, for instance, I have to lock my house."

Altman added, "I am definitely opposed to undue government restrictions or control over the freedom of action of people. You can go too far with that and then you have a dictatorship instead of a democracy."

Altman said there were "good and bad" points on both sides of the swimming pool ordinance. However, he contended it was much like "kids playing in the street. Control is vested in the parents."

Altman said he had not made up his mind which way he will vote on the proposed measure.

Commissioner James A. Stafford opposes the law, feeling it will "fail in its purposes."

"Kids aren't going to read the ordinance," he said. "They're going to climb over the fences. The problem would be better solved by parental authority."

He termed it an "unnecessary ordinance."

Commissioners Phil Lobsinger and Lynn F. Myers Jr. are said to favor the law. Mayor Robert O'Connor has been ill and absent from meetings in the past several weeks.

The measure comes up again for commission action Jan. 19.

Bill Asks New Dye For Citrus

Herald Bureau

WASHINGTON — Legislation authorizing the use of a new dye in the coloring of Florida oranges was introduced in congress Friday by Sen. Spessard Holland and Rep. James Haley of Sarasota.

Identical bills were proposed in the Senate by Holland and in the house by Haley.

Under a recent U.S. Supreme Court decision, Red 32, the dye which has been used for over 20 years, can not be used after March 1.

The Holland Haley bill would authorize the use of the new and much less toxic coloring known as Citrus Red 2.

"The Food and Drug Administration and the citrus industry are in agreement," Holland said, "that the intended use of the new color will be completely safe.

"The bill must be speedily enacted (by March 1) if the citrus industry is to be allowed to continue coloring oranges.

Bad Checks Charged to 2

WEST PALM BEACH — Police said Friday they arrested two women for cashing a series of bogus checks.

The women were identified as Patricia Helen Patterson, 19, of 962 30th St., and Jo Ann Bain, 24, of the same address.

The pair was apprehended by police after Joseph Miserendino, manager of the Kwik-Check Store at 2500 N. Dixie Hwy., reported they had fled when he questioned a check they tried to cash.

Police said they admitted passing six worthless checks totaling over $125 in the last two days.

Mr. Mitchell came here 30 years ago from Fort Lauderdale and was a member of the Moose Lodge.

Survivors include his wife, Grace; a daughter, Mrs. Given Schrack; two brothers and five sisters, in Georgia.

If There's No Public Hazard

Farmers Market Cleared For Reopening by Zoners

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — The huge Farmers Market on Congress Ave., levelled by a flash fire Sept. 25, will reopen Tuesday — with the sanction of the County Zoning Board.

The County Commission, sitting as the Zoning Board, Friday granted permission to reopen the completed section of the new, fireproof structure, provided the entire building is completed within 120 days.

The board warned, however, that while it wanted to cooperate in efforts to restore the market, it would not permit any feature that would jeopardize the health and safety of the public or compromise its building and zoning restrictions.

Owner of the market, Stanley Torenburger, ran into early difficulty with the board in efforts to rebuild.

The original structure, built prior to zoning regulations, violated the new building code. It also extended some 750 feet beyond the commercial zone.

The Zoning Board, in October, said it would grant an exception if the market were properly rebuilt.

The market has been in partial operation for several months, using makeshift stalls to display the multitude of goods.

IN ANOTHER action, the board denied a request by Norman Latham for a change in zoning of a 140 acre tract just west of the city.

The tract, bounded by West Palm Beach on the east, Congress Ave. on the west, Okeechobee Rd. on the north and Belvedere Rd. on the south, is zoned for residential use.

Latham asked for a commercial rating.

The board voted to adhere to its policy of not granting a change unless there is a specific plan of development for the area.

Several residents of the area, officials of the city of West Palm Beach and representatives of Perini - Westward Developers appeared as objectors to the change.

Shot Mate 'Accidentally'

Wife on Stand Denies Intent to Kill Pair

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH—A five times wed 44-year-old blonde denied from the witness stand in Criminal Court Friday she threatened to shoot her husband and a divorcee she said she found together in her home.

Mrs. Gertrude C. Sinks testified she told the pair, "I could kill you both, but all I want is my property."

She claimed the .32 caliber automatic with which the state claims she assaulted her husband and "the other woman" discharged accidentally when she tripped as her mate lunged at her.

The husband, Thomas Sinks, a 39-year-old barber, was wounded in the left foot. Mrs. Claudia McCoy, also 39, who the wife claims was with her husband in the bedroon of the Sinks home when she unexpectedly arrived, was unhurt.

Mrs. Sinks is on trial on two charges of assault with intent to kill and one charge of carrying a weapon without a license.

After both sides completed testimony and final arguments Friday, Judge E. G. Newell recessed until Saturday when the case will go to a five man jury.

Rogers Introduces It, 2 Others

Migrant Loan Bill Brought Up Again

By ED PFISTER
WPB Bureau Chief

WEST PALM BEACH—U. S. Rep. Paul Rogers said Friday he has introduced in Congress bills to improve migrant housing and to require judicial experience for Supreme Court appointees.

The Sixth District congressman added he had also introduced a measure which would set up a national "Preparedness Day" each Dec. 7.

The Migrant Housing Bill was introduced in the preceding Congress, Rogers said, but failed to obtain the two-thirds vote required for passage and had to be reintroduced.

The measure would provide for government guaranteed loans to farmers, farm associations and county governments to provide improved home facilities for the estimated one million migrant workers in this country.

Rep. Paul Rogers
. . . push for housing

The Supreme Court Bill, Rogers said he has introduced in the house, is a companion measure to one introduced in the Senate by Sen. George Smathers of Miami.

It would bar any person from appointment as chief or associate justice of the high court unless at the time of appointment the person in question had at least five years of judicial service in the lower courts.

Rogers said, "By requiring judicial experience . . . it is hoped that some measure of politics will be removed from this high judicial office and that experience rather than favor will bring more qualified men to our highest court."

Object of the Preparedness Day legislation would be to impress on the people the need for preparedness to prevent such things as Pearl Harbor Day.

Lee Asks Accounting

Federal's Proxy Battle in Court

By PETE WEITZEL
West Palm Beach Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH—A proxy battle for control of First Federal Savings and Loan Association moved into Circuit Court Friday.

Ousted President E. B. Lee filed suit for an accounting against the proxy committee for the Jan. 21 election. The committee is made up of 10 members of the board of directors.

Named were H. Loy Anderson, Stafford B. Beach, George S. Campbell, Frances R. Clement, John M. Crabtree, Wareing T. Miller, H. Elmo Robinson, George C. Slaton, Clare Warner and Marshall B. Wood.

Lee, backed by a group of local businessmen, is seeking to regain the presidency by winning the proxy fight. Seven of the 11 directors are up for re-election.

Both sides have been soliciting the support of savers and borrowers, who may vote by proxy or in person.

Lee charged in the suit filed Friday that the defendants had used bank money, office space, equipment and the services of employees in trying to get proxies.

He asked the court to take jurisdiction in the case and require the defendants to account for monies spent, plus a "reasonable value" for facilities of the bank that were used.

Lee requests the court to then require the defendants to repay these sums back to the Loan Association.

The one-time president of the Association has attacked the present leadership in "open letters" as a "lawyer combine."

Hopkins of Tallahassee

Nugent Aide Named For Retrial of King

TALLAHASSEE — (UPI) — Gov. LeRoy Collins Friday assigned State Attorney William D. Hopkins of Tallahassee to assist in the retrial this month of former State Sen. Harry King of Winter Haven on perjury charges.

Hopkins will help chief prosecutor, State Attorney Charles A. Nugent of Palm Beach, who was assigned to the case earlier. Nugent replaced Hillsborough County Prosecutor Paul Johnson, who asked not to be assigned to the retrial.

Hopkins, who helped in the investigation of the notorious $10,000 Polk County political payoff which led to perjury charges against King and three others, assisted at the original trial when King was sentenced to five years in prison.

The Supreme Court reversed the conviction and ordered a new trial.

Others to be tried with King are former Sheriff H. P. Gordon and ex-Deputies Rollie Arnold and James Busbee.

Joe Wilcox
. . . 'Cuban loss $20,000'

PB Hears Call of the Islands

By ROSE ALLEGATO
WPB Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — The Port of Palm Beach Friday turned a covetous eye toward Bahama Island trade.

Claiming it was the "fastest, safest, and closest" east coast port to the Bahama Islands, the port instructed its manager, Joe Wilcox, to confer with chambers of commerce in the area on an all-out campaign to woo island trade.

Port commissioners pointed out that Jacksonville and Miami, both further from the Bahamas, do a tremendous volume of business with the islands.

"Our merchants just don't go after the business," Commissioner Gleason Stambaugh said.

In other business, port commissioners heard the Cuban situation blamed for at least a $20,000 loss in revenue. They also haggled over a proposed $3,600 finger pier to accommodate boats which must clear customs through the Port of Palm Beach. No action was taken on the construction of the proposed pier.

Wilcox pointed out that Bahama Island trade, small to begin with, dropped off during the past year.

This prompted commissioners to attempt to boost interest in the Bahamian market.

Wilcox also reported that the car ferry to Havana was back in operation after a week lay-off and shipments of fresh vegetables were moving in from Cuba.

He predicted that Cuban trade would be back "to normal in a week or two."

The Port of Palm Beach, Wilcox said, lost about $20,000 in the past four months over the critical Cuban situation.

"It is almost impossible to estimate how much was lost through uncertainty on the part of businessmen throughout the year," he added.

Wilcox also blamed an ailing scrap market and a general business decline for a $31,000 drop in revenue last year for the port.

The first shipment of scrap metal through the port in a year will be loaded Jan. 25.

B. Arnold Resigns FCD Post

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — The Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District Board Friday accepted "with regret" the resignation of B. Arnold as director of operations and maintenance.

ARNOLD

Arnold, with the district since 1951, will become town manager in Palm Beach Jan. 15.

Vice-chairman of the board, Brian McCarty, called Arnold "Mr. Flood Control himself" and praised him for his "fight for the district, may times at terrific personal sacrifice and against terrific odds."

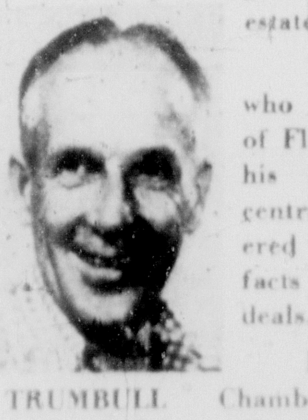
A resolution presented by Chairman David Click cited him for "distinguished and faithful service . . . and devotion above and beyond the call of duty.

"B. Arnold has given unstintingly of his time and vast and intimate knowledge of and experience in water control protective measures to all who sought his counsel," it said.

Arnold also was lauded by members of the staff and several organizatons which work closely with the FCD.

Realty Pitchmen Heed Call of Wild

Steve Trumbull's been digging into his favorite subject again — questionable real estate sales tactics.



TRUMBULL

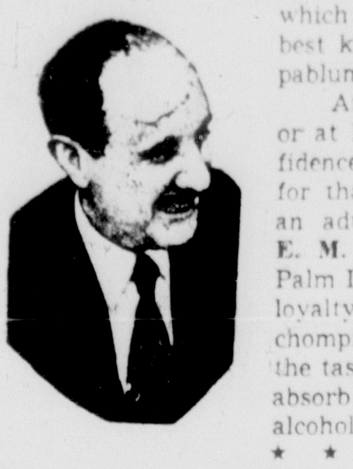
This time Trumbull, who knows the backlands of Florida like the back of his hand, poked around central Florida and uncovered some eye-opening facts about several new deals.

In one, even the local Chamber of Commerce was found to be going along with the promoters and their "fine print" arrangements.

First of Trumbull's renewed series on questionable real estate promotions will be yours in Sunday's Miami Herald.

Nightlife with George Bourke

Pinkie Lee Takes Latin Quarter Like Grant . . .



IT TAKES some courage for a night club impresario, no matter how big his reserve resources, to book into a smart supper club featuring a French revue an act which in recent years has been best known as the darling of the pablum and tootsie roll set.

And it requires some guts — or at least a high degree of confidence in one's basic talents — for that entertainer to face such an adult audience as frequents E. M. Loew's Latin Quarter on Palm Island — a spot where one's loyalty is tested not by regular chomping on tootsie rolls, but in the taste for — and the ability to absorb — a required minimum of alcoholic beverages.

Experienced Trouper Wins Fans

BUT E. M. LOEW and Pinkie Lee displayed that courage, which was further tested by a not too terrific turn-out for his opening. Before the evening was over, however, Lee had just about won his audience with an ingratiating manner, a Bert Lahrish attitude and timing, a unique eccentric dancing skill, and a well-spotted demonstration of the the tricks and surefire lines learned in his years in show business, an experience which ranged from burlesque to kiddie TV shows — believe it or not, in that order.

On paper it seems a colossal mistake to try to entertain people who would come to the swank Latin Quarter with a male strip tease, a high bosomed lass tearing the pants away from a pint-sized foil, frequent reference with ribald intent to extra-sensory reactions of the anatomy, and so on.

But Lee makes them seem inoffensive because he is himself an inoffensive and apologetic fellow. He even begs the audience's indulgence for some of his stunts but points out that the theater of operations is a night club.

The balance of the Latin Quarter show is basically the same as it was for Sophie Tucker's engagement, with the thrilling adagio dance stylings of Holger and Dolores providing the focal highpoint of Donn Arden's "Sky High" revue.

FIDO Keeps Movies Off British TV

THERE MAY BE a mixed metaphor somewhere in the following about not letting the dog you feed bite the hand that paid for his smiling teeth—or it may be mere coincidence that the letters of the Film Industry Defense Organization, which has the aim of keeping theatrical films off British television spell FIDO! . . . Shirley Jones, opening at the Fontainebleau La Ronde next Tuesday, just finished a movie called "Never Steal Anything Small," with Jimmie Cagney. Did you know that James worked in vaudeville under the name of Nye, which is the name of the bandleader at the Fontainebleau's next door neighbor, the Eden Roc?

Amusements

Movies Night Clubs Drama

Harry Mufson, Eden Roc boss, off to New York to buy talent. Wonder if he ever thought of opening a penthouse lounge and calling it Top o' the Roc? . . . Those with a pipeline of optimism to Cuba predict the shooting will resume during the first week in February. They probably mean the crap-shooting, however. It is rumored that a million dollars says a casino for tourists only (as in Nassau) plan may be tried!

If there is to be a more liberal view it won't be a matter of financial fix—entirely. It has been proven in the last six years in Cuba that there is more sticky sugar to be gotten from 10 miles of new highway or 14 stories of public building than in all of Havana's 13 gambling places combined.

George Raft Visits Jerry Brooks

GEORGE RAFT, host at Capri Casino in Havana, at Luau before visiting Jerry Brooks — partner in both Luau and the Capri—at the Heart Institute . . . Jan Murray's "Treasure Hunt" TV show will originate from Fontainebleau Hotel pool area Jan. 18-29 . . . Janet Leigh and the kiddies to join Tony Curtis here in about two weeks. He'll be working with Cary Grant on "Operation Petticoat" at Key West. Janet and Tony's "The Perfect Furlough," will open at Wometco Theaters soon . . . "No House Limit," which Grant may do in Havana, with Dick Powell as director, has been retitled "Casino." . . . "Tomboy," penned by two laddies from Firehouse No. 2 here, will be heard twice on Perry Como's show tonight.

Comedian Don Adams, who has just been added to Lou Walters' Ziegfeld Follies at the Carillon has been featured on Steve Allen's TV show . . . Victor Borge will be on the stage of the Deauville Hotel Casanova Room live on Sunday night but he will also be on TV on Channel 4 at 6 o'clock as guest of Ed Murrow's "It's a Small World" through the so-called "miracle of magnetic tape.

Paul Gray, now at Murray Franklin's, also plays the less important clubs on occasion. He goes into Chicago's Chez Paree for the 11th date this spring . . . It is rumored that Sir Sydney Oakes and some Fort Lauderdale businessmen may bid for the Grand Bahama West End Club. Wonder if that will affect the titular rights of "Sir" Judson Smith, who works there so frequently.

His Sign Began Great White Way

NEW YORK —(AP)— Historians will mark 1958 as the year that the originator of the Great White Way died. He was George A. Singer, 85, a man unknown to the public but who contributed a significant bit to the story of Broadway.

Singer was credited with having designed the first electric sign to be hung above a New York theater—the beginning of the Great White Way.
